RIVALRY FOR OFFICES

In Mesaba Mountain Township is Cropping Out.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Politics in Mesaba Mountain township promise to be lively until March 10, the date set for the election of the township officers.

Contrary to the usual custom, opposition is appearing, and the contest that has been announced will have a lively fight on its hands in order to win.

Among the names of rival candidates that have appeared up to the present moment are: Joseph S. Murphy, the foreman at the Adams No. 6, and treasurer, Ed. Moyer, a well-known engineer at the No. 4 Adams, and a number of others.

The election is of more importance than is generally recognized, as within the township boundaries lie all the mines of the Eveleth group, including the Gilbert and Pettit mines. Its area is filled with rich iron ore and includes the village of Sparta.

TOWER THIEF CONFESSES.

Young Norwegian Admits to Committing Three Robberies.

Tower, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The series of robberies which have occurred here during the past few weeks have caused a great deal of comment and excitement among the citizens. The police have at last been rewarded in their search by securing one of the perpetrators, a young Norwegian, Swan Halvorsen, who pleaded guilty to three of the thefts. Suspicion was directed at him by his having an unusual amount of money. The officers watched him and when he finally changed $8 in small change for larger money in one of the banks, he was arrested. He pleaded guilty to the theft of $8 from a bank, the theft of a revolver and a stock certificate from 50 shares of Lake Superior & Northern stock. The latter were taken from the trunk of a car belonging to a man in the Lakeside boarding house. The stock certificate has been hidden under one of the trunks in the lumber yard, the revolver being still in the possession of the thief. The police before Judge Fuller and confessed to the thefts. He was taken to Duluth and has been committed to the city jail, but in a moment of temptation yielded.

DRUNKEN MAN SCARES BOYS

Police Sent on Fruitless Chase for Man on Ice.

Late yesterday afternoon two small boys reported to the police that a drunken man had been seen wandering along the ice near Eighth avenue. Detectives Walsh and Smith were immediately dispatched to the locality, but after a careful search, failed to see any trace of a man.

The boys told their story, and declared that the man was walking toward the Wisconsin shore. From a high elevation, the police examined the ice thoroughly with a telescope. No manholes or cracks in the ice could be discovered where a man could have fallen through.

It is believed that the boys were mistaken in the belief that they saw a drunken man walking on the ice. The police are now looking for the man who was seen walking on the ice.

An Alaska mine owner is in the city this week trying to get laborers to go to the Fairbanks strike district. The miners up there made a demand for shorter hours and better pay, and when their demands were refused, they struck. They were getting $5 a day and board, but wanted $6 a day and board, with eight hours work. Instead of nine, it is claimed. Five hundred men are now on strike, and the owner is offering all-abled men to go to Alaska, with the condition that they pay their own fare, which amounts to $25. This seems almost prohibitive, but several men have already been received through the National Employment company, and it looks as if a number of men might leave Duluth for the Fairbanks district within the next week or two.

There is nothing specially new in the lock-out situation. The men who are locked out say they are living comfortably on the reserve fund they have accumulated throughout the country. An appeal for assistance has been sent all over the United States, and the response has been generous. Almost every mail brings in money for distribution among the union men who are out of work. The contractors say they are not seriously handicapped in their work, and that all their contracts are getting along in good shape.

LABOR

WARNED TO KEEP AWAY

The Pacific Coast Towns Are Flooded With Laborers.

Women's Label League is Given a Fine Start.

Labor leaders in Duluth continue to receive communications from organized labor on the Pacific coast, warning men to keep away from that district. This week another was received from San Francisco. The plight of hundreds of men who are out of work in the California valley and are flocking to the labor line, and thereby in consequence of this kind of advertising, thousands of men have flocked to Duluth in search of work, only to be disappointed upon their arrival there.

Union men in Duluth are expressing a good deal of satisfaction over the fact that the Women's Label league has been given such a

HOCKEY RINK FOR DULUTH

John Shea at Head of Enterprise to Build Structure.

Building of Type of Copper Country Rinks is Planned.

With John Shea, manager of the Temple roller rink, at the head of the enterprise, plans are on foot for providing Duluth with a mammoth skating and hockey rink by the opening of next season.

Mr. Shea accompanied the Northern hockey team to Houghton this week, and there he looked over the Amphidrome, Houghton's big rink. He also went to Calumet to see the Palastra, the big steel structure at Laurium, and he now has some ideas as to what Duluth needs in the winter amusement line. Mr. Shea talked with John T. McNamara, manager of the Amphidrome, who gave the benefit of his experience in good advice as to the way of going about the plans for the Duluth rink.

Mr. Shea's plans have not yet been made public, but he is evidently sincere in the announcement that he is going to attempt to give Duluth a rink which will be worthy of the city, and its position as a center of winter sports in the Northwest. Not less than $40,000 will be necessary to adequately finance the scheme, and he will start work this spring to get the money. Work will be begun on the rink early in the summer, so that there may be no delay after the arrival of cold weather next fall.

The site has always been the most vexatious problem confronting prospective builders of ice rinks in Duluth. Several times plans have been on foot for rinks, but they went through on account of the lack of a site. Mr. Shea is said to have a place in mind, which would admirably suit the structure he proposes to build. It is a lot of strings on that before going about raising the money.

The type of the copper country rinks will doubtless be followed in the rink planned for Duluth. The Amphidrome is frame and the Palastra steel, the latter being the most substantial structure. It is not as well arranged as the Houghton rink, however. For Duluth, a steel rink, 220x110 ft. is planned, with a skating surface of about 150x90, and a seating capacity of 1,000. Such a rink would supply Duluth's needs for years to come, both for skating and hockey.

Duluth's need for a big enclosed rink for skating and hockey has long been recognized and lamented, but nobody ever had the initiative to go about building one. Open-air rinks do not conform to the modern ideas of good winter sports. With skating, hockey, necessary to get the money, and the Canadian game is becoming more popular each year. In nearly all of the big cities of the United States, big rinks are being built, and hockey teams are organized. At Cleveland, Pittsburgh and other cities, where the winter weather conditions are uncertain, artificial ice plants go with the rinks, and the ice is assured at all times.

For Duluth, no artificial ice is necessary. The weather is cold enough here nearly all winter, and the ice on the lake is an enclosed rink, and the thaw periods are so short as to be of little inconvenience. In nearly all of the big rinks a dance floor is provided in gallery over the waiting rooms, at one end, so that the rink serves a double purpose, and furnishes amusement to all who attend.

With hockey gaining a firm foothold in Duluth, the big enclosed rink is becoming a necessity for the life of the game. This year's experience has shown that an open rink is not comfortable or convenient for players or spectators, and is merely a makeshift for the moment of something better. Hockey has great possibilities in Duluth, and they can never materialize until the game is given a proper opportunity to assert its right to a place in Duluth's list of winter sports.

From hockey enthusiasts and skaters, Mr. Shea will receive every encouragement in his efforts to give Duluth a big rink. For skating alone, it would supply a great need, and hockey players and enthusiasts would welcome it with rejoicing.

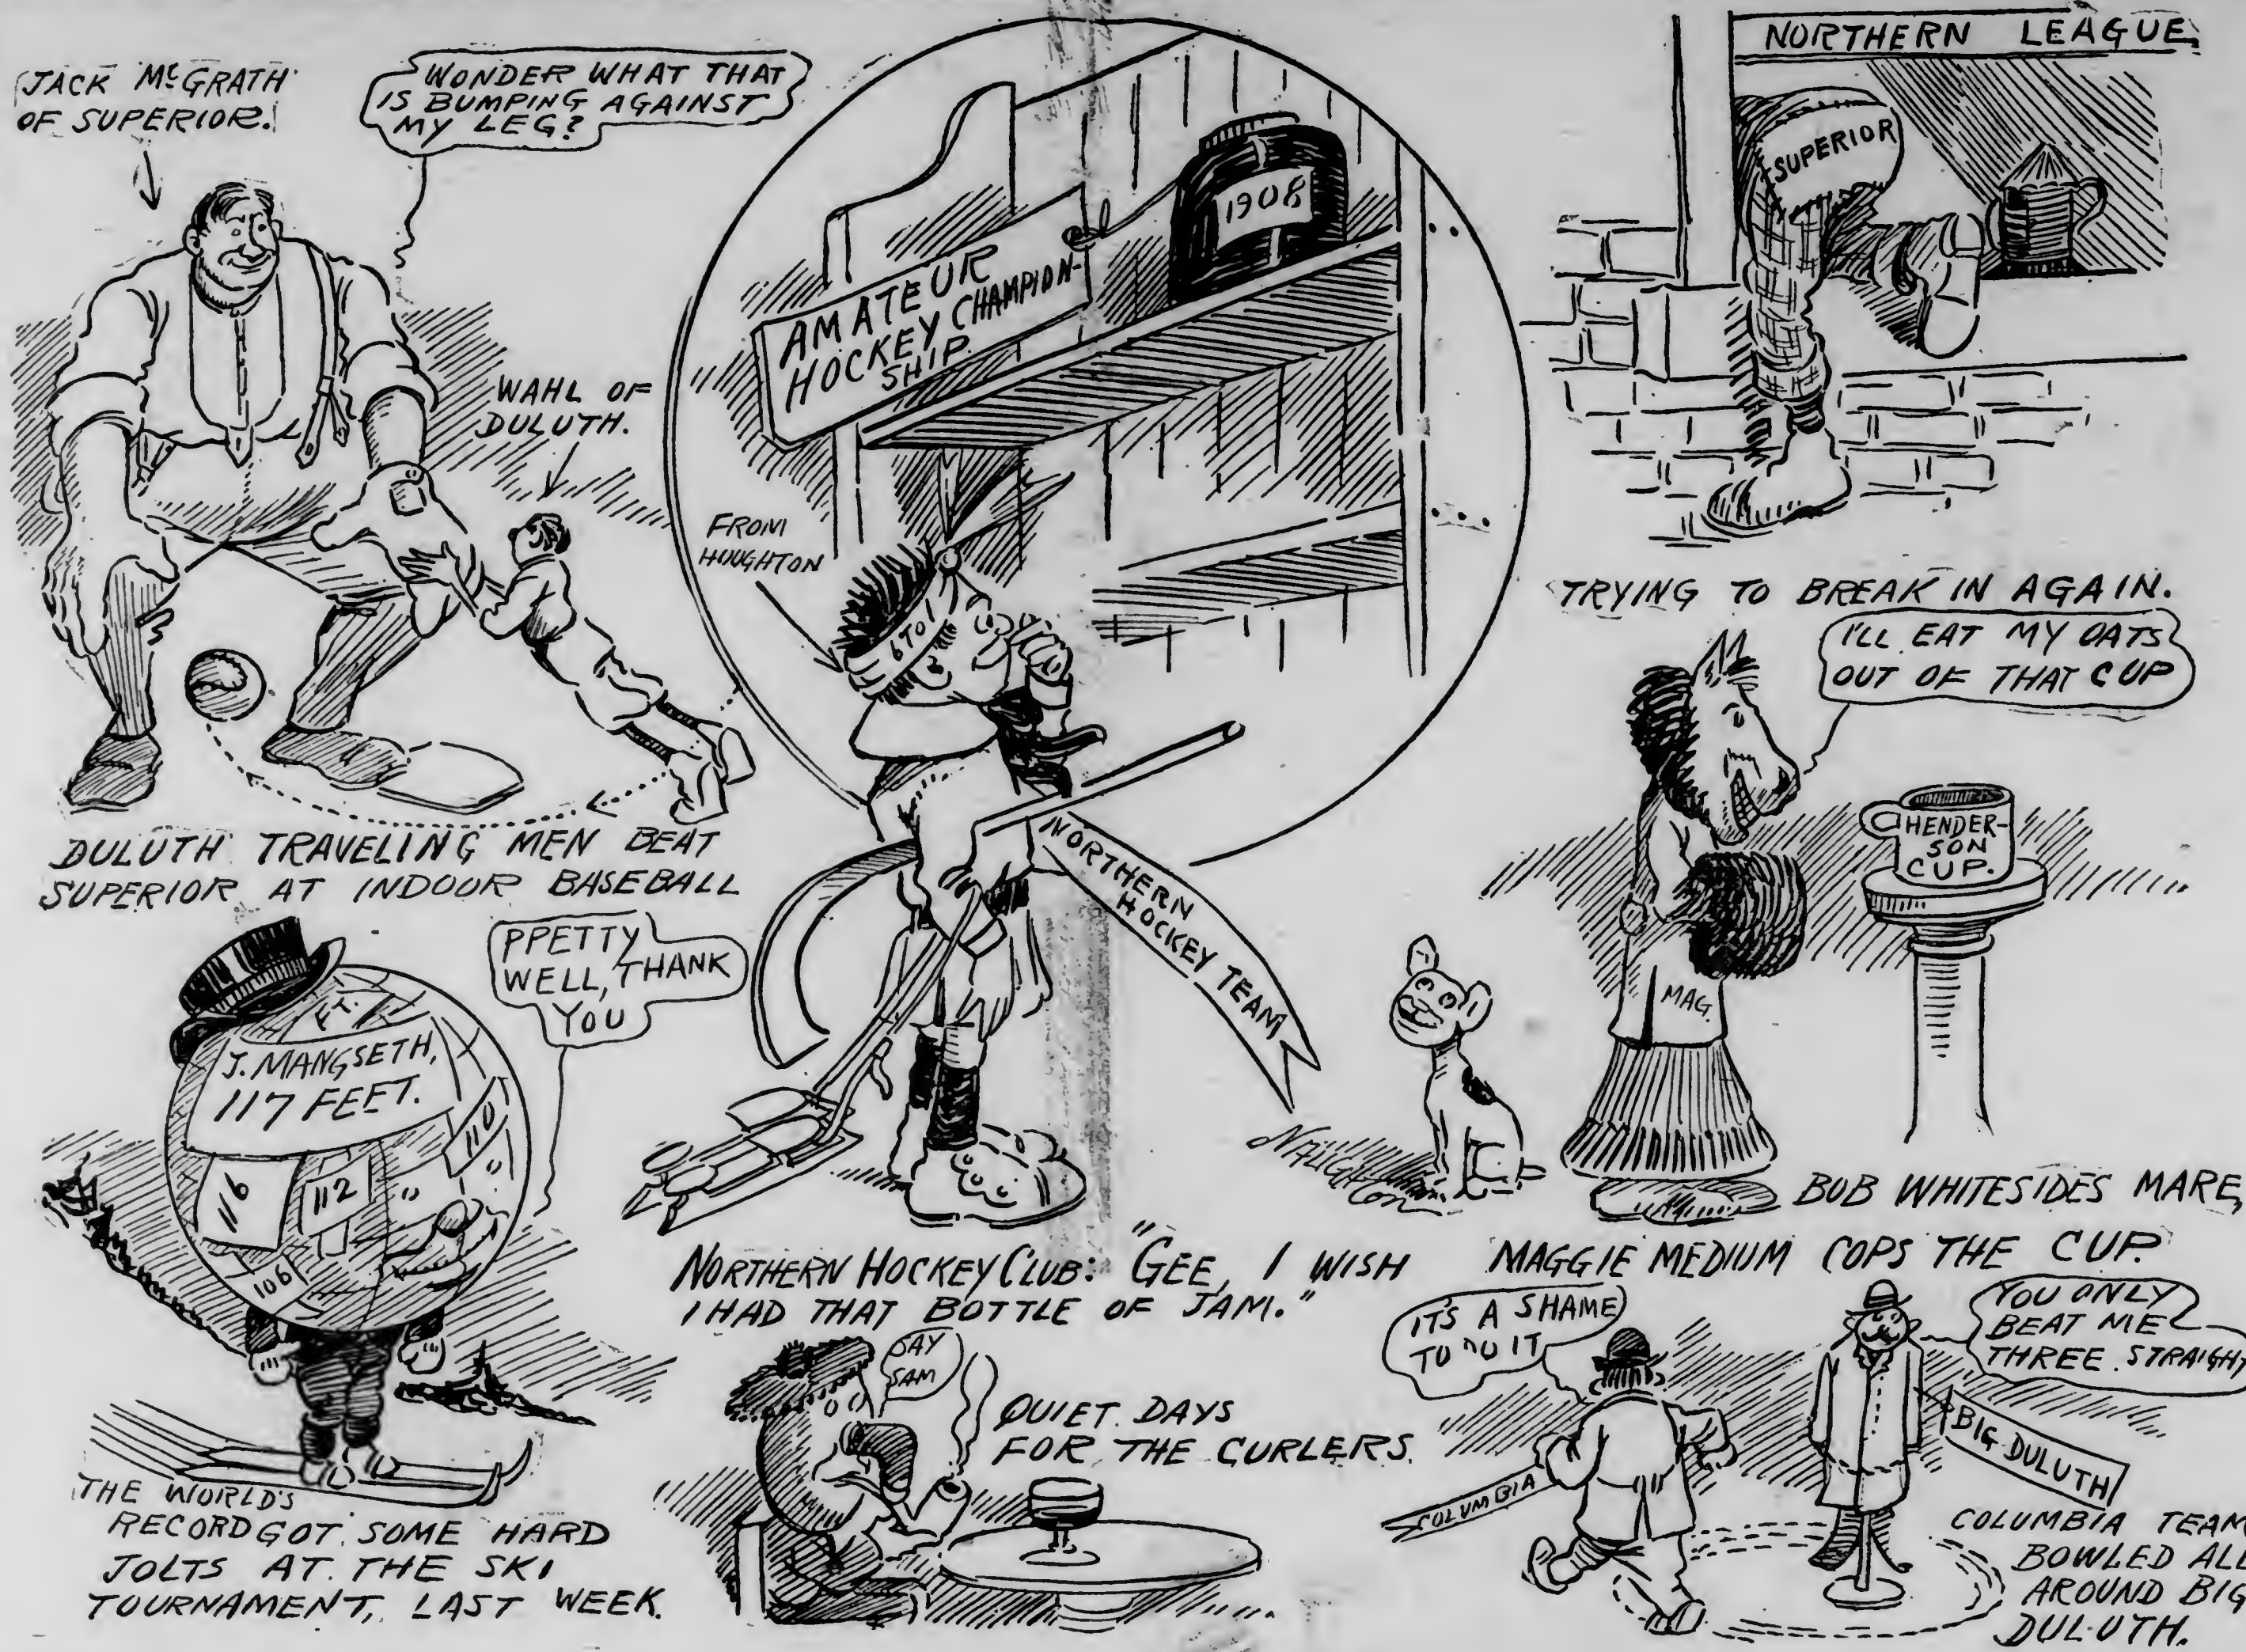

M'FARLAND GETS DECISION

Milwaukee Crowd Thinks Welsh Should Have Received Draw.

Milwaukee, Feb. 22.—Packie McFarland of Chicago won the decision from Freddie Welsh of England in their ten-round battle before the Badger Athletic club last night. The fight was one of the fastest and most scientific ever held in this city.

Welsh's defense was marvelous, and from the first round, when he was visibly nervous, he put up a fight which was a real battle. GLEAMS in the SPORTING FOG.

"It's all up to the Superior people now. I have made them my proposition. If they consider it a fair one, I will not back down on them." This was the statement of Sullivan yesterday before he took down. Ted was smiling, genial and a little more confident than he was the day he arrived in Duluth. "I saw the Superior people," he continued. "I gave them a straight talk, told them the money I was offering, and if they raise the money to do that, I'll take the train for Chicago and see them. If they don't want to take me up, the St. Joseph proposition is open to me." The head of the St. Joe proposition, so it is called, is to get together and collect some of the flimsy stuff to brace up to the Superior people. Sullivan said that the head of the flimsy stuff to brace up to the Superior people is to get together and collect some of the flimsy stuff to brace up to the Superior people. Sullivan said that the head of the flimsy stuff to brace up to the Superior people is to get together and collect some of the flimsy stuff to brace up to the Superior people.

"From an unprejudiced standpoint, it would appear that the Duluth seven, handicapped as they were by the absence of Goal, Tender Ray, who was unable to make the trip, were the equals of the locals in skill, handling, team work and combination play, which was rather a surprise to the enthusiasts, who had been led to believe that the Duluthians played a very crude and unsentimental sort of a game."

The extract is from the story of a Copper country newspaper man on the game Wednesday night at Houghton, when the Northern hockey team was defeated by a score of 6 to 1. It shows that the Duluth team, despite its defeat, accomplished the purpose of the trip.

The boys showed that they can play hockey, they showed that they, without the advantages of a large rink and the tutoring of experts, were able to contend on an equal basis with the best teams of the Copper country, for a time the home of hockey in the United States.

Regardless of their defeats, the Duluth boys do not look like metal disks. The reports of the game show that the score doesn't indicate the relative strength of the two teams. The boys inspired the Houghton players and enthusiasts with a whole new respect for the Duluth article of hockey and their own achievements in arriving at a state of proficiency in the face of the obstacles with which they have had to contend.

It looks as though Duluth will have a big rink next year. After the performance of the man who would necessarily put up the money for a big amusement place, practice and play, which other amateur teams throughout the country enjoy as a safe remedy for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.

MANY GOOD ATHLETES

New York May Furnish Large Part of the Olympic Team. Youngsters Who Will Try Are Showing Great Ability.

New York, Feb. 22.—Speculation is rife about the probable make-up of the team that will go to London to represent America next July in the Olympic sports. Picking the men on past performances is but guess work at this stage, and like as not the bright particular stars of the American team are away back in the shadow now. Such was the experience of Paul Pilgrim at the Athens meet. He went abroad as a second-ranker and came home a two-time world's champion.

Now there is many a youth in the metropolitan district today capable of repeating Pilgrim's feat if given only half a chance, and many now in comparative obscurity will almost surely land the coveted trip. Of course, they have heard of Fred Bellars, for he is the cross-country champion, but at that Bellars is a now.

The brightest part of his career lies ahead and not behind the Jersey youth. Bellars need not improve at all to make the Olympic team. He has only to repeat the races he ran at Celtic Park last fall, when he beat Bonhag, Daly, Carr, Haskins, Collins, Joyce and Cohn to secure a berth on the London team.

Frank Sheehan of Boston, who won the junior half-mile championship at Jamestown last summer, is also capable of making the team quite easily. Sheehan is consistent around 1.57 and his great race in the "Juniors" proved that at his best he is very close to two seconds faster than that.

He has only to take the trouble to train faithfully in order to be one of the lucky ones. Celtic Park has a likely candidate in R. Cloughan, the Forham sprinter. With every qualification that makes up a champion, Cloughan is a little more campaigning. Cloughan will almost surely develop into a champion. He looked just about right to "do things" last summer when ptomaine poisoning almost killed him and effectively stopped his athletic work for the rest of the year.

George Ford and A. T. Bailey, at Travelers Island, also look good to the experts. Both of these lads took 440 yard honors outdoors last summer and have been resting all winter with their eyes on the London trip. Ford and Bailey both found fifty-one seconds easy going last summer, and will have the advantage of a long winter's rest. Fifty seconds should find them close up when the Olympic trials come off in June.

MANY GOOD ATHLETES

New York May Furnish Large Part of the Olympic Team. Youngsters Who Will Try Are Showing Great Ability.

New York, Feb. 22.—Speculation is rife about the probable make-up of the team that will go to London to represent America next July in the Olympic sports. Picking the men on past performances is but guess work at this stage, and like as not the bright particular stars of the American team are away back in the shadow now. Such was the experience of Paul Pilgrim at the Athens meet. He went abroad as a second-ranker and came home a two-time world's champion.

Now there is many a youth in the metropolitan district today capable of repeating Pilgrim's feat if given only half a chance, and many now in comparative obscurity will almost surely land the coveted trip. Of course, they have heard of Fred Bellars, for he is the cross-country champion, but at that Bellars is a now.

The brightest part of his career lies ahead and not behind the Jersey youth. Bellars need not improve at all to make the Olympic team. He has only to repeat the races he ran at Celtic Park last fall, when he beat Bonhag, Daly, Carr, Haskins, Collins, Joyce and Cohn to secure a berth on the London team.

Frank Sheehan of Boston, who won the junior half-mile championship at Jamestown last summer, is also capable of making the team quite easily. Sheehan is consistent around 1.57 and his great race in the "Juniors" proved that at his best he is very close to two seconds faster than that.

He has only to take the trouble to train faithfully in order to be one of the lucky ones. Celtic Park has a likely candidate in R. Cloughan, the Forham sprinter. With every qualification that makes up a champion, Cloughan is a little more campaigning. Cloughan will almost surely develop into a champion. He looked just about right to "do things" last summer when ptomaine poisoning almost killed him and effectively stopped his athletic work for the rest of the year.

George Ford and A. T. Bailey, at Travelers Island, also look good to the experts. Both of these lads took 440 yard honors outdoors last summer and have been resting all winter with their eyes on the London trip. Ford and Bailey both found fifty-one seconds easy going last summer, and will have the advantage of a long winter's rest. Fifty seconds should find them close up when the Olympic trials come off in June.

promising. Adams entered athletics as a second rate discus thrower. Last summer, Eriv Hjerberg started him at jumping, with the result that he is now among the twenty-three-foot broad jumpers. Adams has the hop, step and jump championship of America. Yet, like the others, Adams has only begun his career. He has just found out the proper branch in which to show his worth, and between all the college cross-country races last fall told the story of additional strength he has gained since then. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Costs Nothing to Try. Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken for the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and entirely safe cathartic.

It absorbs the indigestible gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, which are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat, also to help the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I got more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

DRAW MANY Grand Forks is Thronged With Visitors From Over State.

Gov. Burke to Speak at University Founders Day Celebration.

Grand Forks, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is one of the greatest Washington's birthdays the city has ever known. Grand Forks, Minn., is the scene of the Golden Jubilee celebration of the founding of the city. The celebration is being held on the campus of the University of North Dakota, which is the state university, the dedication of their new home by the Grand Forks council, U. C. T., and the initiation of sixty-eight new members of the Knights of Columbus. For these three big events, which are of state wide importance, there are many visitors in the city.

The Knights of Columbus celebration has drawn members here from all over the state. Sixty-eight new members were initiated at the exercises beginning at 10 a. m. The ceremonies will conclude with a banquet this evening. The grand council of the United Commercial Travelers have an equally big time mapped out. About 100 members will be initiated at the exercises, beginning at 4 o'clock and ending with a ball beginning at 9 p. m.

Founders' day of the university will be observed in a most fitting manner. Exercises in commemoration of the founding of the state's greatest educational institution will be held at the evening at the First Baptist church when a fine program will be given. The day this year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the passage of the bill by the state legislature, and for that reason the exercises will be of more than ordinary importance. St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—With a revolver in his right hand and a knife in his left, a lone highwayman held up a crowd in the saloon of Gus Batroff, Eleventh and Jackson streets, at about 9 o'clock Thursday night and made off with a large sum of money.

The procession of callers was incessant, and a large number of congratulatory letters were received from friends who were not able to present their congratulations in person.

BUILDING NEW DOCK.

Work on Northwestern Structure at Ashland Progressing Favorably.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work of tearing down the Northwestern ore dock which was begun a few weeks ago is progressing rapidly. About one-half of the dock is now down and the first of March the work on the other half will be completed. Two pile drivers are working on the dock, one for pulling out the old piles and the other for driving in the new ones. Ten or eleven hundred piles are being driven into the structure of the dock, which range from 55 to 60 feet in length each. The old piles which were used in the construction of the dock twenty years ago, are still in good condition and they are being shipped away to be used in other places.

It is estimated that between six and seven million feet of lumber will be used in the construction of the new dock, practically all of which is Washington fir. At the present time there are 200 men working on the dock, and many more will be employed as soon as the erection of the new dock begins. About 100,000 cubic yards of the dock will have to be filled in and raised the yards.

SOUR UNDIGESTED FOOD AND BELCHING OF GAS

The Following Tells How

One 22 Grain Triangle of Diapepsin Will Digest 3000 Grains of Food and Cure Stomach Misery in Five Minutes.

Some people think they have indigestion, others Catarrh of the Stomach, others Nervousness, Cancer or Dyspepsia, etc. Call it this if you will, but the real name for your trouble is Fermentation of what you eat, with only partial digestion. Everything you eat turns to either Acid, Stomach gas or Stomach poison, which weakens the digestive organs, causing a lack of gas, flatulence, your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, curling nausea, a feeling of vomiting, heartburn, water brash and tenderness in the pit of the stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, nausea, belching of gas, dizziness, sick headaches, intestinal griping, mental depression and many other common symptoms. You can cure all this by not eating, by not putting any food in your stomach to ferment, but how about the nourishment

News of the Theater

AT THE LYCEUM

The Mack Leone Company Will Open Tuesday Evening in "Captain Barrington," "The Devils' Auction on Monday Night Only.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 25, Duluth theater-goers will have a chance to see their favorites, the Mack Leone players, in powder and patches. "Captain Barrington" is the first costume production this popular stock company has produced since "Heart's Ease" last summer. It is a story founded upon the little dinner party that was extended to Gen. Washington by a party of traitors, the attempt to capture him and the unexpected finale. It is a drama of sword play, startling climaxes, and poetic speeches, through the cast. Messrs. Mack, Chapman, Patton, Fitzsimmons, Charles, Heffron and McNeill all have prominent roles, while Mr. Frank Joyce will be seen in the character of George Washington. Misses Farnum, Cameron and Meade have good roles, while the part of Ruth Langdon, a dainty ingenue of the Janice Mordich order, will be played by Miss Lane. There will be matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Prices remain the same.

"THE DEVIL'S AUCTION"

Has Outlived All But Shakespeare and "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Charles H. Yale's "Everlasting

Devil's Auction," which by virtue of its capacity to keep abreast of the times has earned the sobriquet preceding its title, has outlived almost everything else except "Shakespeare" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Twenty-six years ago, when James S. Moffet and his partner, Bartholomew, were involved in the telling of the story, they ran the show with gas light and tallow dips and flash boxes. When electricity began to be used, the scheme of giving the show was changed to keep abreast of the times and newer conditions. The title underwent the same sort of brushing up until there was nothing left but "Everlasting" to describe its quality. In all these years the "Devil's Auction" has gone ahead, supplying the amusement public with a couple of hours of anticipated pleasure, until its announcements have gained a sort of importance, so that events are dated from its coming and going, and a reward for good behavior held out to young folks that they will be taken to see the "Everlasting Devil's Auction" if they are good. If they are not, well—they don't go, and many a youngster is on the qui vive from the day the town walls are adorned with "Auction" pictures until they know how their fate is settled.

In this year's edition, the twenty-sixth, as in every succeeding season, new costumes, scenery and the latest novelties are conspicuous. It will be at the Lyceum Monday, Feb. 24.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

Pat Reilly and the Reilly & Wood Company Will Give an Elaborate Extravaganza and Vaudeville Entertainment There.

The only original Pat Reilly will be at the Metropolitan next week, when the Reilly & Wood company will play its annual engagement, with the usual matinees. Pat Reilly is a name that has long shone on the sign boards in front of Empire circuit theaters, and his organizations have probably enjoyed as much popularity and patronage as any in the "wheel."

This season his advance agent says his entertainment is away above any-

AT THE BIJOU

Richard Buhler in "The Crackman," Will be the Feature of an Excellent Bill of Vaudeville and Peter Mahar's Wife in Songs and Stories.

Good things will be plentiful at the Bijou next week, commencing Monday afternoon. The bill is composed of feature attractions, headed by Richard Buhler and company, in the powerful little one-act drama, "The Crackman." In this little play Buhler works out a situation as intense in its force as is strong in action.

The following is a notice from the Winnipeg papers:

"Richard Buhler and Louise Orendorf, who present 'The Crackman,' give an entertainment that is most excitingly dramatic. From start to finish the audience is held enthralled. The play represents the story of an attempted diamond robbery, and the events that are introduced into the play are sensational and thrilling. Another act that is receiving much press comment as to its cleverness is given by George H. Whitman and Eloise Davis, who are comedy artists, and are presenting their clever skit entitled "His Little Game," in which several strong impersonations of various characters are introduced. Both Mr. Whitman and Miss Davis have long been stars in the ranks of the legitimate.

An interesting feature will be Mrs. Peter Mahar, known as "The Irish Queen," and wife of the celebrated Irish champion pugilist, Peter Mahar. Mrs. Mahar will introduce a number of good Irish stories and songs that are original, and told in a way that can only be done by one who comes from Erin's Isle itself.

A clever attraction in the gymnastic line will be the Ascott Eddy trio, who offer acrobatic feats that are of the most difficult kind. The act is a pantomime comedy, consisting of two men and one woman, who is an exceptionally good toe dancer, as well as a musical artist, and introduce acrobatic feats different from anything ever seen in the gymnastic line.

A good musical comedy offering will be the three Millards, who are musical artists, and offer a refined line of comedy.

DULUTH SINGER COMING HOME

Friends of Charles Dorrance Are Planning to Receive Him.

CHARLES DORRANCE.

Charles Dorrance, who is well known in this city, will be in Duluth some time in March with the Red Feather opera company, with which he is singing as tenor.

It was only last fall that Mr. Dorrance was in Duluth to try his luck with the play folks. He was engaged by the Red Feather company and has made a good record for himself with them as a light opera singer.

His Duluth friends are planning to welcome him royally when he hits the town. He was well liked in Duluth, and all his friends are anxious to see him and hear him.

In the many years that Mr. Dorrance lived in Duluth, he frequently had a part in the home theatrical performances and entertainments, and his talents along these lines were recognized.

those years. It was at one time one of the best paying and most widely known vaudeville theaters in the country. This will be its last week as a straight-out vaudeville house, and next week the new policy that has been such a success at the twenty-third street house will be inaugurated at the Fourteenth Street theater in the metropolis.

M. B. Leavitt, the world-trotting manager, who has been in the city for a few days last week, passing from Canada to the South, will be in town to see his new theatrical enterprise.

Business Manager John Murray, for Lillian Russell in her new play, "Wildfire," was in the city for a few days last week, passing from Canada to the South, will be in town to see his new theatrical enterprise.

There is a plan on foot to shift the players who are appearing in the principal male characters of "The Merry Widow" in the New York cast Donald Brian, is the Prince Danilo, and in Chicago George Damerel has made a hit in that part. It is hinted that for a novelty the prince there and Damerel taken to New York for a change. Lena Arbabsch, the Viennese prima donna, is the merry widow of the Chicago cast, and it has been suggested to switch her to the New York cast and let Ethel Jackson play the part in Chicago.

Grace Elliston, who created the role of Shirley Rossmore in "The Lion and the Moon" has been engaged for the principal female part in the company supporting Damerel. It is soon to be brought out in the East by Manager Henry B. Harlow. Among others the cast will be William Courtenay, Thomas B. Findlay, Elliston Errol, R. A. Roberts and Edward Wing. George A. Lebler & Co. goes abroad this spring he will be accompanied by Booth Tarkington and Charles Wilson, who are putting the finishing touches on "Cameo Kirby," the new play they are writing for a manager, and which N. F. Goodwin is to produce. Messrs. Wilson and Tarkington have been very pleased with their first collaboration on "The Man From Home," which has turned towards its thirtieth week in Chicago without showing any signs of waning popularity.

The action of the Southern Passenger Agents' association at their meeting in Atlanta, Ga., knocks out

All day the heavens had threatened a storm. The atmosphere was full of tension. Not that anyone could say just how the air threatened, but that danger was in the air. The children in the little country schoolhouse felt the warning and kept turning from their books to look out at the sky. A storm coming in monster form over the prairies at a full gallop. The teacher, too, felt that the fine weather which had been so good in the States for so long was about to end with a grand climax. But to her the anticipated spectacular ending of a day was not so important as the fact that for not only would she and the 15 little children intrusted to her care have a struggle through snowdrifts and windgusts, but that the children in the community would be cut off from town, the source of their provision. And all for a great many cattle were doomed to pass the winter on the open prairie. The children and the teacher could find under the hill sides and along the creeks no place to hide.

Children, I think it advisable to dismiss school early this afternoon. Willie and I will go to the schoolhouse, where I will do some things that will get through our relations as quickly as possible and omit the recess."

The 15 children were pleased when the teacher made this announcement, and none were more so than Jack Bird, a boy of 14, who came from a ranch three miles distant from the schoolhouse.

When the teacher was dismissed for the day, and teacher and children hurried towards their respective homes without a minute's delay, the teacher was glad to see the children go in her direction to make all possible haste to their homes, for the sky was already indented and windgusts were carrying dust, tangled and breath of ice.

Jack Bird and Willie Sams went with the Grey children to their home, where the Grey children had two miles from the schoolhouse.

Mrs. Grey, coming to the road to meet her children, said to Jack Bird, "Go on right over night with her, saying that a blizzard was at hand and might come before they could reach their homes."

a mile and a half beyond. Indeed, little Willie Sams lived farther away than the other children, and he was obliged to start off from Jack before him and after parting from Jack he must still proceed for half a mile on the best section road which went so straight across the country as to draw the eye of the driver from the Equator to the North Pole.

"No, thank you, Mrs. Grey," said Jack. "But we must hurry home. I don't like to turn in at the right time our odds would be out on the search. Oh, we'll make home all O. K. here, and we'll get down to bed right bottom with Willie and see that he gets home safely. Then I'll come back to my own house like a prairie fire, for I'll be home." And he turned swinging about a norther.

"But it's only fun to travel with it. I'll just lean against it, shut my eyes and let it blow me right into my own door-pan."

Mrs. Grey was not quite so sure of Jack's being blown safely into his own backyard, and urged him to wait until the morning light came with her, but the wind rising and the temperature falling, Jack declared that every minute spent

"Guess I'm in for a hard pull," said Jack mentally. "Well, it's about a mile from here to the quarry, and another quarter of a mile following the road will carry me right into my own work." He looked up at the sky long enough to find his way in the dark. "I'll just shut my eyes and make tracks for the road. Once there I'm on safe ground."

The wind came whistling and Judge his distraction by the wind, for it added and whirled, seeming to come from all directions at once. And had he been able to see, he would have noticed how close he had been seen 50 yards from his nose. So, struggling bravely on, Jack whistled mentally, for he had a cheerful voice ever anything as small as a blizzard.

But pretty soon, owing to his astonishment, Jack found himself coming down a little creek bed. He opened his eyes long enough to check that he was on the bank of the creek, and then he was directly in its path. Ah, he had evidently been walking in a circle! From the best of

for his path. And while the wood burned he would warm himself beside it and the snow would melt under the path. Twice he went to the top of the bank to make observations, but was glad to return to his shelter, for the wind had evened and he felt that it would be dangerous to try to push homeward. The rude roof he made became all-right, for the sleet and snow filled each crack, clinging there and holding more snow and sleet. And so Jack found himself snug and comfortable in his cave. He had kept a path open through the drift, which was piling up higher and higher, and promised to soon reach his home. But the wind was strong. Through this path Jack brought in wood at frequent intervals.

Just as the blizzard-bombard was on the point of ceasing, a fresh supply of wood—one which would last him for the night, he heard the sound of a voice calling "Hello! Hello!" Jack looked up and saw a man in a fur coat. "Puttin' his fingers in his mouth he gave a yell, and several answering whistles which he took to be his own mother's: "ack! Jack!"

father and the father of Willie Sanss were the same Jack into a mob and he was to be a warm supper at 9 o'clock that night his father told him how he had come to and him. He had gone to the teacher's house and had learned from him that Jack had expressed his intention of taking Willie Sanss home. So, to the Sanss' home the good man had gone, and he had told Willie Sanss that he then set him on the right track—down to the creek. And there, after driving about blindly for sometime he had smell the creek and the camp fire.

"But we all had a close call, son," said Mr. Blvd. "Even the horses seemed lost at first. But I was able to find them. One couldn't guide them in such a storm."

"Well, dad, I feel that courage and a bit of a sense of direction would defeat the storm," said Jack, laughing.

ing that one may need fire in cases of emergency when far from civilization and soon had a fine blaze. "Ah, not to be troubled by the cold," exclaimed "Ara" in his dinner pal I have a slice of brood and butter and two doughnuts. That will serve me for supper. I'll just fix this up now though I mean to stay here a couple of days, but my plans will not be fulfilled. If the storm lets up before dark, I can get out and move on. Why troubles me is that dad and mother will be here in a few days and I shall have to go among the neighbors to hunt for fire and never once will he suspect that I am away down here on the creek."

With several long strokes of his massive tool he cut a roof over one corner of the cave. Above the sticks he threw several big pieces of bark, weighting them down with stones found along the creek. Then he piled up the sticks and snag material for be meant to keep up his courage. He also kept the fire blazing, which was a difficult task, the snow and sleet coming down in such quantities that the flames smothered it out at times. But Jim would find fresh sticks, say as timber, and poke up the blaze. The wind whirled about the shelter, blowing the snow and needles, but the fire kept him from freezing.

Getting a fine blaze, Jack sat down on the sheltered corner and ate his bark and doughnuts.

Then he ate in his dinner pal and filled it with the snow from the sheltering drift. Then he set the pall on the fire. So he had some very hot water. Several times he filled the tin with snow and poured it into water, for the heat of the warm water him through and through. He used the water for cooking and for using freezing when one can have pieces of fire and hot water and a good fire.

Answer to last week's Letter Enigma: Duncie—Cap.

BY MAUD WALKER.

Aryle and May Jackson were sisters, aged fourteen and twelve, respectively. Their home was on a farm adjoining a town that nestled in a wooded valley. Between the Jackson farm and town lay a broad, open field. The field was lonely and desolate place—with its gaunt trees and deep-aved walks—during the winter. It was not a forbidding place by daylight, but at night it was quite desolate enough. "Creepy," said Aryle, "the way the girl feels 'creepy' if obliged to pass through it, unless accompanied by an adult."

One evening, just after supper was over in the Jackson home, one of the old servants came to Mrs. Jackson, coming driving up in a sleigh, calling to Mrs. Jackson—who had hurried to the door to greet him—that his mother was very ill, and that he had come to take Mrs. Jackson to the bedside.

"I hope you can come with me, aunt Mary," pleaded the young man. "For mother thinks there is no nurse in the world like you."

"I'll be with Jack. I'll be ready in a minute," promised Mrs. Jackson. "Come in and warm yourself while I get into my wraps."

"Mamma," said May, "what will you know papa will do—here alone? You know papa will not be home till tomorrow evening, and may be detained even longer, if the old jury doesn't get out soon. What will you do on the jury?" asked Jack, who was warming his benumbed fingers at the big base-burner which glowed with cheerful coals.

"Yes, and the case that is to be heard to-morrow morning," said Aryle. "The jury trial, you see, if mamma goes away sister and I will be here alone."

"Didn't Sam promise to return at bedtime?" asked Mrs. Jackson, drawing on her overshoes. She referred to their hired man, who was perfectly trustworthy in every respect, and who had never let down the Jacksons in any of his many and many a time he had looked after the house, the children and the farm in the absence of Mrs. Jackson.

"If Sam returns before bedtime it's all right," said Myrtle. "But you know he has a long ride home, and it is late now. What time will he go?" asked Jack, who as a relative of the family, held the right

"Well, you know, Jack, that Sam has a new home and is living about eight miles from town—over there. This old friend's daughter was married today and Sam and I were invited to the wedding. I presented Laden with presents—what the old man's last wages—he hitched old Sory to the buggy and set off for the place of festivity. The wedding was planned to take place with the moon shining—well, it was a fine night, I called this afternoon. Sory was a good fellow, a palaver, as the boys called it, and ready to start for home about 4 or 5 o'clock. In that event he'd arrive here sometime between 7 and 8 o'clock. I explained Mrs. Jackson's plan of the party to Sam. The Sam has worked for us—I might say, been one of the family—he has never broken his word with us. So I'm as sure that he'll be here on time as I am sure of tomorrow's sunrise."

"You must not forget, Mamma mine," interposed Myrtle, with a smile, "that the sun cannot be interfered with by mortal man, whereas the most powerful of mortals can interfere with the sun's poor creature on the earth. We are victims of circumstances. The sun is all powerful."

"You are a great wizzard," laughed Mrs. Jackson, stroking Myrtle's hair tenderly. "But, he not afraid. Even though Sam were detained an hour or so you two girls are perfectly safe here. Lock up the house securely, draw down the shades, and, if you hear any noise, call out to the two little girls leave the front door alone. And now, goodby, dearies, I must hasten to your poor auntie's bedside."

And Mrs. Jackson kissed her daughter's golden curls and gave her away to the smiling arms of her sister relative.

Myrtle and Mary locked and fastened doors and windows, not waiting for the night to fall before securing themselves in their quarters.

"Sister," said Mary, excitedly, "I have thought of a plan to fool anyone who might be skulking about to do mischief here while we are alone. Suppose we light up a bonfire on the roof of the house, and maybe mamma's room up stairs. Then let's play the piano all along with all our might, and anyone passing will think a party is in progress."

Myrtle laughed at her sister's plan.

"You are a great wizzard," said Mrs. Jackson, stroking Myrtle's hair tenderly.

and I said, "I'm not going to bed." Neither had May noticed the passing of the time, for Tabby had proved so far a model for her pencil that all but her drawing had been forgotten.

"Let's go to bed," yawned Myrtle, lying aside her book. "It's quite evident that Sam has been detained in some way. He'll wake us up on his return for doors are locked and barred, so that he'll have to call us to let him in. Get up. I'm really getting sleepy. And I feel the least bit afraid, either, although I thought it would be awfully creepy to stay here alone—just you and me."

"Well, I guess we'll not be carried off without some noise," laughed May. "I hate to be taken in my sleep, for I want to know something about going. We're sleepy, too. How lonely without papa and mamma."

Half an hour later found Myrtle and May in their bed, the moon peeping through the window to keep them company.

But just as they were going off into Slumber Land a strange tap, tap, tap, sounded on the wall that divided their room from the storeroom. Both girls sat up in bed, staring into one another's pale faces. "What was that?" whispered May.

Tap, tap, tap, went the sound again three times as before. And it was on the wall directly opposite their bed. Could someone have gotten into the storeroom? But why should a housebreaker wish make its presence known by tapping on the wall of a room which he knew to be occupied.

This reasoned the two frightened girls. But what could be the meaning of the tapping? Then, as the tap, tap, tap came again Myrtle's eyes filled with a sudden horror, and putting her lips to Margaret's ear she whispered: "That's papa!" "What?" Margaret had never believed in such things, and mamma and papa laugh at the mere mention of the name; but what else, if not a ghost, would make that strange sound?

May shivered at her sister's suggestion, and involuntarily dropped down under the bed again, covering up her head with her hands. "What is it?" she heard her sister say, "that was going on. Her fear would not allow of her hiding her head. On the other hand, she wanted to defend her sister and what?" "What?" "What?" "What?" stepped from the bed and tiptoed to the wall, placing her ear against the signifying tap, tap, tap! "The bed!" "The bed!" "The bed!" "What if a ghost—no ghost!" "What if a ghost—no ghost?" those unearthly things that she had heard about—about—something on the other side of that wall! Gathering all her courage, she called out in a hoarse voice: "What is there, and what's wanted?" She almost fainted at her own boldness, and stood trembling against the wall for support. May, who was sitting up in bed, saw that her sister was about. Had she gone mad? Certainly, a girl in her nervous condition would not be calling out to a ghost, or a devil-like thing. The tap, tap, was the only reply to Myrtle's query. But at this instant a mighty stamp and knocking on the door sounded down stairs, and Sam's voice was calling loudly. It didn't take Myrtle a moment to have an hour to get down to the door and tell Sam all about the fight in the storeroom.

"Well, we'll have that ghost, dead or alive," declared old Sam, striding up stairs, and then he saw Myrtle. "What a sight! You could induce the girls to accompany him, and they stood shivering in the hall, waiting for Sam's dying shriek or his live explanation. They waited for two minutes of Sam's silence, and then he came to stay in the storeroom. Then forthwith came, a grin on his honest face.

"The clothesline hangs on the side of the house, and I saw it and I saw something," he said, "and I have been here ever since, carefully left the window of the storeroom open. The wind blows in and shakes the knotted end of the clothesline, making it hit the wall and the door, and I suppose the girls as I've ever caught in my life, though they're all of a different term."

"Sam, that's one you've," said Myrtle. "Let us get out just as easily as can when you tell papa and mamma and me!" And both girls joined Sam in laughing that came over their faces. "The ghost of the storeroom was gone, and the clothesline had ceased to tap, seeing that Sam had closed the window. And at peace and sleep reigned in the house, and the door that had departed and Sam's turned.

"Little builder, why did you cry?"
Sister Jane asked yesterday.
" 'Cos I meant to reach the sky,
And the ceiling's in the way."
"Never mind," said sister Jane,
"Let us build up to the plaster."
So they took the blocks again
And began to build up faster.
Then came Uncle through the door
With his ugly, grown-up nieces.
They made an earthquake on the floor
And broke the palace all to pieces.

double turn in just as the clock struck eight. You know how punctual he was. Were he out of his bed at 9 o'clock think the world would stop."

Then Myrtle buried her body in a large easy chair, drawn up before the fire, and her mind in a book, which she found most engrossing. May got her drawing materials and proceeded to sketch the picture that lay on a fur rug, taking her time and easy.

Thus the time passed, and to Myrtle's astonishment the clock struck nine. Interested in her book had she been that

HELVETIA MINES LOOK GOOD

Good Bodies of Ore Expected to be Cut On the Copper World--District Being Explored by Extensive Workings.

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 22.—The developments at Helvetia are eliciting daily interest and indications amount to any thing several large bodies of ore will very soon be opened up in the Copper World claim.

The ore body on the south part of the 80 foot level is gradually being explored and although the extent of the ore body was thirty feet in length it is apparently in the nature of a large vein as the hanging wall and foot wall are gradually diverging from each other. At the present time the walls are 30 feet apart thus indicating a very large ore body.

As soon as this ore body is more thoroughly explored a whole will be sunk in the vein to the 50 foot level. Practically all the drilling done in developing this body has been with auger drills, which fact clearly shows the leached-out rotten material encountered and promises richer conditions at lower levels.

A drift from the main crosscut is being run in the northwesterly direction on a seam of sulphide ore to encounter the large ore body which is present on the 100 foot level and averaged 5 per cent for over 200 feet.

The main drift on the 200 foot level running north has been looking very promising for some time. It has a 10 foot wall which for several days was carrying about a foot of sulphide ore. This has increased to three feet and the balance of the face has been scattered with small pieces of ore. The ore is very rich and looks as though a body of ore was about to be encountered.

At about 140 feet south from the face of the drift a crosscut was run toward the west and at 100 feet it was 10 feet wide and the face is in ore two feet of which is soft bluish gray material richly impregnated with small particles of native copper. The balance of the body has been in the nature of a large vein.

Helvetia is undoubtedly destined to be a large producer and will rank among the large dividend payers of Arizona in the very near future.

REPUBLIC CAMP LOOKS GOOD

To Spokane Mine Owner, Who Will Advance Capital Necessary to Build Mill--High-Grade Silver-Lead Ore Encountered.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 22.—Graham B. Dennis of Spokane, owner of the Inaugurate mine, located on Lone Pine hill in Perry county, Wash., north of here, and adjoining the Syndicated Deep Mines, said on his return from an inspection of Republic camp, that the outlook for the mining industry is brighter than at any time in the history of the camp. He is so confident the mines will develop into the highest class in the country that he will advance the capital necessary to build a mill to any one who can prove to the satisfaction of the mine owners that it is capable of treating the ore economically and effectively. As an inducement to have the plant installed without delay he offers to buy it when completed and pay double the initial cost. Mr. Dennis reports that the pumping of water out of the lower workings of the Republic camp mines is progressing and will be completed in a short time.

Officers and directors of the Mammoth-Morning Concentrating company, operating in the Matalline district, north of Spokane, were elected as follows: Chairman, president, Charles J. Johnson, secretary, Fred N. Davis, treasurer, O. T. Sands, S. B. Edwards, R. H. Moore, Frank A. May, Fred N. Davis, H. F. Snamiska, C. J. Johnson, George Burress and H. W. Greenburg, directors. Samples of ore from the Mammoth-Morning mine are being treated in the Denver Iron Works to determine what machinery is best fitted for concentrating the Matalline ore. The company was organized by the stockholders in the Mammoth Silver Lead Mining & Smelting company and the Morning Mining company to buy machinery at a cost of a concentrator of 200 tons capacity on the Mammoth-Morning mine at Matalline.

Reports from Keller, Wash., are that while running a tunnel on the Byrne group at a point 150 feet west of the old Burnmaster shaft, a large body of high grade silver-lead was encountered. A cross-cut was run and it was ascertained that the ore body is fully four feet wide. The property is owned principally by the Silver Creek Mining & Milling company, the large stockholders of which are the chief owners of the Keller Smelting company. Work on the group has been carried on for several years. There are two shafts on the summit of the hill, one sixty feet deep and the other thirty feet. High grade gold ore has been found in both, but the ledge was not found until the strike was made, fifty feet in. The company has set aside a substantial fund to continue active development work.

A. B. Mouck, superintendent of the Alder mine at Twisp, Wash., announces that if the test of 5,000 tons of ore from the property, due to treatment proves successful a new style reduction plant of capacity will be erected on the property at a cost of $150,000. A contract has just been awarded for the 150-foot extension of the work on the mine which will strike the ore at the 400-foot level. A gas engine has been installed and air pipes are being placed, that the mine may be properly ventilated until a raise is made to the lower level. The company will also install an assay office.

RAWHIDE THE LATEST CAMP

In Nevada That is Experiencing a Great Boom--The Surface Showings Are the Richest Ever Found in the State.

Goldfield, Nev. Feb. 22.—There is a tremendous boom on the new camp of Rawhide, situated in the northern part of Esmeralda county, of which Goldfield is the county seat, along the border of Churchill county. The new camp was discovered in this camp some six months ago, but little was known of it until the outside public until the past few weeks. During this time there has been the greatest rush for the diggings since the early Goldfield boom. Enough work has been done to warrant the belief that it will be a permanent camp of the bonanza character.

The mineralized district is ten miles long and four miles wide. The surface showing are the richest ever found in the state and rich showings can be seen from nearly every part of the district. Hundreds of rich veins of high grade ore are producing shipping ore ten feet from the surface.

A bonafide transaction for one lease involved $45,000, the purchaser being Goldfield people. Goldfield, Tonopah, Reno and the best operators in the state are now crowding into Rawhide, and the railroad men will be on the market within a week.

There probably are 3,000 people in the camp and they are going to stay. The influx of people is the greatest since the early Goldfield boom. Nothing there is yet but the best. The 80 men at work on mining ground. There is the same volcanic appearance and the same geological conditions.

The town lies in a circle of white and brown stained porphyritic hills. Many people think the new camp will out-rival Goldfield. At depth the rich seams expand into rich veins of high grade ore, with rich streaks along the wall. Already machinery has been bought for three different stamp mills.

MINING IN THE BACK HILLS

Shaft to be Sunk in Echo Company's Tunnel--Gold-stake to Resume Work on Larger Scale--Custer's Mica Mines.

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 22.—Preparations are being made by the Echo Mining company, operating in the Matalline district, to sink a shaft from a point some distance in the tunnel the company has been driving with difficulty. Any shaft hole will be installed as soon as possible and the shaft sunk 20 or 30 feet in an effort to undercut the ledge that shows on the surface. The station for the hoist is now being sunk. The new shaft installed in the tunnel have encountered remarkably hard rock, but make good progress.

Work is likely to be resumed on a larger scale than heretofore on the property of the Goldenrod Mining company in the Matalline district. C. M. Henniger and David Nelson, who have been working there for some days, have found a promising looking body of rock that is highly mineralized and gives indications of good value. The work will be prosecuted further and the nature of the find tested.

Custer, S. D., Feb. 22.—On the authority of the Westinghouse Electric company it is stated that the mica mines here, operated for the last year with considerable success, will not be closed as was anticipated, but that the company now plans extending their Custer workings. A force of men has just been put to work on the White Star mine, which has been operated for some months past, and its output will be added to the general production of the company. Some time ago, while the mines here were being opened up, the company made a contract with an East India firm for shipping mica to the United States and brought some of it in, but it was found later to be less profitable than paying the charges for the railroad to the market that can be readily mined here, and practically all of the company's supply in the future will come from this point. It is stated positively that the machinery installed here some time ago has proved successful, and that the company will experiment no longer with other localities.

There is a shaft in a circle of white and brown stained porphyritic hills. Many people think the new camp will out-rival Goldfield. At depth the rich seams expand into rich veins of high grade ore, with rich streaks along the wall. Already machinery has been bought for three different stamp mills.

STEAMBOATS ABANDONED

Butte-Ballaklava Company Installs New Electrical Equipment—New Hoist Will Sink to Depth of 2,500 Feet—Butte-Coalition in Better Physical Condition Than Ever Before.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 22.—In a surprising short space of time, and without interfering for a moment with actual mining operations, the Butte-Ballaklava Copper company has supplanted its steam surface equipment with one operated entirely by electricity. The new hoist is of double drum construction and has a capacity for sinking the shaft to a depth of 2,500 feet. It is driven by a 22-horse power motor, Electric motor, and the compressor is connected to a 100-horse power motor. To accommodate the new equipment, it became necessary to construct a new building immediately over the one containing the steam hoist. The new building is very spacious and is built of corrugated iron, it is in keeping with a number of other buildings, which the company has recently constructed on the ground, and which were designed to accommodate a big producing property. The surface plant is now one of the most up-to-date in the district, and has every convenience necessary to economical mining. Electricity is used for the hoist, and wherever power is required. From the surface to the 500-foot level, the shaft is now of a single compartment, but from the 500-foot level down, it is being sunk for three compartments, and the shaft now has a depth of 570 feet. It is expected that the ledge will be at least eighty feet a month will be attained, and it will be the aim to go 100 feet. From the 500-foot level, the surface shaft will be raised for three compartments.

It is expected that commercial ore in shipping quantities will be opened upon the 700-foot level, and from the width of the veins on the 500-foot level and the values at that depth, there is good reason to believe that the property will be a good producer at the lower depth. In preparation for a commercial mine, the company will soon commence the construction of ore bins, The Northern Pacific and Butte, Anaconda & Pacific tracks pass through the property, close to the shaft, but it has not been decided on which track to build the bins. While production is not yet resumed at the Butte Coalition still during the past few months considerable development work has been under way, and as a consequence the property is in better physical condition today than ever before. The developments on the upper levels, particularly on the 600, it should prove of commercial extent on the 1,000. The drift is now in about twenty-five feet, and the face is nearly all in ore. There is every inclination that it will widen out and become richer. Under the management of the South Butte Mining company, which has a lease and bond on the Daphne group of claims in the Cobden district, the Daphne is being developed into a very promising property. Some samples of ore brought to Butte yesterday, taken from the mill-test made in 1906, show below the surface, assayed 14 per cent copper, 11 ounces of silver and $2 in gold to the ton. The samples showed considerable native copper. The North Butte Mining company is excellent progress have been coming from the Alex Scott mine, the property of the Butte-Montana Copper company. It is reported that the crosscut on the 1,000-foot level, which is being run by the Alex Scott shaft to the West Colusa, for the purpose of supplying an up-draft to clear the latter of fumes arising from the fire in the Minnie Healy, is led about thirty-four feet wide, was intersected. It is said that the ledge carries a six-foot vein of ore, which assays better than 10 per cent copper and 24 ounces of silver to the ton. A sample of the ore, which was shown recently, carried considerable native copper. Much of the width of the vein is chalcopryite.

The extent of the vein has not yet been determined, but from the extent of the developments on the upper levels, particularly on the 600, it should prove of commercial extent on the 1,000. The drift is now in about twenty-five feet, and the face is nearly all in ore. There is every inclination that it will widen out and become richer. Under the management of the South Butte Mining company, which has a lease and bond on the Daphne group of claims in the Cobden district, the Daphne is being developed into a very promising property. AT THE LAKE SUPERIOR MINES

Production Last Month Was Practically Same as in January a Year Ago—Most Lake Mines Find It Cheaper to Continue Running Than to Close Down.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The production of copper by the Lake Superior mines was practically the same for last month as in January, 1907. The total output for 1907 showed a decrease from the preceding year, due to some what curtailed operations during the last half of the year, but the decrease was comparatively small, and much less than is shown in most of the leading copper-producing districts of the world. The output of the Lake Superior mines pay less attention to market fluctuations in the price of the metal than is the case with copper mines elsewhere, partly from necessity and partly from choice. So far as necessity is concerned, the lake mines, by reason of the extremely low grade of ore treated, are unable, even if they wished, to greatly increase production in periods of high prices, while in times of low prices, such a very limited selection of ore is possible in mines where the ore is so low grade, that but little can be done in the way of bringing the rock treated to a materially higher average. The output of the Lake Superior mines, which is a result of sixty years of continuous operation, is fairly well crystallized. The lake mines, with rare exceptions, proceed on the same lines as the prudent farmer who cultivates his ground to the best of his ability, and sells his crops at the market price, whether high or low. The Lake Superior mines are a single product they cannot follow the example of the modern agriculturist and indulge in speculative crops. That the methods of production and marketing followed by the lake mines have been fairly successful is indicated by the record of the district, lake mines having disbursed, in dividends, nearly $175,000,000 to date, of which about half has been paid in ten past decades.

Even if money were to be made by producing at the present price of copper, most of the lake mines would not be inclined to continue running to close down. Fixed charges are high, but the cost of running is low. RATHER QUIET WEEK IN DULUTH REALTY CIRCLES

Not Many Sales Have Been Made This Week, But Dealers Note on Increasing Demand for Homes—Some Property Owners Are Listing Their Property for an Advance in Price After March 1 Next—Gas and Water Extensions Are Said to be the Reason for Higher Values—Many Renters Are Looking for Homes.

The local real estate market has been devoid of any features this week. There has been a little selling right along, but the transactions are being closed rather slowly and the owners are showing no disposition toward making any concessions in the way of lower rates. It is understood that the prices on quite a number of local pieces of property are likely to advance about March 1. A local real estate broker said yesterday that he has received notice from owners he represents that after March 1 he must note a price on some residence property placed in his hands, at a figure a few hundred dollars higher than the same property can be purchased for today. The steps being taken for gas and water extensions is tending to stiffen the prices on a large number of hill properties that have been on the market for some time. The only thing that has prevented a sale, perhaps, has been the absence of water and gas and now that the extensions are likely to be made this coming year the value of the properties have gone up a notch.

As the season approaches when renewals of leases on rented properties will have to be made, the inquiry for homes is becoming more marked. Local dealers in improved property report quite a number of new inquiries from people who have been renting homes this past year and who wish to own places of their own. It is probable that the rental agencies will send out their notices for renewals before long, and it will be definitely known whether there is to be any tendency toward higher rents this coming year.

Dr. J. T. Burnside of West Duluth has sold F. H. Burnett the tenement house property on the corner of Piedmont avenue and Seventeenth avenue west for $3,500.

F. Gerson has purchased from E. C. Warner a residence property on the lower side of Jefferson street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues east, for $2,650.

E. G. Griley has purchased a 100-foot property at the northeast corner of Fifth street and Twelfth avenue east, for $2,250. The four lots comprising the purchase were formerly owned by the John L. Dodge estate. The property is described as lots 1 to 4, block 115, Portland.

Richard Hanson has been awarded the contract for the construction of a 37-foot addition to the Landmark & Franson store, at the corner of Tenth avenue east and Second street. The whole structure is to be made two stories high, the second floor to be divided into flats.

S. S. Altschul has sold the brick flat property on First street and Second avenue east, opposite the Armory, to F. L. Rittel, for $13,000. The deed was recorded this week.

Anthony Puck, architect, has prepared plans for a seven-room stone cottage for Harry R. Ely of Craig, Colo. He is preparing plans for a two-story brick house for Kohr Bros. of Hibbing, to cost about $12,000, also plans for a $12,000 residence for J. H. Harper, at the corner of Superior street and Twenty-sixth avenue east. Miss Nellie Borsheim of Minneapolis will erect a cottage on Park Point, near Oakda beach, according to plans furnished by Mr. Puck. The latter is preparing plans for alterations and additions to the main building of the Duluth Boat club.

Following are the transfers recorded this week:

A. C. Volk et al. to E. B. Ryan, Jr.: lots 11 and 12, block 8, West Park division.

A COMFORTABLE HOME WHICH CAN BE BUILT IN DULUTH FOR $3,400

A house, well proportioned and artistic in design, and somewhat out of the ordinary in arrangement, is shown in the above sketch. The low-hipped roof and wide eaves, the attractively arranged windows, and the generally low effect of the design gives it an unusually cozy and homelike appearance. The same effect is carried out with the interior arrangement. The entrance from the vestibule directly into the large living room, with a comfortable freedom of space on all sides and an immediate view of the detail and interesting arrangement of the plan, is truly an invitation to "be at home."

As special features of the plan, the den, with its sunny bay windows and the unusually compact and convenient stairway arrangement, is worthy of note. The stairs to the second story are equally accessible from front and rear of the house. The collar stairs go down under the second-story stairway, from the kitchen, and on the landing, at ground level, a doorway is provided, giving direct entrance to the basement from the outside. Another good and economical feature is the single chimney, so advantageously placed as to be easily utilized for the heater, range and fireplace.

The dining room is of good size, with broad windows, on the side and a group of high, leaded windows at the rear. The kitchen and pantry are well lighted, and nicely arranged for kitchen equipment.

The space is well utilized, and the rooms are of good size, well lighted and airy. The hall is straight, and well lighted. A good feature of the plan is the sewing room, one side of which is devoted to a linen cabinet. The bathroom is of comfortable size, and plenty of closets are provided.

A basement is planned under the entire building, divided into laundry, fuel room, furnace room and cellars.

The ceiling heights are 7 feet, 9 feet and 8 feet. Floors throughout are of hardwood, and the finish, birch for first story, and pine, for second story.

In Duluth and vicinity a dwelling of the above design and description could be built, including heating and plumbing, at a cost of $3,400.

LACKING IN AMMUNITION

Startling Story is Current as to the Coast Artillery.

Claimed That Economy in Projectiles is Carried Too Far.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A very startling story is current in Washington just now to the effect that Secretary Taft has recently discovered, through the reports of his inspectors, that the coast artillery, that branch of the military service which is charged with the duty of protecting our cities, is woefully lacking in ammunition. The exact status cannot be published for prudential reasons. But it is known that the fixed ammunition, necessary for the proper service of the high-power guns with which our forts are supplied has been reduced to the minimum. This is hardly the best of light batteries where there is a marked deficiency so far as reports go in ammunition. All of which leads up to the broad question whether economy in projectiles is advisable.

There has recently been established near the city of Washington a private concern, which manufactures high-power projectiles, and which has been in business of all kinds since the late fall of this company has been called to the attention of the military department of the Washington navy yard, which is the largest of its kind in the world. The company is called the "Projectile Company," and its capital is $1,000,000. It is claimed that the company is a monopoly, and that it is the only one of its kind in the world. It is claimed that the company is a monopoly, and that it is the only one of its kind in the world.

No foreign power could send a fleet of high-power ships to our coast more quickly than ammunition could be prepared, provided that the company is a monopoly, and that it is the only one of its kind in the world. It is claimed that the company is a monopoly, and that it is the only one of its kind in the world.

DEATHBED TIE NO MARRIAGE

Beautiful Actress Shorn of Name, Title and Wealth.

Leprie, Feb. 24.—A romance of real life, with a strong element of tragedy in it, has been brought to a conclusion by the supreme court of the German empire at Leprie. The disappointed, disinherited heroine is an Austrian actress, Wanda Blauslein, now 29 years of age. She is a Galician, born at Ternopol, and a striking brunette beauty of the Oriental type.

Ten years ago, when employed in a minor role in a third-rate theater, at Vienna, she attracted the attention of a German nobleman, Count Plus Chamare, possessor of great estates and a large fortune. Count Chamare and Wanda became the closest of friends. Wanda took an expensive apartment in the most fashionable part of Vienna and soon became a conspicuous figure in Bohemian circles of Vienna society. Out of love for Count Chamare, she renounced her Jewish faith and embraced Catholicism. Her friendship with Count Chamare was thrown out of his motor car and fatally injured.

On his deathbed he expressed a desire to marry Wanda Blauslein, and also to make her his sole heiress. Nov. 7, 1903, he made his will in the presence of three witnesses, two physicians and one lawyer. Three days later, having obtained a special license, he married her according to the rites of the Catholic church. Forty-eight hours after his wedding he died, and the actress, now Countess Wanda Chamare, came into possession of his property.

The count's blood relatives urged that in the automobile crash he suffered injuries to his brain which made him incapable of understanding the purport of his will and the significance of his marriage.

The case was decided in favor of Countess Wanda, but her dead husband's brothers and sisters lodged an appeal, and the court of appeals reversed the judgment of the lower tribunal and declared that Countess Wanda must be deprived of her inheritance. She in her turn carried the case to the supreme court of the empire, which has likewise given judgment against her.

Her marriage with Count Plus Chamare has been declared null and void, and his entire property will be divided among his seven brothers and sisters. Wanda has lost her name, her title and her fortune.

PRIEST "BUNKOED" WITH A BAD CHECK.
Orange, N. J., Feb. 24.—At the services at the Catholic church here yesterday, Rev. Father John F. Boylan told his congregation that he had been "bunkoed" with a worthless check, which was given him by a young man in payment for the fee of his marriage. The priest said that he had not only lost the amount of the fee, but had been obliged to pay $1.25 protest fees on the check.

FROZEN IN ICE FIELDS

Philadelphia Bark Believed to be Held at Greenland.

Nothing Has Been Heard From Her Since Last October.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Frozen fast in the ice fields of the North, the Philadelphia bark Alkaline lies beyond the reach of mails and telegraphs, while anxious friends and relatives of the crew wait for spring to bring them news of the loved ones. The Alkaline was caught in the ice last October, while working away from the west coast of Greenland, bound for Copenhagen and Philadelphia. She carried a cargo of cryolite, and was commanded by Capt. Jensen.

Not Heard From Since Oct. 4.
After the cargo had been loaded, the ship left Iqviut, on Oct. 4, but never returned. It is believed that Capt. Jensen found the ice barrier impenetrable, and as it was late in the season, decided to put back to Iqviut, where there is a good harbor, and go into winter quarters and remain there until spring.

PATIENT WAS BADLY TREATED

Criminal Charges to be Brought Against Hospital Attendants.

Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 24.—A criminal charge will be brought against three attendants, employed at the Illinois Hospital for the Insane, in this city, who are alleged to have brutally beaten William Menezes, a patient, 64 years old, who is thought to be dying, as the result of the outrageous treatment at the asylum. Relatives of the victim today took steps toward this end. Whether the charge shall be one of murder or assault depends on the outcome of the legislative assembly committee, who are making a preliminary investigation, plan drastic action. As a result of his injuries, Menezes, who was at the institution only two days, is paralyzed, and has lost the faculty of speech.

Family of Peter Locato in Danger, But All Escaped.

Inability of the Police to Detect the Perpetrators

Has Caused Them to Become Very Bold of Late.

New York, Feb. 24.—An Italian bomb explosion, similar in character to many which have taken place in this city within a year, occurred in Brooklyn today when Peter Locato's music store, in Morgan avenue, was wrecked. Locato had received many so-called Black Hand letters, but having refused to pay for immunity, his store was first blown up last spring. In December last another bomb was left on the stoop, and the doors and windows demolished. Since then he has received several letters demanding money, but has ignored them, resulting in the third mysterious attack today. The lives of Locato, his wife and his three children, who occupied rooms in the rear of the store, were endangered.

CORONER'S JURY IS WITHOUT CLUE

To Brutal Murderer of Darniji Sandor at Ashland, Wis.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hungarian consul at Chicago is expected to make a thorough investigation into the murder of Darniji Sandor, at Ashland, some time between Feb. 8 and 15. At the consul's request, testimony will be sent to him. Sandor was traced from Mohawk, Mich., to Robt. Lake, Wis., but his body was found concealed in some cinders, near a roundhouse, at Ashland. SUPREME COURT DECIDES FOR DULUTH IN THE LAKE AVENUE VIADUCT APPEAL Decision Most Important to City From Monetary Standpoint.

The Railroads Must Provide Viaducts Where Safety Demands.

City Sustained in Contention From Lowest to Highest Court.

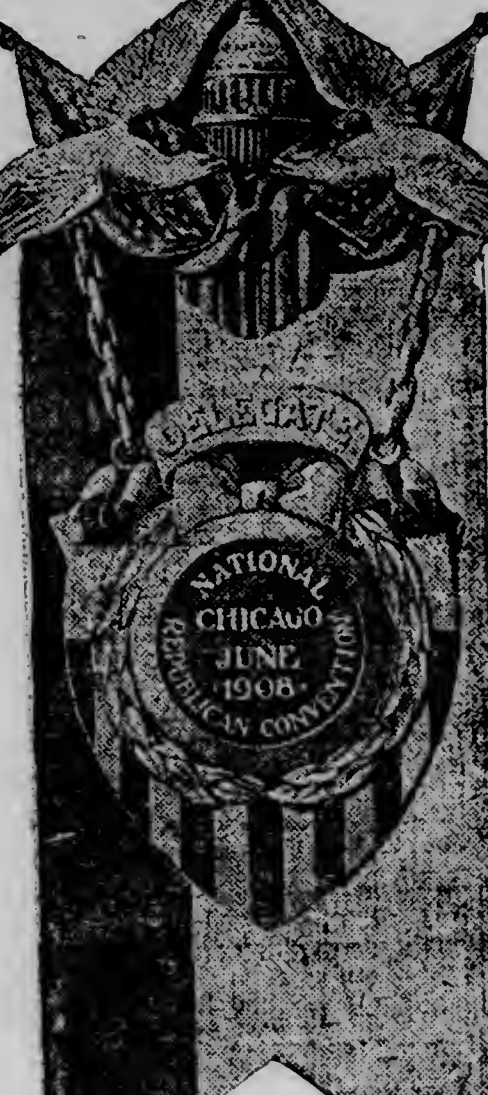

Washington, Feb. 24.—The supreme court of the United States today decided adversely to the Northern Pacific Railway company the case of that road against the state of Minnesota, involving the right of the city of Duluth to compel the railroad company to keep in repair a viaduct over its tracks in Duluth.

The foregoing decision is probably the most important legal victory that has been won by the city of Duluth in recent years, and may mean more to the city from the standpoint of dollars and cents, than any decision ever handed down by the courts. In a nutshell, it means that the railroad entering the city must pay the cost of building and maintaining viaducts over its tracks in the city.

NO TRACE OF THE ITALIAN

Who Murdered Denver Priest Can be Found at Wakefield.

Wakefield, Mass., Feb. 24.—Guarnaccio, the name given by the man who shot Father Leo Heinrichs at the confessional in St. Elizabeth's cathedral, Denver, yesterday, is probably assumed, as no trace can be found of a person of that name ever having lived here. Guarnaccio, who lives at No. 7 Brook avenue in this town, holds an important position in the L. B. Evans company's shoe factory here. He was seen here today and disclaimed any knowledge of a person of his name who had lived here or might be the murderer of the Denver priest. Other Italians here profess not to know Albi Guarnaccio which name the Denver assassin first gave.

ELKINS ACT IS UPHELD

Supreme Court Says Hepburn Law Does Not Repeal Section One.

All Fines Imposed for Rebating Must Now be Paid.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The question whether the railroad rate law, known as the Hepburn act, repeals Section 1 of the Elkins act, prohibiting rebates by railroads, was involved in the case of the Great Northern Railroad company vs. the United States, which was decided today by the supreme court of the United States against the railroad company, and against the contention of such repeal.

THE TRIAL OF HITCHCOCK

Goes Over a Week Because His Attorney is Busy.

New York, Feb. 24.—The trial of Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, on an indictment which resulted from charges preferred by a young girl, which was to have been begun in the supreme court today, was postponed until next Monday. The postponement was granted upon application of counsel for the defendant, on the ground that Hitchcock's chief counsel was engaged in another case in court. In granting the motion for delay, Justice Dowling said that no similar motion in the future will be entertained in this case. He warned parties to be prepared for trial next Monday.

PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Entered by Former Governor Voorhees to Perjury Indictment.

New York, Feb. 24.—Counsel for Foster M. Voorhees, former governor of New Jersey, and Frank Coombes, who were indicted on charges of perjury, pleaded not guilty before Judge Dowling today. Right to withdraw the plea of demur to the indictments within a week was reserved. The charges are based on reports to the state insurance department, made by the accused several years ago, while acting as officers of the Bankers' Life insurance company.

NO RECORD IN HISTORY

Of Tragedy Parallel to the Murder of Father Leo.

Assassin Expresses No Regret for His Awful Crime.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 24.—Members of the Catholic priesthood in this city declare there is no record in the history of the church of a tragedy so parallel that of the killing of Father Leo Heinrichs, while administering the sacrament to Giuseppe Guarnaccio, at the altar of St. Elizabeth's church, yesterday morning. Never before has a servant of the church been summoned from the performance of his duty in so tragic and dramatic a manner. This crime will stand out as one of the most fearful in criminal records of the world, and its perpetration may result in the elevation of Father Leo to the position of martyr, and lead to his canonization as one of the saints of the church, in whose service he fell, while performing his duty.

To Send Body to Paterson.
Father Eusebius, pastor of the St. Elizabeth church, received a telegram last night from the father provincial in Paterson, N. J., instructing him to forward the body of Father Leo to that city for interment. Father Eusebius will accompany the body.

Funeral services will be held at St. Elizabeth's church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when a solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated, probably by Father Eusebius. Father William will deliver the eulogy and a sermon against anarchy and socialism. The funeral services will be attended by 500 members of the Knights of Columbus, and the entire body of the Knights of St. John, and other Catholic organizations.

It is a custom of the Franciscan order that no eulogies be preached for its deceased members, but on account of the tragic circumstances and the general effect in this case of assassination upon the public, the rule will be set aside.

No Regret For Act.
Giuseppe Guarnaccio, the murderer, talked freely in jail concerning himself and his act, for which he declared he has no regret. He said he is a native of Sicily, 36 years old. He became a Socialist and Anarchist at 35 years of age. He is a shoemaker. He came to America two years ago, and has since been teaching anarchy, working but little at his trade. He lived, before coming to Denver, in Paterson, N. J., in mill owned by a Massachusetts man.

CARUSO WOULD LEAVE CONRIED

Wants to Go With Hammerstein If He Can Break Contract.

New York, Feb. 24.—The resignation of Heinrich Conried from the management of the Metropolitan opera house still furnishes gossip regarding the action of prominent members of his company. The rumor is persistent in spite of many details, that Enrico Caruso is to go to Hammerstein's rival opera house next winter, if he can get out of a contract which he signed with Conried. It is said that Conried's retirement ends the contract. The latest member of the Metropolitan company, who it is said, is considering a Hammerstein offer, is Mme. Emma Eames. Mme. Eames, it is said, has never had a contract with the Metropolitan, and is therefore free to accept the offer of the rival manager, if she so desires.

PASTOR DRANK; LOST HIS JOB

Missouri Minister Exposed and Driven From Church.

Lees Summit, Mo., Feb. 24.—Charles S. Brown, pastor of the Christian church of this city, has been exposed and driven out of the church for drunkenness and gambling. His strong personality and ability as an orator made for him a host of friends, and after winning the esteem and confidence of the congregation, he began to borrow money.

The suspicion of those who made the loans was aroused and an investigation was made. It was found that Brown played poker and drank while in Kansas City recently, and after his return here a statement was demanded.

At a prayer meeting the minister made the following statement, after which he resigned as pastor: "I took a little too much beer and then got started to gambling. I lost more than I could afford to lose and had no way to get out of the hole save by winning. So I borrowed money to play. I lost that money and borrowed more and lost again. Now all is lost and I am down and out."

MASS CITY FIRE, LOSS IS HEAVY

Business Portion of Michigan Town Practically Wiped Out.

Mass City, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald).—A disastrous fire prevailed here Saturday afternoon, starting in the living apartments over a saloon occupied by J. Kidd, and spreading until almost all the business portion of the town was in ruins, involving a loss of about $200,000, most of which is covered by insurance. The heaviest losses fell on the Columbia hotel, Scanlon's saloon, and J. A. Bergens' grocery store, all of which were totally destroyed.

TROY NOT TO BLAME

Supreme Court Decides Famous Suit Against Bridge Company.

Collision Occurred in Duluth-Superior Harbor in 1906.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The case of the Duluth & Superior Bridge company vs. the steamer Troy, a suit for damages, growing out of a collision by the steamer with the bridge across the St. Louis river, between Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., in 1906, whereby the bridge was destroyed, was decided adversely to the bridge company.

The case recalls a historic and rather painful incident to Duluth and Superior citizens. The steamer Troy collided with the bridge during the night, and as a result, the bridge has been out of commission for the better part of two years, putting citizens of both municipalities to untold inconvenience.

The bridge company attempted to compel the owners of the vessel to pay for the damage caused by the collision.

TEMPORARY TRADING ROOM

Is Now in Use at the Board of Trade Building.

Members of the Duluth board of trade did business today in the temporary room which is to be used by them until the improvements on the building, which are to include a handsome new trading floor on the upper stories, have been made.

McLeod & Smith, the general contractors who are making the changes at the board of trade building, have commenced dismantling the old trading room.

The room now in use has been converted from the suite formerly occupied by G. A. Tomlinson, and a small portion of the old trading floor which stood under the balcony. Although the quarters are somewhat cramped, the traders took all the jostling and inconvenience of today, good-naturedly. In a day or so, the sessions will be running as smoothly as ever.

ATTEMPT MADE TO SINK SUBMARINE

Valves on Torpedo Boat Opened Doing Great Damage.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 24.—Simon Lake, president of the Lake Torpedo Boat company, today gave out the following statement: "An attempt has been made to sink the submarine torpedo boat Lake Sea. Water was let into the interior of the boat by opening four valves. Her condition was discovered before she had entirely sunk. The loss is $20,000 to her storage batteries, which were damaged by salt water that flooded the battery deck. There is no insurance."

"The vessel was being tuned up for submission to the navy department for a test. Detectives are at work on the case. This is the second attempt to wreck Lake submarines."

Mr. Lake had declined to give out any further information. It is learned, however, that the alleged attempt to sink the craft occurred about a fortnight ago, in the night time. The submarine cost $200,000.

WILGUARD THE SECRET

Of the Manufacture of High Explosives by Government.

New Bill Provides for Doing Away With Public Advertising.

The United States government isn't going to take any chances of permitting the Japanese or other world powers to learn the secret of the manufacture of the high explosives which this and every other country are at the present time busily engaged in experimenting with. Uncle Sam is going to keep the formula to himself, and let the other powers watch our smoke, if they ever start anything.

It was not so long ago that Japan manufactured a kind of high explosive that startled the entire military world. It got the enemy both coming and going, for if the shell missed any of the musket bearers of the opposition, the force of the explosion would break the bones of men within any reasonable distance. At the last Hague conference, it was attempted to have this explosive ruled out of the formula of some new invention on the part of the government. Then they went ahead and manufactured the formula that had been worked out by government experts. Of course there was nothing to prevent them from selling this high explosive to foreign governments.

Most of the formulas of high explosives being sold by private powder makers, which are sold to the government, are not secret. They have been invented by army officials. Through the heretofore required advertising all supply many of these private manufacturers have been enabled to secure the secret of the experiments worked out by the government. The pending bill will put a stop to this.

Not that the government is contemplating war, but should there be a war, the government officials argue that it would be a great advantage to have the other powers to reap the advantage of familiarity with the secrets of high explosives.

An appropriation of $15,000, for the increase of the rifle range at Fort Snelling, is also before the house. The bill provides that the range shall be open to the militia, when it is not being utilized by the regulars. Organized sportsmen and the police and the use of the government range. This policy is for the developing of marksmanship in Europe, and in Canada, too, of developing a higher degree of national marksmanship.

Dog's Bill Costs $85.

Judge Ensign has decided that Mary Froelich of Hibbing, who claims to be the owner of a dog named Magovich, by reason of injuries inflicted on her by the defendant's dog, should be paid $85 damages. The court finds that Magovich owned a vicious dog, which he was accustomed to let loose near his house. The court finds that Magovich was careless and negligent in the manner of tying the dog, and that the animal escaped and bit Mrs. Froelich. The case was tried at Hibbing last October.

No Recovery on "Hoss Trade."

According to a judgment rendered this morning by Judge Ensign, in the district court, the "hoss trade" made by David Graham and the Hibbing Produce company, last May, will have to stick, and Graham cannot recover any damages because of alleged defects on the equine at the time of the purchase. The court finds that Graham bought the horse for $400, without any warranty on the part of the defendant company, as to the animal's soundness. The court claims that it devolved on the plaintiff to show by preponderance of evidence that the animal was suffering from various physical defects which would render it unsound at the time of the purchase. The testimony in this respect was very conflicting.

Contract Is Awarded.

The contract for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Pittsburg avenue was this morning awarded to F. G. Pastorek of Hibbing, who has agreed to do the work for $1,500. The engineer's estimate was $1,775. Mr. Pastorek was the only bidder.

NO LICENSE FOR SALOON

Henry Kohlen May be Prosecuted on Two Different Charges.

Saloon is Closed to Await Action of the Council.

The police this morning closed up the bar of the Bell hotel, West Superior street, a warrant will be issued for Henry Kohlen, the proprietor, it is said, and Kohlen will find himself in a hole, from which he may emerge without a saloon license.

The patrolman on the beat reported to Chief Fryer yesterday that Kohlen had left the hotel and was selling liquor at his place. This morning, it developed that Kohlen's license expired February 23, and he has been operating since then without a license. Action was promptly taken by the police department and the place was closed up until action is taken by the council on the application, which has already been filed with the city clerk.

Kohlen's application for the renewal of his license is expected to come up before the council tonight, and it is not expected the action against him for keeping open without a license will help any before the council. Chief Fryer was prepared to make complaint this morning, either on the charge of keeping open without a license, and Kohlen will be prosecuted on one of the charges. In the meantime this place is closed and the council will consider his application for a license tonight.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BURDEN.—The funeral of Mrs. Nattie Burden, the young society woman who died from gas poisoning last Friday, was held from the Burden home, in Fifth avenue, today. PASSING OF OLD COUNCIL

"Lid" Cases Before Present City Body at Last Meeting.

Six Aldermen Will Step Down by Next Week.

The old council will hold its last meeting tonight and will probably turn a number of "lid" cases to come before it, over to the new council. Nick Hanson, George E. Blackwood and William Fennell are expected during the past week of having kept open on Sunday morning, the application for a hotel license of T. Nussbaum, at 74 West First street will come up again, and the application of Henry Kohlen for a renewal of his license at 625 West Superior street, will also come up. Kohlen is charged with conducting his saloon after his license had expired and also with keeping open yesterday.

No action will probably be taken in the Hanson, Blackwood and Fennell cases, except to summon the holders of the licenses to appear and show cause why their licenses should not be renewed. The action will send the cases over to the new council.

The Nussbaum application was up last Monday night and there was a strong sentiment against it. The matter was laid over for a week to allow the aldermen to investigate, but it is said some of them are ready to vote for it. The question, and it may go over again. Objections are raised to the license of the proposed saloon site is in a residential district and at the same time a large residence district, and consequently, the license should not be granted.

Kohlen's application also comes up tonight. His place was closed by the police this morning to await the action of the council against him for keeping open without a license, and also that he sold liquor yesterday.

The West end police station may be revived tonight by a motion to reconsider the action of last Monday night, when the council refused to confirm the license of the contract to Emil Fennell, the lowest bidder. It is charged by some, who are opposing the license, that the site is too small, but the aldermen are inclined to believe that the site is large enough and some of them are for going ahead with the work.

Alderman McGowan's bakery and restaurant ordinance, which provides for sanitary conditions in such institutions, may also come to a vote tonight.

After tonight's meeting Aldermen C. S. Wilson of the First ward, S. F. Staples of the Second ward, G. V. Burgess of the Third ward, N. E. McGowan of the Fifth ward, Charles Mork of the Sixth ward and R. D. Haven of the Seventh ward, will pass from the council. The new council will meet for the first time next Monday night and will organize the second Tuesday in March.

Duluth society is more than ordinarily interested in the engagement announcement of Miss Elizabeth Shirley of Kentucky, who visited in Duluth the summer during which her engagement to Tom Shevlin was announced. The rumors since that time have been many, and the latest will be of interest here. The news comes from Louisville, Ky., and is as follows:

"Miss Elizabeth Shirley, one of the most famous of Kentucky's many beauties, is engaged to the Marquis de Mores, according to the report that has reached New York from Europe. "Of Miss Shirley's beauty there can be no question, since it enabled her to make a conquest of the most exclusive circles at New York and Newport. On the death of her father, Franklin Shirley, in Louisville, a few years ago, she left Louisville with her mother, and they have since spent most of their time in Europe and the East. Miss Shirley's wonderful beauty made her a pet in the smart set, and she has been entertained by the leading families of the East. Last summer she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt at Newport.

"Three years ago Miss Shirley was reported engaged to Tom Shevlin of Minneapolis, the famous Yale football captain, but this either proved unfounded or was broken off. A number of brilliant foreign matches for her have been hinted at, as Miss Shirley has been as much a toast abroad as in the East.

STORE OBSERVATIONS

The New Stockings Are In. Brown and Blue Popular.

Brown shoes, with stockings to match, threaten to be almost the sole foot covering for the coming season. Stockings may become the fashion of the summer maid, not to mention the spring dandy, who will begin about week after next to wear pumps for regular wear. The Eastern papers wall and protest from late fall until spring at the tendency of the women of the East have of garbling for the winter blasts by swathing themselves around their necks in warm and heavy furs, and tripping blithely along in low-cut shoes. But Duluth men—it is men who protest most loudly, at the way women in dress, are spared that painful sight. Not even the most callously indifferent woman in Duluth goes forth in the winter time in low shoes. But with the coming of spring, in March, a change will occur. Low shoes will blossom forth, and the gayeties of the season in stockings.

Taste is improving, or the style is changing. Embroidered stockings are not quite the thing. Plain colors are shown most and although there is an occasional pair of modest lace ones, a wee bit of self-embroidery, the solid blue stockings are evidently what the "trade" is expected to demand. The browns range in all the unending tones of that color, and the shades are therefore various. That soft and rather faded brown, and the "suede" is mentioned prominently, and a pair of brown, and then there are, of course, indelicate and delicate browns. They range in price from 50c to $1.25.

Blue stockings are to be very swaggers. It will not be according to what they say, dark blue stockings with blue shoes, for, according to the fashionists, the look seems doubtful, but nobody who hopes to remain in remotest region of shoe and stocking, or blue shoes and green stockings, if such a combination threatens to be fashionable, will be deterred from it. Prices in these are from 65 cents up.

There are, of course, other stockings shown, and they are getting new ones in every day. The foregoing takes no stock of that region of simple blue, silk stockings, and it also makes no mention of that region and time of dire despair when stockings are to be darned.

Those who presumably have had the experience, there are moments of deep-dyed gloom, but if anything can come up to the agony of sitting down on a bright summer day to darn stockings, it has not been discovered. In every life, according to the darning done, an with the yawning chasm of holes facing one, and the inadequate "mercerized" thread, with which to fill it in, life indeed seems to be too hopeless to be faced with peace, silk stockings, and it also makes no mention of that region and time of dire despair when stockings are to be darned.

To some, this spirit of protest may come as a surprise. It is supposed that women like to darn stockings. It is inevitable, and the wise women accept it quietly and without question. Custom becomes habit, and habit becomes life, and eventually woman sits down, after, however, the hey-day of youth, when the needle is passed, with a basket of stockings and darning wool with double thread, and a rocking chair, and goes at it. She works the needle in with a crisp and capable man, gives the rocking chair a swing with her toe, remarks parenthetically, "And they do say"—and she's off.

That is the outward picture of peaceful and placid domestic content, and she remembers ever so faintly the time when she rebelled, but, nevertheless, the person who maintains that she likes to darn stockings is similar to the person who maintains that he does not like onions.

OBSERVE HOLIDAY.

Parties Enjoy Outings at Spirit Lake Clubhouse.

The first observance of Washington's birthday at the Spirit Lake branch of the Bock club was a popular one. The rendezvous was reached in the various ways possible—by train, skating, or "trade" is expected to demand. The browns range in all the unending tones of that color, and the shades are therefore various. That soft and rather faded brown, and the "suede" is mentioned prominently, and a pair of brown, and then there are, of course, indelicate and delicate browns. They range in price from 50c to $1.25.

Another party that enjoyed the holiday at the club house was composed of: Misses—Margaret Ames, Nell Coleman, Clara Henderson, Margaret McCalla, Albert Ames, J. B. Mahoney, J. L. DeVohn, J. L. Plambeck, E. G. Harris, L. Dougherty, M. W. Wisted, L. Meyer, Brundage, and others.

ICE CARNIVAL.

Second Annual Affair of Curling Club Is Success.

The second annual George Washington ice carnival was held at the rink on Saturday, Feb. 22, and was hugely enjoyed by the skaters and their friends. The rink was lighted with Japanese lanterns, and flags of many nations fluttered from the walls, and temporary citizens of many nations skated around during the evening. Several hundred members and their friends watched the interesting spectacle until the time of unmasking arrived. The crowd of twins attracted much attention, and red ridinghorses were numerous. Japanese ladies, and "Night" and Butterfly, and Our Lady of the Snows, and Indians and Cowboys and soldiers, brave, were all represented. The orchestra played delightfully during the evening, and the affair was a bright and entertaining one.

Silberstein & Bonds Company

"My Spring Tailored Suit"

This is the thought uppermost in the minds of nine out of ten women in Duluth, and we can easily solve that question. We are not egotistic enough to say that we are the only house, but we do say that for style, quality and service, there is no house better than ours in this land.

Our Mr. E. A. Silberstein, who is in New York, dispatches the new styles as soon as they are created.

The Charming Rejeh Suits, in blue, brown and champagne. One style a six-button 30-inch mannish coat, with a military silver braid. One style of Louis XIV regime, short jacket and short sleeves, trimmed with a French Creponne, and skirt to match.

The Taffeta, one and two-piece dresses, are well represented here in the very latest ideas and colorings.

Elaborate Little Affairs of plain or fancy Panamas, and imported worsteds, the coats braided with a touch of Persian trimming, fancy buttons, and fancy silk lined. The sleeve three-quarter length.

Misses and Junior Suits
In sizes from 13, 15, 16, 17 and 18 years, made of brown and blue Panama, and blue Serge, with a fine white stripe. A four-button mannish coat, lined with brilliantine or silk, full pleated skirt with folds, at $15.00 and $18.50.

New Waists
The selection we display is second to none, a full and complete line of Silk Waists, plain, tailored or fancy, in black, blue, brown, and black and white check, from $5.00 up.

Cream, White and Lemon color Net Waists, with fillet lace, hand crocheted medallions and bands; three-quarter or long sleeves, $8.75.

Beautiful Spring Silks
The Real Rajahs in all the spring shades. The Parisian Modistes have ordered hundreds of pieces from our American manufacturers, to be made up in suits and costumes. It is the first time that France has imported our silks. We illustrate this only, how well they think of Rajahs in Paris.

Showerproof Foulards at 85c and $1.00 in beautiful designs of self-flowered, polka dot and Jacquard figures.

Fine Novelty Laces and Dress Trimmings for Spring. Make Their Bow

Gathered from the world's greatest lace markets, we are ready to do business. There is such variety of the beautiful bands. Heavy bands of various meshes, embroidered in different colors, or entirely self-colored. Dainty lighter bands, suggesting the Parisian or delicate tapestry patterns. The white and cream and ecru laces in edging and insertions, are all work of art.

Drapery Nets and All-over Laces are in greater force and demand than we have ever known them.

Beautiful New Spring Suitings
A whole store full. Finest of the fine from England, Germany, France and America. Shadow stripes are the favorites, diagonal weaves are also popular. See the west show window.

Matinee Musicals.
The regular matinee of the Matinee Musicals was held this afternoon at Steinway hall, and the music of American composers was presented. The soloists were Miss Swan and Miss Hyland. The members were interested in the appearance of Miss Fatten, an apple number, who was the guest of the club, and who sang "The Hills of Sky," by Harris, and "The Day is Gone," by Lang, in a most pleasing manner. The piano numbers were given by Miss Flaeten and Miss Logan, who appeared in the opening number, and Miss Sybilla Hartman and Ole Schmidt. The latter, with Miss Bertha Schmidt, played the MacDowell "Indian Suite."

Personal Mention.
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hegardt have returned from a three-weeks' visit in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of 429 East Second street, returned today from a visit in the East.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Murphy have as their guest Dr. Trabert of Minneapolis, pastor of the English Lutheran church of that city. Dr. Trabert will lecture here tomorrow evening.

Czar's Money Taken From Tiflis, Continues to Turn Up.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—Bad luck seems to follow the thieves who stole the czar's money at Tiflis some months ago. At Munich Second Paris arrests were made, and now comes the news from Stockholm that two men who tried to change Russian 500-ruble bills in several banks have been arrested at the request of the Russian consul-general.

The two men, tried to commit suicide when arrested, refused to give any information about himself and his no partners. The other says his name is Vladimir.

George Washington, Jr.
"George Washington, Jr.," a glittering concoction of melodrama, vaudeville and swinging musical comedy. In fact, a typical Cohen production, pleased two large audiences at the Lyceum, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Particularly pleasing was the youthful Carter De Haven in the title role. Young De Haven graduated from the vaudeville stage, and he seems to be living up to all the nice things that have been said of him. Flora Parker was also pleasing. Particular mention should be given to Willis Sweatman for his portrayal of the avaricious negro, who sold acorns and George Washington pipes.

"The Devil's Auction."
"The Devil's Auction," which will play at the Lyceum tonight, has withstood the ravages of time and maintained the record of being the oldest road show in the United States, that is, for uninterrupted appearances on the boards. Probably nine-tenths of the people who witness it have seen "The Devil's Auction" one or more times before, but it has been so completely overhauled and improved, with more real elements of stagecraft in its repertoire, that it is more interesting than ever. In a number of places leagitimate features, particularly the ballets, have taken the place of much less tricky, mechanical and electrical devices and clap-trap clownishness. At the same time the series of lavish scenic spectacles, which take the audience in and out of the spheres of mortals through devious wanderings among the shades, the imps, the fairies, make the show just as interesting to the young people as it ever was. In fine, all the good points of former years have been retained and many new ones added.

SEARCH FOR DAUGHTER

Friends of Dying Mother Try to Find Missing Girl.

Everything Now Being Done to Care for Mrs. Brager.

Following the story published in the West Duluth column of The Herald Saturday, the friends of Mrs. Brager, 247 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, wish to say that she is now being cared for by them. They have obtained a nurse, and physicians are in attendance, although there is absolutely no hope for her recovery. Means also have been raised to care for her for the present, and everything is being done for her that possibly can be.

Efforts are being made to locate Lena Brager, Mrs. Brager's 22-year-old daughter, who left her home in West Duluth over a year ago for Minneapolis, and from whom nothing has been heard since. The widowed mother is naturally very anxious to have her daughter with her during her last days. But in spite of all the advertising in Minneapolis and St. Paul papers that has been done, and the notices to the police of those two cities, no word has been received from or of the missing girl.

Mrs. Brager's condition is very low, and it is feared that she may die before her daughter can be found.

Surprise Party.
A very merry surprise party was given at the home of Miss Ella Braggard, 423 Ramsey street, last Tuesday evening. Cards and other games were played, after which refreshments were served. Those present were:

More Idle Cars Now Than Earlier in the Season.

The Box Car Surplus is Being Decreased, However.

The committee on car efficiency of the American Railway association has issued a statistical bulletin showing a comparative statement of car surpluses and shortages from Oct. 20, 1907, to Feb. 15, 1908, inclusive.

In transmitting the figures, Arthur Hale, chairman of the committee, states that the grand total of cars was slightly increased, surplus, caused by some large increases in coal, gondola and box cars, while the box car surplus has been decreased materially.

Considering all classes, the accumulation of cars has decreased slightly in the Eastern, Middle, Central, Western and Southwestern groups, while all the other groups show increased surpluses, the largest percentage of increase being in the Southern group. The surplus of box cars is decreasing in the New England, Eastern, Middle, North Atlantic, Northwestern, Central, Western and Southwestern groups. Coal and gondola cars show increased surpluses in all groups except the Northwestern, Central Western and Pacific groups.

The reports from 145 roads in February show surpluses as follows: Box, 11,376; coal, 2,387; gondola and hopper, 125,520; other kinds, 4,434; total, 149,297. The Great Northern eastbound passenger train, No. 36, running between Grand Forks and Duluth, and due here at 7:17 a. m., was derailed at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, near Bena. Several passengers among them Mrs. C. H. Wise of Two Harbors, were slightly hurt, but no one was seriously injured, although the sleeping car tipped over on its side. All the cars left the track, but the engine remained upon the rails. There were six people in the sleeper, the only car which did not remain upright. Fortunately they escaped with only few slight bruises when the car toppled over. Doctors arrived on the scene from Cass Lake within two hours after the accident.

The passengers were transferred to the westbound train upon its arrival at the scene of the accident, and it returned to Duluth, arriving here early in the afternoon.

IS KILLED BY STREET CAR.
Superior Civil Engineer Falls Asleep on the Car Tracks.

Martin Sparby, aged 57 years, of the East end, Superior, was run over and killed by a street car at Belknap street and Elm avenue, last evening, while lying in a drunken stupor on the tracks. On the complaint of the car starter, shortly before the accident, the police had been notified that a drunken man was walking on the car tracks, and had narrowly escaped being struck on several occasions. Before the patrol wagon reached Sparby, however, he laid down and was run over, the motorman being unable to stop the car within the short distance after seeing the body.

The body was badly mangled, and death is supposed to have been instantaneous.

Pending an investigation, the conductor and motorman on the car were held in custody, but were discharged this morning, Conner Dudley holding that the circumstances surrounding the accident were of such a nature that no blame could attach to the employees of the street railway company. No inquest will be held.

It is claimed that Sparby had been on a protracted spree, and that he had been very much intoxicated when he started for his home in the evening, preferring to walk on the street railway track instead of the sidewalks.

The deceased was a civil engineer and was well-known in Superior, where he has lived for many years. He is survived by a widow, two daughters and a son.

RAILROADS SURPLUS IS INCREASED

The Box Car Surplus is Being Decreased, However.

The committee on car efficiency of the American Railway association has issued a statistical bulletin showing a comparative statement of car surpluses and shortages from Oct. 20, 1907, to Feb. 15, 1908, inclusive.

In transmitting the figures, Arthur Hale, chairman of the committee, states that the grand total of cars was slightly increased, surplus, caused by some large increases in coal, gondola and box cars, while the box car surplus has been decreased materially.

Considering all classes, the accumulation of cars has decreased slightly in the Eastern, Middle, Central, Western and Southwestern groups, while all the other groups show increased surpluses, the largest percentage of increase being in the Southern group. The surplus of box cars is decreasing in the New England, Eastern, Middle, North Atlantic, Northwestern, Central, Western and Southwestern groups. Coal and gondola cars show increased surpluses in all groups except the Northwestern, Central Western and Pacific groups.

The reports from 145 roads in February show surpluses as follows: Box, 11,376; coal, 2,387; gondola and hopper, 125,520; other kinds, 4,434; total, 149,297. The shortages are: Box, 77; coal, 23; other kinds, 27; total, 127. Net surplus, 34,122, as compared with 34,132, for 1907, on Jan. 22, and 34,113, for 1908, on Jan. 8.

TRAIN DERAILED.
Great Northern Passenger Leaves Tracks Near Bena, Minn.

The Great Northern eastbound passenger train, No. 36, running between Grand Forks and Duluth, and due here at 7:17 a. m., was derailed at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, near Bena. Several passengers among them Mrs. C. H. Wise of Two Harbors, were slightly hurt, but no one was seriously injured, although the sleeping car tipped over on its side. The accident is said to have been caused by a spreading rail.

All the cars left the track, but the engine remained upon the rails. There were six people in the sleeper, the only car which did not remain upright. Fortunately they escaped with only few slight bruises when the car toppled over. Doctors arrived on the scene from Cass Lake within two hours after the accident.

The passengers were transferred to the westbound train upon its arrival at the scene of the accident, and it returned to Duluth, arriving here early in the afternoon.

SUPERIOR NEWS
Superior Civil Engineer Falls Asleep on the Car Tracks.

Martin Sparby, aged 57 years, of the East end, Superior, was run over and killed by a street car at Belknap street and Elm avenue, last evening, while lying in a drunken stupor on the tracks. On the complaint of the car starter, shortly before the accident, the police had been notified that a drunken man was walking on the car tracks, and had narrowly escaped being struck on several occasions. Before the patrol wagon reached Sparby, however, he laid down and was run over, the motorman being unable to stop the car within the short distance after seeing the body.

The body was badly mangled, and death is supposed to have been instantaneous.

Pending an investigation, the conductor and motorman on the car were held in custody, but were discharged this morning, Conner Dudley holding that the circumstances surrounding the accident were of such a nature that no blame could attach to the employees of the street railway company. No inquest will be held.

It is claimed that Sparby had been on a protracted spree, and that he had been very much intoxicated when he started for his home in the evening, preferring to walk on the street railway track instead of the sidewalks.

The deceased was a civil engineer and was well-known in Superior, where he has

NOT ONLY INDIGESTION BUT ALL STOMACH MISERY

Read Why Diapepsin Relieves the Worst Case of Indigestion and Gassy Stomach in Five Minutes.

Miserable indeed is the man or woman whose digestive system is unstrung—who goes to the table and cannot eat, or what little is eaten seems to fill them, and lays like a lump of lead in the stomach, refusing to digest. If you, dear reader, suffer this way and will put on your wraps now and get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Diapepsin and eat one 25-grain Triangule after your next meal, you would appreciate, five minutes after, how long you suffered unnecessarily.

There will be no more indigestion that day—No lead in the stomach—No sour risings or belching of Gas, no Heartburn, Flatulency or Eructations of undigested food and acid, or feeling of Nausea, Fullness, Headache or other symptoms of a weakened Stomach.

Stomach trouble and indigestion vanish like snow before the blazing sun by the use of these Triangles, which are harmless, and taste like candy, though they will digest 3,000 grains of food the same as a strong, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your Stomach rests—gets itself in order. Diapepsin purifies and sweetens a sour stomach and freshens the intestines without the use of Laxatives, and what is more, it increases the gastric juices. This is what makes you hungry and want to eat, and you can rest assured that you then eat will be taken care of properly, and not left in the stomach to ferment and turn to gas and acid, and poison the breath with noxious odors.

You ought to have Diapepsin about the house always. Should one of your family suffer something which does not agree with them, or for a Sour Stomach or Excessive Gas, one triangle will always give immediate relief.

MADNESS OF THE PRESENT AGE

Pastor Says World Must Look Like Madhouse to Angels.

"The Awful Madness of the Present Age Wherein Men People Show Their Madness" was the subject of Dr. Campbell's sermon last evening at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Campbell said that this world must look like a madhouse to angels, and that the most of its inhabitants seem to be suffering from some form of insanity. He said that the world is a madhouse, and that the most of its inhabitants seem to be suffering from some form of insanity.

"We are insane because we deliberately and consciously place ourselves where we can get into trouble," he said. "We are insane because we do not want to realize the contagious character of sin or its power. Sin is a disease, and it is a disease which spreads from above for they see things as they really are, knowing the awful falseness of sin. Yet we still yield to its seductions and never seem to profit by the mistakes of others in the past."

CZAR IGNORES FINN'S RIGHTS

Orders Seizure of Funds to Replenish Russian Exchequer.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 24.—By commanding that $100,000 be paid out of the Finnish revenue into the Russian exchequer, the czar has taken the first step to a renewal of his attack upon Finnish liberties which has produced the result of the general reaction within the empire.

Russian jurists admit that the czar's order is a breach of the Finnish constitution. The $100,000 is Finland's contribution to Russian finance as a substitute for the now disbanded Finnish regiments. Finland is under no obligation to pay.

Two years ago, when the Finnish army was disbanded, the czar then agreed to pay compensation until an agreement was reached in regard to the army question.

This promise was purely voluntary. At the time it was given, the annual subsidy should continue for three years. But under the new constitution, a diet can sanction expenditure only for the current year, and the three years provision was illegal.

The new diet did not sanction the continuation of the subsidy.

Counsel for Accused to Establish Case of Self Defense.

Claims Williams Threatened to Fill Accused Full of Bullets.

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Godatte murder trial was resumed this morning, with a large crowd of spectators in the courtroom. Attorney Charles W. Serachin opened the case for the defense in a strong address to the jury. He stated that he would prove by witnesses that Williams had let Godatte into a logging contract, got him to go to such expense and labor on the contract, and then wanted to annul the contract, getting out an injunction to make Godatte quit. He would also prove, he said, that Williams had threatened to fill Godatte full of bullets.

He would prove to the satisfaction of the jury that the killing of Williams was purely in self-defense; that Williams put out poison, case of Godatte children could have gotten it, and that there was general hatred on the part of Williams toward Godatte. The attorney claimed Godatte was in great fear of Williams, and heard of threats made to take his life.

Keep Cascarets in your pocket. Take one as soon as you need it. It is old fashioned and wrong to take harsh doses of physic.

We all live unnaturally. Our food is too fine, too rich and too plentiful. We eat too little fruit, too few green vegetables. We don't exercise enough. The result is, our bowels get clogged; for Nature intended us to live in a different way.

What shall we do? Shall we walk ten miles a day? Shall we diet ourselves? Shall we seek for more laxative, and less costive effect in our food? Or shall we take Cascarets? One way will serve just as well as the other.

Cascarets are vegetable laxatives. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit, of coarse food or of exercise. They are gentle. They persuade the bowels—never drive them or irritate them. They are candy tablets, and the dose is one at a time—just as soon as you know that you need it.

It is wrong to take harsh physic and to wait till you need a big dose. It is better to keep at your best, every hour of every day. And one Cascaret at a time is sufficient. That means to keep clean inside.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with C C C on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 cents.

John Evenson of Duluth set a new American record at the Ishpeming ski tournament Saturday, jumping 122 feet and standing. On his second regular jump, he made 122 feet, but after landing and fell. Ole Feiring won the Ishpeming tournament by consistent jumping and John Evenson won the Superior tournament yesterday, besides making the longest standing jump of 96 feet, the record for the Superior hill.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The American ski jumping record of 117 feet, set by John Mangseth at Duluth, Feb. 16, was shattered at the tournament of the Ishpeming Ski club here Saturday. John Evenson of Duluth making a standing jump of 122 feet and setting a record for the United States, which promises to stand for this season at least. The jump of 122 feet was made on the first regular run and stood safely throughout the tournament, though desperate efforts were made to break it by the other riders.

Evenson himself set a phenomenal record regular run. He made a beautiful jump, cleared 122 feet, landed safely, and after he alighted, and tumbled rolling to the bottom of the slide. The accident was a distinct disappointment to the crowd and the cheers with which the jump had been greeted were hushed. The jump of 122 feet was the most successful in the history of the Ishpeming club, not only on account of the consistent long jumping but the other factors which contributed to it. The day was ideal for riders and spectators alike. The standard of entries was high and the slide in perfect condition. The crowd numbered more people who stood in the snow and gave undivided attention to the riders.

Ole Feiring of Duluth, the man who was looked upon as the most probable breaker of records, was the only rider to assist jumper, though Evenson made the record jump. Feiring jumped 117 feet on his first jump, but on his second jump he fell. The jump of 117 feet was the highest jump ever made by a rider in the history of the Ishpeming club. The Hopkins cup and Mather medals for the tournament were won by John Evenson, who was the only rider to jump consistently and stand second and third money, respectively.

Though the longest jumps did not approach the marks made on better hills this year, the Superior tournament yesterday was the biggest affair of the kind ever held in the city. The riders from Duluth and Coleraine riders, returning from their successes at the Ishpeming tournament, participated and easily carried off the four first honors.

John Evenson of Duluth, holder of the American record of 122 feet, made at Ishpeming, scored first place with three long jumps without a fall. He made the longest standing jump of 96 feet, which is the highest mark ever made in the prior hill. Ole Feiring of Duluth took second money, with Olaf Jannum of Coleraine third and Ole Mangseth of Coleraine fourth.

The crowd which witnessed the tournament swarmed over the hill, every point from which the slide could be seen being occupied. The slide was in fairly good condition, though the sun had made one spot near the top slightly sticky. From the first jump, the riders steadily sent the mark up. Evenson's jump of 96 feet on the last regular run being the longest jump. He repeated the performance in the run for the longest standing jump.

Northern Team Defeats Detroit and Windsor Hockey Sevens.

Duluth Boys Will Play at Cleveland Tuesday Night.

According to messages received in Duluth from members of the Northern hockey team, they won two games at Detroit, defeating the Detroit Athletic club seven Saturday afternoon, by a score of 6 to 3, and the Windsor, Ont. team at Detroit, yesterday afternoon by a score of 3 to 0.

First reports of the game at Detroit Saturday afternoon were that the Detroit seven had won by a score of 7 to 3. The Duluth boys wired W. H. Wells that they had won by 6 to 3, however, and though the messages conflict, the supporters of the team are inclined to take the statement of the Duluth boys as true, and are rejoicing over the victory.

The game with Windsor was played at Detroit Saturday afternoon, on Sunday hockey being allowed on the Canadian side of the border. Windsor is in the same league as the Detroit club, and the victory is a pleasing one to the Duluth enthusiasts.

The Duluth team left Detroit for Cleveland last night, and will play in the Ohio city tomorrow night. According to reports, the boys are pretty badly used up, after their hard games in the Copper country and Detroit, but they will play all games scheduled, returning to Duluth the latter part of this week.

TIMELY TOPICS

REGARDING CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

NEGLECTED COLDS

GOOD ADVICE TO WISE WOMEN AND PRUDENT MEN.

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of Autumn, Winter and Spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well-established, rigid cold is to the germ of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child-life is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this medicine have been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given.

LA GRIPPE

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL AGONY.

LACK OF SYMPATHY.

Before we can sympathize with others we must have suffered ourselves. No one can realize the suffering attendant on an attack of la grippe unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid, danger from la grippe, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Severe Attack of Grippe Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Colonel Cornelius P. Cole, a well-known and much respected citizen of Appanoose county, Iowa, now past 70 years of age, who came to Iowa with his wife over fifty years ago, says: "Myself and wife were both soundly cured of severe and stubborn attacks of grippe last winter by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a wonderful remedy and we never wish to be without it."

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT

A Series of Accidents in the City Saturday Afternoon.

Teamster Crushed to Death on His Own Wagon Wheel.

An epidemic of accidents came late Saturday afternoon, resulting in one death and the injury of three persons. Alexander Cameron was crushed to death by a mass of frozen sand. Frank Penor and his little son had a narrow escape from death in a runaway, and a 10-year-old Carl Carlson received a mysterious bullet in the shoulder, while at his play.

With an assistant, Cameron had just finished loading a wagon with sand in a pit at the rear of the Northern Shoe company's building on Lake avenue south, when a mass of frozen sand suddenly moved toward him. He did not have time to step back, which would have placed him out of danger; the sand broke his neck and crushed his chest against the wheel of his own wagon.

In a moment, the assistant had released Cameron from his precarious position, but it was too late. Death had resulted instantaneously.

Mr. Cameron was 41 years of age and had lived in Duluth for the last twenty years. His home was at 312 East First street. Two of his sons were being used by McLeod & Smith and he was driving one of them himself. Mr. Cameron is survived by a wife.

Mr. Conerton was a prominent member of the Sacred Cathedral parish, and the funeral will be held at the cathedral tomorrow morning at 8:30. High mass.

GROUP

MUST CHECK DISEASE AT THE START.

Don't neglect the first symptoms of group in your child. This hoarseness and croupy cough are often overlooked by persons not acquainted with the disease, and sometimes not heeded by those that know the danger signal. Thousands of infant children die yearly of croup. Every one of these innocents could have been saved had Chamberlain's Cough Remedy been given in time. The time wasted in sending for a physician or for medicine when a child shows symptoms of croup often proves fatal. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should always be kept in the house for immediate use. Remember, it will prevent an attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is safe and sure. Contains no narcotics. Always cures. It is the mother's favorite cough remedy in all parts of the world.

HOARSENESS

HOW CAUSED AND WHEN DANGEROUS.

Hoarseness, or roughness of voice, arises from several causes. The most common is when the mucous is allowed to collect on the vocal cords. This is dangerous, for unless the mucous is removed it is most likely to become a hotbed of disease, and will develop into some serious chronic throat or lung complaint. A small dose of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will work wonders. Not only does it at once clear away the mucous, but also assists Nature to strengthen the vocal cords, and make the accumulation less likely to occur. The mere fact that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is free from all narcotics makes it the best to use in all cases of hoarseness. Another common cause of hoarseness is the swelling or looseness of the vocal cords. This is generally caused by sudden exposure or by protracted public speaking. This phase is often called "clergyman's hoarseness." The soothing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy act most beneficially in such cases, and by soothing any inflammation soon enables them to resume a natural condition.

will be celebrated there, and the remains will be taken to Calvary cemetery for interment.

Frank Penor is a teamster for the Northwestern Steam Boiler works and Saturday afternoon was driving down the hill at Eighth avenue west with a load of lumber. His 10-year-old son, Henry, was with him on the driver's seat.

The horses suddenly became frightened at a piece of machinery on the roadway and they started down the hill at break-neck speed. At Sixth street, one of the wheels struck over obstruction and the wagon was capsized, burying the driver and son under the load.

Passersby quickly came to the rescue of father and son. Penor was unconscious and could not be revived. He was removed at once to St. Mary's hospital, where it was found that the boy's skull had been crushed near the base and that he had sustained internal injuries. His condition is very serious, but his ultimate recovery is expected. The father was able to leave the hospital yesterday.

After the wagon was overturned, the horses managed to free themselves from the debris and kept on running until captured by Mounted Patrolman Rohlie. One of them will probably have to be shot, as its head is injured.

Little Carl Carlson's injury came while he was playing with his little brother Alexander on the sidewalk near Seventh avenue east. He had heard the report of a gun and then felt a stinging sensation on his left shoulder. Then the blood began to spurt out on his arm. Thoroughly frightened, he ran as fast as his little legs would carry him. He did not see who his assailant was. The bullet was extracted by Dr. Eklund. It had struck half an inch higher, and the wound is not considered a dangerous one. Young Carlson is the son of P. J. Carlson of 314 East Sixth street.

The police have been investigating the shooting and propose to put a stop to the indiscriminate shooting within the city limits. It is said that many young boys are in the habit of hunting little birds on the hillside.

BRONCHITIS

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT TO DO.

This is only another name for a severe cold in the chest. In its commencement it is attended with cough, hoarseness, more or less pain, soreness of the throat and lungs, expectoration of mucous, sometimes mixed with blood, tightness about the chest or throat, a difficulty in breathing. In its last stages, high fever and night sweats prevail. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the medicine for this disease. It at once relieves the cough, eases the pain, removes the difficulty in breathing, and, by producing a free and easy expectoration, subdues the inflammation. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is soothing and healing. It is always the common neglected cold that causes the trouble. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the first indication of the cough or cold, and thus avoid any serious complications.

ONE INSTANCE.

"As long ago as I can remember, my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 23, our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold, the next day was worse, and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down, and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances, I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy."

PNEUMONIA

THE CAUSES, AND HOW TO PREVENT.

Old people and those who have weak lungs cannot be too careful in guarding against this disease. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza, and can be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many people who have had every reason to fear pneumonia have ward off off by the prompt use of this remedy.

of Washington's birthday. The old soldiers of Duluth and the citizens' staff were invited guests. The affair was a big success. Every soldier who gathered, and national songs and patriotic addresses were the order of the evening. Flags and national colors were much in evidence. Judge Fago Morris responded to the toast "Washington," while Rev. M. S. Rice eulogized the heroes of the Civil war, dwelling largely on the last review at the national capital at the end of the war.

Miss Blanche G. Fleming sang "The Old Flag That Never Touched the Ground," and won such favor with her audience that several orders were demanded. "My Own United States," by actress Charles Young, also made a good impression.

W. I. Prince spoke on the work of the citizens' staff, telling of the benefits that come from the organization. T. W. Hugo gave a talk regarding the brave wives of the Civil war soldiers. During the evening Mrs. Ella Gearhart, president of the Women's Relief corps was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. "America," led by Miss Fleming, and participated in by every one present, brought the program to an end.

INDIANS ARE STILL WARDS AND CANNOT HAVE MONEY DEPOSITED TO THEIR CREDIT

Supreme Court Renders Important Decision in Chippewa Case.

Redmen Have About $1,000,000 in Duluth and Other Banks.

It Will be Safeguarded and Given to Them as Needed.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court of the United States, in an unanimous opinion in the case of Antone G. Starr vs. Campbell, handed down a far-reaching opinion, yesterday, affecting the Chippewas of the Lake Superior region and all other Indians.

For the past ten years Agent Campbell of Ashland has followed the policy of placing in the hands of the Indians, in case of need, the money collected from the sale of pine on the reservations, paying out to the Indians from $10 to $20 per acre, excepting On June 30, 1905, these sales had amounted to $1,000,000, deposited in the banks of Duluth, Ashland, Hudson and Bayfield. This has increased to nearly $1,000,000.

The Indians demanded this money, and also immediate payment of all subsequent sales. They have fought it through the state and federal courts, the final case being argued a month ago by the solicitor general, Charles Quarles of Milwaukee and E. H. Croft of Duluth. The supreme court decree continues the policy of making the Indians wards of the government, and will carefully safeguard them from the raids of land sharks and speculators. Indirectly every Indian in the country is affected.

Denver, Feb. 25.—Headquarters were opened in Denver yesterday at the Algonquin hotel by Senator John I. Martin of the Democratic national committee and members of the committee on arrangements, which have charge of the plans for the Democratic national convention to be held here July 7. The campaign headquarters of the national committee will be located at the Algonquin. A guarantee has been given by hotel and restaurant keepers of Denver to the Democratic national committee that the rates for meals and other services will be raised when the convention is held here.

THIRTY PERSONS HURT IN WRECK

Excursion Train From Ohio Leaves Rails at Laredo, Tex.

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 25.—Thirty persons are reported to have been injured in the derailment of an excursion train, carrying a number of Northern tourists, at Orville, twelve miles north of Laredo. Several cars were thrown from the track and piled up in a ditch. The Pullman cars, however, remained on the rails. The excursionists, most of whom were from Toledo, Ohio, were traveling under the direction of Charles Gates of Toledo. The similarity in names at first gave rise to a report that the wrecked train was the special on which John W. Gates, the New York capitalist, has been traveling through the South. It was learned, however, that the John W. Gates party arrived at Beaumont, Tex., last night.

In addition to the Toledo people on the wrecked train, there were a number of passengers from Chicago and San Antonio. They had planned to make a tour through Mexico.

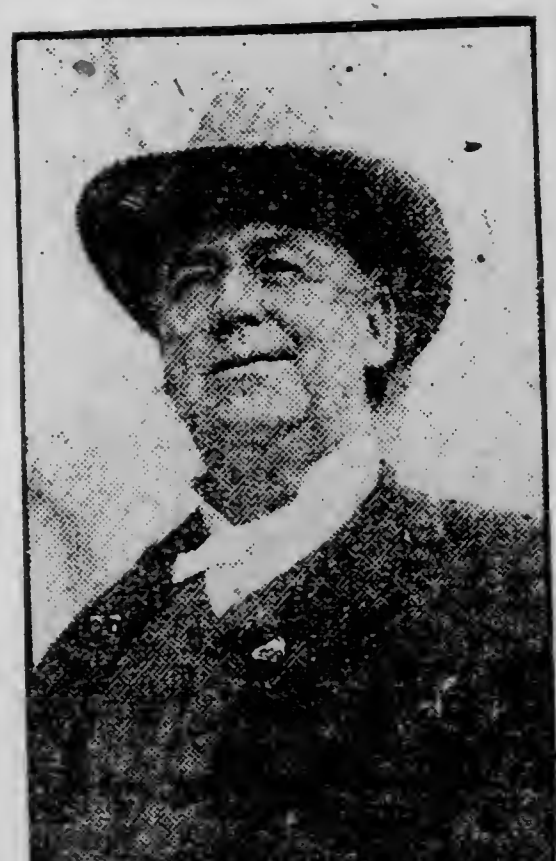

The derailment is said to have been caused by a broken axle on the locomotive.

AN INSANE WOMAN ENDS LIFE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Miss Grace White, 26 years of age, whose home is believed to have been in Michigan City, Ind., was found dead in her room in a downtown hotel early today. It is thought the woman committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid as an empty bottle, which had contained that fluid, was found near the body. The police are searching for a young man by the name of W. P. Coyne, who, they think, can give information concerning the young woman. The woman had been at the hotel about a week.

CHINESE ANXIOUS

That United States and Germany Should Assist Them

In Controlling the Activity of Japan in Manchuria.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—Sun Pao Ki, the Chinese minister at Berlin, received instructions some weeks ago from Peking to discuss with the German foreign office the Japanese treatment of trade in Manchuria, and to broach the possibility of the United States and Germany entering into a special agreement concerning the maintenance of equal trade opportunities in all the Chinese territories. Sun Pao Ki communicated his instructions to the foreign office, and discussed the subject in the most moderate terms, the foreign office receiving his suggestions in a courteous, inquiring, but non-committal manner. It presumably has corresponded with the German embassy at Washington, and the legation at Peking, as to the extent of the Chinese proposal, and what was thought of it.

Fang Also Has Instructions. In Washington, it is understood, Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, has received identical instructions, and has laid them before the state department. China's idea of a special agreement between the United States and Germany appears to rest in the belief that these two alone of the great commercial states, would be likely, seriously, to oppose Japan's disposition, as China avers, to discriminate in Manchuria in favor of her own merchants.

China's appeal has raised the question both at the foreign office here and at the state department at Washington, as to whether such an agreement as China proposes would not be superfluous, and if its object is not already fully covered by international agreements.

It is considered probable that the recent telegrams from Washington, saying that President Roosevelt proposes sending a circular to the powers regarding Chinese trade, is a direct consequence of the question brought out by the application of the Chinese government to Germany and the United States.

THREE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE WHICH DESTROYS HOME AT HINES

FATHER LEO, THE VICTIM OF AN ANARCHIST PLOT

The Denver Police Trace Gang of Assassins From Italy.

Murdered Priest Wore Chain Which Constantly Pricked Flesh.

SAMUEL GOMPERS, President of the American Federation of Labor, Who Criticizes the Supreme Court of the United States for Its Decision in the Celebrated "Hat Case."

Denver, Feb. 25.—Through the efforts of Chief Delany it is believed that at least thirty anarchists in various parts of the country will be arrested within a few days in connection with the murder of Father Leo. Chief Delany said: "We have traced Alito and his band from stone quarries in Southern Italy to America, and have located most of the towns where they are living. The men are all stone workers, and were driven out of Italy two years ago. Forty went together to Barcelona, Spain. Here, too, they worked as stone cutters, all the while teaching the diabolical doctrine of anarchy. They were discovered in Spain, and were driven to Buenos Ayres, where they remained as long as they could, and decided to come to the United States. They settled all of them in Fairview, N. J., and after a few days spread over the country.

Four Deported to Colorado. "We have located the four who were detailed to work in Colorado. Alito is one and the other three will probably be arrested today. We have definite information where there are others in Wyoming and several in Barre, Vt. Alito, who is kept in jail at Colorado Springs, in order to prevent any attempt at lynching, denies that he belongs to any anarchistic body that wishes to murder priests, or that there was any plot at the bottom of the shooting.

"I did the killing on my own account, and because I thought it would ease my mind," he declared. "I received no orders to kill the priest. I did it because I hate priests of all kinds."

Body Lies in State. The body of the murdered priest was removed this morning from the monastery to the church, where it will lie in state upon the sanctuary until after the public funeral service tomorrow. In accordance with the rules of the Franciscan order, Father Leo's associates held a private ceremony in the church at 8 o'clock today. Father Eusebius sang the solemn high mass of requiem, assisted by two other parish priests. The church has been locked up by the rioters.

Triple Fatality in Little Town Near Bemidji, Minn.

Man, Woman and Infant Child Perish in Flames.

The Store and Dwelling of M. V. Owens Consumed.

THE DEAD: Wells Johnson, Miss Vina Doyle, Rodney Owens.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three lives lost, four persons injured, and the general store of M. V. Owens completely destroyed was the awful havoc wrought by fire shortly after midnight at Hines, a small place about eighteen miles north of here.

The Owens family lived over the store, and when the fire was discovered about 12 o'clock the burning of the store was in progress. The family managed to escape for the unfortunate inmates of the store were cut off.

Rodney Owens, a young man, the infant son of M. V. Owens, the proprietor of the store, Wells Johnson, brother of Mrs. V. M. Owens and Miss Vina Doyle, a domestic employed by Mr. Owens, were cremated. Wells Johnson lost his life in attempting to save the child that perished.

Mrs. Owens usually stays in his store until 11 or 12 o'clock and on going to bed last night left everything apparently all right. Mrs. Owens, who was frantic over the probable loss of her child, rushed back to save the little one, but was obliged to return without it, as heat and flames being so dense.

Frank Owens saved his wife, also his sister, Miss Owens, and two little girls by throwing them from the second story window.

The injured are: Lester Johnson, head and hands burned, V. M. Owens, badly burned about hands, arms and head; Miller Owens, head cut when thrown from building.

Everything possible was done to save the unfortunate people, and as Hines is without the protection, but little could be done except to flee from the flames. The building and stock are a total loss, with no insurance.

The programs for each day are crowded with numbers, not only of lectures and messages pertaining to spiritualism, but to musical, literary and party entertaining events. Meals will be served in the adjoining dining hall after each session.

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a reception at the same hall for the visitors and friends, followed by a literary and musical entertainment.

GODETTS IS CONVICTED

Is Found Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

Mercy is Recommended and May Get a Life Sentence.

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The jury in the case of the State of Minnesota against James Godetts, who has been on trial here for the murder of Charles Williams, last fall, near Big Falls, in Koochiching county, returned a verdict, this morning, upon the opening of court, of murder in the first degree, as charged in the indictment.

The verdict was not a surprise to a great many who listened closely to the testimony in the case, as the instruction of the trial judge was that the jury must find a verdict of murder in the first degree, or acquit the defendant.

When the verdict was rendered to the court the defendant received it apparently unmoved, and with the same nerve and nonchalance that has characterized him throughout the trial. After receiving the verdict, the court adjourned until 2 o'clock at which time sentence will be passed upon the defendant. It is expected that life imprisonment in the penitentiary, instead of the death penalty, will be imposed, as the jury recommended the defendant to the mercy of the court in returning the verdict of murder in the first degree.

MUST FACE GRAND JURY ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Henry Bolot Bound Over for Shooting Magloire Charbonneau.

"Curiosity Squad" Unexpectedly Summoned to Witness Stand.

Henry Bolot, slayer of Magloire Charbonneau, at his home, 3225 Half-street, at the night of Feb. 8, was this morning held to await the action of the grand jury, after an examination before Judge Windom, in municipal court. Bolot did not go on the stand, and neither the state nor the defense went very far into the motives of Charbonneau's attack on Bolot, which resulted in the killing. The testimony presented served to establish the fact that Bolot shot Charbonneau while the latter stood over Bolot's bed, with a hatchet upraised and threatening to kill Bolot.

County Attorney Norton conducted the case for the state, and Charles Baldwin of Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer appeared for the defendant. Bolot sat behind his attorney during the examination, leaning back in the chair with his hands clasped, and listened to the story of the shooting without any show of emotion. At times his gaze wandered about the room, but while Mrs. Charbonneau was on the stand, his eyes were fixed on her, and he paid close attention to the testimony.

Mrs. Charbonneau was the principal witness, appearing for the state. She maintained perfect composure during the examination by both attorneys, and had an answer ready for any question. She gave a confused story of the events of the night of the killing, though she became confused at times by some of the questions. When telling of the shot and her husband's death, her voice wavered a little, but she had evidently braced her courage up well, and went through the story successfully before a crowd, which packed the courtroom.

Dr. S. S. Shannon, the physician

who answered Bolot's summons after the shooting, told of finding Charbonneau dead, but still with life in him, at the house. He gave Bolot's statement of the shooting, made to him that night, and described the revolver, and the other incidents of the shooting, as related to him by the defendant. He also told of the autopsy, held the following day, and its results.

Mrs. Charbonneau was a little nervous when she took the stand, but she answered his questions in a voice which could be heard in all parts of the room. She said she was 47 years of age and her husband was 55. They had been married twenty-six years, she said, coming to Duluth from St. Paul, where the marriage took place. They had no children.

Husband Acted Queerly. She said her husband's health had evidently been all right, but that his mind seemed to be giving out for several weeks before the shooting. At times he seemed to be in a daze, and was usually preoccupied. On the night of the shooting, she said, the family had supper together. Bolot went out, and she said her husband appeared to be more worried than usual, and finally told her he didn't want to talk to her, and that she had better go to bed. She retired shortly after 8 o'clock, and about 10 she heard the kitchen door open and Bolot enter. No words passed between the two men, although Bolot passed Charbonneau sitting in the kitchen. Bolot went directly to his room.

About fifteen or twenty minutes later she said she heard Charbonneau coming, and she thought he was going to speak to her. He went right through her room, however, and opened Bolot's door, saying, "I'll kill you." At that she jumped out of bed, rushed over and caught him by the arm. He persuaded her to drink Postum five years ago, on the advice of an old nurse.

"During an unusually busy winter, between coffee, tea and overwork, I became a victim of insomnia. In a month after beginning Postum, in place of coffee, I could eat anything and sleep as soundly as a baby."

"In three months I had gained twenty pounds in weight. I now use Postum altogether, instead of coffee, even at bedtime with a soda cracker, or some other tasty biscuit."

"Having a little tendency to Diabetes, I use a small quantity of saccharine, instead of sugar, to sweeten with. I may add that today tea or coffee are never present in our house, and very many patients, on my advice, have adopted Postum as their regular beverage."

"In conclusion, I can assure any one that, as a refreshing, nourishing and nerve-strengthening beverage, there is nothing equal to Postum. There is a Reason. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkgs."

Under cross-examination by Mr. Bolot, she told the story over again, adding nothing which would tend to change the principal statements.

"Curiosity Squad." The state rested with her testimony, and the defense did not attempt to broke away from her and raised the hatchet above Bolot, repeating 'I'll kill you.' She saw Bolot raise his head from the pillow, and she immediately backed out of the room. She heard the shot, and the hatchet fell to the floor. Hurrying back to the room, she caught the old man as he was falling and helped him to his couch in the dining room. 'I'm going to die,' was his only statement.

She told of Bolot's announcement that he would get a doctor, and the subsequent arrival of the physician. She pointed on the chart the position of her husband and herself at the time of the shooting, and with the hatchet, demonstrated how the old man held it. Bolot's head, just before he was shot.

combat any of the evidence. Mr. Baldwin, however, fired a volley into the minds of the members of the curiosity squad, who were lined up along the wall, inside of the rail. He called Alice Lundie, a young girl who boarded with the Charbonneaus, but who was not there on the night of the killing, to the stand first, and she could tell nothing to throw light on the affair.

Going down the line, he called Lena Coppengrath, Mrs. Sadie Kradenberg, Mrs. Lena Denny, Mrs. L. Waters, Mrs. Sophie Berg, and Mrs. Lundgren to the stand in succession.

Not one of them knew anything of the case, and they were confused under the unexpected summons. They were each asked if they knew the Charbonneaus, Bolot and Bolot's little daughter, and if they knew anything about the case, or if they had heard anything which might throw light on it.

You're just here for curiosity, then, was the question, and they all answered in the affirmative. Some of them didn't take kindly to the proceedings, notably Mrs. Lundie, who protested, until the judge ordered her to take the stand.

Harry Raymond, proprietor of a drug store, 3813 Ontario street, lost of telephoning for the doctor and police, at Bolot's request, and with his testimony, the defense rested.

BOY REJECTED; MOTHER PASSES

One of the young men who appeared at the recruiting office to take the enlistment examination this morning was accompanied by his mother. She didn't want the boy to join the army, but as he was insistent, she went with him to the office. She must have reached the age that Dr. Oster says ends usefulness on this mundane sphere, but looked surprisingly vigorous.

The young man fell down on the eye test. At twenty feet he couldn't read a letter occasionally. He was allowed to repeat the test, but it was clear that his optics failed to see the letters a the required distance.

During the examination, the mother had been watching the proceedings with a great deal of interest. The test doesn't look hard until you try it. These little black letters are hard to read at twenty feet, thought.

Suddenly the mother asked the examining official if she might be allowed to try to read the letters that her son had failed to decipher. She was given permission and took the place vacated by her boy.

A-B-C-X—she read them all, only missing one letter, and she explained, because it was "kind of funny like." It had a kind of Newport untidy dash on it.

"Very good eyes for a woman of your age," commented the examining official.

"Never had to wear specs in my life," replied the jubilant old woman. "Guess these young folks nowadays haven't the eyesight we older folks used to have."

So the mother with the strong eyes had her rejected son from the office. She was severely glad that he could not join the army and was outwardly jubilant over the fact that her eyes were still young.

"Correct Dress for Women and Children."

The New Tailored Linens, Will be of Present Interest to the Southern or West Bound Tourist

Spring and summer promise to show even greater favor toward the smartly tailored linen suit. These come in a perfect scale of snappy colors, depending more than ever for their "style" upon the excellence of outline.

The coats, mostly easy fitting, are of the finger-tip length, in single or double-breasted styles. The sleeve, although by no means tight, neatly follows the contour of the arm, while the skirts—well "correct" is the only word which gives expression to the delightful hang of those new multi-gored models. Most often they are finished by one or two neatly tailored foot-folds, cut so as to set snugly against the pretty ripples of the skirt.

Of-times detachable collar and cuffs of snowy linen add an unexpected dash of spice. This with the handsome pearl buttons lends to the whole that indescribable "something" termed "style."

We are now prepared to take your individual order for anything in the line of Spring or Summer Suits.

The plaintiff says his company held 3,000 shares of capital stock of the company, with a value of $50 a share. The company owed certain money to the mining concern, and in November, 1905, gave the 3,000 shares to Mr. Sellwood as security for the claim, it is said. When the return of the shares was asked, in the summer of 1905, it is charged that they were no longer in the possession of Mr. Sellwood, but had been disposed of to other parties, and therefore could not be returned to the original owners. It is claimed that Mr. Sellwood, in thus acting for the Leontia Mining company, acted unlawfully, and damages in the sum of $150,000, with interest, are asked for.

TAX SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

City Comptroller McCormick Makes Recommendations.

In the introduction to his annual report for the year 1907, submitted to the city council last night, City Comptroller W. E. McCormick recommended that a committee be appointed to consider ways and means for increasing the city's miscellaneous income by taxing special privileges. He pointed out that the city's expenses are pretty well established and that, if a decrease in taxes is to come, it must be by means of a tax on special privileges in excess of that already levied.

Mr. McCormick finds that street railways are compelled to pay a comparatively large percentage of their gross earnings in some cities; in others, there is a telephone and telegraph pole tax; switches to business houses are taxed; spaces under sidewalks and bay windows and other projections over sidewalks yield revenue, and there are many other ways by which the city's revenue may be increased and the tax on the small property owner consequently decreased.

The state, he contends, is now receiving a large amount of money from parties holding special privileges in the city, which should rightfully come to the city and he maintains that a fair percentage of that should go toward conducting the city's business.

Duluth is letting people holding special privileges off too easily, and the property tax will never be appreciably reduced until they are compelled to pay fairly for what they receive," he said this morning in support of his theory. "The expenses of the city are too well established for change of expense when the city was so anxious to get people and industries here that it gave special privileges without regard to the future. But now that time is past, we should make those people pay for what they get and thus cut down the burden on the small taxpayer under the present system."

COURT APPOINTS ROBERT H. HAIRE

At the hearing of an administrator for the estate of Paul Cusack, the Italian merchant on West Michigan street, who died recently, a warm contest developed among the relatives of the decedent for the appointment yesterday afternoon.

The probate court room was not large enough to hold the crowd of relatives and friends of the departed merchant, and Judge Middlecott confined the hearing in district court room No. 3.

One of the applicants for the administration was Cusack's partner in business, and this fact disqualified him. The other relative who wanted to handle the affairs of the estate could not read or write so the court finally named Robert H. Haire, an outsider, as the special administrator. Mr. Haire will inventory the estate and offer it for sale.

EXCITING SLEIGH RIDE

Young People Had an Experience With a Drunken Driver.

Girl's Arm Was Broken When the Sleigh Was Upset.

Coming home from the Duluth Boat club's brunch house at Spirit Lake, last Friday evening, a sleighload of West Duluth and Duluth young people had a very exciting time of it with a drunken driver, who managed to overturn the sleigh twice, one of the upsets resulting in a young lady receiving a broken arm.

One of the girls was thrown with such force that her arm was broken. The sleigh was righted and the party was again nicely started on its way when the driver overturned the party again, but this time, fortunately, no one was hurt.

To cap the climax, the driver then refused to go on unless he was paid, but as the bill had already been settled at the livery, the young men would not pay twice. The driver flatly refused to go further until they had settled with him. So the boys took the matter in their own hands, pulled the obstinate, drunken driver from his seat, threw him into the bottom of the sleigh, where three husky football players sat upon him, while another young man drove the crowd back to West Duluth.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WARD CASE IS PUZZLER

Whereabouts of Missing
"Sky Pilot" Continues to be Mystery.

His Dropping Out of Sight at Walker
Quite Strange.

Akeley, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The mysterious disappearance of "Sky Pilot" L. C. Ward of Minneapolis has caused quite a commotion here where Ward worked for several months among the logging camps. He was well known by the village authorities and the hotel keepers where he stayed while in town. Rev. M. Davis of the Logging Camp mission, a long time friend of Ward, was in town today, and called upon the Rev. J. T. Brubaker Smith at the Methodist parsonage to make inquiries.

Ward telephoned to Mr. Smith last Tuesday morning. He was apparently in good health and all right mentally and elated at the success of his evangelistic work at Walker.

Ward was capable of taking care of himself. He was over six feet high and a man of wonderful physique. He was an old time lumberjack and is well known throughout the logging camps and is a well known character.

He has borne a good character, and few have done more to interest him as he among the camps.

When Rev. M. Davis of Minneapolis could find no trace of Ward here, he left for Walker to continue investigations in hopes of tracing Ward. It is expected he will get some clue as to the whereabouts of Ward.

The missing "sky pilot" has a wife and child in Minneapolis. His wife and child are in the various missions and at a prominent Presbyterian church. The services of the church are conducting at Walker were very successful and the night the disappeared, the church was filled with people.

Who Not Worried.—(Special to The Herald.)—Relatives and friends of Rev. Clayton L. Ward known as the "unlucky sky pilot," are not worrying over his disappearance from Walker, Minn., Wednesday.

Mrs. Ward, his wife, who lives at 14 East Twenty-sixth street, declares yesterday that she felt no anxiety over the report from Walker that Rev. M. Ward, who was conducting the revival at meetings in the Methodist church, had vanished.

"I had a letter from my husband early last week, written in Walker on Tuesday," said Mrs. Ward, "and in it he said he was well and happy, although he declared that he was expecting soon to leave the employ of the American Sunday School union, under whose auspices he was conducting the revival at Walker. I believe he decided on Wednesday that the time had come for him to leave, and perhaps being in the vicinity of his home, he stepped aboard a train and left without informing anyone of his intention. I expect to hear from him in a new field shortly, and believe that he is well in his right mind."

Mrs. Ward said her husband had suffered from attacks of melancholia several years ago, but had entirely recovered.

FIVE DISTRICTS
IN KOCHICHING

Are Created by Commissioners of New County Up North.

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of county commissioners has divided Kochiching county into five commissioners' districts.

International Falls will be in a district which will skirt Rainy river east, from the mouth of the Big Fork river, and include the town of Ray. The Little Fork district adjoins this one on the south, and extends from the Big Fork east to the Itasca line, being the second largest district in point of area. The Black River district is a compact one, comprising thirteen townships in the northwestern part of the county, west of the Big Fork river. South of that is the Big Fork district, extending from the Beltrami county line, on the west, through the center of the county to the Little Fork district, and south to the Itasca line. This is the largest district in point of area. The Northome district is the best shaped one of all, and comprises fourteen townships in the southwestern corner of the county. The division was made on a basis of population, and was considered a fair one.

A number of city officials attended and Mr. Babcock had sent out invitations to all. His subject was "Some Questions for Our Aldermen," in which he charged the city fathers with permitting vice to flourish.

The only commissioner who is plausibly affected by the division is Fred Smith, who is thrown into the International Falls district. The commissioner will naturally be conceded to this town.

EAU CLAIRE WINS DECISION
In Circuit Court in Contention With Water Works Company.

Eau Claire, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city of Eau Claire is the victor, as far as the circuit court is concerned, in the case of the city vs. The Eau Claire Water company and the Eau Claire Loan & Trust company of New York, which case was tried before Judge Vinje, in circuit court in this city, early in January.

The decision is a signal victory for the city, as the court does not sustain any of the contentions made by the defendants, but holds that the award of the board of arbitrators was valid and binding upon the parties, and that the city did not exceed its constitutional limit of debt in making the purchase of the waterworks, and that the city was entitled to the judgment prayed for.

Michigan.

Ewen, Mich., Feb. 25.—Organizing and controlling the Gogebic Lumber company, prominent furniture men have become actively identified with lumbering operations in Upper Michigan. There is timber sufficient for a ten years run. It is estimated that the holdings embrace upward of 30,000 acres. The company has a paid up capital of $100,000, and is headed by E. L. Muldoon, both well known in the furniture world, are president and vice president, respectively, and E. K. Aeneas, is secretary, treasurer and general manager. Mr. Aeneas was formerly associated in the management of the Pere Marquette railroad.

HOME ENDORSEMENT

Hundreds of Duluth Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Duluth people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Duluth reader. Surely, the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Capt. M. McLean, marine captain, living at 4324 Gilliat St., Duluth, Minn., says: "Lapse of time has only strengthened my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. I gave this remedy my hearty endorsement in the summer of 1898, because of the good results I obtained from the use of it. It promptly and effectively rid me of a dull, heavy feeling just over the kidneys, banished the restlessness that broke my sleep at night, and brought about a healthy and natural action of the kidneys. Since that time there has been no return of the trouble, which fact convinces me that Doan's Kidney Pills cured permanently."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

KELLEY HARDWARE CO. DULUTH, MINN.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The man of the house entered sheepishly into his own domicile. In place of that swagger of possession which marks the homecoming of the man who is unafraid, he entered quietly, and without elation. If he had analyzed his emotions, he would not have said that he was afraid. But he was not given to analyzing, and so he just felt uncomfortable, and came in quietly. He had a bundle under his arm.

His wife heard him, however, and she came to greet him. "Hello," she said, and then, right quickly, "what have you got there?" "Hello," he said, and laid the bundle down. "It's raining out some," said the man, looking at his hat and coat, and thinking hard all the time.

"What's in the bundle?" asked his wife. "Great old weather we're having," said the man, oblivious to her demands. "I was talking to some one today, who said that it was a sure thing that we are going to have an early spring, and—"

"Is it for me?" she inquired, with her eye on the bundle. "And that next winter there would be plenty of snow and real sharp weather," expounded the man.

"What's in the bundle?" asked his wife. "It seems reasonable enough that that forecast may be right," said the man, who had become very talkative.

"Why, yes," said his wife. "It seems so to me, too. What's in the bundle?" she inquired right afterward.

"I heard you saying the other day that you wanted a new tea set," said the man, diplomatically.

"John, you've been dreaming. 'I've got six tea sets this very minute,'" said his wife, cycling the bundle with a set look on her face.

"Well, tea sets are always handy," said the man, doggedly. "They look so homelike standing around."

"Why, yes, of course, tea sets are all right," said his wife; only I was thinking that a family of two can't use more than six, especially when you don't come home for afternoon tea."

The man wished he had not brought the bundle home. He wished that he had dropped it at the corner, and he thought that the clinking crash of china would sound pleasantly to his ears. It didn't make any difference what he bought, it never satisfied anybody. Wives were queer things, anyway. You could quit work and carefully plan a way of giving them a little pleasure, and then they'd tell you that they had six tea sets.

She, who had been all curiosity about the bundle, suddenly became solicitous about it the cause of the bundle.

"Where shall I put it?" he inquired. "What?" she asked.

"The tea set," he said. "Do you really mean to say that you bought a tea set?" she asked.

"Yes," he said, not because he was especially truthful, but because the tea set was right there to furnish circumstantial evidence. "I have been thinking about it several weeks."

"I thought that you would like it," he said, in a manner which he hoped was one of simplicity. His wife looked awkwardly, still holding the unwrapped tea set.

"Where shall I put it?" he asked. "Why, put it down," she said.

He did and began to unwrap it. His wife began to be slightly sorry for him, and she helped a little. The man brightened visibly, and so he said again, "I saw it a few weeks ago, and I thought you would like it."

"Now, John, we'll just dispose of that little fairy story. You know and I know that when you left here this morning you had no intention of getting a tea set any more than you had of starting for Australia, but the service 'What an I offered,' and the 'Going, going, gone' business proved too much for you. I know how it is," she said, victoriously. "I bought a tea set myself. It's real Satsuma and more than two or three hundred years old, and it has been on exhibition before the crowned heads of Europe, and has it—"

"What shall we do with it?" inquired the man lugubrously.

"I got an invitation to a wedding today," said the woman, "and it will do perfectly."

The man heaved a sigh of relief, and decided not to mention the taboret, which was to have been delivered tomorrow.

Missionary Meeting. The Ladies' Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Walter of 1116 East Third street. The leader for the afternoon will be Mrs. E. A. Gooch, and the subject will be "Aliens in America."

Home Wedding. A pretty home wedding took place last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Sven Ryden, 2023 West Fifth street, when her daughter, Miss Ethel Ryden, became the bride of Charles Olaf Anderson of Carlton. The bride was attended by her sisters, Misses Edith and Alice Ryden. The groomsmen were T. Parson of Carlton and M. Johnson of Duluth. The service was read by Rev. C. G. Olson of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church.

The house was attractively decorated with smilax and carnations. Friends and relatives from Lindstrom, Carlton and Superior were present. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their future home in Carlton.

Evening Reception. Mrs. John A. Stephenson will be hostess at a reception, tomorrow evening, at the Kitchell Gammi club, at which the guest of honor will be Mrs. Olga Samaroff. Mrs. Samaroff arrived in the city today, and will be the second visiting artist to appear before the Matinee Musicals of this city. Mrs. Stephenson's reception will be held after the concert tomorrow evening.

Surprise Party. Mrs. M. Solberg of North Dakota, who is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Pearson of 4207 Gilliat street, Lakeside, was the guest of honor at a surprise party last evening. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by the following guests:

J. Jensen, John Bowman, A. Hedenberg, F. Johnson, J. A. Johnson, Jennie Erickson, Hulda Wallace, Otteson, Elsie Pearson, Alfred Hedman, J. Lathrop, James Smith.

Honor Mrs. Barnard. Friday afternoon of this week the members of the Saturday club will entertain at a reception in honor of Mrs. F. H. Barnard, a member of the club who will leave next week for Minneapolis to make her home. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. John A. Keyes of 2029 East Third street, and the members of the club, and the former members who are in the city, will be the guests.

Mrs. Barnard has been studying the progress of the Saturday club, being one of the charter members at its organization in 1899, and she has been actively interested during the succeeding years. There is much regret at her departure from the city, and the club has been arranged that the members of the club may have this opportunity of greeting her before her departure, early in March.

For Mrs. Knebel. Mrs. W. A. McConaughy entertained at luncheon today at her home at Hunter's Park in honor of Mrs. Robert Knebel of Sioux City, Iowa. Jonquills were the decorations, and covers were laid for eight.

Samaroff's Career. Madame Olga Samaroff, the distinguished pianist, who will give a recital tomorrow evening at Pilgrim Congregational church, will be the subject of the Matinee Musicals, in spite of her Russian name, an American girl, having been born in San Antonio, Tex., where her father, an officer in the army, was stationed. She is of German and Russian stock, and most of her life has been spent abroad. As a child she was given to the care of her maternal grandmother, one of the most distinguished pianists of Germany, and from her took her first lessons. Her girlhood she spent in a Paris, where she studied with the famous Russian teacher, Jodleska, who died in the summer of 1904. It was he who told her she was ready for a public career.

She decided to begin this at home, and in January, 1905, she ventured on a concert tour in America, and the New York, with the New York Symphony orchestra. Her debut was most auspicious, and later in the season she gave two recitals in London, receiving the warmest commendation. In the fall of that year she returned to America, the winning of the whole of the past two seasons she has been hard at work filling engagements. She has played with all the principal orchestras of this country and at the leading music festivals. Last season she had no less than seventy engagements, her first being in early October and her last in May.

Discuss Plans. The plans for the next year of the Twentieth Century club were discussed informally yesterday, at the meeting of the executive committee of the club. No definite plans were determined upon, but the club anticipates another year of interesting work. The last year has been a notable one, and the classes and lectures, arranged under the auspices of the organization, have been most successful.

The last social for the year will be held the first Monday of March, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Agstin, of East Fifth street. The afternoon will be in charge of the musical department, which Mrs. A. M. Gow is chairman.

Club Lecture. Clarence B. Miller will be the speaker at this evening at a lecture at the clubroom of the library. The affair is one in a series which has been arranged by the evening department of the Twentieth Century club. "Fifty Years of Minnesota History" will be the subject of the lecture, and any one interested is invited to attend. In May of this year the semi-centennial of Minnesota's admission to the union will be celebrated, and the lecture is a most timely one.

Personal Mention. Mrs. John A. Johnson of St. Paul arrived in the city today, to be the guest of Mrs. A. C. Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Earhart of Detroit are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stephenson of East Superior street.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elston and daughter, Marie, of 1617 East Superior street have gone to Mexico City for a three months' visit.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Courtney, who were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stephenson, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. A. Crosby and daughter, Dorothy, have gone to Florida for a several weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John McAlpine and son left today for a Southern trip.

Mrs. J. W. Sheridan of 1109 East Third street has returned from a visit with her parents at Donnelly, Minn.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—Mack-Lane in "Capt. Barreton." METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.

MRS. MAHER AT BIJOU.

Popular Vaudeville House Has Strong List of Attractions.

The Bijou theater has had an exceptionally fine list of attractions this season, and the show this week is one of the best of the best. The astounding room-only sign was brought into use last night.

"The Three Millards," musical comedians, come on the stage immediately following the two fine overtures by Schnitzler's orchestra, and their work delights the audience. The Assot, Eddie Two, with novelty pantomime, acrobatic comedy and toe dancing, also make a hit. Their act is novel and entertaining. "As We Watch the Ships Go Sailing" is the title of a very clever and interesting song this week, and it is a good one. George H. Whitman and Floie Davis appear, to good advantage in "His Little Cousin."

Mrs. Peter J. Maher, "The Irish Queen," and the Louis and Louise duo, the big champion, has a good monologue. "The Crackman," a one-act drama in which Howard and Louise, the duo, appear, is a strong feature of the program. It is a very clever and interesting. The motion pictures are good.

THE BURLESQUERS.

Reilly & Wood Show is Better Than the Ordinary.

Pat Reilly and the Reilly & Wood organization have opened a week's engagement at the Metropolitan, and from the quality of their performance are likely to draw as large houses as any other act in the city.

"Reilly in Egypt" and "Reilly in the West" are two playful skits, and there is a long vaudeville program. "Reilly in Egypt" is a burlesque on "Antony and Cleopatra," and "Reilly in the West" is a burlesque on "The Wizard of Oz." The two skits are very good, and the vaudeville program is excellent.

MRS. MAHER AT BIJOU.

Popular Vaudeville House Has Strong List of Attractions.

The Bijou theater has had an exceptionally fine list of attractions this season, and the show this week is one of the best of the best. The astounding room-only sign was brought into use last night.

"The Three Millards," musical comedians, come on the stage immediately following the two fine overtures by Schnitzler's orchestra, and their work delights the audience. The Assot, Eddie Two, with novelty pantomime, acrobatic comedy and toe dancing, also make a hit. Their act is novel and entertaining. "As We Watch the Ships Go Sailing" is the title of a very clever and interesting song this week, and it is a good one. George H. Whitman and Floie Davis appear, to good advantage in "His Little Cousin."

Mrs. Peter J. Maher, "The Irish Queen," and the Louis and Louise duo, the big champion, has a good monologue. "The Crackman," a one-act drama in which Howard and Louise, the duo, appear, is a strong feature of the program. It is a very clever and interesting. The motion pictures are good.

These meals are always ready; and what do you know that's so good?

You will never bake beans at home again when you once learn the difference between yours and Van Camp's. Note how nutty our beans are—how meaty. None are browned, none are broken; all are baked alike. And note what a delicious blend we get. It comes from baking the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together.

It isn't your fault, but you cannot begin to bake beans as we bake them

You lack the facilities. Beans must be baked in a very fierce heat, else they are not digestible. We bake ours 90 minutes at 245 degrees. Then we bake in live steam. That's why our beans don't brown, don't burst. That's why they are all baked alike, and baked well. That's why they are meaty, yet nutty.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

Then you can't get the beans that we get, for ours are selected by hand from the choicest beans grown. We pay for them seven times what some beans would cost. Then our tomatoes are ripened on the vines—not in shipment. They are picked when the juice fairly sparkles. That gives to our sauce the zest which you don't get in other sauce.

The millions of people who know Van Camp's never want home-baked beans

We have spent 47 years in learning how to best prepare this dish. Is it any wonder we know? Don't judge Van Camp's by some other brands that are cheapened at every point. It pays to get the best in beans, because your people will eat them more frequently; eat them in place of meat. And beans are Nature's choicest food—84 per cent nutriment.

KANE CASE MAY BE CONTINUED

County Attorney Has Other Criminal Cases to Get Ready.

Today is the last date for the filing of new cases for trial at the March term of the district court, which opens one week from Wednesday, and there still remain enough jury cases to keep the court busy right up to the opening of the new term.

The new term is so close now that County Attorney Norton will have to begin within a day or two to get the criminal matters ready for the grand jury investigation, and this leaves him little time to spend on any more trials this term.

It is quite probable the Kane alleged illegal voting case will not be tried this week, as planned, but will go over the term and will be one of the first cases for trial during the March term.

The state will have at least three murder cases for trial the next term, besides a good-sized list of minor offenses. Sheriff Bates' force of deputies is busy simulating grand and petty jurors for service next term. The grand jurors will assemble next week Wednesday and the petty jurors will assemble one week from next Monday.

CALL ON NATIONAL BANKS.

Secretary Cortelyou to Ask for 25 Per Cent of Government Deposits.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The secretary of the treasury yesterday announced a call upon national banks for approximately 25 per cent of the public funds, now held in inactive depositories having on deposit such funds in the sum of $100,000 or more, and 25 per cent of the public funds, now held by active depositories, where the deposit is $100,000 or more, or excess thereof, and where such withdrawal can be made without inconvenience to the treasury department in the transaction of public business. Under the call, approximately $35,000,000 will be returned to the treasury.

Payments under this call will be made as follows: Ten per cent of the amount called, on or before March 9, and the remaining 15 per cent, on or before March 23.

Secretary Cortelyou stated that advances from all portions of the country are to the effect that this proportion of the government funds now on deposit with the national banks can be withdrawn without detriment to financial conditions in any section.

SALOON LICENSES KEEP THE ALDERMEN BUSY

Henry Kohnen Granted Renewal After a Warm Discussion.

Nusbaum Turned Down Epper Wants New License.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Granted application of Henry Kohnen, through John McIntosh, for license for saloon at 625 West Superior street.

Denied application of Albert Olson for license for saloon at 5501 Grand avenue west.

Denied application of T. Nusbaum for license for saloon at 704 West First street.

Voted down motion to reconsider action refusing to grant award of contract for West end police station.

Voted down ordinance for regulating sanitary conditions of hotels, bakeries, restaurants and confectionery stores.

Received petition for reservation site in block 193, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and First and Second avenues east, and ordered condemnation proceedings.

Paid tribute to retiring aldermen and officers and congratulated work of council of 1907-08 to a close.

With a charge of keeping his saloon open on Sunday after his license had expired hanging over him in municipal court, Henry Kohnen, through John McIntosh, last night secured a renewal of his saloon license at 625 West Superior street from the city council. Alderman Wilson conducted a strong fight against the granting of the license at this time. He wanted action postponed for one week to await the result of the case in court, but the other aldermen took the view that a man was innocent until proven guilty, and granted the application on the spot.

The license expired Feb. 15 and application was made Feb. 2 for a renewal. The application was one day too late to be considered in the regular course of events last night. Alderman Wilson reported that on information furnished by the police, Kohnen's bartender was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of keeping open on Sunday, and arraigned in court. He pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for Wednesday afternoon. He added that Kohnen had run from Feb. 15 to yesterday without license, and the police had closed him up yesterday morning to await the action of the council.

Mr. Wilson pleaded for a delay of one week, he said Mr. Kohnen was a man to grant the license to, but the council should be sure the charge hanging over the place should not be overlooked, and moved that action be delayed for a week. Other aldermen objected on the ground that the place was closed and the man was locked up, which the council might be depriving him of wrongfully. The motion was lost by a vote of 5 to 2.

Chief Troyer explained the situation before the council, and said that Alderman Wilson made another plea for postponement of action. On roll call, the application was granted by a vote of 10 to 5.

The Nusbaum license.

The aldermen had evidently investigated the situation with respect to the application of Nusbaum for a license for saloon in a lot of more than fifty rooms at 5501 Grand avenue west, and the first action of the council was to deny the application. Nusbaum's application was made on the 15th of the month, and the council had to wait until the 23rd to act on it.

Theodore Epper, who, on the occasion of his application for a license, appeared before the council to get a license for saloon at 704 West First street, was turned down by the council. He said Olson made application for a license for saloon at 5501 Grand avenue west, and he said that he had not been granted a license. He said that he had not been granted a license, and he said that he had not been granted a license.

The council turned down the application by a vote of 10 to 5.

The Bakery Ordinance.

McIntosh's restaurant, hotel, bakery and confectionery store, ordinance proposed something like this: That no bakery, restaurant, hotel, bakery and confectionery store shall be operated in this city without a license from the city council.

The ordinance was proposed by Alderman Wilson, and it was moved that it be referred to the committee on public health.

Property owners on Second street between Seventh and Thirtieth avenues east last night presented a petition to the council for the postponement of having operations there for one year.

They said that the expense would be a hardship to a number of property owners at this time, and might result in a loss of their property to some of them. They said the highest grade of paving was to be laid, and the expense would be more than some of the property owners could bear. No action was taken on the petition.

P. McDonald, the contractor, last night presented a claim for $227.35, interest on $21,131.55 from Dec. 9, 1907, to Feb. 13, 1908. The money is for the cost of the paving of the street between Seventh and Thirtieth avenues east, and the council will act on it at its next meeting.

The appeal of Oneida street property holders against the assessment for the street widening and the paving was denied after the dismissal of the appeal by the district court.

They said that the expense would be a hardship to a number of property owners at this time, and might result in a loss of their property to some of them. They said the highest grade of paving was to be laid, and the expense would be more than some of the property owners could bear. No action was taken on the petition.

P. McDonald, the contractor, last night presented a claim for $227.35, interest on $21,131.55 from Dec. 9, 1907, to Feb. 13, 1908. The money is for the cost of the paving of the street between Seventh and Thirtieth avenues east, and the council will act on it at its next meeting.

The appeal of Oneida street property holders against the assessment for the street widening and the paving was denied after the dismissal of the appeal by the district court.

Property holders on Third street between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth avenues west last night presented a petition to the council for the postponement of having operations there for one year.

SPORTS OF THE DAY

SULLIVAN IS COMING

Superior People Raise Funds for Repairing Old Park.

Eau Claire Money is Up and Circuit is Complete.

Superior's a sure thing; Eau Claire's a sure thing; and the Northern league, with a membership of Duluth, Winnipeg, Brandon, Fargo, Superior and Eau Claire, will go through.

The Superior people received word yesterday from the Chicago practice and named leagues throughout the country, and with his wide acquaintance in the baseball world, should give Superior a team which will make business of trouble for the other towns in the league.

The Superior people lost no time after Ted made his proposition that they repair the stands and bleachers at the old park and put it in shape. He said $200 or $300 would be required, so they scurried around, gathered $200 together, and are now ready to take a place on the baseball map once again. Superior has been out of organized baseball for so long that the fans are hungry for a sign of the team, and the good sports of the city are anxious to see the team get on getting it in the Northern league this year, and the good sports of the sleepy old burg are coming forward with the hard cash to insure Ted's taking hold.

Poor street car service was the principal objection to the old grounds, but the Superior Commercial club will get to the street railway people and urge the necessity of good service to the old park. It will be to the interest of the company to trouble to the baseball fans, and no trouble is expected from that quarter.

Sullivan is expected to arrive in Superior some time the latter part of this week, and a meeting will be held here soon to take up the question of the schedule and other matters preliminary to the opening of the season. It may be held on Sunday, but at any rate, will be held on March 5.

Eau Claire has come forward with its check for the league money and now it is cinched for the Northern league. The Eau Claire people are delighted with the prospect. They were anxious to cut loose from the Wisconsin-Illinois circuit, and lost no time in leaving it to the Northern, after they had been turned loose. Lynch will again manage the Eau Claire team, and the players, which were transferred to La Crosse, have been recalled.

Reports from the other towns of the league indicate that they are busy signing players, and everything is lovely for the big opening, May 14.

PLAN NEW GROUNDS.

Philadelphia Athletics Will Spend $500,000 Before 1910.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—An ordinance providing new playing grounds at Twentieth street and Lehigh avenue, in the northern section of the city, for the local American league baseball club, was yesterday signed by Mayor Reyer. The ball club will, it is said, expend $500,000 for improvements. It is proposed to erect steel and cement stands seating 20,000 people. The new grounds will be 120 feet longer and deeper than the present grounds, and it is claimed by the management will be the finest baseball park in the country. They will be ready for occupancy in 1910, when the lease of the present grounds expires.

GLEAMS in the SPORTING FOG.

With Old Sol working overtime shooting the mercury up the tube, the Duluth ski riders are about content to lay aside their skis and wait until next season sends along a more bountiful supply of snow and an opportunity to establish new records. They may go down the slides a few more times this year, but it is entirely likely that the work of the Duluth riders this season is a revelation to the every-day American, who didn't realize the possibilities of ski riding. While the 100-foot run at Johnson's school, it was thought wonderful. Ole Mangseth sent the mark to 114 feet last year, and the mark was shattered repeatedly. John Evensen's mark of 116 feet at the national tournament here broke the ice. John Mangseth made it 117 and then Evensen came back with 122 feet without a fall. The record of 114 feet looks puny in the light of the marks this year, and so it may be in the future years, when the records of the native Norwegian riders on Scandinavian hills are sent flying by the transplanted Scandinavians of the United States.

When the Duluth Ski club began preparing for the national tournament this year, it promised marks of over 120 feet. But it fell short and the best record on the Duluth hill was 117 feet. Duluth riders, however, held the national honors and the finest crowd of ski riders ever gathered under the colors of one club in the United States met at the Hotel Chalmers to witness the national tournament. The American spirit will never be satisfied to stand second to the Scandinavians, even if ski riding is their native sport. The slides will become so proficient, that the records of the Holmenkollen will be beaten on the Duluth and other hills of the Northwest.

To one who has never seen ski riding, it seems incredible that a man can go over 100 feet through the air after a sharp descent down a steep slide. Yet that it has been done, none will doubt. A mark of 120 or 130 feet appears incredible at the present time, but it will come. The American spirit will never be satisfied to stand second to the Scandinavians, even if ski riding is their native sport. The slides will become so proficient, that the records of the Holmenkollen will be beaten on the Duluth and other hills of the Northwest.

How to do away with the practice of the pitcher rubbing the new ball on the ground at the beginning of an inning, is agitating the major leagues. They are much time is consumed in the practice and some means should be devised to prevent the pitcher from doing so. The necessity of treating the spectators to such a delay before each game.

Sullivan is expected to arrive in Superior some time the latter part of this week, and a meeting will be held here soon to take up the question of the schedule and other matters preliminary to the opening of the season. It may be held on Sunday, but at any rate, will be held on March 5.

BASEBALL MEN MEET

National Committee is in Session in New York.

Big League Schedules Will be Announced This Week.

New York, Feb. 25.—Major league baseball owners and patrons will be particularly interested in the meetings of the big organization which will begin here today and will occupy the greater part of this week. Today, the National committee, consisting of President Hermann of the Cincinnati club, and Presidents Johnson and Pulliam of the American and National leagues, will hold a special session at which many matters of importance are to be discussed. This meeting will take place in the offices of the National league in the St. James building.

The joint rules committee also will meet here today while tomorrow and the following two days will be devoted to the annual schedule meeting, at which playing dates for the coming season will be announced. It is generally understood that the number of conflicting dates in the schedules will be considerably less than in the last five seasons and that there will be no lack of harmony between the rival interests of the major league clubs.

Tomorrow the National league meeting will be convened at the Waldorf-Astoria, and the American league will assemble at the Hotel Breidlach about three blocks away on Broadway.

The American league schedule will be announced first. President Johnson having won this right on the toss of a coin at a meeting in Cincinnati a few weeks ago. The National league dates will be given out twenty-four hours later, so that by Saturday the followers of the game all over the two principal circuits will be able to figure out how their favorite clubs have been treated in the distribution of the season's most desirable holiday, Saturday and Sunday games.

FARGO TEAM THIS WEEK

The Fargo Y. M. C. A. basketball team, which is touring Minnesota, will Friday and Saturday nights of this week meet the Duluth C. A. A. five at the Duluth gymnasium.

The Fargo players have been meeting Twin City teams for the past week and have met with many successes. They easily held a 2-0 record in the North Dakota and are upholding their right to it in great shape.

The games will be the hardest for the Duluth team for the season and are being played with great interest. The Fargo team has been playing hard and they have not been easy to beat. They have been playing hard and they have not been easy to beat. They have been playing hard and they have not been easy to beat.

BURNS AND JOHNSON May Come Together in Ring During the Next Few Months.

London, Feb. 25.—Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion, and Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, may meet in this country to fight for the championship within the next few months. A syndicate of British sportsmen has offered a purse for a fight between them. Burns has deposited a similar sum as a forfeit. The inducements offered to Burns to meet Johnson are not disclosed, but the syndicate offers Johnson $5,000, win, lose or draw.

The fight is to take place before June 10, and Burns insists on a 16-foot ring. He also agrees to the suggestion that James J. Jeffries shall act as referee.

A CRISIS IS REACHED

In British Negotiations With Belgians on Congo Reform.

London, Feb. 25.—In the course of the debate in the house of lords yesterday on the Congo situation, Lord Fitzmaurice, representing the foreign office, pleaded for a little more action on the part of the Belgian government.

He pointed out the enormous difficulties, both international and Belgian, that were in the way of a speedy accomplishment of the reforms in the Congo, desired by everybody. The negotiations between the Belgian parliament and King Leopold had now reached a crisis, and it required time to adjust the delicate points of difference.

The British government, the speaker said, would not regard as satisfactory anything short of a complete vindication of both the treaty obligations and the claims of humanity. Lord Fitzmaurice said he thought the appeals made for this country had received a marked response from the United States.

Continuing, Lord Fitzmaurice said: "I regard the co-operation of the United States of the highest importance, not merely because of the influence and power of the United States, great as this is, but because the United States could not under any conceivable circumstances be charged with what Great Britain unfortunately has been charged abroad, namely, purely selfish ambition. The United States has no ambitions in Africa. They were among the first to recognize the International Association of the Congo, out of which the Congo Free State grew, and if the United States co-operated as they were co-operating with Great Britain, that was a fact of first-rate importance.

Consulted With United States.

"We have been in consultation with the government of the United States. Our minister and theirs have been in communication with each other in Brussels, and nothing could be more valuable to the cause of Congo reform or agreeable to us than that this co-operation should continue and be extended further.

"One question in which the people of the United States and ourselves are particularly interested is the refusal of the Congo Free State to carry out its treaty obligations with regard to the granting of rights for the chapels, churches and schools of the various missions. I had hoped to be able to say something satisfactory on this question this evening, but I am sorry to have to tell the house that during the last few hours I have received information from Brussels showing the attitude of the Congo state to be even more unsatisfactory on this question than it was a year ago.

"I can only promise the duty that the foreign office will not lose sight of this question and that it will continue to press it."

Continuing, Lord Fitzmaurice said: The British government certainly viewed the situation with anxiety and that these debates could not go on forever, but he hoped the Belgian parliament would act up to its own high traditions.

Premier's Efforts Nullified.

He then paid a tribute to M. Bernier, when premier, to reform the Congo, but he added, "those efforts were all reduced to absolute nullity by influence and powers entirely outside the Belgian government, parliament and people and the result was a great negation of international treaty rights, as great a defiance of public law and as great a sacrifice of the interests of humanity as anything the modern world ever has heard of."

In announcing the early publication of a white book on the Congo, Lord Fitzmaurice said: "This book will include the first outward and visible sign of the co-operation between ourselves and the United States—a very interesting extract from the report of an American consul, which, by permission, we were allowed to incorporate."

The report to which Lord Fitzmaurice refers is that of James A. Smith, the American consul general at Boma. It deals with the virtual forced labor imposed upon the natives by the food taxes, the condition of rubber collecting, and the cheating practiced upon them in the delivery of rubber by false weighing. The report shows that the women in the village of Leopoldville district have practically ceased to bear children, owing to the incessant work necessary for the payment of the food taxes.

COURTS MUST WORK LONGER

Judge Cant Adds Half Hour to District Court Sessions.

The unfinished cases for trial in the district court are so pressing that Judge Cant has further lengthened the working hours of the court by beginning the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock, as formerly. A few days ago the court announced that the morning sessions would begin at 8 instead of 9 o'clock.

With the addition of a half hour in the afternoon the court is now working an hour a day longer than previous to the present term. This additional hour has become necessary if it is expected to get the January calendar anywhere near cleaned up before the March term begins. As it is, there are about fifty court cases on the January calendar which will have to be continued. The jury cases have been on trial continuously since the first week in January.

The increased business in the district court of St. Louis county during the past year has attracted much attention. There is hardly a term of the year but that the jury trials of the cases on the calendar overlap the calendar of the following term.

TO PLAY FAST CLEVELAND TEAM

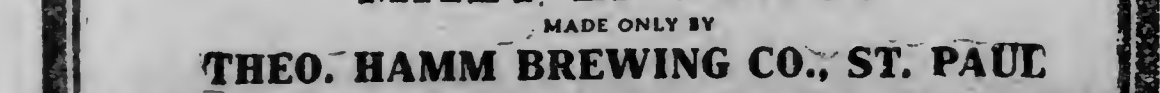

The Northern hockey team, which is touring the West and advertising its claim to the title of the Northwest, will tonight go against the fastest amateur team of Cleveland in a game for the championship of the West.

The victories of the Duluth seven at Detroit have given the Duluth supporters of the team hope, and they will watch anxiously for the reports of the game to-night. The boys really had a hard night after the four hard games already played, but they are counted upon to acquit themselves creditably in the Cleveland rink and at least make a show for the first time. That also will be a handicap in addition to those under which they are already working.

The boys will leave Cleveland tonight and will play at the Canadian and American Rinks before returning home. They will arrive here Saturday, and regardless of the results of the game yet to be played, will be given a warm welcome.

SPIRIT OF REVENGE

Actuates Roy's Wife in Murder Charge, Say Relatives,

Police of Paris Have Received Warrant for His Arrest.

Paris, Feb. 26.—The police of this city have received from New York a warrant for the arrest of Paul Roy, on the charge of murder. This charge was made by Roy's wife, an American actress, known also as Gladia Calla, who declares that he murdered her brother, George A. Carkins, early in January, in New Hampshire. The warrant has not yet been served. The French law does not permit the extradition of French citizens, but provides for their trial and punishment in France for crimes committed abroad. Roy's brothers point out that his marriage to Miss Carkins is illegal in France, as he had not previously obtained the consent of his parents, and they say he will apply for a divorce in America on the ground that his wife misrepresented her age at the time of her marriage, swearing she was 27, when she really was 34 years old.

Wife Actuated by Revenge.
In addition to declaring that Paul Roy was forced to shoot Carkins in self-defense, the Roy family charge that the accusation of murder brought by Paul's wife is taken in a spirit of revenge because her husband informed her that he did not intend to return to America, but would henceforth live in France. The Roy family tried desperately, but unsuccessfully, to prevent the marriage of their brother to Miss Carkins. They besought him to return to France and see their mother, who was about to enter a private hospital.

The father of the accused man, Auguste Roy, is a prominent merchant and lives at Neuilly. Miss Carkins lived in Paris several years ago with her aunt, the Baroness von Orondoff. She was at one time engaged to Count de Bearn. Her talent, wealth and beauty gave her access to exclusive circles. She finally rented a villa at Etretat and met Paul Roy, after which, according to her friends, her misery began.

FALSE STORY IS CORRECTED

Attorney General Young Gives Plain Statements of Facts.

St. Paul, Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General E. T. Young has answered the charge of bad faith in connection with the trespass prosecution, by a letter to the Aitkin Age, which contains some plain and rather unpleasant statements of facts.

The Aitkin Age originated a story that has been widely copied about the settlement of a $25,000 trespass prosecution for $200. The suit was against Bonness & Co., of Minneapolis, for trespass on section 15, township 50, range 21, which was sold on an estimate by Mr. Dunn for $50, and from which timber worth $5,750 was cut. The state claims. The Aitkin paper declares that the suit was a bluff, and was brought for the recovery of $40,000 feet cut by mistake for Bonness & Co., by K. Olson, but that recently the whole matter was settled for $200. Mr. Young shows that the case has not been settled at all, except that for $200, the defendant K. Olson, has been allowed to settle for 40,000 feet of timber cut at the same time from another state section, section 9 of 50-21.

The case has not been settled as to section 15, but will come up for trial in St. Louis county next month. The state claims that the sale was void, because the law was violated in selling over 100,000 feet without scale. Therefore, instead of the $50 paid under Dunn's sale of the tract, the state is suing Bonness & Co. for three times the value of the timber cut, which was $25,000 feet, worth $5,750.

PRAYERS FAIL TO CURE CHILD

Coroner Blames Brazil, Iowa, Parents for Its Death.

Brazil, Iowa, Feb. 26.—A coroner's jury today brought in a verdict blaming Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Palmer, believers in healing by prayer, for the death of their 10-year-old boy. While uttering the prayer "God is My Life," on his lips, the son of the couple died at their home here Sunday, after having been sick with pneumonia for two weeks.

This was the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer to be fatally sick, with only prayers to aid it. Coroner Tilton and a jury investigated the case and in addition to the verdict, asked the county attorney further to investigate the case and prevent any similar occurrences in this county.

NOTABLE FUNERAL

Services for Father Leo Attended by Governor and Others.

Body Escorted to Denver Station and Forwarded to Paterson.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 26.—With the solemnity and reverence due to his holy position and spotless character the body of Rev. Father Leo Heinrichs was taken from St. Elizabeth's church today to the union station, where it was placed aboard the Burlington train to be forwarded to Paterson, N. J., where the Franciscan fathers have their American headquarters.

The funeral procession was a notable one and was witnessed by thousands who stood with bare heads as the hearse passed. The parade was led by a squad of police and a company of the Knights of St. John, in full uniform and with drawn swords, acted as a guard of honor. The Knights of Columbus and representatives of numerous Catholic societies followed on foot, and a long string of carriages brought up the rear.

MAYOR BRINGS CLERK HOME

Busse of Chicago Accompanies Linn From the Penitentiary.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—John A. Linn, former clerk of the circuit court, who was released from Joliet penitentiary last night by the state board of pardons, was brought to his home in this city by Mayor Fred A. Busse. Linn looked a shadow of what he once was. When he left Chicago to serve his sentence, twenty-two months ago, for embezzlement of public funds, he was robust and powerful. His weight was 200 pounds. As he stepped from the train on his return, he possibly weighed 140 pounds. The clothes for which he exchanged his prison garb hung like bags from his gaunt and bent frame. During the hour's ride from the penitentiary, the mayor sat beside Linn, and talked cheerfully of plans for Linn's future, but Linn throughout remained depressed and nearly mute. The release was granted on the ground that Linn's physical health had utterly failed, and that his mind was also failing.

COUNTY BOARD VOTES IN FAVOR OF GROUPING PLAN FOR NEW COURTHOUSE

Members Unanimous in Choice of Fifth Avenue Site.

Decision Comes at Close of Long and Heated Debate.

County Attorney Instructed to Proceed With Condemnation.

At a late hour this afternoon the board of county commissioners, by a unanimous vote, favored the grouping scheme for Duluth's public buildings, with the courthouse at the intersection of Fifth avenue west and Second street, and the county attorney was instructed to proceed as soon as possible with condemnation proceedings to acquire the property on the four corners that will be necessary for the courthouse plans.

STORM KING IS AGAIN ON TEAR

Fierce Blizzard Raging in Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The copper country of Michigan is in the grasp of a big blizzard, with a forty-mile gale raging and snow falling in great quantities. So far no serious trouble to railway traffic has resulted, but the snow is drifting rapidly, filling up cuts and banking on the roads, and delays are looked for before night. In the copper country towns the streets are choked with snow, interfering with municipal traffic.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with conducting a bucket shop John W. Spear, who has been in the brokerage business here for fifteen years, has been arrested and will have a hearing Friday. James Pendill, a well known business man who makes the complaint, claims the loss of $3,000 as a result of trades made with Spear, and he has in addition started civil suit to recover that amount.

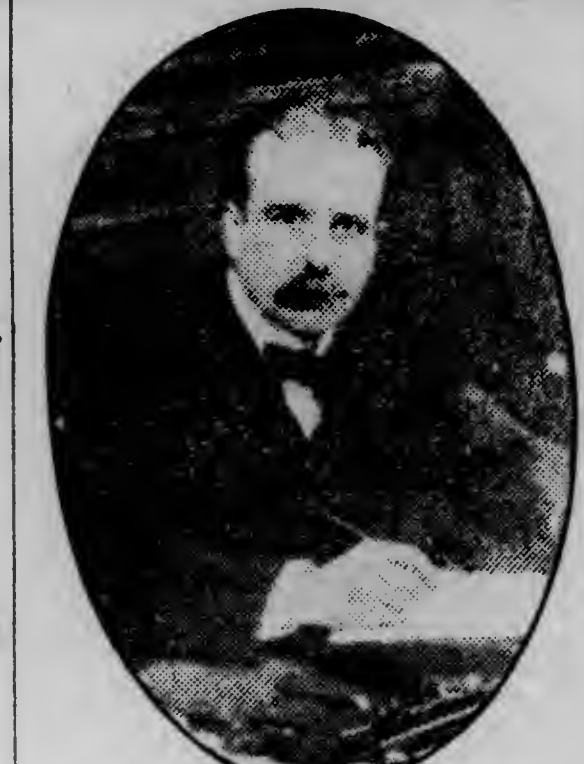

The broker closed his office a week ago. He had clients throughout much of Upper Michigan and it is reported that more claims against him are likely to be filed. The criminal proceedings are brought under a state law making bucket-shipping a felony punishable by heavy fine or imprisonment.

"GOOD BYE OLD WORLD"

Says Minneapolis Girl as She Swallows Car-bolic Acid.

Lena Anderson Drinks Poison and Will Probably Die.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Standing before a large crowd of people in front of Woodman hall, last night, Lena Anderson exclaimed: "Good-bye, old world, you've been cruel to me," and pressed a bottle of carbolic acid to her lips. Before bystanders could interfere, she had swallowed nearly all of the contents, and a moment later fell to the pavement, writhing with pain. The young woman was taken to the city hospital, where it was said that the unfortunate woman had swallowed a sufficient quantity of the acid to produce death, and that there is but slight hope of recovery.

After the identity of the young woman had been learned, it was found that she is the person who has been missing from her home at 1055 Elm street, since last Sunday. Her movements from that day until the time she was taken to the hospital are a mystery. Her parents were unable to shed light either on her disappearance or her rash action.

PLEADS WITH THE DRIVERS

Wife of Late Theodore Thomas Asks Mercy for Horses.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Theodore Thomas, wife of the world-famous orchestra leader, pleaded with the teamsters of Chicago, last night, in behalf of their horses. While draft animals, that had hauled heavy loads over the slippery streets, rested in their stalls, Mrs. Thomas urged, before the Teamsters' Joint Council, restrictions and regulations favorable to the teamsters' horses.

Mrs. Thomas addressed the teamsters at their headquarters, and asked co-operation in doing away with the practice of overloading. Many said abuses would be corrected if the city council would limit the tonnage per horse that could be hauled through the streets.

SOCIETY WOMAN Fondles a Snake in Tableaux at a Charity Entertainment.

New York, Feb. 26.—Mrs. James B. Eustis, posing with a six-foot spotted python, snake coiled about her neck, was the feature and the sensation of the tableaux vivants given at the Hotel Plaza last night under the direction of Mrs. Waldorf Astor for the benefit of the white mountaineers of Virginia.

Would Relieve Congestion of Traffic on the Railroads.

The Cost and Benefits Should be Equitably Distributed.

Adequate Funds Should be Provided Without Further Delay.

Washington, Feb. 26.—President Roosevelt sent a message to congress today, transmitting a preliminary report from the inland waterways commission, which was appointed last March, in response to a widespread interest and demand from the people, based upon the general and admitted inability of the railroads to handle promptly the traffic of the country, and especially the crops of the previous fall. The president calls the report "thorough, conservative, sane and just," and says it is well worth the attention of congress.

Our river systems are better adapted to the needs of the people than those of any other country. Yet, says the president, the rivers of our country are so poorly developed, so little used, or play so small a part in the industrial life of the nation as those of the United States. In view of the use made of rivers elsewhere, the failure to use our own is astonishing, and no thoughtful man can believe that it will last. The commission's report indicates clearly the reasons for it and the way to end it.

Due to the Railroads. The commission finds that it was unregulated railroad competition which prevented or destroyed the development of commerce on our inland waterways. The Mississippi, our greatest natural highway, is a case in point. At one time the traffic upon it was without a rival in any country. The report shows that commerce was driven from the Mississippi by the railroads. While production was limited, the railroads, with their convenient terminals gave quicker and more satisfactory service than the waterway. Later they prevented the restoration.

INCREASED PAY FOR OFFICERS

Proposed by Senator Nelson's Amendment to Army Bill.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The army appropriation bill as reported to the house and now under consideration provides very generous increases in pay for the enlisted man, but does nothing for the officers.

Senator Nelson today gave notice of an amendment which he will urge to the army bill, when that measure reaches the senate, which provides that the pay of officers shall be as hereinafter prescribed for the several grades: Lieutenant general, $11,500; major general, $8,000; brigadier general, $6,500; colonel, $4,200; lieutenant colonel, $3,600; major, $3,000; captain, $2,500; first lieutenant, $2,100; second lieutenant, $1,700. And, further, that hereafter the United States shall furnish mounts and equipments for all officers of the army required to be mounted.

THE SCIENTISTS ARE AT FAULT

There Are No Planets Between the Sun and Mercury.

San Francisco, Feb. 26.—That there are no planets between the sun and Mercury, and that scientists will have to build up some other theory to explain why Mercury does not move in the regular orbit prescribed for it, are the conclusions Prof. W. W. Campbell, the head of the Lick Observatory, has arrived at from the development of photographic plates taken at Flint Island, several months ago.

They show the complete absence of any planet between the sun and Mercury. For fifty years astronomers have been disturbed by the problem that Mercury does not follow the path or orbit which should be its natural course, and which mathematical astronomy has outlined for it. That there was some force pulling it from its orbit, and that this compelling force was the attraction of planets intervening between it and the sun, was the general theory.

Prof. Campbell last night said: "These photographic plates dispose of this theory, and mathematicians will have to look elsewhere for forces. While the plates have not received their final development, they make the absence of planets certain."

MARCH EDISON RECORDS ARE IN—COME AND HEAR THEM!

WILL MEET THURSDAY

Republican State Central Committee to Decide Convention Date.

Meeting Will be Held Between April 22 and May 14.

The Republican state central committee will meet tomorrow in St. Paul, and will decide upon a date for holding the state convention for selecting delegates to the national convention, which will be on June 16. It is expected the date for the state meeting will be between April 22 and May 14. It cannot be held later than May 17, because the delegates must be elected thirty days in advance of the national convention. It has been the custom in presidential years to hold the delegate convention in Minneapolis and the nominating convention in St. Paul. This was done four years ago. This year Minneapolis has her big auditorium to offer, and will make a bid for the gathering. St. Paul also has a new auditorium and wants both conventions, but if Minneapolis goes after the first convention, it is believed the delegates will be divided between the two cities as usual. The gathering will attract about 1,000 delegates, who will be sent from the eighty-five counties of the state. Secretary Thomas H. Salmon of the state committee has figured out the apportionment for the convention this year, based on the same plan as two years ago. He has taken the two seats of each county for the nine candidates on the Republican state ticket in 1908. Each county is allowed one delegate for each 250 votes or major fraction thereof, and an additional five delegates at large. This makes a convention of 1,024 delegates.

It is understood that Hennepin county Republicans will not attempt to bring out a favorite son for gubernatorial honors, but rather will try to take advantage of the convention which will be productive of some excellent trading, and that by keeping the delegates in fact they can do anything they wish. To this end it is said C. S. Jolly is being groomed for the nomination of attorney general.

The candidacy of George W. Somerville for attorney general will give the second district four candidates for state office, for three state officials nomination: Lieutenant Governor A. O. Elmerhart, Mankato; Railroad Commissioner W. E. Young, Mankato; Treasurer C. C. Dinehart, Slayton. It is expected Dinehart and Elmerhart will win out. There may be some doubt about the others.

THE LOST STATUE OF HIAWATHA IS FOUND.

New York, Feb. 26.—A lost statue of "Hiawatha," by Augustus St. Gaudens, the first figure of the sculptor, which disappeared after being exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, about fifteen years ago, has been found. Yesterday Daniel C. French, chairman of the St. Gaudens' commemorative exhibition committee, said that the "Hiawatha" statue had been discovered ornamenting the grounds of the late former Judge Henry Hilton's estate at Saratoga, N. Y. Judge Hilton having bought it, it was stated, from the estate of former Governor E. D. Morgan. The executor of Judge Hilton's estate, Horace Russell, being in Europe, it will be too late to obtain permission for the taking of a plaster cast of the statue for the commemorative exhibition of the sculptor's work, which will open in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in this city on March 31.

While installing an electrical contrivance at the Missabe ore docks yesterday, Jacob Sarleigh, an electrician, grabbed a wire of heavy voltage and received such a severe shock that he became unconscious. It was thought at first that he had been killed. Sarleigh was taken once to St. Mary's hospital, where it was found that one of his arms was so badly burned that amputation will probably be necessary. The other arm was also badly burned. The injured man will probably recover.

TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

R. D. Haven Now Ready to Assume Office of Mayor.

James L. Cromwell Will Represent Second Ward Temporarily.

Mayor-elect Roland D. Haven this morning appeared at City Clerk Chas. E. Cheadle's office, took his oath of office and is now ready to step into the office of mayor of Duluth, when the mantle falls from M. B. Cullen's shoulders next Saturday night at 12 o'clock. Mayor Haven swore to support the constitutions of the United States and of the state of Minnesota, and to faithfully discharge the duties of the office of mayor of the city of Duluth. "That's just what it means, too," remarked the new mayor after he had taken the oath.

The city will pass into the hands of the new administration on the first day of March, and the aldermen who stepped down at the end of the council last Monday night will be succeeded by the new men at the meeting next Monday night. The aldermen elected at the recent municipal election are expected to qualify by the end of this week, and only three of them have failed to take the oath thus far. They will probably all on the city clerk in a day or so and will be ready to take their seats next Monday.

The situation in the second ward, where the contest between James L. Cromwell and George J. Bloedel, who were tied at 720 votes each on the official canvass, is still unsettled. All of the charter provisions have been complied with, and as far as the council is concerned, Mr. Cromwell is legally entitled to the seat and will occupy it next Monday night. The burden of proof now rests on the other side and until the court decides on Mr. Bloedel's appeal for a recount of the votes, Mr. Cromwell will represent the Second Ward in the council.

Should the recount show Mr. Bloedel was legally elected and the court decided in his favor, Mr. Cromwell will be ousted, but until Mr. Bloedel substantiates his claims to the seat, it will be occupied by the successful candidate in the drawing of lots.

Changes in the personnel of the council should take place next week and the mayor taken office March 1, the city officials appointed by the mayor will not take hold of the city's business until April 1. The appointments will be presented to the council some time during March and the successful ones will take their places the first of the following month.

Some of Mr. Haven's appointments are already known. The office of health commissioner over which there has been considerable speculation, is now said to be between Dr. Paul Dr. Coventry and one of them will probably be the choice.

ASSASSIN WILL SOON BE TRIED

Murderer of Father Leo to be Brought Back to Denver.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 26.—An information charging Giuseppe Alo, alias Angelo Gabriele and Giuseppe Guarnacelo, with the murder of Father Francis Leo Heinrichs, was filed today in the district court by District Attorney George A. Sudger. This action is taken to indicate that the authorities have secured from the prisoner all the information concerning his crime and his connections which they deem necessary or expedient to divulge. He will be brought secretly back to Denver from Colorado Springs, to which city he was removed last Sunday night for safekeeping, and will be placed on trial at as early a date as can be arranged for by the district attorney's office.

In his confession to a representative of the Denver police department Alo said that he mistook Father Leo for an Italian priest who had taken an active part in fighting revolutionists in Avola, Sicily, and whom they determined to kill after they had been compelled to flee to Argentina.

Alo said he did not know the name of the priest, but that he was an assistant to Father Michail in Avola and in a street fight on Easter Sunday, 1885, was struck with a club. Alo said he thought he identified Father Leo as the priest by a scar on his forehead, resulting from his injury.

RAILROADS LOW RATES TO THE WEST

Colonist Tickets on Sale During March and April.

Higher Rate Than Last Year—Light Travel Expected.

One-way colonist rates to Pacific coast points, California, and to certain points on this side of the Pacific coast territory will become effective next Sunday, March 1. The rates will range $5 higher all the way through this season than they have for several years past, owing to the lower fare legislation in various Western states. Heretofore the colonist rate to Washington and Oregon points, for example, always has been $25, where this year it will be $30.

Not only this, but the low rates will not apply to as many points as in former years. On the Northern Pacific and Great Northern they will not apply this side of the Washington and Oregon state line, and on the Omaha road they will not be effective to any point this side of Grand Junction, Colo. This it will be seen that the lowest colonist rate to any point in the West or North-west, where previously it was as low as $20. This is not necessary now, however, in view of the recent legislation, which has brought the regular rates as low as the specials used to be in many instances.

The one-way colonist rates to California, New Mexico, Arizona, etc., will be $38.50 instead of $34, as last year. Rates out of Duluth on the colonist route will be effective to Alberta, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico and California.

It is hardly expected the demand for these low-rate tickets will be so heavy this year as in previous seasons, because of the fact that the Western labor market is pretty well flooded—fact that has been widely advertised in the Middle West and East. Heretofore the special rates have been taken advantage of largely by the laboring classes, who wanted to seek new fields of endeavor, and who want West expecting to find more satisfactory working conditions and higher wages. Under existing conditions there is no inducement for them to go West, for the labor market in this part of the country really is in more satisfactory condition than farther west.

The rates will be effective every day during March and April.

Will Not Evade Law.

MODERN METHODS SUCCESS

Years ago remedies of various kinds were used in treating consumptives, and nine-tenths of the patients died. Today little medicine is prescribed and they recover. Physicians have learned that the best way to combat most ills is by the indirect method of stimulating the body's natural power of healing and destroying germs. Consumption is much easier to prevent than it is to cure. A cold, if neglected, leaves the lungs sore and unable to successfully resist the germs of the disease. Upon the first indication of a cold every effort should be made to check it. A cold, if neglected, leaves the lungs sore and unable to successfully resist the germs of the disease. RARE BOOZE IS DISCOVEREDSeveral Street Railway Officials Take in Some "Evidence."

When the offices of the street railway company were moved, the other day, from the old building at Eleventh avenue west and Superior street, to the new office building in the West end, a bottle of whisky was found which figured in a most exciting damage suit against the company in 1902.

The bottle was sealed and exactly where it had been put after the trial, and the railway company had won was not known. A patron brought suit against the street railway company for damages, on account of injuries received on one of the company's lines. The company contended that the plaintiff was drunk, and the bottle of whisky was a part of the evidence against him. The street railway company was victorious, for the jury upheld their contention that the plaintiff was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident, and that the railway company was not responsible.

But all these years the whisky has remained sealed, in the office of the company. Only the removal of desks, typewriters, files and copying machines revealed its whereabouts.

When the discovery was made, several of those present were keen for opening the evidence and trying it. This was done, and the bottle of whisky was found to be a very good one of booze, anyway. Besides, it has been mellowing since 1902. The evidence is all in now.

The Jumping Off Place.

"Consumption had me in its grasp; and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery; and I want to say right now, it saved my life. Improvement began in the first bottle, and after taking one dozen bottles I was a well and happy man again," says George M. Grimesland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak, sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists. Trial bottle free.

ELOPERS HELD Because Girl Sold Cow Said to Belong to Father.

Mount Vernon, Ohio, Feb. 25.—After selling a cow, said to belong to her father, for $25, pretty Nellie Marie Worley, aged 16 years, started to elope with Herbert Robinson of Kentucky, but the strong arm of the law stopped them. Two policemen placed the couple under arrest just as they were about to step on a train. With the money realized from the sale of the cow, the young girl, it is said, purchased two tickets to Cincinnati. They were found in her pocket when she was searched at the county jail.

ENDORSEDIn Dismissal of Negro Troops, by the Senate Committee.Three Republicans Support Foraker in Opposing Roosevelt.

Washington, Feb. 26.—That the shooting in the affray at Brownsville, Tex., on the night of Aug. 13, 1906, was done by some of the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth United States infantry, and that the testimony taken before the senate committee fails to identify the guilty parties, is the opinion of eight members of the committee. Four members of the committee voted against this decision and one member did not vote.

The decision declares that the guilt of the negroes was submitted by Senator Lodge, and was adopted after five resolutions by Senator Foraker, one by Senator Dupont and one by Senator Scott, all of which were offered as substitutes, had been voted down.

The vote yesterday was reached after prolonged investigation, extending over two sessions of congress, and evidence had been taken covering thousands of pages. Throughout the entire investigation, which in many parts of the country had been made a political issue, the anti-administration campaign has been decided by Senator Foraker.

In the final vote in the committee a majority of the republican members came to his support. The Ohio senator expressed himself as gratified at this, as it was apparent from the outset that the Democratic members were convinced that the negroes did the shooting.

Fight to Be Taken to Senate.

The fight will be carried to the floor of the senate. It is expected that Senator Foraker will press the matter to a vote there. If he should secure a vote there, the Democratic members also to introduce a bill to restore to the military service such of the negroes as have shown beyond a doubt to have been innocent of any offense connected with the affray.

The committee was in session yesterday for nearly three hours. Senator Lodge offered a resolution as follows:

"That in the opinion of the committee the shooting affray at Brownsville, on the night of Aug. 13, 1906, was done by some of the soldiers belonging to the Twenty-fifth infantry, then stationed at Fort Brown, Tex."

The Foraker substitute was defeated by a vote of 8 to 3, the affirmative being voted by Senators Lodge, Foraker and McCreary. The last five named are Democrats.

BIG TUNNEL IS OPENED Governors and Prominent Men Passengers in First Train.

New York, Feb. 25.—Bearing 800 distinguished guests, including Governor Charles E. Hughes and Governor John F. Fort and their staffs a train of eight cars marking the formal opening of the Hudson tunnel, linking New York and New Jersey, rolled out on the Manhattan terminal at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two minutes after President Roosevelt had flashed the starting signal.

The train rushed away on its journey under ground beneath the hitherto uncomparable Hudson to the Hoboken station. At 3:30 o'clock William McKado, president of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad company, sent the following message over a special wire to the White House:

"To Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States:

"The first train of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad company awaits your signal and pleasure.

"Six minutes later the signal to start was received. Slowly at first, but gradually gaining momentum, the train swept down the inclined mile to Christopher street, where the plunge beneath the Hudson was made.

"As the train passed under the red-white and blue lighted signal marking the dividing line between New York and New Jersey, the two governors arose and clasped hands while the railway officials who also occupied the first car shouted mutual congratulations. On the crowded train was but one woman—Miss Grace Bigelow, who accompanied her father, John Bigelow, the publisher and former ambassador in Great Britain. Over a million and a half passengers were unable to get seats and swung from straps as the train dipped deep at the center of the river. Among the number were E. H. Harriman, who clung to a strap grasped by the hand of a woman, and a firm grip on a door jamb.

"The inauguration of the system was made a holiday in Hoboken.

CHARGES OF FRAUD Claims That Butte & Superior Stock Was Misrepresented.

Judge Cant has granted the motion of John McAlpine for permission to file an amended answer to the complaint. In the action brought against him by the Butte & Superior Mining company, to recover $6,000 alleged to be due on 2,000 shares of stock Mr. McAlpine is alleged to have purchased in December, 1906.

In his answer, Mr. McAlpine alleges fraud and misrepresentation on the part of the officials of the company. He claims that he purchased the stock on the representation that the company owned the fee of the land, that is was out of debt; that the property was well located, and that the stock was worth $1 per share. Mr. McAlpine claims that it was represented to him that W. A. Clark and Louis W. Hill were interested in the property. Mr. McAlpine claims that the whole situation was misrepresented, and that he was induced by fraud to go into the deal. He is represented by J. B. Richards.

MAROONED SAILOR
Will Be Rescued From Wild Island
by the Yorktown.

Lima, Feb. 26.—The tender Yankton will leave here on Friday for the Galapagos islands, to search for the American seaman, Frederick Jeffs, who was marooned on indefatigable island, the wildest of the group which lie off the western coast of Ecuador.

Jeffs was a member of the crew of the Norwegian vessel, Alexandria, bound from New Castle, N. S. W., to Panama. She was blown off her course by a storm and wrecked off the islands. Jeffs being one of those who managed to reach shore. Eventually all but Jeffs of the shipwrecked sailors were rescued by a merchantman. The fact that he remained practically alone on the island was communicated by the American government, which ordered Rear Admiral Evans to send one of his ships to bring him back to the world again.

EXPRESSES DOUBT.
No Vegetable or Animal Life on Other Planets, Says Bishop.

A doubt as to the existence of either animal or vegetable life on any of the planets of the solar system, with the exception of the earth, was expressed by Rt. Rev. J. D. Morrison, late evangelist, during the course of a lecture on "The Story of the Stars," in the Trinity pro-cathedral hall. He said he could find no sufficient evidence of the existence there of life in any form in any astronomical works that were ever published.

A large audience listened to the lecture, and appreciation of the speaker's words frequently broke forth into applause. Bishop Morrison, during the course of his talk, exhibited his large telescope, which has a magnifying power of from 40 to 400 diameters. He emphasized the immensity of space by saying it would take a railway train, running forty miles an hour, 265 years to reach the sun.

Claude T. Landt, organist and chorist, will be the next lecturer on the subject. He will talk on "Music in Its Relation to Mind and Emotion."

The clear-headed, active man weaves brain cells into his daily work. This means daily waste of brain tissue, which must be replaced by new material.

Proper food (containing the food elements that rebuild brain cells) is necessary for their repair and replacement. This is life—tear down to build up better.

Grape-Nuts food contains the rebuilding elements of wheat and barley, and at the same time requires little effort on the part of the digestive organs to appropriate it. That's why Grape-Nuts food has been the mainstay for breakfast and lunch in the daily diet of thousands of successful men for years. "There's a Reason."

Still Running at Land Office.Has Been on Eighteen Days—1,900 Pages of Testimony.

This is the eighteenth day in the taking of testimony in the Cedar Island Lake land case, now being heard in the local United States land office. The case came up for hearing Feb. 9, and has been on ever since, with the exception of Sundays, holidays and one intermission of two or three days. The actual taking of testimony has consumed eighteen days' time, and it is expected the case will run for another ten days. This is the longest hearing in the history of the local land office. Already 1,900 pages of testimony have been taken, and probably the total number will reach 3,000 before the hearing comes to an end.

The trouble arose over the conflicting claims of John Shea, Michael Cro-nha, Malinda Tanner, widow of W. A.
Tanner, and F. W. Reynolds, in regard to certain tracts of land in the Cedar Island Lake district. Lots 3 and 5, section 3, township 35-17, and lot 2, section 34, township 35-17 are in dispute. They are supposed to contain valuable deposits of iron ore.

The hearing is on the application of the guardians of John Shea for the cancellation of the relinquishment said to have been made when he was not responsible because of the condition of his mind. A long array of legal talent is lined up on each side.

There was, however, considerable land in various parts of the country, which could be made exceedingly valuable if irrigated, and to this end the government had, through the reclamation act of 1902, commenced a series of irrigation schemes in various parts of the country. There are about 400,000 acres that can be irrigated, and the speaker said that the government had at present nineteen projects, and had expended on them $19,000,000.

Efforts were made to get some of the furniture out of the house, but the family were only successful in getting a few family trinkets and some clothing. Everything else was burned. QUIT BUILDING
CASTLES IN AIR

George Conway Says He Turned From Architect to Cook.

George Conway and Jack Ward were a pair of prize beauties in the morning display at police court today. Conway, who was charged with a few days ago, riding in state in a side door Pullman, and last night they were hauled in with more of a load than they could comfortably carry. George's senses may have been numbed last night, but his brain was working pretty well this morning, and he let loose some of his humor, which costed the courtroom.

"George Conway," called Judge Windom.

"Guilty," replied George without waiting to hear the charge.

"You look like an architect to me," remarked the judge as he surveyed Conway's tousled hair.

"I was, but I quit the business two years ago," Conway observed.

"What did you build?" queried the court.

"Castles in the air," replied Conway, and a ripple of laughter went around the courtroom.

Conway said he had been working as a cook of late, but he didn't have a reply ready when Chief Trower asked him where he boarded when he cooked. Conway said he was looking for work, but couldn't find any.

"It's a cinch I don't get a job in this town," he said. "Things are too dead here. I guess I'll have to go over to Superior."

He was advised against going to Superior if Duluth was too dead for him, and the judge suspended sentence on condition the two go to work or get out of town in a hurry.

John M. Loren appeared in court this morning with his head swathed in bandages and the corners of his mouth drooping mournfully. When Loren was taken to the station yesterday he had a gaping wound in his head, secured by forcible and involuntary contact with a curb stone. The services of a doctor were required to put him in shape, and he had an acute case of the head of the morning after today. The judge thought he had suffered enough, so let him off with a suspended sentence.

Harry Starr and David Sava were both workingmen who fell in celebrating a visit to the city. They promised to go to work and were released under suspended sentence. Starr drew small sentences, and Ernest Bailey and May Argall, who were arrested together last night, failed to appear and each forfeited $15 bail.

COOPERATING WOMAN.

The regular classes for the second term in the educational department of the Young Women's Christian association, have been organized and the various lines of activities are in working order, to continue so until the summer vacation. The gymnasium classes are demanding the attention of many of the members and the sewing classes and millinery classes are always popular during the spring term. The attendance at the English classes for young foreign women is as large as during the first term.

The series of Bible lessons by Rev. Campbell Coyle has been completed. There was much interest in the series. During Lent Rev. Alexander Munn of the Pilgrim Congregational church, will conduct a series of Bible lessons, to which the members and their friends are invited. The subjects of the talks have not yet been announced.

STORE OBSERVATIONS

"Sweet and Pretty" Are the Cotton Stuffs Now Shown.

"Sweet and pretty," said the salesman as he fingered the sheen and daintily sprigged duntly. There is no other phrase in the language that will begin to describe the cotton stuffs for summer gowns, especially the stuffs of this class. "Sweet and pretty" could any other combination of words describe duntly? That soft and clinging yet gently independent material which in its simplicity suggests the first flush of rosy youth and sixteen summers, casts a glamour of pretty innocence over the wash goods counter. There is no other material that has quite this same effect. The Irish duntly of this day has taken the place of the "simple muslin" of the early Victorian era. Even the most advanced of modern women, gowned in a duntly gown, must assume a simplicity of manner and innocence of life, that would be truly compelling and irresistible.

The duntlies of the season are really beautiful. They are sprigged or dotted or daintily striped and they range in price from 15 cents a yard up.

The new colors which will be most smart are Beauvals, which is a blue that is partly green; amber, which is a dull and yet gleaming old gold; acacia, which is a rather tan looking red raspberry, and maise, which has been before. Blondine is also a very fashionable color. It is a modified tan-brown color. In browns, Havana is stylish.

These colors will predominate in the cotton stuffs as well as the heavier goods.

The new double width linens are scoured ready for use. "Scoured" means that they are shrunk and faded all working pretty well this morning, and he let loose some of his humor, which costed the courtroom.

"George Conway," called Judge Windom.

"Guilty," replied George without waiting to hear the charge.

LYCEUM—Mack Leone company in "Capt. Barrington."

METROPOLITAN—Burlesque.

"CAPTAIN BARRINGTON."

Play of Colonial Times is Seen at the Lyceum.

In Victor Mapes' play dealing with an incident in the life of George Washington the Mack Leone company have a vehicle that gives actors an opportunity for effective acting. Both Mr. Mack and Miss Leone have parts that afford them every chance to exhibit the talents that have made them favorites in New York.

The setting of the play is one of the best pieces of scenic invention that the company has put on since its appearance in Duluth. Attention was paid to every detail and the effect was historically correct as well as imposing to the artistic sense.

Mr. Mack has the dual role of the twin brothers, Capt. Barrington and Lieut. Fielding. Barrington is the Englishman and Fielding the American. Mr. Mack is compelled to make some lightning changes in costume and make-up during the course of the play, but his work as an Englishman is one of the best things he has done.

Miss Leone makes a very attractive colonial maiden, and Miss Louise Farnum is a most satisfactory "Mandy."

Although the portrayal of historic characters is always difficult and very open to criticism, the members of the company have acquitted themselves exceptionally well.

"Capt. Barrington," however, is well worth seeing. It will remain at the Lyceum all week.

Green Room Gossip.

The Van Cooks have an original musical act at the Metropolitan this week that is causing considerable comment. The scene is laid in a Chinese laundry and apparently there is not a musical instrument in sight. Everything seems to properly belong in a Chinese laundry. But before the act is finished, Van Cook and his wife get tunes out of flat irons, clotheslines and a number of rats perched on a string.

Charles Dorrance is apparently "made good" in musical comedy. He will be heard here next month in "The Red Feather."

WASHBURN WORKED UP

Over Fight Between Lid and Liberal Factions of City.

Washburn, Wis., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city is in a turmoil growing out of the friction between the advocates of the "lid" and those favoring a liberal enforcement of the law. Last Sunday the saloons were closed during the morning, but were allowed to open during the afternoon by consent of Mayor Sweeney. Secretes were kept open part of the day. This raised a protest from the temperance element, some of the leaders declaring they will proceed against the mayor and the city council for not enforcing the law. Wholesale arrests of those who opened their places of business are threatened. The liberal element say they approve

ARMENIANS TERRORIZED

By the Threats Made by Blackmailers of Hunchakist Society.

New York, Feb. 26.—The terror inspired among Armenian merchants of New York by threats and death sentences imposed by Armenian blackmailers operating under the name of the Hunchakist revolutionary party, was described in court yesterday during the trial of Levont Martougessian. The accused man is charged with attempting to blackmail an importer, named Moran Kraghbean. Martougessian was formerly an Armenian priest, and is alleged to be the head of the Hunchakist society in this city.

Assistant District Attorney Nott said that Karaghbean and five other New York merchants received letters, last August, threatening death unless $100,000 was contributed to the "Armenian cause."

The most startling testimony was given by Harootian Gulbenkian, a Turkish rug manufacturer, who said that Martougessian visited him several times and threatened that murder would result if he refused to contribute to the Armenian cause. On July 22 last, the day on which Hovhannes Tavshianian was murdered, Gulbenkian said he received a letter, telling him that on that day a wealthy Armenian in America would be murdered, but that the money for the murder was to be paid to the Hunchakist society one day more in which he might pay up and escape death.

Describing the terror inspired among the merchants by these threats, Gulbenkian said:

"We are afraid to leave the city, so we make a practice of calling each other on the telephone to find out if all are still alive."

NEW BURIAL PERMIT LAW

Of North Dakota Being Discussed by State Undertakers.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The operation of the new burial law and the handling of contagious diseases furnished Dr. Grassick, secretary of the state board of health, today with a subject for interesting discussion before the fourth annual meeting of the North Dakota Funeral Directors' association, which began here yesterday. Dr. Grassick's presentation of the subject was followed by a paper read by G. P. Ruediger, head instructor in bacteriology and pathology at the state university, who was to have addressed the meeting yesterday afternoon, will speak this afternoon. The annual business meeting of the association will be held this evening at the Commercial club, when officers will be elected and committee reports read. A smoker and entertainment, with a buffet lunch, will conclude the evening. There is a fair-sized attendance at the session. Fifteen new members were elected yesterday.

HUGHES IS MAKING HIT

C. P. Craig Says New Yorkers Are Enthusiastic Over Him.

Wall Street Would Prefer Him to Secretary Taft.

"Hughes is the man of the hour in New York state," said Charles P. Craig, who has just returned from a month's stay in the East, today.

"Throughout the state, and particularly in Buffalo, they are very enthusiastic about their governor, and even Wall street is more favorably inclined toward him than toward the Republican presidential nominee."

"Wall street does not want Hughes, but looks upon him as the lesser of two evils."

"As governor, Hughes has certainly made a favorable impression. New Yorkers everywhere speak enthusiastically of his administration and they are working hard in his behalf with an idea to secure the Republican presidential nomination for him. Not only in New York, but in other Eastern states as well, Hughes is becoming very popular."

"I heard Taft talk when I was in Buffalo last Saturday. He was the principal speaker and guest of honor at a banquet at the Ellicott club. He delivered a long address, which he read from manuscript and later gave an extemporaneous talk at the Saturn club, which had some festivities following the program at the Ellicott club. Members of the Ellicott and Buffalo clubs were invited to the Saturn club exercises and it made quite a gathering."

"One of the most scholarly addresses I have ever heard was given that evening by Ruan Reese, president of the Rochester university of Rochester, N. Y., who spoke on 'Washington.'"

"He also had the good fortune to attend the banquet given in Philadelphia for William Jennings Bryan and William H. Barry, the Pennsylvania official who has done so much to unearth the capitol scandals in that state. Only Democrats were supposed to be there, but I got in. Republican, though not many, were not many Republicans present, I guess, for all the Democrats in the city were scrambling for tickets."

"Friends of mine secured my plate for me. Even at that, I did not know until the last minute whether a man turned up and claimed it or not. He did not and I got very good seat."

"Bryan made a very good talk, but very general in its nature, as he was not sure that all of his audience was favorable to him. Senator Gore, Oklahoma's blind statesman, made a very eloquent address and so did Barry."

"I heard our own Governor, Johnson mention quite frequently with a 'I was way. The East likes him."

"It is interesting to hear, while a lot longer than the West to recover from the late financial depression. Easterners are still inclined to be a little pessimistic. Even Pittsburgh takes a gloomy view of the situation. It was pleasant to hear a note of cheerfulness when I reached Chicago."

KILLED BY CARS.

Man Said to Have Been Intoxicated Loses His Life.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—While wandering about the Great Northern yards here more or less the worse for liquor a man, said to be a Grand Rapids carpenter, by the name of Gillman, fell on the track and was hit by a freight train before he could be stopped. He was injured so badly that he died in a few minutes. His right arm and left hand were mangled by the wheels, his collar bone broken and he sustained other fatal injuries. Little can be learned about the case here pending the result of the coroner's investigation.

IS PREPARED BY ANYONE

May Mean Less Sickness
Here When Known by the People.

How to Use It for Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism.

This is a simple home recipe now being known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weakenings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karkoon, one ounce; Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments, even in severe hospital cases, prove this simple mixture the remedy for rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful, swelling and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract.

All the ingredients, states a well-known local druggist, are of vegetable extraction, make it a safe and harmless prescription at any time. Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making this up.

MAY LOSE POSTOFFICE

Outlook Not Very Bright for West Duluth Branch.

No Suitable Locations Have as Yet Been Offered.

This morning Postmaster Eaton and Inspector George Van Dyke were in West Duluth looking over the possibilities for a new sub-postoffice building there, and from what Mr. Van Dyke says, it does not look very bright for West Duluth keeping its post-office.

Mr. Van Dyke said this morning: "Nothing has been decided definitely so far, but it does not look as if West Duluth will be able to keep its post-office, of course, the sub-station will continue with its office for selling stamps and transacting money order business, but the mail will be circulated from the uptown office in case it is decided to discontinue the postoffice. There does not seem to be any very suitable locations offered that can be adopted to the use of the postoffice."

Mr. Eaton said: "West Duluth people do not seem to be alive to the importance of having a postoffice centrally located, judging from the bids we have received, which have been very few and inadequate. I am afraid it looks as if for the present they will have to do without postoffice facilities, though the matter, of course, is not yet fully settled."

DO NOT FAVOR PLAN.

West Duluth Gun Club Opposed to Consolidation Scheme.

It was not fully decided last evening at the joint meeting of the West Duluth Rod and Gun club and the Central gun club, whether the West Duluth club would consolidate with the Central club or not. The Central club's proposition to the West Duluth club was that the West Duluth club band and turn its grounds, at the foot of Sixty-third avenue, over to the Central club and become members of the Central club, without a re-election of officers, or any say in the Central club's constitution, did not meet with approval among the members of the Rod and Gun club.

The West Duluth club wants a re-election of officers, so that some of their members may hold office, and they also want the privilege of having some say in regard to the laws and constitution of the club.

They are willing to allow the Central club the privilege of the use of their grounds, but they are undecided whether they wish to consolidate under the proposed conditions or not.

The matter will probably be settled at a meeting to be held this evening by the members of the West Duluth club.

for the condemnation proceedings will not be more than about six or eight weeks.

WARM DEBATE.

Meeting of Citizens Brings Out Some Interesting Addresses.

Before the board of county commissioners a group of citizens that taxed district court room No. 1 to its capacity, the courthouse site matter was thrashed out this morning and the progress process was still in progress shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, there being no intermission at noon.

In the point of earnestness of the discussion the meeting was by far one of the hottest public meetings that has been held in Duluth in years and was featured by several eloquent and argumentative speeches that aroused the enthusiasm of those present, according to their views.

A question to be settled is whether the county board will go ahead and build the new courthouse on the site already acquired at Fourth avenue west and between First and Second streets, or whether it will go out on the "grouping scheme" and build the structure at the intersection of Fifth avenue and Second street.

Although public sentiment has been strongly in favor of the site at Fourth avenue, the county board has been developed by some of the individual citizens and the board has been on the ground that there are insurmountable legal obstacles in the way and that any further change of sites will too greatly delay the building of a courthouse.

Report is Read.

At the opening of the meeting the report of the committee of the county board to investigate the site matter was read. The committee had been assigned the duty of investigating the acquisition of the proposed site at Fifth avenue and Second street, and presented the matter to the board.

Assistant County Attorney W. J. Stevenson read a report of the committee that the council has the exclusive right to acquire the site at Fourth avenue and between First and Second streets, and that the property owners along the street it was proposed to acquire would have some claim in court for damage to property.

As to the question whether the county could acquire the site at Fifth avenue and Second street, Mr. Stevenson said that he had no definite answer, and that it was a mooted question whether the county could acquire the site at Fifth avenue and Second street.

Of St. Louis Threatened With Loss of Head by Black Hand.

St. Louis, Feb. 26.—Since yesterday afternoon a police guard has been stationed at the home of Dr. Julius F. Monestria, 341 Washington avenue, a prominent Italian physician, who is the recipient of an unsigned communication, written in Italian, demanding $500 and threatening the physician with decapitation if he fails to comply.

The letter directs that $500 be placed under two bricks at the southeast corner of Gravois and Texas avenues, a secluded locality. The letter concludes: "If you fail your head will be cut off. This is the Black Hand and we want you to understand that your head will be cut off if you do not obey."

Rang Up a Dollar on Cash Register Before Leaving.

Bold Robbery of the St. Louis Hotel Barber Shop.

The barber shop of George J. Mar-doff, in the basement of the St. Louis hotel, was broken into last night and $4.25 taken from the cash till. Not content with taking all the ready cash they could find in the place, the thieves, or the thief, rang up a dollar on the cash register as a bit of sarcasm.

One of the windows in the basement was broken open, and in this way an entrance was gained to the shop. The robbery was daring, as there were employees of the hotel passing through the lobby, just above where the entrance was effected. The window is at the foot of the stairs leading to the billiard hall, and any one coming down them would have run into the window workers.

TO REMAIN A MYSTERY

of common knowledge that there were intrigues in high places, as well as low, before the tragedy occurred, and the page of the leaders and lieutenants of the two "relative" parties against which Premier Franco and King Carlos were warring, extended all bounds.

There is no suggestion that there was a repetition of the Belgrade plot aimed at the king's person, but that some of the desperate political leaders were involved in the series of abortive plots against Franco's life, which preceded the murder, is believed by well-informed circles here. Franco himself told a friend, the day before he left Lisbon (virtually upon the order of the government) that it was impossible to reveal to the world what he had learned of the intrigues of the enemies of the king and himself, and it was, therefore, better for him to retire forever from the political arena.

The connection between the Republic and the republics is equally difficult to establish. The disclaimers of leaders like Bernardino Machado must be accepted, so far as the "peaceful wing" is concerned, but this cannot be said of the advanced or radical wing, as there is plenty of evidence that they had planned a rising on the night of the crime. Signals to the ships in the harbor, and the barracks on the slope of St. George's hill, were shown under midnight from the roof of the national library, and bands of men went to the barracks of an artillery and infantry regiment, which were to join in the proclamation of a republic. The signal brought no response, and the doors of the barracks were found locked.

The entire conspiracy fell through. It is related, because of the treason of a young lieutenant who, after the assassination of the king, confessed to his father, an officer, the role he was to play. The young man claimed that he had been deceived; that he did not know regicide was contemplated, having been led to suppose that only the life of the dictator was to be taken. This advance warning enabled the military authorities to take the necessary precautions, thus frustrating the military support, which was counted upon to give success to the plot. Notwithstanding the betrayal of some of the advanced Republicans assert that if the action had been free that night, in Lisbon history would have told a different tale.

Extent of Plot Unknown.
Whether the plot was aimed at the murder of the entire royal family is also likely to remain in dispute, as the official view attempts to make it appear that the crown prince was killed by a mistake. This view, however, is not supported by the testimony of eye witnesses. One of these, the tutor of the prince, was standing in the arcade, at the corner of Blackhorse square, as the royal carriage approached. He stood with his shoulder against the shoulder of Botassa, the man who fired the shot that killed the king. As the carriage reached a point almost directly opposite him, there was a report from the curb, thirty or forty feet behind the carriage. The tutor saw the king straighten up, but he had no idea that a shot had been fired, or that the king was hit. Thinking the report was the explosion of a firecracker, he turned to the man at his side and said: "Take off your hat. It is the king."

Fired Point Blank.
The words were not out of his mouth before the man darted forward, revolver in hand, and running up to within five feet of the carriage, fired point blank. The king sank down, and his head fell forward. In the confusion which followed, the tutor saw the man who had fired the bullet, and the tutor is certain that it was he who killed the monarch. The crown prince was shot in the chest, and the bullet entered his heart. The crown prince was shot in the chest, and the bullet entered his heart. The crown prince was shot in the chest, and the bullet entered his heart.

Rev. Frank Gunsaulus Says He is the Counterpart of Gladstone.

Continuing, Rev. Gunsaulus said in part: "While times of great trouble like the Civil war demand a man who has some of the qualities of Gladstone, and Mr. Roosevelt has them in plenty."

"People fifty years from now will be amazed when they read of the man, whatever faults they may discover in him."

Fat is an Offense.

"The female form being capable of expressing a supreme degree of grace, should be an inspiration in our daily lives and lead us to higher ideals of beauty," said the art lecturer. "Therefore the fat woman is an enemy to the artistic uplift, for she is entirely too heavy for any wings of fancy to raise."

"I can't understand how any woman will remain fat when it is so easy to reduce one's flesh. In the Latin quarter of Paris one never sees a gross figure. All the art models are things of grace. They eat a great deal and eat just whatever they please, yet they keep their flesh firm and their figures beautiful."

They have a simple fat reducer that takes the place of starving and gymnastics. It consists of a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime of this simple recipe: Half ounce Marmola, half ounce Fluid Extract Chacarra Aromatic, and half ounce Syrup Simplex. That's all. Why don't fat pudgy American women try that? It's harmless, very good, and it works. I will, I understand, take off as much as a pound of fat a day. Any one with a little small change and a drug store handy can have a decent figure."

THE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NORTH AM

RUSSIAN AGITATOR

Said to be Threatened With Nervous Collapse in Prison.

Tschaikovsky May be Examined by Two Specialists.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—The surgeon in charge at the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, where Nicholas Tschaikovsky, the Revolutionist, is confined, has been instructed to examine the prisoner with the view of deciding whether or not he shall be visited by two specialists to determine the actual state of his health. Tschaikovsky's wife, who is in St. Petersburg, has made representations to the Russian authorities that her husband was threatened with nervous collapse through the strain and circumstances of his imprisonment and the uncertainty as to his fate, and it is because of her statements that the medical examination is to be made.

In order to break the tedium of his solitary confinement, Tschaikovsky is working out a series of lectures on the present situation in Russia. He is hopeful of a speedy release, but judging from the statements made by the state prosecutor, the government professes that it is only awaiting the arrival of important evidence from abroad before submitting the case to the court.

His Interviews With Wife.
Assistant Minister of the Interior Mikaroff has permitted a number of interviews between the prisoner and his wife and son, but only in the presence of the prison wardens.

Madame Tschaikovsky, upon returning today from an interview with her husband, told the Associated Press that the strain was telling upon the nervous system of her husband. A sharp attack of influenza, contracted in prison, has weakened him physically, and he suffers from insomnia due to the glare of the light which the prison regulations require shall burn constantly at night in his cell, and the impossibility of getting sufficient exercise in the ten-minute promenade allowed him each day. Madame Tschaikovsky said her husband's cell is dry and clean, but in these short winter days the light is poor.

The prisoner is forced to clothe himself in the loose robe and slippers provided for state prisoners. He has no metal, including even his watch, has been taken from him in accordance with the regulations. A certain alleviation of diet has been obtained by special payments to the prison cook.

Sends Husband Food.
Madame Tschaikovsky's efforts are now directed to securing permission to send her husband food from the outside and to get him some fresh meat, including even his watch, has been taken from him in accordance with the regulations. A certain alleviation of diet has been obtained by special payments to the prison cook.

SUNDAY LID IS OFF AT WINNIPEG

Sweeping Blue Law Prosecutions Ordered to be Stopped.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 27.—The absurdity of endeavoring to enforce the Lord's Day act by the letter has become apparent to Attorney General Campbell and the police commission, for orders have been issued that in the future no action must be taken except in the most flagrant violations. In short, the Lord's Day act is to be a dead letter as far as this province is concerned.

In all some five hundred summonses were issued, and a few were fined $1 and costs. A few cases have been remanded until next week, but the majority of the prosecutions have been dismissed.

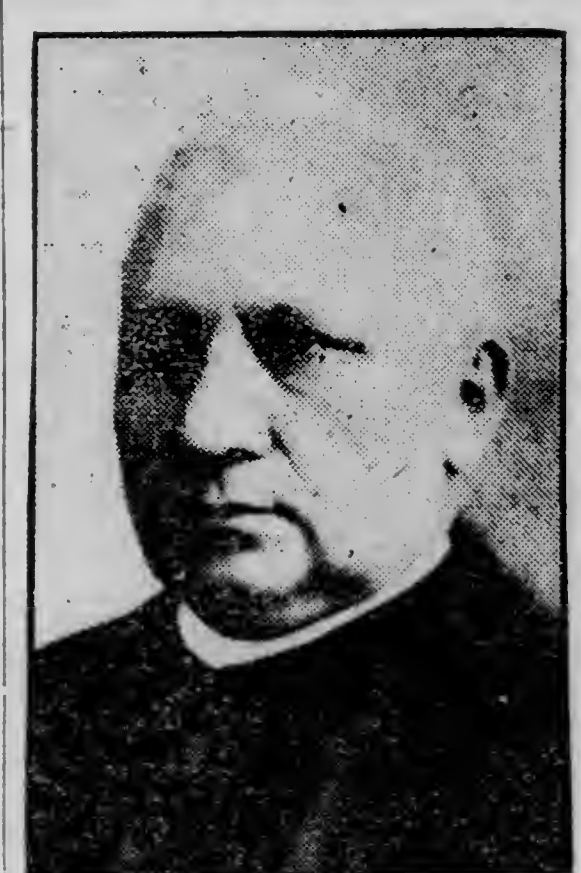

Last Sunday, the police were supposed to be looking for violators of the act, but no names were taken, despite the fact that American papers, cigars, candy and many other things were sold as openly as on a week day. The prosecution have cost the city some $2,000, and before the few remaining cases are settled, a far larger sum will have been expended.

The defendants, including the Canadian Northern and Canadian Pacific railways, have signified their intention of taking the cases to the highest courts, provided a verdict is not given in their favor by the lower courts.

Two confessed thieves accused Dawkins of complicity in robbing a store on this beat. It was also charged that he held up and robbed a man.

COMPLAINT
BY BISHOPS

Of the African Methodist Church of Their Treatment by Railroads.

Pay First Class Fare and Get Beastly Accommodations.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Five bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal church joined yesterday in a complaint to the interstate commerce commission of unjust, discriminatory and unlawful treatment at the hands of several interstate railroad companies of the South.

The complainants were Bishops Wesley J. Gaines, H. M. Turner, Evans Tyre, C. S. Smith and E. W. Lampton and their complaint was directed against the Seaboard Air Line, the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad, Southern railroad, the Central of Georgia railway and the Pullman company.

The petitioners say they are members of the African race and are bishops of the A. M. E. church, that the passenger coaches furnished to them when they purchase first-class transportation, "are dirty and filthy and are not of the first-class quality or description in consideration of the first-class fare paid; that the coaches furnished white passengers are better in quality and description; that the coaches for negro passengers are compartment cars, partitioned by a swinging door, and are altogether unfit and unsuitable for the use of passengers who pay first-class fares; that in addition to being filthy, such cars are usually crowded with passengers of every description of character, who smoke, drink and curse in the presence of women and all others who possess decent breeding; that the defendants refuse to sell negroes sleeping car tickets or to supply them with transportation on sleeping cars, or permit them to eat in the dining cars."

The commission is requested to issue an order compelling an end to the alleged discrimination, and to compel the defendants to provide first-class accommodation for negro passengers.

Capt. Van Schaick was sentenced on Jan. 27, 1906, but he appealed from the judgment, which has now been sustained by the court of appeals. On his trip to prison the aged man was accompanied by his wife and his son, Capt. Luther B. Dow of the Pilots, Masters and Mates' association, left today for Washington with a petition to the president to pardon Capt. Van Schaick.

COUNTY OPTION LAW FOR OHIO

Measure Passes House and Senate and Goes to Governor.

Columbus, Feb. 27.—After more than two hours' debate the house last evening passed the county option bill introduced and championed by Senator Isahak H. Rose of Washington county. The vote in the passage of the bill was 79 to 26. The measure will now go to the governor and it is generally expected that he will sign it.

The bill, as it will become a law, provides that elections may be held in any county to vote on the question of banning saloons upon petition of 25 per cent of the qualified voters. A majority of the votes cast shall determine the policy of the county, but in the event of a county voting "no," no township or residence district which has voted "dry" shall be affected thereby. Elections may be held every three years. Stringent regulations and fines for the enforcement of the law are provided. The law will not go into effect until Sept. 1, 1908, thus giving persons interested in the liquor business time to anticipate its operation.

N. Y. FIREMEN
SAVE MANY

Scores Rescued From Perilous Positions in Early Morning Fires.

Two Blazes Occur, Both Probably of Incendiary Origin.

New York, Feb. 27.—Two persons were burned so severely that they die, a dozen more were severely hurt, and scores were rescued from perilous positions in two early morning fires. Although in widely separated sections of the city, it is believed that both fires were of incendiary origin. The fire in which many were injured was in a tenement house at 43 East First street. The flames were first noticed on the third floor about 2 o'clock this morning. Before those sleeping on the upper floors were aroused, the fire had spread throughout the third floor, cutting off all escape by the stairways. Even before the firemen came, the fire escapes were crowded with scantily clad and badly frightened men and women, many of them carrying children in their arms. So closely were the tenants crowded on the fire escapes that the openings were choked and they remained there helpless until the firemen raised ladders and took them down to the street. Several persons who were caught by the rush of flames on the third floor, were badly burned. Calogro Barabette and his daughter, Lena, aged 19, inhaled flames and are in a critical condition. Several others who were taken to a hospital suffering from burns and bruises will recover.

The second serious fire was in an apartment house at 24 East One Hundred and Fourth street. Forty persons were rescued from the building by policemen and firemen.

WEDDING IS POSTPONED

While Groom is Carried Off and Forced to Drill.

New York, Feb. 27.—When Charles E. Blum set his wedding with Miss Ellen Broily for last Tuesday night, he forgot that on that night would occur the annual muster and inspection of his company, of the Thirtieth coast artillery regiment of the National Guard. Blum is a private in the company. When time for the inspection at the armory came there were several privates absent and the commander of the company sent out a guard to find them. Every man was needed, as the company was after a record. Blum was found at the home of his bride just about to escort her to the church, where the wedding was to take place. In spite of his protests he was placed under arrest and a short time later was drilling with his company. The postponed wedding took place at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

"ROUND TABLE" CONFERENCES

Held by Various Departments of National Educators.

Washington, Feb. 27.—"Round table" conferences of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association were held at various places during the forenoon, here, today. These conferences consisted of state and county superintendents, superintendents of larger cities, superintendents of medium and smaller cities, and on agricultural education. At the "round table" conference of state and county superintendents the topic was "County Supervision," and among those who discussed the subject was W. J. Olson of Minnesota. At the "round table" conference of superintendents of larger cities, the subject was "Teachers," and the discussion was led by Benjamin Blount of St. Louis, Mo.; J. H. Phillips of Birmingham, Ala., led the discussion of "To What Extent Should State Uniformity Laws Apply to Cities in Respect to Courses of Study?" An address by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson on "The Necessity for Preparing Teachers for Agricultural Education" was the feature of the conference on agricultural education.

The council committee had advertised for $400 feet of two and a half inch hose and 2,000 feet of three-inch hose, and bids were received from the following concerns:

The Cornelius Callahan company, the New Jersey Car Spring & Rubber company, the J. N. Johnson company, the Eureka Fire Hose company, the W. S. Nott company, the Gutta Percha & Rubber Manufacturing company, the Manhattan Rubber company. The contract was awarded to the Manhattan company by a majority vote of the committee.

Chief James R. Canterbury of the fire department, strongly objected to the award of contract to the Manhattan company, saying he "did not want any cheap hose," but the committee voted him on the down on the proposition that something like $300 would be saved.

Following the meeting, so says Alderman Ehle, a representative of one of the other companies approached him with the $1,000 offer.

MINISTER MUST GO TO PRISON

Rev. Samuel White Found Guilty of Larceny at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of a verdict, returned yesterday by a jury in the Hennepin county district court, Rev. Samuel White, who found the money loaning business more profitable than preaching the gospel, and overreached himself in his desire to accumulate more, will have to serve a term in the penitentiary at Stillwater. After eight hours' deliberation, the jury found White guilty of larceny in the second degree.

White's downfall followed business troubles with Mrs. Lottie R. Sheldon of St. Paul. She had loaned him money and was not satisfied with the accounting he was making her, so she brought suit a year ago and obtained a judgment for $1,108.40.

In defending the suit, White made the plea that he had borrowed the money from Mrs. Sheldon, with the understanding that she was to receive 20 per cent interest. This, it was contended, made the transaction usurious. The grand jury investigated the affair, after the close of the civil suit, and brought in an indictment, charging White with larceny in the first degree.

Led Adventurous Life in New York and New England.

Next Appeared in Paris and Began Study of Music.

Social Career Ended
There With a Glorious Cake Walk.

New York, Feb. 27.—Investigations which followed the startling charge of Mrs. Paul Roy, or, as she is better known, Gladys Calla, a singer, that her brother, George A. Curkinn, who was supposed to have committed suicide at Newington, N. H., was in reality murdered by Roy, has brought to light the young woman's eventful life story. Her career, which began at Portsmouth, N. H., included a series of adventures in New York and New England, and reached its height in Paris, where she lived for several years. It was in 1899 that she started from Portsmouth, announcing that she intended to make a name for herself on the stage. Nothing more was heard from her in her home city until three years later. She had developed into a strikingly beautiful woman during her absence, and her beauty and manner of dressing created a sensation when she returned to Portsmouth.

Lieutenant Was Smiten.
Among her admirers was a young lieutenant at the Portsmouth navy yard. For some reason the attention of the navy department was called to his attachment and inquiry was begun with the result that the lieutenant left the service. Immediately after this the young lady took the stage name, Gladys Hodgdon, and appeared in numerous productions as a dancer with Loie Fuller. While playing in Worcester, Mass., she became acquainted with William Murray, a Boston millinery salesman, and a little later they were married at Newburyport, Mass. For a while they lived at a Boston hotel, and Mrs. and Mr. Southern. Early in 1894 they established themselves in Watertown.

Went Back to Portsmouth.
After a few months' residence in Watertown, Mr. and Mrs. Southern departed, and the young woman, in Sept. 1894, resumed her position as the occupant of a home in Portsmouth.

In the two years prior to the advent in Haverhill of Gladys Hodgdon, two women, Winnie Lewis and Miss Norton, conducted a profitable cigar store. Upon Gladys Hodgdon's appearance they sold the cigar business to one "George A. Barnes of Boston," and became a part of Gladys Hodgdon's household. In October, 1894, William C. Southern brought suit against George A. Barnes for alienating the affections of his wife, and Deputy Sheriff Raymond attached the cigar store for $500.

There was no trial. While the case was on the supreme court docket in Essex county, "Mr. Barnes" instituted criminal proceedings against Gladys Hodgdon. The name of the complainant was "James A. Williams," otherwise "George A. Barnes of Boston," and the defendant was described as "Miss Gladys L. Southern," alias

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Called to Meet March 6, to Select Convention Date.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.—Chairman Frank A. Day of the Democratic state committee issued a call yesterday for the committee to meet in St. Paul March 6 to fix the time, place and appointment for the state convention, which will elect twenty-two delegates to Denver. The committee has a membership of about 100, one from every county in the state, with extra members from the large counties, and at least fifty prominent Democrats from outside the Twin Cities will be on hand for the meeting a week from next Friday.

Governor Johnson will meet with the committee, and it may safely be predicted that when he gets on the floor before his organization friends, they will press him for a statement on the presidential matter, and also on the question of a third nomination for governor. It would not be surprising, either, if the committee members took the bit in their teeth and took action that would make the governor a candidate for president in spite of himself. While there are some hot Bryan men in the committee ranks, the big majority of them are loyal Johnson men, anxious to present his name in the national convention. If this big committee should pass a resolution declaring that Minnesota Democrats were for Johnson for president, it would be a signal to the East and South to rally around Johnson; a signal for which they have long been waiting.

MRS. GREEN MUST SETTLE.
Boston, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Hetty Green, by decree of Judge Putnam of the United States circuit court, must pay Sherman L. Whipple, a Boston attorney, the sum of $372, with interest from early in 1886, for legal services. Mr. Whipple, who represented Mrs. Green in her litigation against the trustees of the estate of the late Sylvia Ann Howland, claimed $300 for professional services, but this Mrs. Green refused to pay on the ground that it was extortionate.

NOT UNTIL FRIDAY

Will Prosecution Finish Its Side in the Hartje Trial.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—When the Hartje conspiracy trial resumed today, it was apparent that the prosecution would not finish their side of the case until early tomorrow.

Mrs. Hartje, who has not yet appeared in court, was still absent today, but according to persistent rumors she will be called to testify before the prosecution rests. Augustus Hartje, her millionaire husband, and John L. Welsh, his friend, were in court. H. A. Chubb, a notary public, was the first witness called. He told of acknowledging the first statement made by Hooe reflecting on the character of Mrs. Hartje in the office of Welsh.

John J. Ford, a lieutenant of police, formerly a private detective, was called. He said Hooe was told any statement he made would be used against him. Hooe was not frightened, he testified, but seemed to enjoy the situation while making the confession that she had had in charging improper relations with Mrs. Hartje.

Local Grocers Intend Cur-tailing List of Credit Customers.

Action Necessary to Protect Them From Bad Debts.

Following the state convention of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' association at Red Wing, a few days ago, it is said that the members of the local association of grocers have been taking steps with a view of curtailing their credits and, so far as possible, keep their accounts collected right up to date.

The credit business was thoroughly discussed at the Red Wing meeting and the impetus given the movement toward tightening up on their credits is said to have caused the local county and city associations throughout the state to take some active measures to bring the grocery business nearer to a cash basis.

The Duluth retail grocers have to make a settlement every week with the packing houses and the commission men for all the produce purchased, and they are compelled to make a monthly settlement with the wholesale grocery concerns. It is claimed that if the grocers do not make the settlements mentioned, they are forthwith put on a cash basis with the commission houses and the wholesale grocery concerns.

The curtailing of the credits is understood to be the action determined on by the grocers for their own protection, and they will insist that their customers' bills do not remain unpaid longer than thirty days. Even with a thirty-day limit, the grocers claim that they are giving the customers the best of the deal, as they have to meet some of their own bills every week.

The state grocers' association has taken steps to inaugurate one of the most elaborate credit systems ever adopted in the state. The local members of the various retail associations will report to J. J. Ryan, secretary of the state association, the names of all the customers together with their netting, whether ready pay, slow pay or of the doubtful class. These names, together with the address, change of address of each customer, will be available for the information of every member of the association throughout the state.

It is understood that by the new system to be established the grocers will be able to protect themselves from persons who beat their grocery bill in one part of the state and then attempt to open an account with a grocer in some other place.

He didn't have the money to pay for it and when it was refused he became offensive. He is charged so Sjoelless threw him out. The court thought a little more severely was used than was necessary, so the small fine was imposed.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The members of the board of direct- one of the Matinee Musicals are nego- tiating for the appearance, in this city, before the club of Jean Gerardy, the famous cellist. Word is expected from Gerardy's management within a day or two, and it is expected that he will be heard in recital Wednesday evening, March 11. Gerardy has made a most brilliant tour this year, and the mem- bers of the society are delighted at the prospect of hearing him in Duluth.

ARTIST'S RECITAL.

Second of Year Is Presented Before Matinee Musicals.

The second artists' recital of the season, given under the auspices of the Matinee Musicals, was presented at the Pilgrim Congregational church last evening by Miss Olga Samaroff, pianist, and one of the largest audi- ences that have greeted a musical en- tertainment during the season was gathered at the church. The program of the concert closed to club members only, is evidenced by that fact alone. The concert given by visiting artists be- fore this society are about the only ones that are well attended during the season.

Miss Samaroff, who has met with success on her American tour this year, is a brilliant pianist and a long program, heavy in its demands, was played with spirit and fervor, the re- sult being a most successful one. The technical demands of the program were met with an ease and finish that left little to be desired. The program opened with a Mozart "Fantasia in C minor" and was followed by Schu- mann's "Sonata in E minor." A Schu- mann "Romance in F sharp Major" was one of the beautiful numbers of the program. A Brahms "Capriccio" was exquisitely played and was repeated. A group of four Chopin numbers, the difficult Brahms "Variations on a Theme of Paganini," a nocturne for the left hand only by Scriabin, "Chimes" by Liszt, and "Impromptu" by Schu- mann, were also included in the pro- gram. Miss Samaroff was most suc- cessful in her playing and the audi- ence remained seated at the conclusion of the program until she responded with two extra numbers.

FIRST WEST END MAYOR TO TAKE OFFICE SUNDAY

MAYOR ROLAND D. HAVEN.

For years it was a political adage in Duluth that a mayor could not be elected from that district lying west of the Point of Rocks. In the history of the city a mayor has never been chosen from the West end or from West Duluth, and prom- ising candidates from that part of the city were generally dismissed with the statement that they could not be elect- ed because they came from the West end. It remained for Alderman Roland D. Haven to prove the fallacy of this, and to satisfy the demand. The all-rail movement in the money market earlier in the season. Because of these conditions, the farmers did not market their grain as early as usual. Now there is a shortage of grain for export, and the Northwest is looked to to satisfy the demand. The all-rail rates are much higher than the vessel rates, and the farmers are looking for a change in the schedule of working hours and a difference in the strength of the force of operators attached to several stations.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Haven have many warm friends in the West end, as well as in other parts of the city. Mrs. Haven has appeared but little in the public eye, but her friends say that she will be fully capable of fulfilling whatever public duties fall to her lot as wife of the city's chief executive.

Superintendent S. G. Strickland. There will be no decrease in wages whatsoever in connection with the change. Every effort will be made to keep the same wages he has received heretofore. The change will come in a rearrange- ment of the schedule of working hours and a difference in the strength of the force of operators attached to several stations.

Edlin was sitting at the lunch counter. Suddenly he fell pro- strate to the floor. When he was picked up he was dead. The body was re- moved to Durkan & Crawford's under- taking rooms, where an autopsy was held. Edlin is survived by a widow and one daughter, who reside at 3711 West Sixth street.

KANE CASE HAS BEEN CONTINUED

Alleged Illegal Voting Case Will be Tried Next Month.

Michael P. Kane, an enlisted man in the United States marine corps, who is under indictment in this court for voting illegally at the primary election last December, will not be tried until some time next month, during the March term of the district court.

Judge Cant this morning granted the continuance of the case over the present term. Mr. H. McMahon, attorney for Kane, opposed the continuance, but was overruled.

County Attorney Norton, in asking for the continuance, stated that the state had been informed that Kane told another enlisted man at the Mare Island station that he, Kane, had participated in some illegal voting in Duluth at the last primary election. The name of the alleged witness is John Carver, but he is said to have deserted about the time that the authorities arrived at Mare Island station to arrest Kane. Although search has been made by the authorities, for Carver, he has not yet been located. The county attorney believes that he will be found, however, before the Kane case comes on for trial next month.

Mr. McMahon argued that "John Carver" was a mythical person, and that the hearsay evidence as to what he might testify was merely a subterfuge on the part of the state to delay matters and keep Kane in jail for a longer period. He urged the right of a speedy trial.

Judge Cant assured Mr. McMahon that his client would be treated fairly in the matter, but that in view of the nearness of the new term, the importance of the case and the rights of the state as well as those of the defendant, it seemed best to continue the matter a little longer.

FARMERS BEING "WORKED." Crookston, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—For some time past several wagons have been running out

NEXT MOVE IS PROBLEMATIC

Future of Winnipeg Exchange Interests Local Grain Firms.

Just what the Winnipeg grain exchange will do to offset the unfavorable legislation that has gone into effect in Manitoba is a question that the local grain men are much interested in. The latest story is to the effect that the exchange will remove, bag and baggage, to Port Arthur and Fort William, Ontario.

The affairs of the Winnipeg grain exchange are of some concern to many Duluth grain men. Several local grain and commission houses have branch offices in Winnipeg and the Duluth market has always been in close touch with Winnipeg.

"I really do not know what is going to be done at Winnipeg," said Julius H. Barnes, of the Ames-Brooks company today. "No one seems willing to say, and I guess no one really knows yet. The Winnipeg people are merely looking around, trying to figure out what is to be done to offset the new statutes which are in force there."

FIRE IN CHICAGO. Chicago, Feb. 27.—Fire early today partially destroyed a three-story stone apartment building at 559-571 Forty-seventh street, and caused a panic among the tenants, several of whom were rescued by policemen. Among those who were assisted out of the building were the members of two families of deaf mutes who were sleeping in their rooms unaware of any danger. The damage was about $90,000.

ST. LOUIS COURT INVALID. Jefferson City, Feb. 27.—An opinion written by Judge Gantt, was handed down by the supreme court today holding that the law creating the court of general sessions in the city of St. Louis is unconstitutional and the court is invalid and void.

SALOON MEN WANT JURY

Attorney Jaques Raises Interesting Point in Municipal Court.

Says City Ordinance Was Abrogated by the New Charter.

Charles Langbridge, proprietor of a saloon at 22 North Fifth avenue west, in the McKay building, charged with keeping his saloon open after hours on the morning of Feb. 18, was yesterday afternoon discharged in municipal court for lack of sufficient evidence. The policemen testified to entering the place through a rear door and finding Mr. Langbridge at the telephone, with two men standing by him. It was 2:45 in the morning, but there was no evidence to show that the place was open for conducting business and Mr. Langbridge was discharged.

The outcome of the case prevented the settlement by appeal of an interesting question, raised by Attorney Jaques, who defended Mr. Langbridge. It has been raised in connection with saloon cases previously, but has never come before the district court for settlement. Mr. Jaques questioned the right of the court to try the case, without jury, holding that the ordinance is void, under the charter, and the case should be tried under indictment and before a jury. Quoting from the Minnesota reports to support his contention, he endeavored to show that prosecution for keeping a saloon open after hours is a criminal prosecution within the meaning of the constitution, which relates to all men charged with a criminal offense, the right to a trial by due process of law before a fair and impartial jury.

He quoted the city charter, which prescribed that the council may fix penalties for violations of the ordinance to the limit of $100 fine or ninety days in the county jail. The city ordinance, under which prosecutions are now being made, provides that a saloon which violates the ordinance shall be fined a maximum penalty of $100 and costs or thirty days in the county jail, or both fine and imprisonment. He held that all ordinances passed previous to the adoption of the charter, should be retained in force, excepting those which are incompatible with those which are incompatible with the charter. He held that as the penalty provision in the ordinance gives the council to fix penalties, which are not as good as can be purchased of the hardware men in this city for $55, but the "salve" used by the peddlers should be used with a grain of salt.

Mr. Jaques' request for a jury trial and his question of the jurisdiction of the court were overruled and the case went on, under protest and with the understanding that an appeal would be taken should conviction be secured.

DEADLOCK ON NEW BUILDING

Sellwood Structure Cannot be Occupied Until Permit is Issued.

Until the building inspector of the city issues a certificate to the effect that the building is completed and conforms in every particular to the city's building ordinance, the new two-story building at the corner of Second and Superior streets cannot be occupied. The plans were submitted to the building inspector, but he refused to issue a permit, on the ground that the building does not conform to the city's building ordinance, no permit could be issued. The matter was submitted to the city ordinance, no permit could be issued. The matter was submitted to the city ordinance, no permit could be issued.

SHE LOST IT.

Sallow Complexion Went Glimmering.

What is more natural than that a lady should want a beautiful complexion? There is one sure way to secure and maintain a good skin if nature has been even a little kind on the start. Proper food, deep breathing, pure air, and one must absolutely avoid coffee and tea, as these beverages ultimately produce a bilious, sallow skin. Anything that causes dyspepsia or indigestion, or interferes with the liver prevents the nutrition necessary for making good blood and a fair complexion.

"For years," writes a N. J. girl, "I was a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia and palpitation of the heart. These occurred more especially in the morning when I was my custom to take a cup of coffee only."

"One day I tried a sample of Postum Food Coffee prepared by a demonstrator in a store. I liked it so well that I began to use it regularly. That was several months ago, and today I am entirely free from the old trouble, besides having gained considerable in flesh."

"My complexion which was sallow and muddy has cleared beautifully. Tea and coffee have been banished from our table and Postum is used in its place three times a day."

By carefully following directions on the package (boiling it well) we have a rich and satisfying drink and the entire family enjoys it, knowing that we can drink as much as we like with beneficial results.

"There has been marked improvement in the health of each, and as there has been no other change in our habits, the credit must be given to Postum."

"Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pinks."

PROVIDE SEATS FOR THE CLERKS

Label League Will Try to Better Working Conditions.

The Women's Label League, recently organized in Duluth, will not confine its efforts entirely to pushing the use of the union label. It will do what it can to better working conditions in local stores, and one of the first moves in this direction will be an attempt to force department store managers to provide seats behind the counters for the girl employees, for use when the clerks are not waiting on customers.

The league will hold a meeting every Wednesday night from now on, at Flanigan's hall. The date for the West end meeting has been fixed for next Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be held in Columbia hall. The organization of a Superior league has not yet been perfected. Mrs. Warnock, president of the Duluth league, and others from this city attended a meeting in Superior yesterday. Another meeting will be held in the city in two weeks, when the organization doubtless will be perfected.

MONSTER ENGINE.

Remarkable Photograph is Exhibited in Superior Street Store.

There is on exhibition in the fine large show window of the Columbia Clothing company, at Third avenue west, a most remarkable photograph, which is displayed in Duluth, being five feet in height and seven and one-half feet in length. It is a remarkable picture in a number of ways.

Probably most people have seen the old passenger engine, which were the height of the photographer's art a generation or two ago, and comparing them with the monster engine in the photograph, only shows the immense difference. The engine in the photograph, as well as the other arts, and the products of the department of mechanical skill and ingenuity has made more rapid strides than is shown by comparison with the locomotive engine of a little over a half century ago, with the monstrous piles of machinery now in service transporting passengers and freight to and from all portions of the United States.

Engine No. 9 of the Chicago & Alton railroad is the exemplification of the latter type and is said to be the largest type of passenger engine in the world. This fact is brought out very forcibly by the photograph, which is arranged sixty-three men on and around the engine so that the ordinary observer can readily grasp the enormous size of the engine.

It will be noticed that twenty men are standing alongside the engine with hands clasped and arms extended, and in comparing their height with the immense engine, it is also a large trailer or balance wheel just under the front of the cab which is not generally seen on the smaller engines.

Joseph L. Hill of Minneapolis, who represents the Alton in this territory, made the arrangements for the display and told the photographer that the unusual interest the photograph attracted was City. It was decided to exhibit it in several other of the larger cities. Duluth being among the number. The Columbia people have shown their usual good feeling in exhibiting the picture in a window in harmony with the subject of the picture.

RESOLUTIONS NOT ADOPTED

Republican Committee Turns Down Endorsement of Taft.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Republican state central committee met at the Merchants' hotel here this afternoon for the purpose of selecting the dates and the time for the annual convention. Although the committee had adopted resolutions which were not adopted, as they were opposed principally by Taft men as favoring too much of bossism.

It is not likely that the date for the convention will be fixed until late this afternoon. It was the opinion early in the afternoon that the annual convention would be called April 22 or May 2 and the regular state convention about June 3. The latter will be held in St. Paul.

CUPID GETS HARD KNOCK

March Calendar of District Court Contains Thirty-Five Divorce Cases.

The March term of the district court, which will begin next Wednesday, has 155 cases notified for trial. This is exactly three more cases than were placed on the calendar for the January term. The calendar for the January term has been continued on the March calendar.

The business of the district court has reached such proportions that the work of one term overlaps that of the following term right along through the year. The calendar shows that of the 155 cases for trial, ninety-seven are new cases, forty-eight are continuances from the January term, and thirteen are carry-overs from the January term.

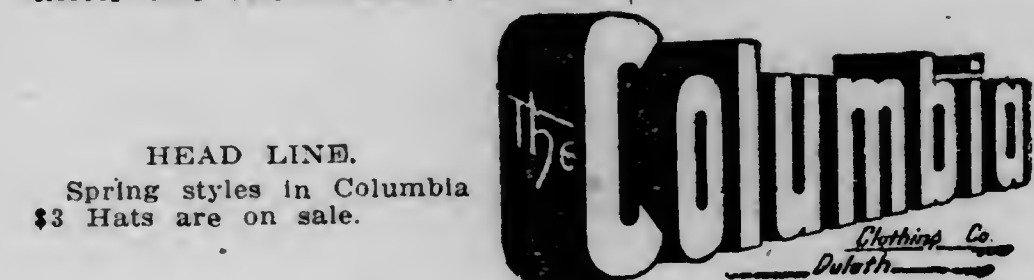

The March term has another feature in the way of the number of divorce cases

SEEMED OLD, BUT IT WAS ONLY TWO BELOW.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It seemed to pedestrians today that the weather for the past forty-eight hours has been the coldest of the winter, but the official temperature recorder in the United States weather office at St. Paul, Minn., reported that it was only 2 degrees below zero while street thermometers registered 5 degs. below. A biting wind was blowing from the northwest and helped the illusion along. Warmer temperatures are expected before night.

GLACIER ICE FROM ALPINE MOUNTAINS.

The introduction of electric railways into Alpine districts has been the means of establishing a new and somewhat strange industry, namely—the quarrying of glacier ice for distribution in large cities, since a recent consular report from the Alps in Italy is quoted as saying that the Alps in quality is golden grain best beer. It is brewed from the best of nature's products in a better way than other beers and deserves a place on the home table. Order of Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing Co.

A "JIM BLUDSOE" DEAD.

Famous Pilot on the Upper Mississippi Laid to Rest. Dakota, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of John Jones, famous as the "Jim Bludsoe" of the Upper Mississippi river, were laid to rest here yesterday. Jones' experience was so much similar to that of the hero of John Hay's famous poem that many believe he was the inspiration of it. Jones was pilot of the ferryboat Wapak, which transferred passengers from La Crosse to the Minnesota side of the river in the period just after the Civil war. About forty years ago the Warsaw caught fire while in the middle of the channel, with several hundred passengers aboard, but Jones headed the steamer for an island in the center of the river, and in the words of the poem, "Held her nozzle against the bank until the last galoot was ashore." He was then obliged to make his own way to land through the burning boat. Although he received serious injuries, he survived and died of old age.

Kokomo Woman Gives Fortune

To Help Women Who Suffer. In the past few years Mrs. Cora B. Miller has spent $125,000 in giving medical treatment to afflicted women. Some time ago she announced in the columns of this paper that she would send free treatment to every woman who suffered from female diseases or piles.

More than a million women have accepted this generous offer, and as Mrs. Miller is still receiving requests from thousands of women from all parts of the world, who have not yet used the remedy, she has decided to continue the offer for a while longer, at least.

This is the simple, mild and harmless preparation that has cured so many women in the privacy of their own homes after doctors and other remedies failed.

It is especially prepared for the speedy and permanent cure of leucorrhea or whitish discharges, ulceration, displacements or falling of the womb, profuse, painful periods, uterine or ovarian tumors or growths; also pains in the back, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, menachol, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness and piles from any cause, or no matter how long standing.

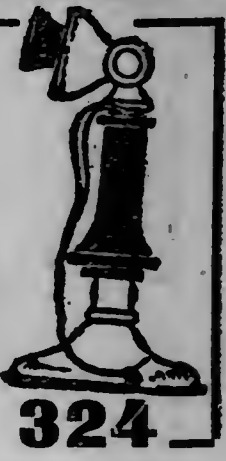

Every woman who writes Mrs. Miller now, without delay, will receive by mail of charge, a 50-cent box of this simple home remedy, also a book with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer and how they can easily cure themselves at home without the aid of a physician.

Don't suffer another day but write at once to Mrs. Cora B. Miller, 1831 Miller building, Kokomo, Indiana.

WHERE A GREAT METROPOLITAN INDUSTRIAL CITY OF 200,000 WILL BE BUILT.

Plateau Stretching Six Miles East and West and Two Miles North and South, Where the United States Steel Corporation Is Expending $10,000,000 For Steel Rolling Mills and Affiliated Industries.

BY J. A. MONGER.

Greater Duluth Means West Duluth.

IN sketching the mighty commercial, industrial and shipping advantages that have been developed at the Head of the Lakes, it seems more like a fleeting dream than a full-fledged reality. The Head of the Lakes has grown to be one of America's important commercial and industrial emporiums; the financial and iron mining center of the fast developing North Land, the richest section of Uncle Sam's domain; a great sea-port, the largest in the world, except London, England; and in railroads and terminals excelled by none. In 1907 the United States Steel Corporation, that owns or controls 90 per cent of the iron ore mines on the Mesabi and Vermilion ranges, made the official announcement that it would expend $10,000,000 in building and equipping rolling mills for the making of steel rails and structural iron work. A site of one thousand seven hundred acres was purchased at Spirit Lake, near West Duluth. This great iron industry, backed by the United States Steel Corporation, that employs 450,000 persons, and has $1,000,000,000 capital, is but the entering wedge that means the building of a great city of half a million people at the head waters of Lake Superior, or three cities of 200,000 each! This is a plain statement of facts, as the industrial path has already been blazed. The gigantic work of expansion is now going on—rolling mills for making steel rails are being built, new ore and coal docks, grain elevators, factories and homes, are being pushed to completion, while four new railroads are building in. "The Soo Line," "Wisconsin Central," "Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg," and the "Interstate Transfer Railway Company."

The ever-constant grouping and multiplying of these important interests at the Head of the Lakes, cannot fail to impress even the most hostile or envious. They carry conviction of the superiority of this favored location, sufficient to wipe away all doubt, that it presents the widest and richest field for industrial achievement. In truth, it is in the great central market, blessed with climate, citizenship, location; drawing resources from the fertile agricultural zones of the North Land, with untold mineral wealth, and rich forestry, while stretching further westward and northward, are the tributary states of North and South Dakota, Montana, Colorado, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, and also our Canadian neighbors on the North, to draw trade from. The past is the best of promise of the future.

The all-absorbing question is, will there be a Greater Duluth? If so, where will it be built?

East Duluth cannot by any stretch of imagination hope to be the magnet! Superior and Michigan streets are already glutted to overflowing, while First street affords but little additional room. This being the condition with only 80,000 population, what will it be when, in another decade, there is half a million?

The rocky mountain barriers in Duluth's business zone cannot be pushed aside. They are the impregnable Gibraltar that impedes the pathway of Greater Duluth, as to East and West Superior, Michigan and First streets, being the business centers of the future Duluth.

Will the ever on-rushing tide of trade and commerce look with questioning eyes on West Duluth's slightly plateau, stretching for six miles to east and west, and two miles north and south, or will it leap across the bay and make Superior the great central city of half a million population?

These are bold propositions that should be given the closest consideration by all wide-awake, up-and-doing Minnesotans! If there is to be a Greater Duluth, then it will be built in West Duluth. Here is where a city of half a million population will be built.

The die was cast when the United States Steel Corporation decided to throw its lot with West Duluth. This is so plain, that he who runs may read.

A Legend Exemplified.

THERE is an ancient legend of a poor and indolent farmer, who was always wishing that he could find a pot of gold, or in some other way acquire sudden wealth.

One night a good fairy appeared before him and told him that a pot of gold was concealed under the surface of his own farm. The man feverishly set to work in the morning to find it. Day after day, and week after week, he worked turning up his land, plowing and digging. He never found the pot of gold, but he had a bumper crop that year, and when he counted his returns, he realized that there was a fortune concealed in his land.

There is a fortune concealed in West Duluth, and the people of the city are awakening to the realization of this fact. Duluth is bound to grow. Nobody denies that fact. It is destined to become one of the great cities of the continent.

Keen forecasters of coming events predict that the twentieth century will see three or four great centers of industry spring up on the American continent. There will be one on the Pacific coast, and Seattle, Portland and San Francisco are fighting out the question of commercial supremacy there.

Another, they predict, will spring up on the Gulf, and Galveston and New Orleans are battling for the control of the Gulf trade. New York is the acknowledged leader of the Atlantic coast cities.

WEST DULUTH is Where the Wheels of Prosperity Are in Motion, Where the Captains of Industry Are Investing Millions of Dollars in New Docks, Railroads, Factories and Homes.

There will be one or two great inland centers of population like Chicago and St. Louis, and one great distributing center for the Northwest. That the latter will be Duluth is unquestioned. Duluth has and can have no rival for the leadership. "All Roads Lead to Duluth," and at the head of the great inland waterways it must become the commercial center of the Great Northwest. That it is rapidly assuming this position is unquestioned, and its growth and progress will be accelerated. Success brings success, and the greater its size, the faster its growth. St. Paul and Minneapolis had many years' start of Duluth, but the latter is just getting into a position now where it can reach out and compete with the "Twins" in their own territory.

And just as surely as Duluth grows, just so surely will West Duluth become of greater and greater importance. The same reasons which will make Duluth a great commercial center, will make West Duluth a great city in itself.

The topography of the site of Duluth compels the spreading out of the city to the westward. Beyond the point of rocks there is almost unlimited space for the city to grow. Stretching far up the river to Fond du Lac, is a gradually widening plateau which must in time provide sites for homes for the majority of the people of the city that is to be. Suppose for a moment that Duluth were a city of 200,000 people, and the most conservative will not deny that the city will have that population before many years have passed. Where would these people find homes? Not on the hillside. That district is already well settled. Not in the East end or Lakeside, although these districts would doubtless get their share, for that would take them too far from the commerce and industries of the city. They must go to the West end and to West Duluth. The district from the ore docks westward offers cheap lots and ample room for building, and along this line of least resistance the building movement must follow "Greater Duluth Means West Duluth." This is the spot of gold which West Duluth people have concealed in their land. The man who has a little piece of land in West Duluth, has an investment which cannot be taken away from him, and which is certain to increase in value. The man who improves that piece of land, builds a home upon it, puts down a good sidewalk in front of it, and helps pay for a slightly paved on the street, is adding just that much to the value of his investment, and also hastening the day when West Duluth will be a part and a big part of a greater commercial metropolis.

Buy West-Duluth Real Estate.

THE WAY to make substantial fortunes, not "sudden fortunes," is to invest in West Duluth dirt and forsake the fascinations of trading in stocks and speculating! The glamour of the stock market has infected a large portion of the Head of the Lakes population and all but wiped away the old-fashioned true ideas of business and social life of our fathers—the foundation of whose fortunes was well and securely laid by a frugal, hard-headed ancestry. Do not listen to the siren voice of the glib stock broker or promoter, who tells you how two and two make ten, instead of four. Do not be attracted by the elusive, wild-eyed speculator to follow him into the promised land of Amalgamated Copper, but instead, put all your earnings except a bare living into West Duluth real estate, as it will bring you sure wealth. There is no question of doubt, but that real estate values will advance 300 per cent in the next few years, as its population will jump to 200,000 to meet the requirements of the $10,000,000 rolling mills and affiliated industries now being built by the United States Steel corporation. There is no "romance" in this! It is a plain statement of facts and with a "finis" that will not disappoint any investor. Need we add another word to convince Duluthians that every dollar invested in West Duluth dirt will yield dollars for every cent so invested.

Outside investors are very active buyers, while our townspeople are sleeping. Buy West Duluth real estate now, while prices are low, before the prices bulge! This is no time to wait or hesitate. If necessary, borrow the money. Go in debt—but buy a piece of real estate in Greater Duluth—West Duluth. In speaking of individual ownership, Governor Hogg of Texas said: "Home is the center of civilization—the pivot of constitutional government; it is the ark of safety to happiness, virtue and Christianity. Home is the haven of rest in old age, where the higher elements of better manhood can be taught rising generations. Every man should own a home."

We urge all to buy West Duluth dirt who desire to make big winnings on small investments. It is a golden opportunity that is not likely to come again to our home people.

WEST DULUTH'S SPECIAL INTERESTS REVIEWED

RAILROAD FACILITIES.

THERE are thirteen lines of railroad which West Duluth has the choice in shipping her products to market, which gives it great supremacy over other cities and towns in the Middle North and West.

The thirteen lines that center here or are in close alliance with the systems that cover the entire country, are the Great Northern, Chicago-Northwestern, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, Northern Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Wisconsin Central, Duluth & Iron Range, Soo Line, Duluth, Missabe & Northern, Minnesota & International, Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg, Duluth & Northern and Inter-State Transfer Railway Company.

In a nut-shell: Eight thousand miles of railroad directly centering in Duluth, and all having costly terminals and other interests valued at millions. Many of these railroads are making extensive enlargements as they have found present facilities in adequate.

A DOUBLE DECKED BRIDGE.

The United States Steel Corporation will build a double-decked steel bridge to span the St. Louis river, between Minnesota and Wisconsin, connecting their $10,000,000 steel plant in West Duluth with their other great interests on the Wisconsin side of the bay. The bridge will cost $300,000. The upper deck will be used for railroad purposes, while the lower will be for street cars, teams and foot passengers. The bridge will be used by the Inter-State Transfer Railway Company, and connect all other railroads at the Head of the Lakes.

This will give a great boost to all real estate values in Greater West Duluth, within the next twelve months. There is bound to be rich pickings for those who invest their spare dollars in West Duluth dirt.

VAST HOARDS OF WEALTH.

There are five great banking houses with aggregate deposits of $20,000,000 or $238 per capita, for every man, woman and child of Duluth's 80,000 population. Among these five solid financial institutions we point with pride to the Western State Bank of West Duluth, with a capital of $25,000, earned surplus of $5,000, and undivided profits of $1,800. This bank paid 6 per cent dividend to its stockholders in 1907. The growth in the volume of business of the Western State Bank is the best index to West Duluth's great industrial development and real estate activity.

THE GREAT LUMBER TRADE.

In the production of pine lumber, Duluth territory leads the world. Five of the great plants are located in West Duluth: Virginia Lumber Company, Red Cliff Lumber Company, Scott-Graff Lumber Company, and E. G. Wallinder. They are capitalized at $5,122,000, and employ 1,340 hands. The shipping records of the port for 1907 foot up to the enormous total in round figures of 900,000,000 feet of pine lumber, the great bulk of which was shipped by lake vessels, to say nothing of the shipments by railroads.

There are sash, door and interior finish factories that do a business running into the millions of dollars. The plants are the best equipped in America, and their product has a wide sale.

MESABA IRON ORE TRAFFIC.

The ore docks of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway at Thirty-fourth avenue west are another of West Duluth's big industries. In size these four docks are 9,280 feet in length, having 1,336 pockets and a storage capacity of 326,634 tons of iron ore. From the opening to the close of Lake Superior navigation, these docks are worked to their utmost capacity. A single ore lake freighter will take a cargo of 11,533 tons. This gives some little idea of the immensity of the business of handling iron ore during the season of navigation.

This is but an item of the business of handling iron ore, as the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway in 1907 transported 12,000,000 tons, or 230,000 cars of ore, making it the heaviest freight traffic railroad for its mileage in the world. All of this ore passed through the docks of West Duluth. Swell business, was it not?

The building of the $10,000,000 steel plant in West Duluth means a new high water mark for the mining of iron ore, and should send the output of the mines to 50,000,000 tons annually when the plant is in operation.

WEST DULUTH REAL ESTATE.

West Duluth real estate has more solidity and sound value than has that of any city of the United States, and today offers a field for profitable investment unequalled in America. Prices are away below the level of similar property elsewhere. This is due to the extreme conservatism of the owners.

The advent of the steel rolling mills for making steel rails and structural iron; the opening of the Northern Power Company of 35,000 electrical horsepower; the American Carbolic Company; the Duluth, Missabe & Northern coal dock, having a capacity of 700,000 tons, are a few of the new industries that will make real estate values climb fast, as the years roll by. We can only surmise what will be the increase in values, but it is certain it will be enormous.

West Duluth has many business blocks and factories that would be a credit to the largest city in America, and churches and schools that are unsurpassed.

A WEST DULUTH CITIZEN.

Attorney H. H. Phelps is at 403 Palladio building, where he has had offices for the past fifteen years. He is chairman of the board of directors, West Duluth Commercial club; member of Board of Water and Light Commissioners of the city of Duluth, and has served as member of the County Board of Commissioners; member of the Board of Education, and member of the Charter Commission, that helped draft the first city charter. Mr. Phelps is a man devoid of ostentation, plain, frank and honest, a worker in his profession with wide influence. He is a staunch believer in the future of West Duluth, where he resides, owning an attractive home at No. 1306 Fifty-seventh avenue west.

A Liquid Malt Food

AT the beginning of Duluth's early struggles in city building, every phase of commercial and industrial life was given loyal encouragement. There was no grain market or board of trade; but one jobbing grocery house, and only three struggling industries: one of which is the now great Pilsner Brewing Company. This was back in 1874. Every Duluthian in those days was a "boomer," and "knockers" were unknown.

Under these inspiring conditions, every material interest, from Fond du Lac, nature's play ground, New Duluth, where iron industries were being promoted, and West Duluth, the natural commercial and industrial center, to Duluth proper, were all hustling with united effort to make the only Lake Port city in Minnesota one of the great marts of trade.

This was before the discovery of the Mesaba iron ore range, a territory that had been denuded of its only known wealth, standing pine, and left a barren waste. The discovery of the richest iron ore bodies in the world transformed this vast territory into a gigantic mining camp. Railroads were built, cities and towns sprang up as if by magic, and the sun of prosperity shone forth upon all the inhabitants at the Head of the Lakes. Millions upon millions of dollars were poured into gigantic development work. This was the first real step towards Greater Duluth's growth and development as a financial, jobbing, industrial, grain and railroad center. As a lake port, our present immense docks, shipyards and lake carrying vessels were delights of fancy.

Among the many varied interests that grew and prospered was that of the brewing of lager beer. From a small beginning, the business developed into one of great importance. It helped to make Duluth an important grain market, using large shipments of barley and mixed grains, to say nothing of hops, sugar, coal and an army of workmen.

The rapid growth of the prohibition movement we read so much about, and that threatens to irritate states and districts that were considered immune but a few years ago, has so far had its greatest success in territories where whisky has been the drink of the people, and not beer. The plantation owners, as well as the farmers and ranchmen of Oklahoma and the Dakotas cannot easily be served with the cold, refreshing and nourishing "lager," which is within easy reach of practically every one here. It is in the country, and especially in the cities north of the Mason and Dixon line, where beer has fought its battle against distilled liquor, and where it has reduced the consumption of the latter to a minimum of what it formerly was. It is not just to say that we are a drunken nation, like the Northern nations of Europe were fifty or seventy-five years ago; or abstinence, like some parts of France are today. And for all this, we must, in the language of Mr. Andrew D. White, "thank the brewer." Mr. White, who has seen so much of the old world and is held in such high esteem in our own country, further says: "Those men who have brought to us the mild, the pure and non-intoxicating beer have done more for the promotion of real temperance than all the prohibition fanatics put together."

The Brewers' association of the United States point with horror to the result of fifty years of prohibition in Maine, where beer, like in other prohibition districts, has been driven out almost completely on account of its bulky character, and where ardent spirits alone are obtainable to every one who wants them. The United States government census of 1905, bulletin No. 45, gives statistics that back up this statement, and shows that the arrests for drunkenness in the cities of Maine are more than twice as frequent, per capita, as they are in Wisconsin, where beer has become the national drink, and where, in most cases, the open saloon is unrestricted, even as to hours of the day or days of the week.

We commend the question to the earnest consideration of every thoughtful citizen, who may have read but one side of this great question of all questions, now agitating the public mind. Every sane and patriotic worker in the cause of true temperance recognizes these truths, and should work along liberal lines to regulate, but not to destroy, the interest, which produces one of the leading pure food products; one that has gained such wide popularity among all classes of people.

The present agitation should not affect the real prosperity of the brewing business, as beer is a non-intoxicant, a pure malt liquid food, containing but 3 1/2 per cent alcohol. It is not a drunkard's drink, as all sane temperance workers know, lager beer never has created, and never will create, an alcoholic stomach. Those who drink it are not found in insane asylums or in almshouses as a result of its use.

Minnesota's Phenomenal Progress

ALTHOUGH one of the youngest members of the union, having been admitted less than fifty years ago, Minnesota has made phenomenal progress in every branch of industry, until today she stands prominently at the head of her sister states, in the production of wheat products, her flour being sold in every part of the world.

The greatest deposits of iron ore in the world are found within her borders, and although it is only twenty years since the first iron ore was shipped from the state, she is now supplying 65 per cent of the iron of the United States, while vast additional deposits are being discovered every year.

In agriculture, Minnesota is outstripping her neighbors, and already stands fourth in the agricultural products, as compared with the forty-six states of the union. There is a growth from $4,743,707, in 1890, to $113,092,502, in 1907.

In the production of live stock she has done especially well. Her healthy climate, fertile soil and pure waters make Minnesota particularly adapted to stock raising.

The dairy products of the state have grown, in recent years, to command world-wide attention. Minnesota butter is known for its superior quality in all the butter markets, and stands at the head of all competitors in the tests of America, holding four of the prize banners out of six in the competitive tests in the United States. In manufacturing, she has done equally well, her products in 1907 amounting to $4,235,208, and in 1905, $307,853,073.

The mining and lumbering, together with the numerous manufacturing industries, have developed three large commercial centers, viz.: St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, in addition to many smaller cities, which make a domestic market unequalled by any other state.

This, combined with Minnesota's immense railroads and Great Lake transportation facilities, gives the state a peculiar advantage over any of her sister states for farming, manufacturing, commerce or labor.

Minnesota boasts of the finest school system in America. The public school forms a basis for a complete course of education, through the innumerable high schools, culminating in the University of Minnesota, which is recognized as one of the best institutions of learning in the United States. The schools of the state are augmented by the permanent school fund, secured from the sale of state lands, which, it is estimated, will soon amount to $100,000,000. This enormous fund has been safeguarded by our law-makers, so that only the interest can be used, the principal being kept intact.

The above may seem extravagant when the reader is informed that not over 40 per cent of the farm land is yet under cultivation, and cause him to ask why is Minnesota not more fully developed. The only answer the writer can give is that the opportunities offered in every branch of industry are unknown to the people desirous of securing new homes.

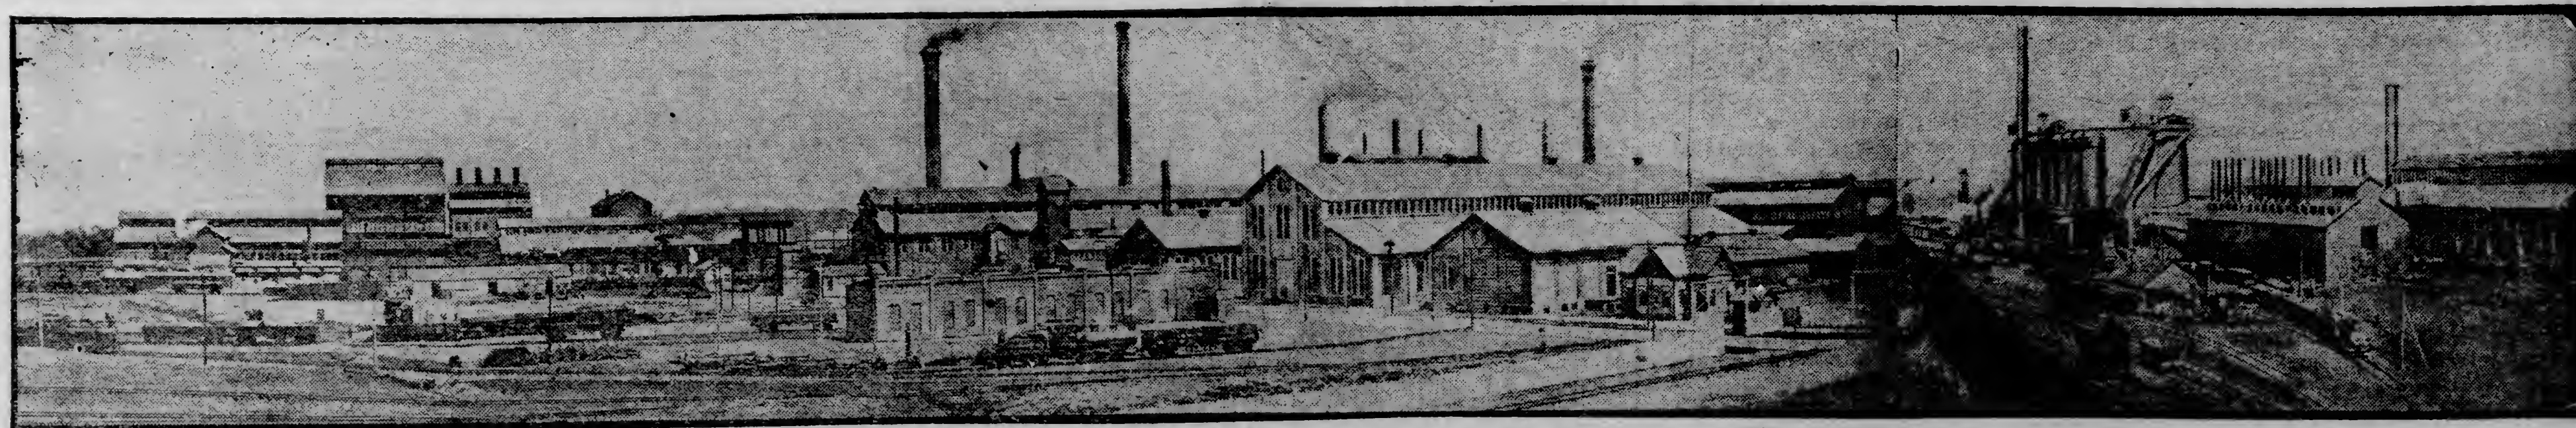

There are 2,154,255 acres of federal lands open to homesteads. The state owns 2,500,000 acres of school lands, a part of which will be offered for sale at public auction during the month of July, 1908, in the following counties: Itasca, St. Louis, Carlton, Aitkin, Clearwater, Beltrami, Cass, Hubbard, Wadena, Kitten, Marshall, Roseau, Becker, Morrison, Mille Lacs, Koochiching and Pine.

Head of the Lakes Elevators

THE capacity of elevators at the Head of the Lakes at the present time is 33,350,000 bushels. The houses number twenty-seven and range from about 3,500,000 bushels in capacity down to 200,000 bushels. All are equipped for the rapid, economical and efficient handling of grain. The elevators and mills at the Head of the Lakes can easily handle 1,200 cars a day during the busy season. This allows ten hours as the working day, and is not given as the maximum figure, but the one that can be maintained with ease.

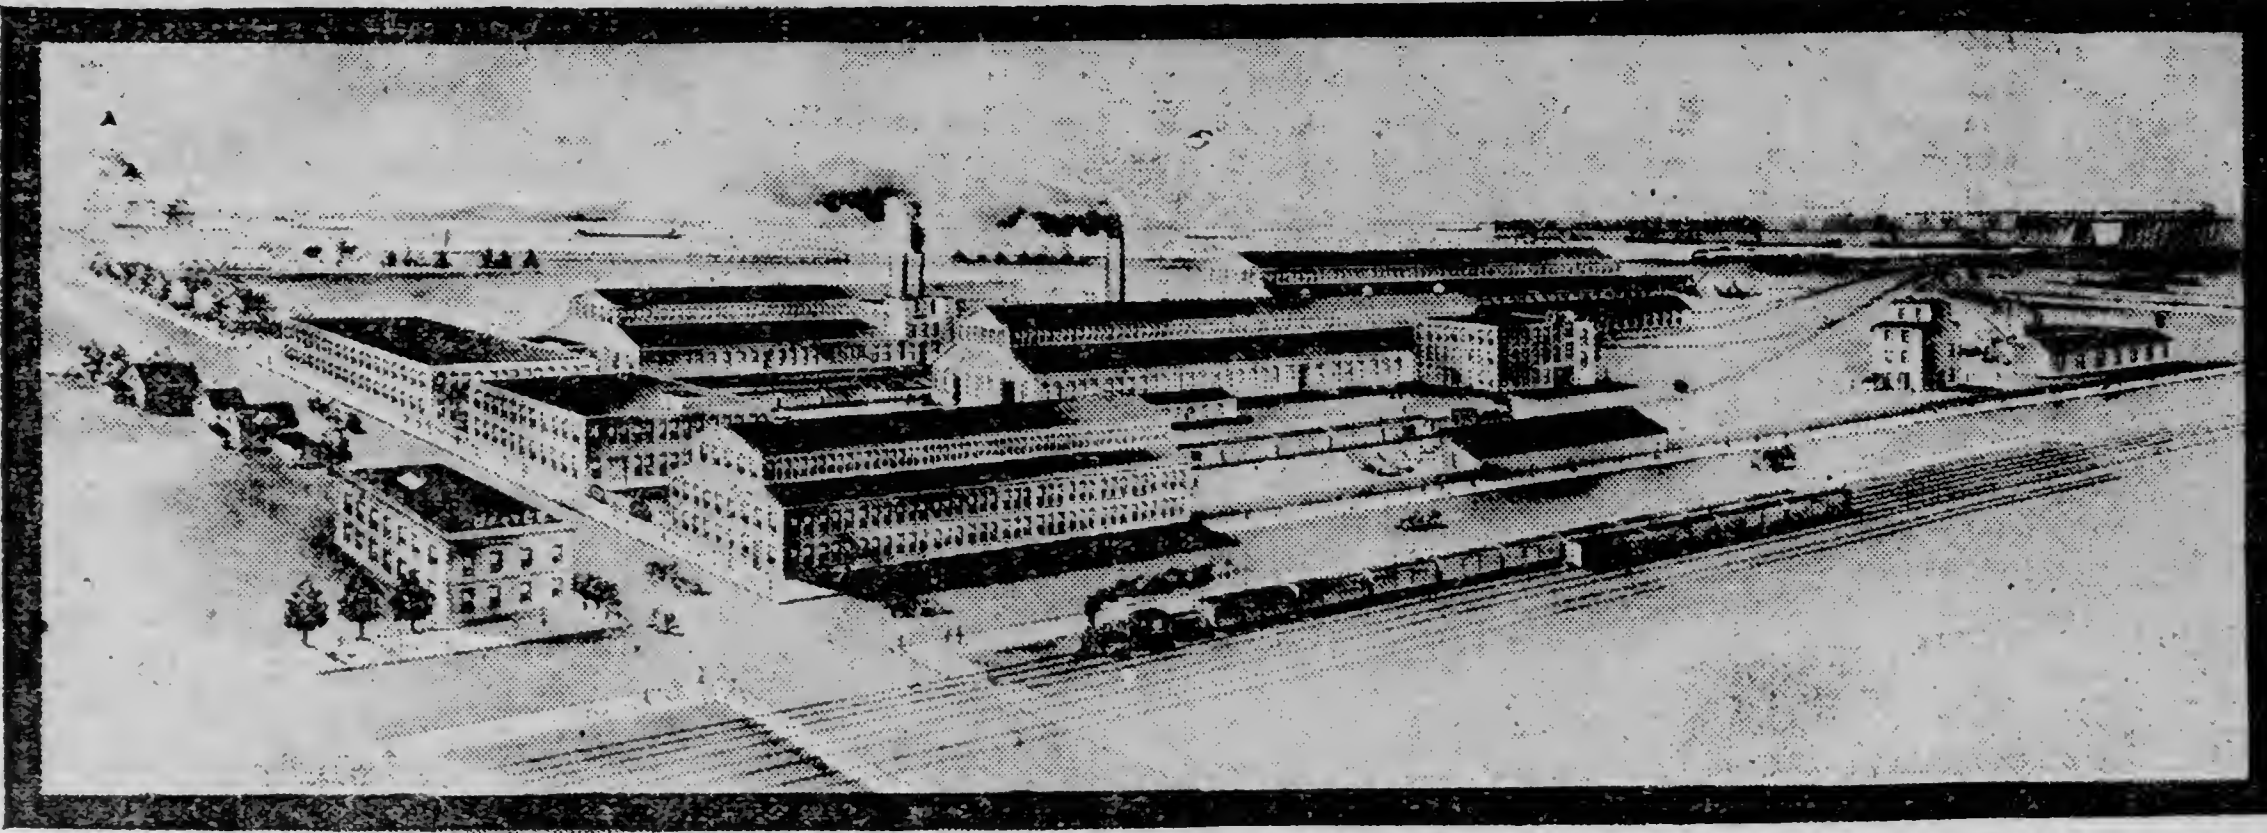

Unlisted Copper Stocks

EVERYTHING at the Head of the Lakes grows by leaps and bounds, and the unlisted stock market is no exception to this rule. Three short years ago there did not exist a market for unlisted stocks, while today the magnitude of the transactions of our brokers ranks first in the United States. The stocks listed comprise some of the choicest of the profit-sharing and dividend-producing copper stocks on the American market, and in a few years more, it is a safe prediction that this will be the leading market for unlisted copper stocks and to the list will be added all that is desirable in lead, silver and gold stocks.

WEST DULUTH'S SPECIAL INTERESTS REVIEWED

PHOTOGRAPHIC VIEW OF THE MAMMOTH PLANT OF THE CLYDE IRON WORKS

THIS is truly one of the greatest iron working manufacturing industries in the Northwest. The plant consists of nine white brick buildings, covering a ground space of 1,000 feet on Michigan street, with a depth of 300 feet on Twenty-ninth avenue west. The buildings are as follows: Office, 40 by 65, two stories, of red pressed brick; machine shop, 90 by 140, two stories, with gallery on second floor; foundry, 90 by 180; structural shop, 80 by 160; forge shop, 50 by 300; woodworking shop, 50 by 80, three stories; pattern shop, 90 by 90, two stories; warehouse, 70 by 90, two stories, and storage house, 20 by 100. All electric lighted, steam heated, and operated by electrical power, furnished by the Great Northern Power Company.

The Clyde Iron Works are the largest manufacturers of logging machinery in the world, while the principal articles of business are steam logging machinery, logging tools, logging sleighs, structural iron work, gray iron castings and hoisting engines. The products of the Clyde Iron Works are sold all over the United States, Canada and Mexico, while a great many shipments are made abroad.

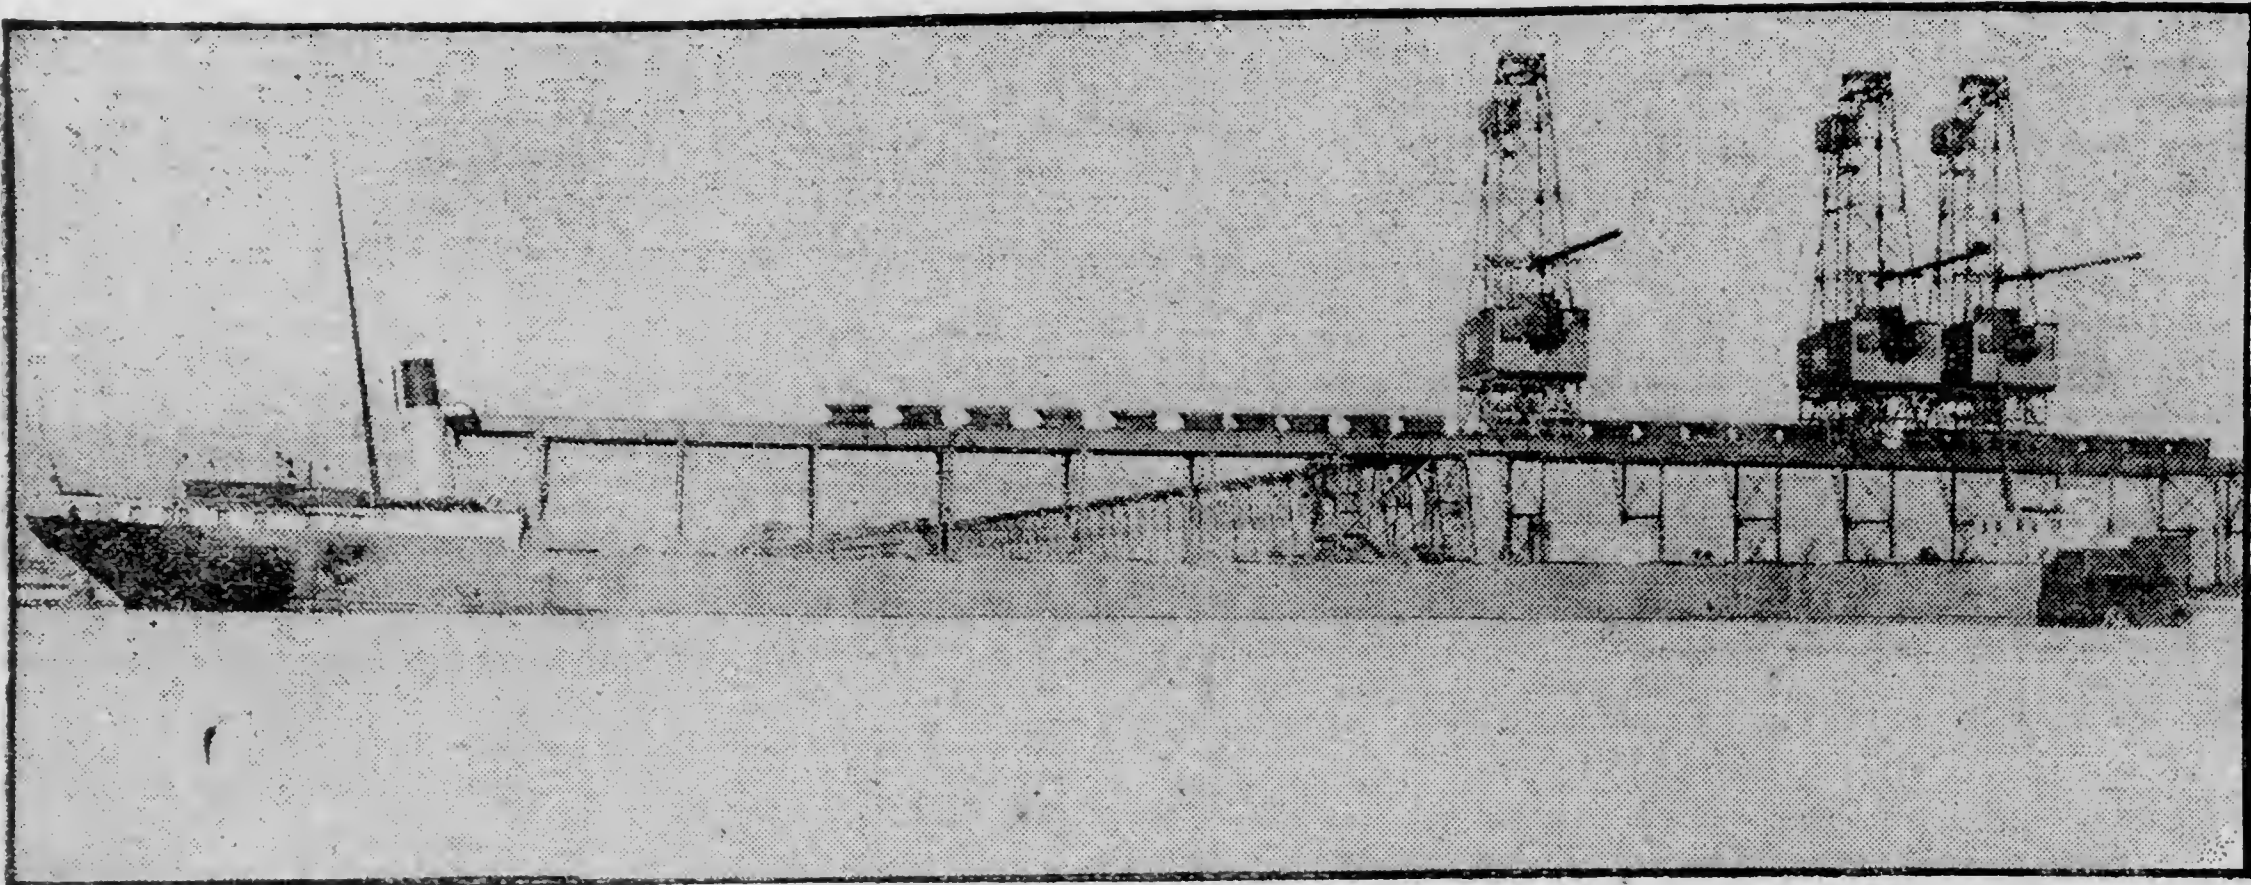

The unsurpassed shipping advantages of the Clyde Iron Works to reach the territory covered by this great manufacturing plant by rail and ships, at the head waters of navigation, in the center of a continent, 1,400 miles from the sea, where fleets of lake freighters 600 feet long, carrying 12,000 gross tons, and 8,000 miles of railroads centering here as a natural distributing point, is but two of the many reasons why the Clyde Iron Works enjoys an almost world-wide business.

The Clyde Iron Works were organized in March, 1899, and started operations in a two-story building, size 50 by 100 feet, at the corner of Fifth avenue west, giving employment to nine men. In 1908, their buildings occupy a ground space of 300 by 1,000 feet; they give employment to 300 men, and their capital stock is $600,000. Quite an expansion this!

The officers of the Clyde Iron Works are: C. A. Luster, president and general manager; G. C. Stone, vice president, and J. R. McGiffert, secretary and treasurer. The Clyde Iron Works is not only one of the largest iron working manufacturing plants of its kind in the Northwest, but is one of the most successful and prosperous in a trade sense, in the United States.

DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RAILWAY COAL DOCK

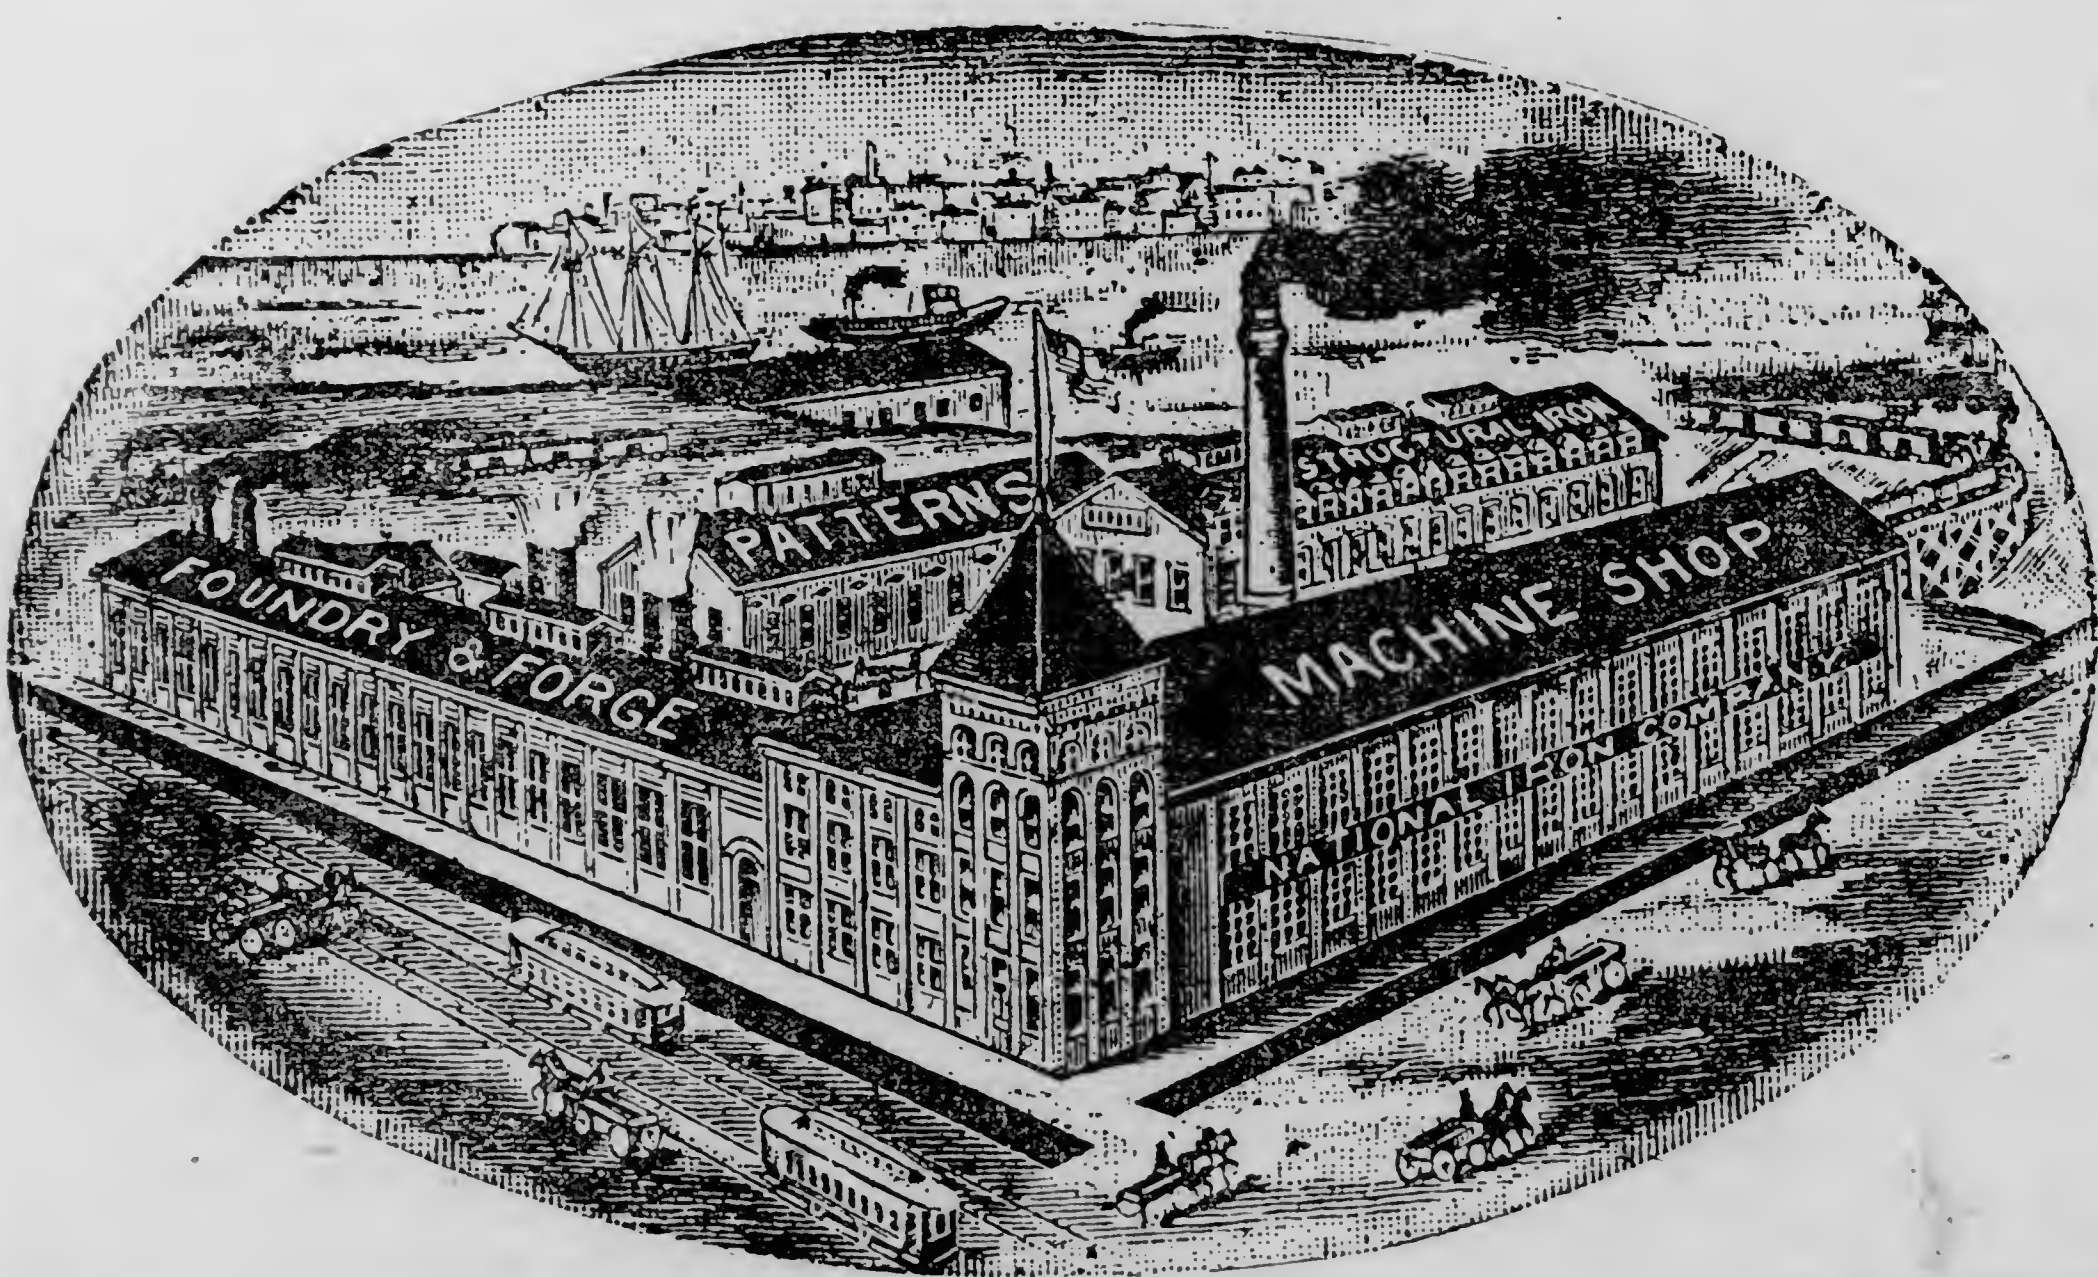

STORAGE CAPACITY, 700,000 TONS.

THE ever-expanding use of coal for industrial purposes has made the building of new docks and the enlarging of old ones an absolute necessity. At this writing there are nineteen coal docks, which includes the Duluth, Missabe & Northern at foot of Thirty-fourth avenue west. This dock has a commanding position on the harbor front where the great coal carrying lake freighters can deposit their tonnage with ease and safety. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern coal dock is not only the largest, but is equipped with the latest mechanism for the rapid and economical handling of coal. In size the dock is 2,600 feet in length and 600 feet in width, giving it a storage capacity of 700,000 tons. The foundation of this great structure is of concrete; the towers, tower trestle, cableway and bridges are all of steel construction. In equipment it has three Mead hoisting towers of the "One-man" counterbalanced type, a cableway system, storage and loading pockets, double pick-up bridge, railroad car haulage system, screenings conveyor and elevator with screening storage conveyor, all operated by electrical power, furnished by the Great Northern Power company.

NATIONAL IRON CO.'S PLANT—ENGINEERS, FOUNDERS, MACHINISTS

AMONG the many great industries that Duluth is noted for, the National Iron company is one of the foremost in their lines of manufacture—mining machinery such as first motion, band friction geared, reversible geared shaft sinking and prospectors hoists, haulage engines,

Evered churn drills, centrifugal pumps, mine cars, skips and cages, ore buckets, derricks, hand powers, steam forges for making or repairing dipper teeth, bales and any kind of heavy forging, hoisting engines for driving piles, erecting bridges, hauling logs, operating derricks and for all other purposes from 8 to 100 horse power. In saw mill machinery they make a specialty of steam feeds, steam niggers, carriage leaders, kickers, live rolls, log haul-ups, slashers, trimmers, sprockets, wheels, conveyor chains, wire rope conveyors, friction clutches, and engines. The big plant of the National Iron company covers a ground space of five-half acres on Fifty-fifth avenue west and Ramsey street, with a deep water dock of one block on St. Louis bay. Size of machine shop, 75x200 feet; foundry, 70x225 feet; forge shop, 70x150 feet; structural iron building, 65x200 feet and pattern shop and warehouse, 70x175 feet. These figures tell the story better than we can write it of the magnitude of this great industrial iron working plant that is capitalized for $200,000 and gives employment to 200 skilled artisans, and that enjoys a business that extends all over the South and Pacific slope, where mining and saw-milling machinery is in use.

THE WESSINGER COMPANY, ENGINEERS AND MANUFACTURERS

THIS plant has made its trade building record on what are known as Wessinger high pressure steam specialties, general mining machinery, mining cars, mining appliances and power transmission machinery.

Their expansion joints, throttle valves, back pressure valves, pressure reducing valves, steam separators, steam traps, exhaust heads, metallic packing and automatic throttle closing device are extensively used in mining work, and are covered by patents.

Their automatic throttle closing device automatically controls the hoisting engine when the cage or skip has reached the dump, making it impossible to pull the cage or skip over the top of the shaft house, thereby lessening the danger in hoisting both to men and equipment.

The particular feature of the device is the method of attaching the operating mechanism to the reverse lever on the hoisting engine, making it impossible to open the throttle valve until the reverse lever has been placed in the proper position for the next hoist.

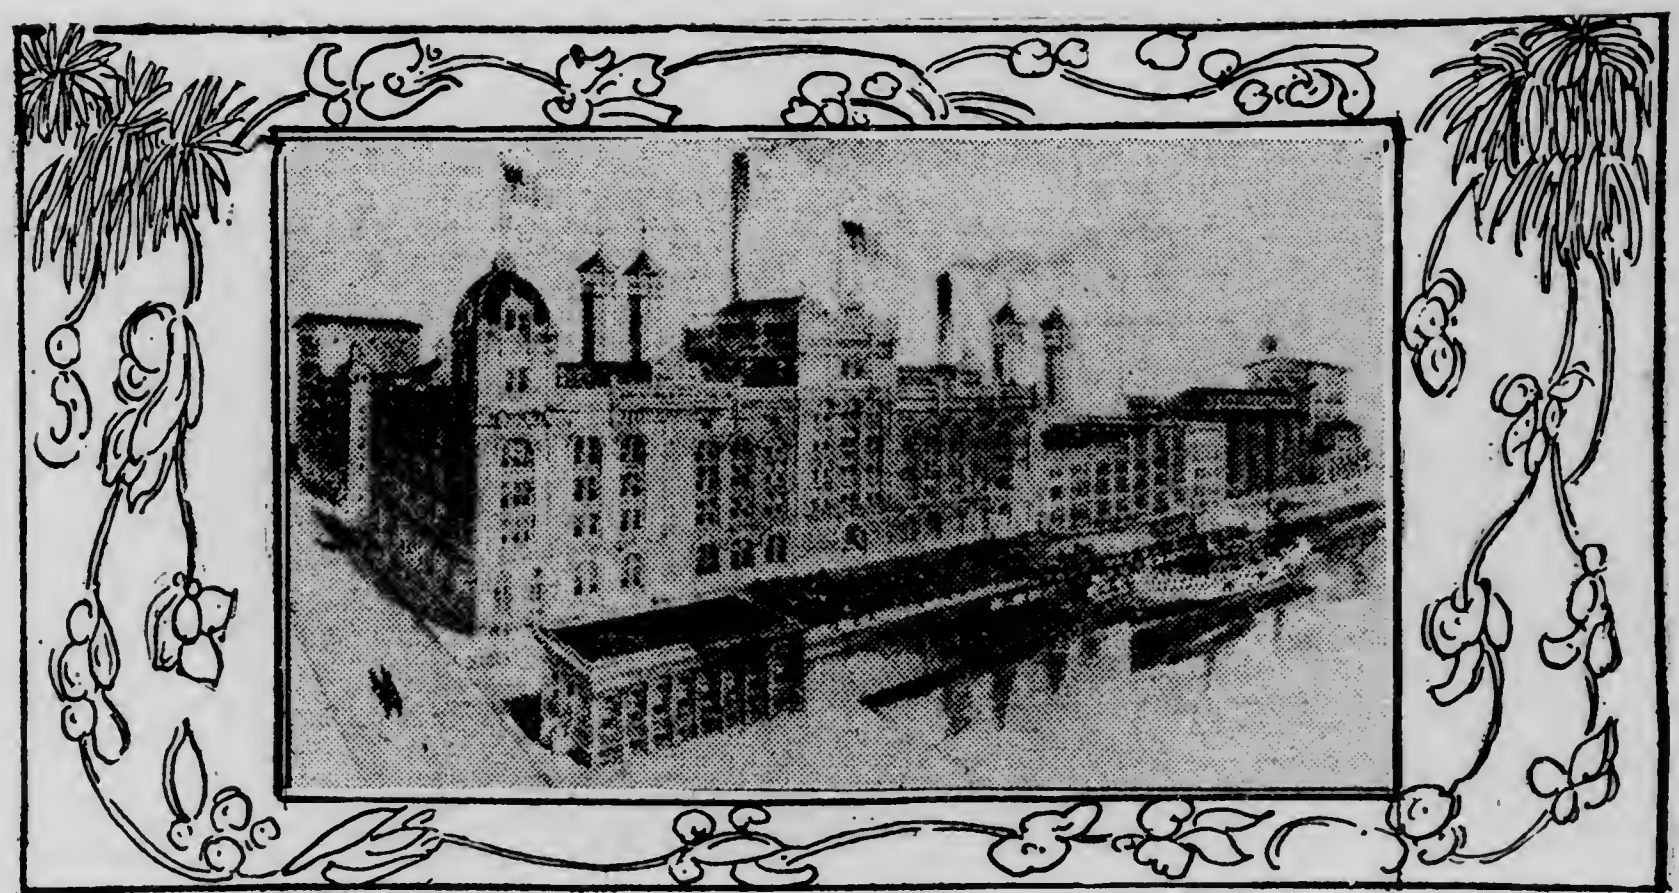

The making of tram cars is extensively carried on by The Wessinger Co. These cars are for mine use, they are built of steel throughout, the car bodies are made of steel plates, channels and angles, the truck frames are of the double-sill type, and are made of steel channels. All castings used are made of steel, with the exception of the truck boxes, which are of cast iron, and of the self-oiling type. The wheels are made of laminated steel. The design of the car permits of the use of truck springs, the draft rigging is also provided with springs, which make this a very easy running car, both for power or hand tramping. These cars have been extensively adopted, due to their superiority. The Wessinger Co. make many different types of cars.

This company has a ground space of 532 feet on Polk street, and a depth of 400 feet on Fifty-first to Fifty-third avenues west, on which are the following buildings: Machine shop 50x157 feet, blacksmith shop 50x50 feet, power plant 50x57 feet, office 36x48 feet.

This plant is well equipped with powerful, modern machinery throughout; also a complete system of traveling cranes for the rapid handling of heavy work.

The Wessinger Co. is incorporated for $50,000, and employs from 30 to 50 skilled mechanics. The officers are H. J. Wessinger, president; W. E. Wessinger, vice president and manager; A. G. Gillette, secretary. Illustrated catalog upon request.

DULUTH BREWING & MALTING COMPANY'S PLANT

THIS great brewing and malt industry has contributed much to the up-building of Duluth's commercial achievements and the big things done in business.

The Duluth Brewing & Malting company has "done things." It has won a success for its famous "Moose Beer," seldom equaled in the brewing of lager beer.

The men who put their capital into this great enterprise were not slow to recognize that Duluth was the natural and logical doorway between the East and the great Northwest, and that the North territory so rich in mineral, forestry and agricultural wealth, would soon be exploited and developed, opening up a commercial territory 200 miles wide and 1,500 miles long, from Lake Superior to the Rocky mountains, where cities and towns would spring up, where great iron ore mines would be developed, where standing pine and hardwood forests would be sawed into lumber and where cut over timber and prairie lands would be turned into farms. The "expectation" has more than been realized, as the ever increasing demand for "Moose Beer" taxes the full yearly capacity of 150,000 barrels, while the bottling department with a capacity of 250 barrels, ten hours run, is kept busy to keep up with orders for the celebrated "Moose" bottle beer and "XXX" porter.

The ground space covered by the Duluth Brewing & Malting company's plant is 200x300 feet; the brewery is eighty-five feet high; malt house, 100 feet high; bottling house, 100x100 feet, two stories and basement. This brewery has long been recognized as one of the foremost in the Northwest, in the matter of the very latest equipment for the brewing of a pure barley malt and hop lager beer, the most nutritious beverage for brain and brawn, and a deliciously appetizing liquid food. This is the real keynote of the wide popularity of "Moose Beer," the aristocratic drink of the Northland.

The Duluth Brewing & Malting company was reorganized in 1894 with a capital stock of $100,000, and is one of Duluth's many notable institutions that has made good. The officers of the company are: Reimer Hock, president and treasurer; Carl Meeske, vice president, and Frank W. Hock, secretary.

FIRST in importance to any community is its educational facilities. A city or state that neglects to educate the rising generation is guilty of overlooking one of its most vital interests, no matter how prosperous it may be on the surface in a worldly sense. The importance of training the minds of all those of school age was fully provided by the pioneers of West Duluth, and as a result of this far-sightedness, every advantage has been provided for the system of instruction which is reflected in its public schools, comprising the Irving, Long-tional way. West Duluth is one of the educational centers, which makes it a most desirable home city. "Sow a dollar in the ground of education and reap four-fold in the field of progress," has been the watchword of all its public men of affairs, and in no city of its age has this been more fully realized than here. This is not all. The progress of the public school system is keeping pace with the growth and progress of Greater Duluth. No city has better reason to be proud of its substantial and commodious school buildings than West Duluth. The Irving school is its pride, embracing technical high school—Irving grade, primary and kindergarten. It has an average attendance of 1,600 pupils.

A DAY'S OUTING TO FOND DU LAC VIA THE STEAMER NEWSBOY

PROPERTY OF CLOW-NICHOLSON TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.

THE trip to Fond du Lac, via steamer News Boy, during the excursion season, is soul-inspiring. The crystal waters of Lake Superior lay and the St. Louis river, how past landscape scenery of such poetical beauty as to make the heart sigh and long for more, when the landing at Chambers' Grove is reached, after a five-hours' journey. This is one of nature's all outdoor play grounds, shaded by stately pines, firs and evergreens, in rich profusion. The destroying hand of civilization has not tried to improve upon the artistic work of nature, except to provide rustic seats and benches, tables for picnic lunches, and swings for the comfort of the thousands who while away their summer days in this most popular retreat. There is a well-equipped lunch stand, where hot coffee and tea, ice cream, soft drinks, confectionery, pop corn and peanuts are sold. There is a well equipped yacht livery, with all kinds of row and sail boats and fishing tackle for the accommodation of those who like this class of pleasure. The now far-famed Fond du Lac, the summer excursion Mecca, is the result of five years' effort on the part of the Clow-Nicholson Transportation company, owners of the steamer News Boy and other magnificent lake steamers, with offices on Howard's dock, foot of Fifth avenue west. The company is incorporated for $50,000, and has the following officers: D. J. Clow, captain, president; William Nicholson, engineer, vice president; and Harvey D. Clow, steward, secretary and treasurer. The steamer News Boy has a carrying capacity of 600 passengers, and during the excursion season makes two daily trips, Saturday and Sunday, and daily trips on all other days, while special trips are made to meet the wants of the excursion public. The Clow-Nicholson Transportation company has enjoyed a most remarkable record, that of not having had an accident or losing a passenger during the past five years, although 25,000 people have been carried annually. The lake excursion business is increasing in popularity every year, and much of the patronage is from out of town people from the East and South, who come to the Head of the Lakes to enjoy the cool and invigorating atmosphere and landscape beauty of the North Land.

CHURCHES AND RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

THE citizens of all denominations have been very active in the matter of looking after the spiritual welfare of all the people. This progressive force, combining practical religious work, has made West Duluth a city of churches, many of which are costly and imposing edifices. The names of each of the houses of worship are as follows: Merritt Memorial Methodist Episcopal, St. James' Catholic, Holy Apostles' Episcopal, First Baptist, Westminster Presbyterian, Asbury Methodist Episcopal, Swedish Third Methodist, English Lutheran, Norwegian-Danish Lutheran, Swedish Lutheran, Finnish Lutheran, Finnish Evangelical Lutheran, Finnish Baptist, Norwegian Methodist Episcopal, Plymouth Congregational, Hazelwood Park Presbyterian and German Lutheran.

From a religious point of view there is no better resident portion than West Duluth. These church organizations are steadily exerting a mighty influence for the uplifting of humanity, immeasurable in its extent, but felt, unconsciously at times, by each and every individual in the community. In addition to these church organizations, there are many charitable, benevolent and secret societies that are doing grand work in the broad field of humanity, bringing men closer together in the higher walks of life, true followers of the Master, the Redeemer of Mankind. The church and the school go hand in hand in West Duluth, making it an ideal home in which to educate the rising generations for all the duties of life's great battle.

ST. JAMES' CATHOLIC.

ELLIOTT & COMPANY, MEAT PACKERS—STOCK YARDS AND COLD STORAGE PLANT.

THERE is no one industry in whose success the general public is more deeply interested than the Elliott & Company's dressed meats, provisions and live stock business. Their continued success in business means a great deal for Duluth, Superior and the Northwest, especially St. Louis county. The business of this house has grown and prospered as the quality of their meats is of the highest grade. Messrs. Elliott & Company have $100,000 in active capital invested in their business and give employment to forty-nine skilled butchers and helps the whole year around. The plant covers two one-fourth acres on Onota and Thirty-seventh avenues west. A brief description of the plant will be of interest: Abattoir, 40x40; beef cooler, 40x80, two stories; pork packing house, 40x80, two stories; smoke house, 30x60, three stories; sausage room, 30x40; fertilizing house, 30x50, two stories; ice house, 40x50, twenty feet high, capacity 2,000 tons; scale house capacity, two carloads. The balance of the ground space is devoted to feed pens, sheds and barns for the proper care and feed of the stock, making one of the most complete slaughtering and packing houses in the Northwest.

The business was established by Messrs. Elliott & Company in 1898, and has grown to its present large proportions by quoting the lowest wholesale prices to the retail butchers, enabling them to make a fair profit without overcharging their customers, which policy has made fast friends of the trade and consumers alike.

THE ELCO THEATER

THE ELCO THEATER is the people's playhouse, where the choicest attractions are only put upon the boards, and for this reason has played to crowded houses, since the opening night in May, 1907. The size of this model family theater is 25x140, fitted up with folding opera chairs, lighted by electricity, with ample stage and scenery, an up-to-date play house. Two daily performances at 7:45 and 9:30 p. m., and matinees on Saturdays and Sundays at 2:00 o'clock p. m., at the uniform admission price of 10 cents, except on Saturday afternoon, when school children are admitted for 5 cents. None but new attractions and those of an elevating tone of the highest artistic merit are ever billed. This policy has made the Elco theater very popular among show-going people, who patronize none but the best attractions. The booking for this house is made through the Orpheum circuit of Chicago, which is a guarantee that every attraction booked is of the highest character and that will be sure to meet the public approval. The Ellison-Weiss Amusement enterprises are sole owners and managers of the Elco theater, 320 Central avenue, West Duluth, and the officers are: Chas. Ellison, president; Harry Weiss, secretary; and J. H. Weiss, treasurer, all gentlemen of highest reputation in theatrical circles. West Duluth is to be congratulated on having such a playhouse as that of the Elco to patronize, as it is the best in its line in the Northwest.

THE NEW PHILLIPS HOTEL

THIS popular West Duluth hostelry has been leased for a term of years by Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, who has expended a large sum of money repapering and furnishing the whole house, making it a desirable place to patronize, in fact the best for the price charged, $1.00 per day. The Phillips is electric-lighted and steam-heated, while there is a first-class bar in connection.

WEST DULUTH'S PLAY GROUNDS

PICTURESQUE FALLS—FAIRMOUNT PARK.

ONE of nature's gems of beauty is Fairmount park, comprising sixty acres that has not felt the "civilizing touch" of the woodsman's ax. The forest wild still remains in all its stately glory. Winding through Fairmount park are the sparkling waters of Kingsbury rivulet, fed by many cypress springs. It is a most delightful place for a day's recreation. Nature has so lavishly endowed this park that it requires little human aid outside a system of boulevards, rustic benches, pavilions and the clearing away of the underbrush. Fairmount park holds a commanding position overlooking one of the largest seaports in the world, where the eyes may feast on a most fascinating panorama of unsurpassed scenic beauty. In coming years, as today, this will be one of the central outdoor play grounds for not only those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brows, but the wealthy, who find park pleasuring with their families one of the most enjoyable and health-giving pastimes. In the matter of park facilities, West Duluth has much to feel proud of, as she stands in the advance column.

THE WEST DULUTH COMMERCIAL CLUB—"A LIVE ONE"

L. A. BARNES,
President West Duluth Commercial Club.

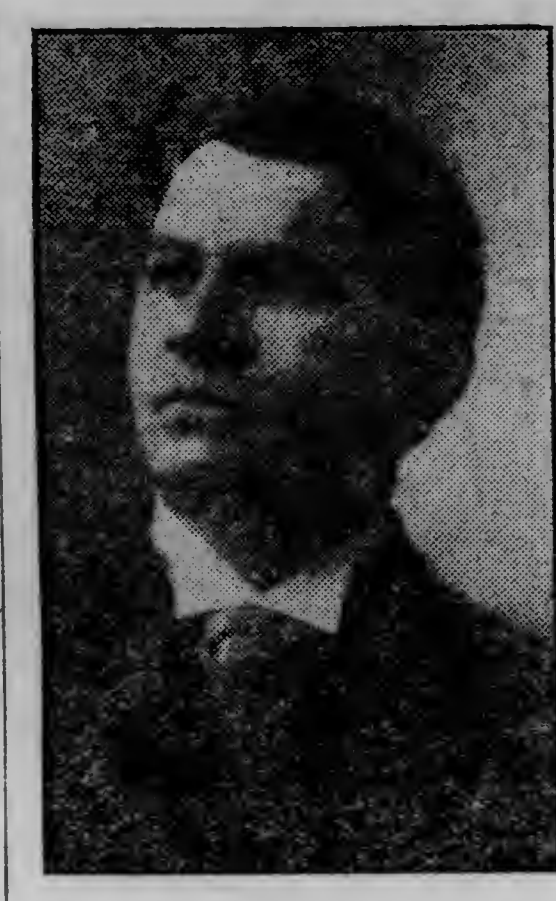

THIS club was organized by a few public spirited West Duluthians in 1901 and has steadily grown in membership, until the 350 mark has been reached. It is composed of the live men of public affairs, who are working as one man to exploit the great natural advantages of this section of Greater Duluth, where the finest factory sites at the Head of the Lakes are unoccupied within a radius of two miles wide and six miles long, an almost level plateau, with the best of railroad and dock facilities for receiving and shipping goods, electric street car service to all parts of the city, low rents and cheap building lots for great earners, making this section a great drawing card for the location of new industrial plants. The West Duluth Commercial club has accomplished much in the matter of awakening public attention to the advantages and importance of this particular location as the future commercial zone of Greater Duluth, where nature has provided building sites on such a magnificent scale and a deep water harbor, with a frontage large enough to accommodate the floating commerce of the world. It has the aim and ambition of this club to exploit these advantages, that West Duluth may get its share of the ever increasing new industries that are fairly tumbling over one another to secure suitable building sites for factories, business blocks, and lots on which to build homes. The West Duluth Commercial club, through its officers, looks after all matters of publicity, the answering of all letters of inquiry, new industries, sites, financial aid to industries, questions on taxation, school system, city beautiful, in a word, every phase of civic and municipal life for the bettering and upbuilding of Greater Duluth. Those who are interested and would like to learn more of the golden opportunities that await the investors in business property, factory sites or residence lots, should write L. A. Barnes, president, or George M. Cruikshank, secretary. The officers, directors and members of the West Duluth Commercial club are as follows:

WEST DULUTH'S SPECIAL INTERESTS REVIEWED

PEOPLE'S BREWING COMPANY'S $140,000 PLANT. YEARLY CAPACITY, 100,000 BARRELS

DULUTH'S brewing and malting business is leaping to the front as one of the foremost interests of the Northwest. In 1906 there were brewed 151,107 barrels of lager beer, the revenue tax paid on the principal sum of $154,064.00. These figures do not include the foreign beers manufactured in St. Louis, Milwaukee, La Crosse and the Twin Cities, each of which have agencies here. It will be seen by these figures that there is plenty of room, and to spare, for the latest candidate for public approval, the People's Brewing company, from a financial and trade point of view. This is universally recognized by the investing public, who have purchased the stock of this splendid brewery, the most modern building and equipment at the head of the lakes. The product of the brewery is all contracted for in advance, as a majority of its stockholders are retail dealers, who will push the introduction and sale of the People's lager beer in preference to all others, which assures an extensive trade, and a profit-sharing income on every share of stock sold. The great increase in the price of the real estate holdings of the company has nearly doubled in value since its purchase, making each share of stock worth much more than its original face value, aside from the net earning capacity of the brewery. The People's Brewing company is incorporated for $300,000, issued in shares of $100.00 each. The shares put upon the market have had a ready sale among those who desired a safe and sure investment. On July 3, 1906, a contract was let for erecting a brewery, costing $140,000. The buildings are completed, the machinery in place and it is all but ready to start brewing the famous People's lager beer. The buildings cover a whole block at Onota, between Forty-second and Forty-third avenue west, overlooking Duluth's magnificent harbor. In the very heart of the industrial zone and the best of railroad facilities for receiving and shipping their products. Mr. P. M. Olsen was appointed superintendent, and has had full charge of the construction and equipment, and will also conduct a vigorous advertising campaign when the time arrives for the delivery of their goods. His past experience gives him a position that is enviable in all respects. The buildings of The People's Brewing company are all constructed of brick, with Bedford stone trimmings, steel and concrete, making them substantial and very attractive to the eye, as shown by the above photographic view. The dimensions of each department of this model brewery are as follows: Brewing house, 125x150 feet, five stories high, fitted up with the latest equipments known to the art of up-to-date brewing, including kettles with capacity of 175 barrels; malt house, capacity of 500 bushels; power house, 30x62 feet fitted up with two 150 horse-power boilers and two 40 kw. generators for lighting and operating the elevators connecting each floor, and furnishing the motor power for the entire plant; two 40-ton ice machines for cooling the beer are now built and ready to operate. The additional plants of the bottling house 75x150 feet, two stories and basement, to be operated by rotary bottle fillers, Twentieth Century soaker, with electrical power, capacity 100 barrels, every ten hours and the stables, 40x75 feet, two stories, with living apartments for drivers and will be built as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The superior quality and excellency of the People's Brewing Company's product has been given special and careful study by the management, and as a result they have succeeded in securing the services of the celebrated brewmaster, Mr. E. A. Koenig, who has a wide reputation as an expert in the brewing of lager beer. For fifteen years he was brewmaster of the Royal Bavarian Hof Brew House, at Munich, Germany, then came to Chicago, where he took the regular course in brewing, graduating from the Polytechnic Institute of that city. We next find Mr. Koenig employed as brewmaster in the famous breweries at San Francisco and Valparaiso, California, and Peoria, Illinois, which is certainly a guarantee that the brew of the People's will not be excelled by any in the country, as his thirty years' experience as an expert brewmaster is not excelled by any in the art of beer making. The officers and directors of the People's Brewing company are as follows: Frank G. Sandstad, president; Michael Gleason, vice president; Martin Smith, treasurer; Jno. D. Dunphy, secretary; directors, Patrick Doran, Henry Tomfohr, A. W. Anderson, Thomas Doyle, Jno. D. Dunphy, Frank G. Sandstad, Martin Smith, Michael Gleason and Charles Forest. It will consume a full half day's time for a casual inspection of the People's Brewing company's plant, and at that the visitor would only get a passing glimpse of its vast proportions, as it is rated one of the finest in the Northwest.

UNION MATCH CO.'S PLANT. CAPACITY, 42,000,000 MATCHES A DAY

DULUTH is proud of the distinction of being the home of the largest independent match factory in the United States, where the Union Match company daily manufactures 42,000,000 "Tip-Toe," "Noiseless," "Firelight" and "Staylit" matches. They have a magnificent equipped plant, covering seven acres of ground space, where 3,000,000 feet of white pine is manufactured into matches annually, giving employment to 160 wage-earners. The Union Match factory has a complete match factory under one roof, where are manufactured the match blocks from the best white pine logs that grow. When received they are sorted, saved, planed and cut into 4-foot lengths. Then the sawyers saw them up into the regular sizes. The block are now carried to the assorters, where they are assorted and inspected, to make sure that there are no defects in the blocks, then the blocks are ready for re-sawing into matches. The making of matches is a most interesting process, from the white pine log to the delicate, artistically shaped match, with its crown of illuminant that only requires a light touch to ignite it into a beautiful flame. The Union Match company's matches are of superior quality, as every match is a sure light producer, non-explosive, free from odor, the most perfect match of the twentieth century. The popularity and great sale of the Union Match company's "Tip-Toe," "Noiseless," "Firelight" and "Staylit" matches extends all over the United States, and gives employment to thirty-eight traveling salesmen. There are match factories in and out of the trust, but there are none that outstrip the Union Match factory in the quality of its product. The quality of the matches manufactured or the equipment of plant. The officers of the company are: M. H. Alworth, president; F. W. Heimick, vice president and treasurer; John B. Heimick, secretary.

A FITGER BREWING COMPANY. GREAT brewery in a great location, the pioneer at the head of the lakes. The name and fame of Fitger's beer and of Duluth are inseparable. They have expanded together, one as a great brewing industry, the other as a great commercial and industrial city. The true interest of one is the interest of both, so closely are they linked together. There has been no time in Duluth's history or that of the ever developing Northland, when the Fitger Brewing company has not done its full share to push Duluth's every interest to the front and extend it helping hand to develop the Northland territory. The work has been unselfish, and if it has spread the name and fame of Fitger's beer, the reward was justly due, even though the yield was a hundred fold. The Fitger's Brewing company's business was established a quarter of a century ago and from a small beginning has grown to be one of the leaders in the brewing business. The great plant has a frontage of 900 feet on Superior street, 1,000 feet on the lake front, a depth of 235 feet, with storage cellars under the whole building.

The structure is built of granite and stone making a very substantial and attractive piece of architecture. The brewing output is 600 barrels per day, and bottling capacity 54,250 quarts or 108,500 pint bottles per day, with room to expand to three times the present capacity. The bottling department is equipped with electrically operated and controlled devices, bottle soakers, washers and rinsers, bottle and box conveyors, rotary automatic bottle fillers, endless bottle tables and mechanical automatic labelers, with numbering and counting devices. There are immense glass enameled steel tanks, a bonded cellar supplied with the products through a copper pipe line direct from the storage cellars, the key to which is in the hands of Uncle Sam who collects a revenue for every drop passing through this pipe. Fitger's brewing still has the first ice machine operated in the state of Minnesota, besides the latest improvements in ammonia refrigeration. The Fitger Brewing company is incorporated for $500,000, and is the most modern and up-to-date in the middle west for its size and is so recognized by expert visiting brewers. Fitger's beer has a universal sale all over the Northland territory owing to its purity and excellent qualities.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

THERE is no valid excuse for any West Duluthian spending a single dollar elsewhere in any line of house-furnishing goods, furniture, rugs or bedding, as the great stock of goods carried in these lines by E. Oettel, 310 Central avenue, is not only the largest to select from, but the prices are the lowest in all lines. Every taste can be suited as to price and quality in house or office furniture. Mr. Oettel is one of West Duluth's pioneer merchants, locating here in 1896, and from a small beginning his trade has expanded until today we find him in the spacious building 25x140 feet, stocked with all lines of house-furnishing goods.

Dr. Burnside Foster, clinical professor of the University of Minnesota and editor St. Paul Medical Journal, says: "BEER IS A FOOD by reason of its cereal ingredients. Its moderate use is not injurious to the health of adult persons."

Dr. Warren L. Beebe, St. Cloud, Minn., surgeon of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Roads, agrees with the above.

Dr. Ashabel P. Grinnell, of New York, one of the foremost American physicians, says: "I am convinced that the legitimate and conservative use of Lager Beer is beneficial to the physical well-being of most people."—1st vice president New York Medico-Legal Society and late Professor of Practice and Dean of the Medical Department of the University of Vermont. He further adds that "from a temperance point of view, beer is worthy of recognition and adoption."

VIEW OF THE EXTENSIVE PETRUSCHKE BOX & LUMBER CO.'S PLANT

As a pine box manufacturing center, Duluth leads the Northwest, being in the very heart of the box lumber district—pine, basswood and birch—with unequalled shipping facilities by rail and lake to all the markets of the East, West, North and South, for their product. This naturally gives them unusual advantages over competitors not so advantageously located. The great business of the Petruschke Box & Lumber Co. was established in 1898, and incorporated for $100,000 in 1905. The ground space covered is 435x100 feet on Main and Fifty-first avenue west; the factory and planing mills cover 125x150 feet, two stories, and the boiler house 30x40, all equipped with the latest patterns of box making and wood working machinery. This is the only box factory that makes dovetailed boxes at the Head of the Lakes, or between St. Paul and Chicago. The daily capacity—ten hours run—is 5,000 finished boxes, all printed and ready for delivery. This factory makes all sizes of packing cases and crates in shooks, and nailed, as also boxes for bottle goods. It gives employment to sixty skilled workmen, in the wood working line. The Petruschke Box & Lumber Co. has an extensive business in hardwood and pine flooring, siding, shingles, sash, doors, windows and building materials. The territory covered for the products of this industry extends all over the Northwest, and East as far as Buffalo, New York.

This industry was established ten years ago coming April, by Mr. C. J. Petruschke, with two men, in a plant 40x10, one story, and only 25-horse power, with an output of $300 per month. Now the plant employs 69 men, has an output of $500 daily, and is operated by 100-horse power. Mr. Petruschke has made his phenomenal success as a box-maker because he is a finished workman in this line, having made it his life study. In a word, he knows all the details pertaining to the manufacture of wooden boxes, from stumpage to the manufactured box.

MURRAY BROS.' NON-EXCELLED ICE CREAM.

THE above business was established in 1901 and has grown from a small beginning to an industry of large proportions. It occupies a building 25x50 feet, two stories and basement, for the manufacture of Murray Bros.' non-excelled ice cream and butter, brands that have an extensive sale, owing to the superior purity, flavor and high quality of both products. In addition they do a large wholesale and retail business in dairy products. The capacity of their non-excelled ice cream manufactory is sixty gallons per hour, which can be doubled when trade conditions demand the ice cream. Messrs. Murray Bros. have an active capital of $20,000 and give employment to fifteen men. This is one of the growing industries that West Duluth takes a pardonable pride in, as it is sure to grow and expand step by step, with Greater Duluth's prosperity.

CHARLES F. W. KORTH'S NEW BUILDING

ONE of Duluth's many men, who have made success from a small beginning, is Charles W. Korth, who came here in the spring of 1883, from St. Claire, the old Winnebago Indian reservation. He is a native of Dodge county, Wis., where he was born on his father's farm. He followed the tilling of the soil from 1884 to 1888. In coming to Duluth he took up the carpenter trade, worked at it up to 1902, when he built and opened the Northland hotel, a twenty-four-room house. In 1907 he built a two story and basement brick rooming house, 30 by 70 feet, on the corner of Fifty-first avenue and Roosevelt street, the four corners of which and the adjoining property he owns. Mr. Korth believes in the city beautiful plan and is associated with John B. Helmick, of the Union Match company, in laying out a park, planting trees and flowers on the one-acre plot fronting the Union Match company's buildings. In public spirit, for the advancement of greater Duluth, few men exceed in loyalty Charles F. W. Korth.

To the Ambitious Young Men and Women.....

The city and country is full of young people who could, if they would, prepare themselves to be successful salesmen, office managers, expert accountants, private secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers, cashiers, etc. Yet with opportunities at hand, few feel the importance, or have the courage to get the training necessary to thus prepare for the future. Hosts of boys and girls are working in shops, factories, business houses, stores, and on the farm as wage earners, who have the ability and the means to take a course at the Duluth Business university and get a start in the business world, where rapid promotion would be sure to follow.

Young Men Young Women

Are you clerking? Are you in the shops? Are you working on the farm? Are you just making a living? Are you just out of the common school? Are you just out of high school? Are you looking for a job?

What Can You Do?

Are you versed in commercial arithmetic and rapid calculation? Can you write a good business hand? Can you compose a business letter that means something? Are you acquainted with the ordinary business customs? Can you conduct ordinary business transactions in a businesslike way? If you cannot answer the above in the affirmative, then you have no chance in competition with young persons who can. Select 500 young people holding lucrative positions with commercial houses in the Northwest and you will find that 75 per cent of them are graduates of the Duluth Business university. You can succeed as others are doing, if you will prepare yourself. You have the same chances as they, same talents, same early education, same opportunities, and what they have done you can do. All you need is the will to do.

Write today for catalogue. Address, Duluth Business university, 105-107 West Superior street, third floor.

WEST DULUTH'S STREET RAILWAY SYSTEM

ONE OF MANY FORTY-FIVE-FOOT VESTIBULE CARS.

THE real secret of Greater Duluth's progress is the constant expansion and improvement of its transportation facilities, as represented in the public service, giving rapid transit to the people of all sections. This is and has been the policy of the Duluth Street Railway company, and is why the city grows and expands in all directions, as all sections have the same service, the best that money can provide. In return for the service the people, to the number of 12,445,634, patronized the system in 1907. There is no "public hell" in the policy governing this great public service corporation. The management is liberal to a fault with the public. It is this spirit of business fairness that has done so much toward expanding the outlying territory, making this real estate valuable for business, residence and industrial purposes. The 350 members of the West Duluth Commercial club, as one man, pin their faith to a greater West Duluth, knowing full well that the Duluth Street Railway company will extend their line to the United States Steel corporation rolling mills, making Central avenue the business center for the 5,000 wage-earners who will be employed in this great steel plant. There are many millions of dollars invested in the equipment and plant of this company, which gives employment to 400 men, with a pay roll of $200,000 a year, while another $100,000 is expended for construction material. The system has 12,445,634 patrons, with 30-pound steel rails. There are 90 cars in daily operation. The electrical energy to operate this great street car system is furnished by the Great Northern Power company. The man who has done so much to expand this public service system is Herbert Warren, general manager of the Duluth Street Railway company.

AN IMPORTANT HOME INDUSTRY

THE growth of the manufacture of cigars is one of the factors in the up-building of Duluth's industrial greatness. This industry is only in its infancy, and yet it gives employment to 150 high priced wage earners, who manufactured 7,000,000 cigars in 1907, valued at $300,000, while the revenue tax was $20,000 in round figures. If there was a little loyalty displayed by individual smokers this industry would employ 500 cigarmakers and turn out 20,000,000 cigars or $1,000,000 a year. Here is work for the commercial clubs and unions to get busy on—the education of all smokers to patronize home but home made cigars. The leaf used in Duluth made cigars is the best grown,

INSANE LOVER SHOTS YOUNG GIRL AT TENSTRIKE AND ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

J. O. Jahnke Shoots Laura Fleischman, 16 Years Old, With Rifle.

Turns the Weapon on Himself and Dies Instantly.

Taught School for Some Time in the Minnesota Town.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Infatuated with the charms of a 16-year-old girl, who spurned his insane love, J. O. Jahnke, aged 30, at 9:30 o'clock this morning, shot and instantly killed Laura Fleischman, at her father's home, near Tenstrike, and then turned the gun on himself, putting a bullet in his own brain, and dying instantly.

The horrible crime was committed in the presence of three smaller children, members of the Fleischman family, who were the only witnesses to the shooting. It appears Jahnke asked the Fleischman girl to marry him, and her refusal to become engaged, coupled with the statement that she did not love Jahnke, turned the latter's love to hatred, and created in his mind an insane determination to destroy the object of his infatuation and end his own career. Jahnke taught school at Fleischman's three years ago, subsequently leaving and living at Landon, N. D., since then. Three months ago he returned to Tenstrike and made his home with the Fleischmans. He came infatuated with Laura Fleischman and asked her to marry him yesterday, but the girl refused. Jahnke brooded over the refusal, and when again refused this morning, he grabbed a Winchester rifle and shot the girl twice, then turning the weapon on himself and putting a bullet in his brain, dying instantly. The three smaller children in the room at the time of the shooting were greatly scared.

COMPANY IS RESTRAINED

From Proceeding Further in Suit Against Albert Bigelow.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 28.—Chancellor Pitney today signed an order restraining the Old Dominion Copper Smelting company, a New Jersey corporation, from proceeding further in the Massachusetts case involving several hundred thousand dollars. The company sued Bigelow and obtained a judgment against him in the lower courts of Massachusetts, and the case has been appealed to the higher courts of that state.

A suit by the Old Dominion company against Leonard Lewishohn, now deceased, in the United States courts in New York state, involving the same facts, resulted in Lewishohn's favor. This case is now on appeal before the United States Supreme court. The object of the application to Chancellor Pitney is to get the whole matter before the New Jersey courts, so as to have Lewishohn's estate made a party defendant to the efforts of the Old Dominion company to recover several hundred thousand dollars, which it is claimed, Bigelow and Lewishohn overcharged the Old Dominion company for a subsidiary concern, which they promoted and owned.

FRIENDS OF THE KAISER

Voted Strongly Against Polish Expropriation Bill, Which Passed.

Feared Socialists Would Use It as a Precedent If Ever in Power.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—Few legislative measures of recent years have excited such deep interest among the people as the Polish expropriation bill, the principle of which was ratified in the Prussian house of lords yesterday, nor has any measure produced such sharp antagonism in the highest circles of German society. It was noticed yesterday in the house of lords as a striking circumstance that a number of persons having the closest relations with Emperor William voted against the government. These included Duke Ernst-Günther Schleswig-Holstein, the emperor's brother-in-law; Prince zu Fürstentberg, who holds one of the highest positions in the empire; Prince Thietmar, duke of Trachenberg; Prince von Wied-Riedel, who was at one time minister of the royal house; Admiral von Holmann, ex-minister of marine; Count Thiele-Winkel, one of his majesty's favorites among the great industrialists of Germany; and Gen. Count Haack, who has been the recipient of many marks of special favor from the emperor.

The vote yesterday showed irregular groupings. The strength of the opposition was with the great aristocratic landholders, who rejected the principle of expropriation because it might prove a dangerous precedent later. One of the great landholders even expressed apprehensions that the bill, if passed, would secure the upper hand, would use the present bill as a warrant for the seizure of the great estates of large estates.

Taunt the Government.
The conservative speakers yesterday taunted the government with passing a measure that can give satisfaction only to the Socialists, inasmuch as it is based on the Socialist principles of the expropriation of the state over the rights of private property. It was remarked also that the speeches of the landholders were pitched in a tone and apologetic tone. Chancellor von Bülow's address especially was regarded as unusually flat. He failed to hold the attention of the house, and throughout the long debate he wore an expression of serious concern, evidently sharing the current opinion that the measure would prove, however, his whole demeanor changed when his face beamed with undisguised delight. The measure now returns to the chamber, which is expected to accept the slight changes made by the house of lords without encountering serious difficulty.

INTERNATIONAL CELEBRATION

Of Eightieth Birthday of Tolstoi is Being Arranged.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—The preparations for the international celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Count Leo Tolstoi are progressing under the committee having the matter in charge, which includes many of the most noted writers, artists and public men of Russia. Tolstoi was born Aug. 28, 1828. In addition to a proposition to raise a fund to purchase the count's present residence at Yasnaya-Polyana, his birthplace, for a Tolstoi museum, it has been decided to issue a book of Tolstoiana, which shall include articles by Octave Mirbeau, George Brandes, Knut Hamsun, and other noted writers of letters of all nations. The list of American contributors is not yet complete, but W. J. Bryan and George Kennan have been asked to send in articles.

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 28.—Believing that Paul E. Roy, the husband of Glacia Calla, can be brought back from France to answer the charge of murdering Mrs. Roy's brother, George A. of the medical referee on the autopsy performed on Carkins' body, as well as the affidavits of Glacia Calla, James L. Kelly, her stepfather, and Mrs. Kelly, her mother. It is expected the state authorities will take the matter before the state court at Washington, which will decide if the facts justify a request for Roy's extradition.

SHAH OF PERSIA ESCAPES INSTANT DEATH OWING TO HIS USUAL PRECAUTIONS

SHAH OF PERSIA.

Bomb Shatters His Auto and Kills Three Outriders.

But the Persian Ruler Was in Carriage Further Back.

Two Bombs Were Hurlled From Roof of a House.

Teheran, Persia, Feb. 28.—An attempt was made in this city this afternoon to assassinate the shah of Persia, by a bomb. Three of the outriders, who were accompanying him at the time, were killed.

The shah owes his escape to the precautions taken to protect him from just such an attempt as was made this afternoon. He was on his way to a nearby town, where he intended to pass a few days. The procession had left the palace, and was traversing a narrow street, when two bombs were hurled down at it from the roof of a house. One exploded in the air, but the other struck the ground near the shah's automobile. The missile, in exploding, killed the three outriders, wounded the chauffeur and a score of bystanders, and shattered the vehicle. The shah, however, was not in his automobile. He had taken the precaution to send the motor car on ahead and ride himself in a carriage further in the rear of the procession. The motor car was a closed one, and it was thought that the sovereign was inside.

As soon as the shah heard the explosion, he alighted hurriedly from his carriage and entered a neighboring house. Here he remained quietly, while his attendants sent word for a detachment of troops. The soldiers were hurried to the scene, and forged in front of the house where the shah was. He then came out, and, surrounded by a big bodyguard, returned to the palace. The house from which the bombs were thrown and the buildings nearby were searched by the police, but no arrests were made.

REPUDIATES CONFESSION

Slayer of Father Leo Says He Did Not Kill Priest.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 28.—Giuseppe Alio, the slayer of Father Leo, who is conferring with Robert H. Widdicombe, counsel appointed by the court to conduct his defense, has repudiated his signed statement, made in jail at Colorado Springs, as well as his other confessions.

"I did not kill the priest, he fell dead," Alio declared last night. "I am a Catholic and had gone to the church to pray. I did not go there to receive the sacrament. While I was kneeling, the priest came along and put the sacrament in my mouth. It is against the rules of the Catholic church to take the host without first having been to confession, so I spat it out. The priest fell back and I heard everybody jump up. It being a strange place to me, I was afraid and I ran out."

Alio is in poor physical condition. He has evidently undergone privation, and his story of living on a single meal a day at the free soup house would seem to be borne out by his drawn face and weak frame.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 28.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Manitowish, Wis., says: William Kuersenberg of Marinette was shot and instantly killed in a street dispute at Maple Grove, a village twelve miles north of here, late last night. Cary Hayes of Chicago has been arrested as the murderer, and has been brought to this city in irons and lodged in jail. It is said the murder followed a heated argument.

CLAIM CHARGES ARE FRIVOLOUS

Mining Company Moves to Strike Out Portion of Answer.

Arguments will be heard at the special term of the district court tomorrow on the motion of the Butte & Superior Mining company to have stricken from John McAlpine's answer to their complaint, certain portions which the company claims are a sham, irrelevant and frivolous. The company recently started suit to recover $6,000 which it is claimed was due on mining stock subscribed for by Mr. McAlpine.

The latter answered the complaint by making charges of misrepresentation against the promoters of the company and the latter seek to have such allegations stricken from the answer. Davis & Hollister will argue for the mining company and J. B. Richards will appear for Mr. McAlpine.

Mr. McAlpine claimed, in his answer, that at the time referred to in the complaint, the stock was not worth more than 30 cents a share. He also claimed that the sale of the stock to him was a scheme of the promoters for their own personal gain, that they made a lot of money of the options, contracts, etc., and made certain representations to him simply to unload the stock and get his money for their private gain.

The officials of the Butte & Superior Mining company claim that Mr. McAlpine's charges are frivolous and made with the intention of casting reflection on the management of the company with a view of attempting to depreciate the value of the stock. They allege the charges are absolutely unfounded, and ask the court to have them stricken from the answer.

GOLD THIEVES PUNISHED.

Four Years and Four Months for Robbing Mining Company.

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 28.—Short shift was given Leroy Naff and William Harvey, both of whom were caught in the act of robbing the acid tank of the Mogul Mining company of its washed gold.

The prisoners pleaded guilty in the circuit court and were sentenced by Judge Rice to four years and four months, and three years and three months respectively, in the state penitentiary.

Had the thieves been a few minutes earlier or later they would have secured over $10,000 worth of gold which was in the tank.

MYSTERY IS UNSOLVED

Party at Lenox Seems Bent on Mysterious Mission.

There is a romance, or one might call it a mystery, at the Lenox. It concerns a man and four young women. Mystery unfolds the quintette, as a Missouri sun-bonnet shuts out an inquiring world to the comely charms of the features within. They have gone and left curiosity in their wake.

George J. Stevens, signing Chicago after his name, was the first to register. He engaged rooms for the young ladies. Miss Etta Palmer, whom he said was his wife, Florence Hobson, Florence T. and Elizabeth Walker. Mr. Stevens said that he did not want his wife to register as he was not married to her. He had no reason.

The young ladies reached the city on the South Shore night. This morning they departed. Mr. Stevens has gone too. All of the girls were registered from the Windy City. They didn't tell anyone where they were going.

Why didn't Mr. Stevens want his wife to register as Mrs. Stevens? Is the party going to surprise him, or is it merely a whim on the part of the young ladies? Nobody knows. They are all wondering, though, and getting any nearer to the solution of the mystery.

RAILROADS

EXTRA DIVIDEND.

Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co. Shows Large Profits.

New York, Feb. 28.—An extra dividend of 75 per share on its preferred stock, calling for a disbursement of $3,250,000, has been declared by the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company. It was learned today. Of the company's $11,000,000 preferred stock, the Union Pacific Railroad company and its auxiliaries own $10,932,399. The Union Pacific and its auxiliaries also own practically all of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company's $24,000,000 of common stock. The road is operated as a part of the Union Pacific system.

DECLARE DIVIDENDS.

Those of Milwaukee Road Are Unchanged From the Last.

New York, Feb. 28.—Directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company today declared semi-annual dividends of 3 1/2 per cent on the preferred and common stocks. These dividends are unchanged from those of the previous six months.

REACH UNDERSTANDING.

Suburban Railroads Will Pay Taxes on a New Assessment Basis.

St. Paul, Feb. 28.—Suburban railroads will pay taxes this year on the basis of a decision of the supreme court in the various communities through which they run and not on the gross earnings basis. An understanding to this effect was reached by a conference of the attorney general, members of the state railroad and warehouse commission and representatives of the railroads. The question of the taxation of the suburban railroads presented as complicated a result of a decision of the supreme court a few months ago, upon which the attorney general based an opinion that suburban railroads, as public utilities, should be taxed on the basis of the value of the property and not on the gross earnings. The court held that such roads are common carriers, and that under the law should be required to pay a gross earnings tax. The railroads demonstrated to the satisfaction of the commission that it would be impossible to make a report as a basis for the gross earnings tax and so it was decided that the old system of taxation shall prevail until the question is cleared up by further legislation.

READJUST RATES.

Des Moines, Feb. 28.—The first direct benefit promised as a result of the hearing of the Interstate Commerce commission was forecasted in the announcement of Freight Traffic Manager J. M. Pittmore of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, one of the defendants in the pending action, that he already is at work on a plan to readjust the rates against which Des Moines is complaining. The statement was made by Mr. Pittmore, as a witness for the defendant railroad before the Interstate Commerce Commissioners Lane and Clark. It resulted in an order from Commissioner Lane, suspending proceedings until the proposed new tariff is perfected. If the changes proposed by the railroad will place Des Moines and Minneapolis and St. Paul upon an equal footing, the territory in which they are competitors, the case will be dismissed.

Land of Geysers.

"The Land of Geysers" is the title of an attractive, handsomely illustrated booklet, just issued by the Northern Pacific. Thirty-two pages, inside of covers in color, are devoted to an alluring description of the beauties of Yellowstone Park. The several chapters are written up in the interesting fashion characteristic of Northern Pacific literature of the kind, and are descriptive of the park, the means of getting there, the hotels in the park, and other facts that are of interest to the tourist. A liberal supply of the booklets has been received at the city office of the road.

NO RIVALRY AT WALKER

Between Churches Over L. C. Ward, Who Posed as "Evangelist."

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please give place in your paper to the following, so as to correct the report in your issue of Feb. 26 concerning L. C. Ward. (L. C. Ward is his name).

L. C. Ward and a Mr. Hanson came to Walker Thursday evening, the 13th, of this month. They gave out that they came to hold revival meetings. They came without being invited. At first they were shut out of both churches, as neither one had any credentials. They tried to secure a hall, but failed. They were to begin meetings on Monday evening, the 17th, in the M. E. church, and had hand bills printed to advertise their meetings. But from the start the two "evangelists" disagreed. On Monday Mr. Hanson went back to Minneapolis. Ward stayed, and held meetings Monday and Tuesday evening in the Methodist church. On Wednesday evening, after dark, about 7:15, he suddenly disappeared.

In your notice (above referred to) of his whereabouts, etc., which appeared in yesterday's paper, it is stated that there was "rivalry between the churches over the sky pilot." The churches did not have any friction over Mr. Ward. The Methodists are without a pastor, and the only quarrel that I know of was between Mr. Ward and the other "evangelist." Mr. Ward is not a "Rev." nor is he an evangelist. Mr. Hanson was not even a member of any church.

THE HARVEST OF THE LOCATORS

How Dupes Contribute Fat Fees to Oregon Timber Locators.

C. P. Maginnis, formerly of Duluth, has written to The Herald stating that he is in receipt of many letters from old friends in this city regarding land locations, of which the following is a sample:

"I have lately received a little pamphlet, issued by Farrin & Farrin of Ashfield, Or., stating that in 1899 a railroad corporation was given a land grant of every odd numbered section through Clatsop county, a distance of twenty miles on either side of a railroad, known as the California & Oregon railway, and according to the terms of the grant, the railroad company is obliged to sell said lands to actual settlers at a price not to exceed $2.50 per acre, and not more than 160 acres to each individual, which it refuses to do, and that proceedings are begun to compel it to do so. I understand that these are some of the best timbered lands in Oregon, and that many applications have already been made for these lands. Please let me know what there is to this, and if anything, what you would advise in the matter, and if applications can be made without going there. There are several of us here who would like to go on a chance for these lands."

Mr. Maginnis encloses the following editorial from the Portland Oregonian, which answers all the questions asked:

"When the movement to recover from the Southern Pacific lands which it sold to hold in violation of the law began, the Oregonian suggested that intending settlers on these disputed lands would do well to proceed with as little expense as possible, as there would, for an indefinite term of years, be a contest, the results of which could not accurately be predicted. This warning against buying a 'pig in a poke' was not heeded, and the occasion has entered a number of enterprising timber locators to collect fat fees from about as large a number of dupes as ever engaged in any kind of a hunt for land in the Pacific Northwest. It is perhaps better late than never that the government should take some action toward protecting the eager victims who have paid these fees to the locators, in the belief that they would be secure for an expenditure of a few hundred dollars, and worth $5,000 to $15,000."

A dispatch from Palouse, Wash., in yesterday's Oregonian, says that the locating business is being investigated by a Portland postoffice inspector, who found in the office of a Palouse and Potlatch alone forty-five victims who had paid fees of $25 to the locators. There is an intense indignation of legal obstacles, running all the way from the faded "possession-is-nine-points-of-the-law" to the protection of the innocent purchaser, who in the form of a Southern Pacific stockholder, has fallen heir to the Southern Pacific timber holdings, which were originally secured by the "wicked partner" several transfers ahead of the one by which it fell into the hands of those who are now fighting to retain it. Now comes Mr. Riches, the government inspector, who is endeavoring to protect the speculators from their own cupidity, and he says that, even should the government succeed in regaining possession of the land, the applications now being filed would give the people of Palouse, Potlatch and a hundred other localities in the Pacific Northwest no prior rights over any...

The Oregonian would like to see this land restored to the public domain, and fall into the hands not necessarily of timber land speculators, but bona fide settlers. The present status of the controversy is such, however, that we fear the dupes of the locators are making an investment in any way superior to the gambler's chance."

THE SUPERIORITY OF THE STEINWAY

Was demonstrated Wednesday evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, when Madame Samaroff, the world-famous artist, gave a recital under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale. The playing of roused the hearers to great enthusiasm, and it was the consensus of opinion among those present that no other piano than the STEINWAY could the artist have produced the wonderful soul-stirring effects she did. The Steinway sounds the gamut of human emotions, and even simple music takes on a new charm when played on this king of all pianos. This, and the great reserve force which music lovers instinctively recognize, make the Steinway a thing beyond price to its owners. The Steinway is sold only by the Duluth Music company, 222 and 224 West First street.

Madame Samaroff

INSTRUCTED DELEGATION

Minnesota Sentiment is Almost Unanimous for Taft, Says Willcuts.

Delegates Will be Instructed for the Secretary of War.

According to St. Louis county members of the Republican state central committee, the Minnesota delegation to the national Republican convention will undoubtedly be instructed for Taft. This county was represented at the committee meeting in St. Paul yesterday by W. E. Calkin, John Harding, Grant McMahon, Odlin Hal- den, who held the proxy of H. B. Knudsen, and L. M. Willcuts, proxy for Thomas Martin.

"Taft sentiment is very strong all through the state, and the endorsement of his candidacy was practically unanimous at yesterday's meeting," said Mr. Willcuts today. "Sentiment in favor of sending a delegation instructed for him seems to be as good as unanimous in this state. Only three men yesterday were for anyone but Taft. J. C. Applegate of Cannon Falls expressed himself in favor of La Follette; J. F. Dahl of Minneapolis went on record as favoring Hughes, and C. H. Warner stood for the renomination of Roosevelt. I rather believe the second choice of these three men would be Taft."

The district conventions will instruct their delegates, and the state convention will instruct four delegates at large. All the St. Louis county men at the committee voted in favor of the Taft resolution, and there seems to be no question that the delegates from this district to the national convention will be instructed for him.

"Yesterday's meeting was a very successful and harmonious one all the way through. I heard virtually no talk relative to probable nominees for state offices. State politics, in respect to candidates for state offices, did not come up at all before the meeting. It is a little early yet to tell anything about the strength of public sentiment for present or prospective candidates for gubernatorial honors."

No Sufferer of Kidney Trouble or Rheumatism Should Leave It Untried.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for "vegetable" prescription many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless cure has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache, and, particularly, rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful, to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

BRAINERD MAN PRESIDENT. Minnesota Surveyors and Engineers Elect Officers.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 28.—The Minnesota Surveyors and Engineers' society, in session here, elected the following officers: President, C. K. Whately, Brainerd; vice president, L. P. Woolf, St. Paul; secretary, Nathan Butler, St. Paul; treasurer, J. H. Mullen, Pine City. Walter M. Wilson of St. Cloud read a paper on the Mankato irrigation project, which was followed by a report of the committee appointed at the last meeting. The committee reported that the project was a success, and that the land was now being irrigated. The society will meet again on March 1st.

BRAKEMAN BADLY HURT AT MAXISTIQUE, MICH.

Manistique, Mich., Feb. 28.—George Allen, a brakeman on the Ann Arbor railway here, was badly injured Wednesday night by being rolled between two cars. He was standing between a string of cars on a side track while the yard engine was being moved. The cars were pushed into him, and he was pinned and rolled. He was taken to the hospital, and his recovery is doubtful, as he is injured internally, necessitating an operation.

SENT HOME FROM NORTH DAKOTA

Saw Dr. Rea. Is Now Cured. Gilbert Gulbrandson, Rochester, Minn.

As the doctor said, I contracted consumption last fall, while in North Dakota. They said that I could not be cured, and that my case was beyond cure. I was in bad shape, coughed most all the time, and my lungs were sore, and as I was led to believe that I had consumption, I naturally was not much encouraged. In the course of events I heard of Dr. Rea, and he was spoken of highly. I knew it was up to me to do something, and, as a last resort, I went to see him. He professed to cure me, and said that he felt confident that a cure could be made. Said he did not think I had consumption, but had lost all energy. I placed great confidence in Dr. Rea, and told him I wanted him to treat me, no matter whether he could cure me or not. I felt that if anybody could cure me, Dr. Rea could. In two months from the time I first commenced doctoring with him, I gained thirty-two pounds. I had a good appetite, my circulation was good, my veins were filling up, and I felt a new lease of life. I am now thanking the Lord that I went to see Dr. Rea. His treatment has been all that I needed, and he has cured me. I can now do anything I want to do, and I feel like a new man.

These are the words as spoken by Mr. Gulbrandson, who is now in Duluth, where he speaks. There is another case, for instance, that is attracting more than unusual attention. Mr. N. Collins, Duluth, Minn., had been doctoring for four years. He had a complication of diseases with itching piles. Could not rest day or night. He told his doctor he was going to see Dr. Rea, but the doctor discouraged him, saying that it was too late. He went out of his pocket to do so. He told him that there was no cure for this disease. That he had the same disease for fourteen years, and could not do anything for himself, therefore he could not cure him.

Mr. Collins, in the meantime, saw Dr. Rea, and in a few months from the time he first commenced treating with Dr. Rea, he was completely

TOO HANDY WITH PENS

Couple Arrested at Brainerd Charged With "Raising" $1 Bill.

Uncle Sam Will Probably Prosecute Them for Counterfeiting.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Walnapper and Edward Brooks are in jail here charged with counterfeiting the first degree. On Tuesday they went to the store of Harry Van Sickle, agent for the Grand Union Tea company, and finding only his 12-year-old daughter, Annie, charged they bargained for a box of fifty-cent cigars, giving in payment a bill which had been raised from $1 to $5. They received the box of cigars and $5 in change. When Mr. Van Sickle returned the bill was shown to him and he found it was a counterfeit. The accused, who live near Mission, up the Mississippi river, about fifteen miles from Brainerd, were apprehended before they left town. The cigars were later turned over to the police and will be used in evidence. While the men were arrested on a charge of forgery, the United States authorities at St. Paul have been notified and have signified their intention of prosecuting the case under the laws against counterfeiting. The local authorities will gladly turn them over to the government officials, as their punishment would probably be heavier than here. The hearing on the forgery charges was continued until Friday morning.

The equipment for the Brainerd business college has arrived and the school will open in temporary quarters in a vacant store room in the sleeper block. The permanent quarters will be ready in about two weeks.

The Improved Order of Redmen expect to initiate a class of 500 candidates March 28. There have already been 100 of the number secured. The members of the local council of Redmen celebrated the first anniversary of their organization Thursday night, entertaining the Red Men and their ladies, and the applicants in the big Red Men club and their ladies. A large crowd was present and a most enjoyable time was had.

Dr. Rea announces the date of his next visit to Superior, at Superior Hotel, Friday, Feb. 28th, and Duluth, St. Louis Hotel, Saturday, Feb. 29th. This is the tenth year of Dr. Rea's continued professional visits to Superior and Duluth. He has made many remarkable cures, and his success as a specialist has long been proven. Consultations and examinations to those interested, $1.00.

burglars. The night following the robbery of his safe there was a robbery at Mildred, across the country from Nevis, evidently by the same gang of men.

What troubles Postmaster Pearson and his wife most is that the robbers knew the combination of the safe in the postoffice, and stole with a bundle of deeds and other valuable papers, their marriage certificate. What value the certificate will be to them no one seems to know.

The burglars also disdained to take the stamps, but scattered them all over the postoffice floor. All the currency in the safe was taken, and not a cent left. The papers stolen are deeds and other legal papers and can be of little value to the thieves, though of much value to Pearson.

The money taken was part of the postoffice money.

GODETTS TAKEN TO STILLWATER

Criticizes Neither Judge Nor Jury, But Maintains Innocence.

Benidit, Minn., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—James A. Godetts, the convicted murderer of Charles Williams, passed through Benidit Thursday, on his way from International Falls to Stillwater, to begin serving his sentence of life imprisonment. Godetts was in charge of P. A. Koski, sheriff of Koochiching county, and Deputy Sheriff J. A. Triska. He wore a neat suit of clothes, a white shirt and collar, and an apron. He appeared contented, and even cheerful. Asked as to what he thought of the trial and what were his views as to the verdict rendered by the jury and the sentence passed by Judge Spooner, Godetts said:

"I am entirely satisfied, and have no kick to make against the jury or the judge. I have made my peace with God, and had I been sentenced to the gallows without fear or trembling, knowing that He who doeth all things well committed a willful and premeditated murder; it was self-defense. I would have no fear, as long as I have made my peace with God. My one regret was that I could not have left to my wife and babies the money which I have been out of on that logging contract I had with Williams."

DOCTOR CHARGED WITH HER DEATH

Grand Forks Physician Accused of Performing Illegal Operation.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. J. A. Fawcett has been arrested on a charge of performing an illegal operation, which brought about the death of Miss Lillie Schmoedel, the 17-year-old girl who died last Friday at a local hospital. Dr. Fawcett's bond was fixed at $2,000, pending a hearing before Judge J. H. Church. He furnished the bond and was released.

The warrant was sworn out by William Starbuck, clerk of the principal witnesses at the inquest. State's Attorney Wineman believes that he is in possession of sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

He was a member of the Democratic party, and had been on the tracks of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. Misfortune Suddenly Overtakes a Fisherman at Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—While chatting with several companions at the cigar counter in a liquor store, John McLean, a well known Marquette fisherman, suddenly exclaimed that his eyesight was leaving him, and a little later he declared that he was wholly unable to see. The men to whom he had been talking were only half willing to believe him, but when they saw that he was in earnest, one of the number led him to a barrel room. He declared that he was wholly blind, and at his request was taken home in the Southern part of the city. It was stated yesterday that he was recovering from the attack of blindness, but was still confined to his home. It is not known what caused the attack.

DINING IN NEW YORK

Epicurean Attractions Second to None at Hotel St. Regis.

A STUDY IN GASTRONOMY

Matthew Arnold, in a lecture before London medical students, laid special stress upon what he was pleased to call "the spirit of the fire." As good digestion depends largely upon a good appetite, and as success and happiness in life is more often than most of us admit the result of good digestion, the selection of a dining establishment is most important.

New York City has many famous halls for feasting, but few so completely meet the appetizing requirements as the Hotel St. Regis. Here one will invariably find congenial surroundings, faultless tables and tempting viands, with a refined, homelike atmosphere, which is too often lacking in public dining halls.

Here "the spirit of the fire" predominates, yet, with a beauty and luxury such as few private houses can boast. Many of the foreigners have dined at the St. Regis, scores of influential Americans daily take their meals in this charmingly appointed dining room. And who shall say that many of the recent great achievements and successes in business, finance and diplomacy are not directly traceable to the esthetic and epicurean perfection of the St. Regis? For whatever adds to the agreeableness of life adds to its resources and power.

In these delights you may share, for the St. Regis is the most democratic of hotels, with restaurant charges the same as those at other first-class hotels. Transient patronage is especially invited, and a good room may be had for $1 a day, or one with private bath for $5, or a parlor, bedroom and bath for $12.

QUIET WEEK IN MARKET

Prices for All Sorts of Produce Remain Unchanged.

Michigan Street Has Offered No New Staples or Specialties.

This week has been an exceedingly quiet one in the produce markets. There have been no fluctuations in prices and the demand has continued about the same.

Receipts have been keeping up on about the same basis as a week ago. Oranges are plentiful and the price remains unchanged and the price of strawberries is becoming steadier. They are to be found in the market more often and they are coming in larger quantities.

Strawberry shortcake is not quite as expensive as a luxury. It was some time ago, but the berries are still dear enough to keep many good citizens from buying them when they see them nicely arrayed in the retail stores. Receipts of strawberries are becoming steadier. They are to be found in the market more often and they are coming in larger quantities.

Banana shortcake is something that goes better with the popular purse, for the bananas are 1 to 1/2 cents a pound on Michigan street.

Supplies of cranberries are getting lower, although they are still offered at 50c a barrel.

Sweet potato stocks are also fast disappearing. In a short time they will be entirely eliminated from the market, until next season. At present, sweet potatoes can be had at 85c per barrel.

The market for the white potatoes continues very firm, with prices ranging from 80 to 100 cents a barrel. The demand has continued steady and receipts rather light. There is no softening influences during the week.

Butter and eggs are unchanged. The butter market is still very strong, with the price of the best butter made in this state at 17c. The demand has continued steady and receipts rather light. There is no softening influences during the week.

Although the market for beef exhibits no visible change in prices, there is a strong undertone of uneasiness. The price of the best beef is 17c.

TWENTY FEMALES

Were the Victims of a Murderous Monk in Russia.

Verkhoturys, Perm, Russia, Feb. 28.—The circuit court of this town yesterday meted out partial justice to a monk, named Feodotoff, whose criminal and iniquitous life was revealed, last fall, by sentencing him to penal service for fifteen years. He came here about two years ago and set up a shrine in a neighboring forest, where he lived as a hermit. He soon attracted a great reputation for marvelous cures, and his little chapel, in the solitude of the woods, became the objective point for pilgrimages from all parts of the province of Perm. The monk enjoyed a great reputation for sanctity, but when the revelations came it was learned that his holy ways and works were nothing but a cloak for robbery, murder and debauchery of every kind. The reported disappearance of female pilgrims, who visited the monk's chapel, finally attracted the attention of the authorities, and investigation disclosed the bodies of no less than twenty victims whom Feodotoff had assaulted and murdered, and then buried in the cellar of his house. The charge that he had stolen the sacramental vessels from the monasteries was established against the hermit.

MINISTER ARRESTED.

Serious Charge Against Rev. Clyde Gow of Elsbury, Mo.

Elsbury, Mo., Feb. 28.—The Rev. Clyde Gow, pastor of the Methodist church of Elsbury, for whom a warrant was issued in connection with the death of Miss Elizabeth Gleason, grand-daughter of the founder of the town, was arrested today at the residence of a farmer, eight miles north of Elsbury. He was taken to Troy, Mo., where he was held in jail.

Dr. W. A. Hemphill, a prominent physician, who was arrested when the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Miss Gleason had died from the effects of an operation, attends Mr. Gow's church.

Mrs. Sarah Gleason, the girl's mother, testified before the coroner that her daughter told her on her deathbed that she was dying from an operation by Dr. Hemphill, and said, "Mother, I have been deceived by Mr. Gow. He sent me to Dr. Hemphill."

MANITOWOC TALKING I.D. Manitowoc, Wis., Feb. 28.—An audience finding the closing hour for sessions at 11 or midnight is being agitated and a measure is in preparation to adjourn at 11 or midnight. The council will also pass an ordinance abolishing wine jugs and curtains. It is said and will order strict enforcement of all state and city laws relating to liquor traffic.

STOLYPIN IN DREAD

Of Murder, and Extraordinary Measures Taken to Protect Him.

St. Petersburg Gives "Gentle" Hint About Open Door Policy.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—The most pressing question of internal policy at the present moment is the reorganization of the police and a reduction of crimes against person and property to normal limits. Some slight progress has undoubtedly been made in this matter, but much remains unachieved and unattempted. Two men whose disappearance would entail grave consequences, are being hunted down like game, and only by dint of extraordinary measures, which amount to deprivation of liberty, are their lives preserved. They are the premier, M. Stolypin, and the commander of the St. Petersburg district, the Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaievitch.

At the ceremonies held in Tsarkoe Selo, at the beginning of the new year, the grand duke ought to have been present, but, being warned and entreated by the police, he abstained. Instead, however, of the grand duke, another person very courageously entered the grand duke's carriage and drove along the route, appearing conspicuously from time to time, in order to mislead would-be assassins.

Many Are Arrested.

At certain points on the journey seemingly harmless pedestrians, plunging hand in pocket and rushing to approach the carriage, were arrested by vigilant detectives before any damage could be done. In the pockets of each of these persons the usual explosives were found. The grand duke is hated by the revolutionaries for supposedly signing a number of the death sentences passed on duly convicted murderers, which, as a matter of fact, he never signed, because they were not presented to him for confirmation.

Women, who have played an important part in Russian revolution, have now broken the record in the Polish city of Lublin, where a redoubtable organization of highwaywomen has been striking the peaceful citizens with terror. Into this band of brigandesses no male postulant is admitted; every member is armed from head to foot, and although they occasionally attack men likely to have large sums on their persons, they pay special attention to individuals of their own sex. The police have not yet succeeded in breaking up the organization or arresting the principal members.

Japan Closely Watched.

All sorts of rumors as to imminent complications in the Far East and the dispatch of reinforcements to Transbaikalia have been rife for some days past. Suspicion has naturally been aroused in many quarters that these stories constitute a maneuver inspired by the supporters of the big navy scheme; but from careful inquiry there appears to be some genuine basis for apprehension with regard to the relations between China and Japan, and that Russia, therefore, thinks it wise to be on her guard.

Japan's action in regard to Manchuria is being watched very closely by Russian diplomacy, and it is believed that the recent publication of the Russian Orange Book, though giving only the briefest possible summary of the negotiations which led up to the Russo-Japanese treaty, pledged herself to the integrity of Manchuria and the open door in Manchuria. It is difficult to separate the false from the true, but the Russian government is undoubtedly in a position to secure valuable information from M. Shupoff, who has just returned from the Far East.

Fears Not Home Out.

It is understood that his impressions, while justifying some anxiety owing to the arrival of the Trans-Siberian railway, Japan between the Chinese and the Japanese, are far from bearing out the alarmist views which some hot-headed persons would like to propagate. Cool-headed skeptics did not fail to note that these sensational developments in the Far East seemed timed to coincide with the arrival of the American squadron in the Pacific. At best, however, the situation in the Far East is disquieting.

The government has finally introduced a bill for the construction of a second rail line across the Trans-Siberian railway. The work of duplication will, it is estimated, cost $50,000,000. For the current year the government only asks credit of $15,000,000.

Youth Rejects $150,000 to Give Up Religious Belief.

London, Feb. 28.—Human nature abounds in startling contrasts, but seldom are its contrasts so strikingly revealed as in two cases, which have just come to the notice of the public. One of them the person concerned has rejected a considerable fortune, but for reasons which are as wise as art; the other, a young man, who has a claim of gentle birth and breeding and good education has refused to accept a legacy of $50,000 in order that he may be able to give equal advantages in his birth has turned his back on such a fortune, and has chosen to follow his father's business, to continue on attached to the family, and to return to his father. The man who has rejected the fortune is a Jew, and he has done so because he lives in sordid poverty, and the child of his sex. The man who has accepted the fortune is a Jew, because she has a stronger motive to gratify her ambition than to gratify her love. I am sure she says in effect, "through my ambition, I have been able to gratify my love; therefore, I will not gratify my love, but I will gratify my ambition to grace." My dictionary has also the word "penitential" and unrepentant Magdalen; in no other way can I explain the contrast.

[illegible]

It took some time to find the girl. It was discovered that she was living in the old Mary Ann's place. There were some thoroughfare of moral laraz houses, and the girl was found. Her fingers were not white; she was not a beauty. She was a girl with frank abandon as "I think you are a police officer," she said. In her most abandoned hours, when she is giving them that she is not like the rest of the world, she is giving them the most beautiful things. How different was shown by her past. She was a girl who had been the fortune, which was here to claim; of the world more so than the girl who was the worst back. "I don't want the money; it comes too late to be in my hands. I want to be a girl who can break, too. Money can not compensate for the things that are in the world. A cup of bitterness in the drink, so shall they. Revenge is all I have left to live for."

Surely not even in the pages of fiction did a woman ever adopt a stranger's method of revenge. She sacrifices a fortune and elects to lead a life of unspeakable degradation merely to heap shame on those who share her name.

But in these days when most people are absolutely indifferent to Christian creeds, many will find the attitude of the young man only a trifle less incompressible. Henry Boxedale is his name. His father was a member of a quality Christian sect known as "Plymouth Brethren," a fact, however, which did not prevent him from accumulating great treasures on earth. His son Henry joined the Bible Brotherhood, a sect which claims to have rediscovered prin-

Nerve energy is the force that controls the organs of respiration, circulation, digestion and elimination. When you feel weak, nervous, irritable, sick, it is often because you lack nerve energy, and the process of rebuilding and sustaining life is interfered with. Dr. Miles' Nerveine has cured thousands of such cases, and will we believe benefit if not entirely cure you. Try it.

"My nervous system gave away completely, and left me on the verge of the grave. I tried skilled physicians but got no permanent relief. I got so bad I had to give up my business. I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In a few days I was much better, and I continued to improve until entirely cured. I am in business again, and never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy." MRS. W. L. BURKE.

Say Most Men in France, But Women Uphold It

Paris, Feb. 23.—The controversy inspired by Paul Bourget's play at the Vaudeville, entitled "Un Divorce," has now spread beyond the confines of the theater and is absorbing the press, whose columns are monopolized by communications showing whether the writers believe in the permanency of the marriage bond, the present divorce law, divorce by mutual consent, divorce on the application of one party or free love.

Curious as it may seem, the opponents of free love, or easy divorce, are mostly men, while those who advocate a more liberal divorce, or free love, are women. And one sex is just as vehement as the other in declaring its principles, or, as their opponents declare,

One man writes violently that free love is only fit for animals. "So far the chief thing that distinguishes man from beasts is that he looks after his offspring." Another merely wants to know, when marriage has become a mere contract, "who will be the lessee? Will the man hire the woman or the woman engage the man?" The point is understood to be important.

is undoubtedly important. The two most serious letters which, in my opinion, are of the greatest value to men whose wives are incurable lunatics, but whom the law in France cannot free on that ground. One says: "My legal wife has been in an insane asylum for fifteen years. I have tried to obtain a divorce, on the ground of incurable mental disease, but the law denies it to me. Pending a change of the law I live freely with a woman who is my true wife. I venture to think myself just as honest a man as M. Paul Bourget." Another writes that he is 34, and that his wife, who is 28, has been four years in an asylum for insanity. He asks: "The law condemns him to live in celibacy for the rest of his life."

Several women who signed themselves spinsters are most eloquent on the subject of more liberal forming and breaking of the matrimonial bond. So respectable a body as an association of lady shorthand writers and typists sends a joint letter which calls

The female surgeon, who lets the cat out of the bag at the end of her letter a little naively: "I was once ill because I informed my doctor that I could not tell him for sure before marrying him whether I really did love him." There is an unmistakable personal equation in the opinion of one woman who writes: "I am for divorce by the wish of one party only. I do not sign my name, because I am afraid of my husband. If only the law I want were voted."

PAN-ANGLICAN CONGRESS
Expenses Will be Covered by Sale of Guinea Tickets.

London, Feb. 28.—During the past few months the interest in the Pan-American congress, which is to be held in London from June 16 to 22, has been immensely quickened. In the home dioceses, bishops, clergy and laity have been organizing subsidiary agencies and diffusing information, as well as collecting funds for the general thank offering.

In the states, the colonies and missionary dioceses the value and significance of the congress have been recognized to such an extent that Rev.

A. B. Myers, the secretary, was able to state the other day that every Anglican diocese in the world would be represented. The total number of such dioceses is now 249, and at present more than 200 bishops have signified their intention of being present. Each diocese can send six representatives, and in the aggregate these will number between 800 and 900, and naturally include men of the yellow and black races from every country in the Eastern and Western hemispheres.

Another, and, as the secretary hopes, final revision of the program has been made. One section has been added, namely, that of the "Church's Duty to the Young." The other six sections may be summarized as follows: (a) "The Church and Human Society," (b) "Christian Truths and Other Intellectual Forces," (c) "The Church's Ministry," (d) "The Church's Missions in the World," (e) "The Church's for the offense is imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than five years, or in the county jail for not more than a year, or by a fine not exceeding $500. Pryor is a confessed bigamist, but under the statute by which he was convicted the offense is designated as polygamy.

OLD MAN ALONE IN STRANGE CITY

Westerner Arrested on Charge of Drunkenness and Discharged.

Far from the place he calls his home, penniless, friendless, and unable to talk a word of English, the plight of Sever P. Wickstrom, a man, 38 years of age, who appeared in the lineup in police court this morning, is a sad one. He was arrested in West Duluth last evening on a charge of drunkenness, but his earnest statement this morning that he never touched liquor made an impression on Judge Windom, and he was discharged without a trial. Prosecutor McKee moved for a dismissal.

Through an interpreter, Wickstrom told the court that he came east from Spokane, Wash., some weeks ago. He said he conducted a livery stable in the Washington city, but that he is a blacksmith by trade. Arriving in St. Paul, he was taken ill and sent to a hospital, where he lay for several weeks. Recovering, he sought to secure money enough to return to his home, and he went to Hibbing, where he thought a place awaited him.

On his arrival at Hibbing, he said he found that the place had been filled. He returned to Duluth, he said, and found himself without money or friends. He said he sent to Spokane for money to return home, and last night, being without lodging, applied at the West Duluth station for a place to sleep, whereupon he was arrested.

He was positive in his assertion that he wasn't in a saloon, and didn't drink anything. Although the officer wasn't present, the old man's story made an impression on the court, and out of consideration for the prisoner's age and evident sincerity, Judge Windom granted Attorney McKee's motion for a dismissal of the case.

WEST END

DUMPED INTO THE MUD.

Carriage Wheel Breaks and Girl Takes a Flying Somersault.

The next time a young woman in the West end wants to get up town in a hurry, she will not hail William Schnucke, the broom manufacturer, and ask for a seat in his carriage. She did it one day this week, to her sorrow.

Arrayed in her finest gown and the rest of the equipment, she left home with the idea of going uptown and buying some wedding presents. She was in a big hurry to get there, and as there was no car in sight, she decided to ride with Mr. Schnucke, who happened to be driving by.

Mr. Schnucke said he would be delighted to have her ride with him. Knowing Mr. Schnucke very well, the girl hopped into the buggy.

The rig had not gone a great distance when a nut on one of the front wheels came off. It came off very suddenly and the girl was pitched forward did a complete somersault, and landed in the mud and slush of the street.

When she regained her feet the young lady was a sight to behold. Her clothes were covered with slush and mud, but she was unhurt. Mr. Schnucke escaped more fortunately, as the disabled wheel was not on his side of the buggy.

The accident proved fatal to the shopping expedition. The girl decided to postpone it and went home.

Now the question is, can the lady collect damages from Mr. Schnucke for the damage to her clothes and dignity.

REPUBLICANS TALK.

Improvements for the West end were discussed by the members of the West End Republican club at a lively meeting held last evening in Sloan's hall, Twelfth avenue west and Superior street. The Piedmont avenue street car extension proved the most absorbing topic. Most of those present declared themselves in favor of the extension. Alderman Peter Olson, Alderman Kennedy and Alderman McKnight of the First ward announced themselves in favor of it.

Andrew Hornegren seemed to strike a popular chord when he said that it was just as well that the West end police station proposition had been abandoned for the time being, as there were no available policemen to occupy it anyway. He thought the police force in the West end part of the city most inadequate.

Other speakers were J. C. Wessberg, J. W. Cummings, Joseph Rich and President George M. Jensen.

Mrs. Prytz Entertains.

Mrs. Oscar Prytz entertained this week in honor of her birthday. More than a score of guests enjoyed a pleasant evening at the Prytz home. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Dahl, Daniel Dahl, Harry Christenson and Heath; Misses Ragnar Prytz, Esther Prytz, Gladys Prytz, Alice Gunner, Elmer Heath, Harry Prytz and Messrs. Ivers, Benjamin Cameron and Roy Prytz, Jr.

OUR SECOND FLOOR will be the Mecca of careful dressers, who appreciate superb styles at reasonable prices. Employment Agent is Called Upon to Make Good.

Rev. J. T. Moody Says
He Can Produce 150
Idle Men.

"If that employment agent who said there was a job for every able bodied man in Duluth, will guarantee to give them each a month's work, I will supply him with 100 men and pay the employment office fee," said Rev. J. T. Moody of the Bethel this morning, in reference to the statement made by a Duluth employment agent to The Herald last evening, that there was work for all.

"The trouble is that many employment agents are unreliable. I don't say they all are, but I have had many complaints from men who have paid money for a job and then either did not get it, or were let out a few days after they reached the camp, because of the closing of the camp or because the company was given more men than it ordered. These men have frequently had to walk back to the city. I know one man who walked forty miles back to town after paying his last dollar to the employment agent.

"I could furnish this man with 150 men by 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. They are men who are willing to do any honest work that will give them food and clothing. These men have not the price to pay for their employment office tickets, but they will pay it out of their first wages, or as I said before, I will pay for the jobs for 30 men. If the agent will give me any assurance that the work will last a month.

"Conditions here have not been exaggerated, and if any one is not convinced that there are scores and even hundreds of deserving men looking for work, he should just visit our free breakfast line and see for himself."

Carewheat, the well known remedy for babies and children, will quiet the little one in a short time. Ingredients are printed on the bottle. Sold by all druggists.

MAY BE READY

Courthouse Can Probably be Built Within Three Years.

The county board and the courthouse commission intend to prosecute vigorously the preliminary steps to acquire the necessary ground, at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Second street, and for the construction of the new courthouse.

From the moment Commissioner Charles Kauppi's resolution, favoring the grouping plan, and directing the location of the building at the street and avenue was passed by the board, no time has been lost in setting in motion the county's legal department, with a view of acquiring the property needed.

Several members of the board have expressed their intention to see that the courthouse matter is pushed as rapidly as possible, and some of them have expressed the opinion that the county officials will be installed in the new building inside of two and one-half years. If this prediction is realized it will mean that the board and the commission will insist that the persons who get the construction contracts put on a large force of workmen and push the work to the best of their ability.

It has been commonly talked that the courthouse could not be built within a period of four or five years, but the members of the county board claim that a courthouse such as planned by the Chicago architects, can be erected on the site selected in less than three years. If this can be done, it is possible that the county will be able to get along with its present quarters for that term. The courts and the county officials are working at a great disadvantage, owing to the crowded condition of the old building, but if they can be convinced that the conditions will not exist more than about three years longer, every effort will be made to make the best of the situation.

If the building of a new courthouse were to require a term of four or five years, it is practically certain that the county would have to either build more "wards" to the old building, or lease additional quarters elsewhere.

WAGON STRUCK
BY STREET CAR

Man and Boy Are Rendered Unconscious by Fall.

While crossing the Lester Park bridge, last evening, about 8 o'clock, the wagon driven by H. J. Dickey, a logging contractor, was struck by one of the Lakeside cars, and Mr. Dickey and his son, Charles, who was on the wagon with him, were hurled from their seats.

The driveway on the bridge, it is claimed, is too narrow for a wagon to pass without striking a car crossing on the same side of the bridge.

Both Mr. Dickey and his son were rendered unconscious, and had to be carried to their home. Mr. Dickey soon recovered, but the boy is still suffering from some severe cuts and bruises.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.
Thomas Clark Left Eau Claire Prosperous, Returns Pauper.

Eau Claire, Wis., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—After an absence from the city of over thirty years, Thomas Clark, aged 72, dropped into town again last night, but found things greatly changed.

When Clark left Eau Claire, thirty-two years ago, he was in pretty prosperous circumstances, but possessed a roving disposition. He was then a molder in Noah Shaw's old foundry. When he arrived here last night, he was far from being in a prosperous condition, as he was free from all the money, and had to seek a night's lodging at the city jail, as he had no friends to appeal to.

WRENCHES KNEE; PLAY POSTPONED

Accident at Rehearsal of High School Play Causes Delay.

Because Leo Schmidt, who had the leading roles in both of the high school plays, slipped on a rug while rehearsing last evening, the production of the play has been indefinitely postponed.

During the final rehearsal last evening, the youth wrrenched his knee. No attention was paid to it at the time, as it was thought to be only a slight strain, and the young man was unable to walk. The doctors are unable to say how soon he will be able to use his legs, and the play had to be postponed, as it was too late to get anyone to fill the parts.

JUROR'S GOOD EXCUSE.
Grand Juror, N. D., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. B. Matteson of Strabane township, will have no trouble in being excused by Judge Templeton from service at the March term of court, which convenes Tuesday. He is in the first stages of smallpox, according to a message received from Inkster by Clerk of Court Spaulding.

ALWAYS HUNGRY.

Ordinary Food Never Satisfied Her.

A young lady in Minn. writes of her experience: "After a disheartening struggle for five years against the ill attendant on malnutrition of food, I am at last on the high road to recovery, and feel impelled to give credit where it is due. Some years ago I had a long illness, due to stomach trouble. Every meal I ate caused me either excruciating pain or a dull, heavy misery that was even worse. I weighed but 90 lbs., was almost hopeless, as I found that a poorly nourished body means lack of brain power and ambition.

"I was always ravenously hungry, and while I could not eat the appetizing dishes on the table, I longed for them. That longing is what prompted me to try Grape-Nuts. The food had a flavor that I liked—rich, without being heavy.

"I left off my daily laxative, as I found I did not need it, for Grape-Nuts was so easily digested, constipation soon disappeared. I found, too, that I did not grow tired of Grape-Nuts, and continued to eat it.

"For my other meals, I have gained 10 pounds in less than a year, and that is nothing compared with my gain in strength and courage.

"I can now eat a hearty meal, which satisfies my appetite, and it does not leave me, as formerly, feeling as though I had dined on tacks." "There's a reason."

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE

Woodsman Believed to Have Been Killed by Train.

Blood and pieces of flesh scattered along the Great Northern railway tracks, near Dedham, Wis., lead friends of Steve Hirzocovich, who mysteriously disappeared Monday afternoon, to believe that he might have met his death by being run down by a train.

The man was employed by the St. Croix Lumber company at Dedham, Wis., and came to Duluth for his clothing Monday morning. He left on the return trip in the afternoon, but did not report for work at the camp. Several Austrian friends, becoming concerned over his disappearance, walked over the tracks this side of Dedham, and found blood and pieces of flesh.

They reported to the Duluth police last night. The police were unable to learn of any body having been picked up along the track.

FOUND GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

S. A. Phillips, Formerly of Duluth, Convicted of Serious Crime.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury in the Ramsey county district court last night found S. A. Phillips, Northwest manager and agent for the Hancock company, which had charge of the flotation of the capital stock of the Chicago-New York Electric Air Line company, guilty of grand larceny in the first degree. The verdict was returned at 10 o'clock last night.

The specific charge was that Phillips had embezzled $2,500 of the funds of the Hancock company, while acting as its representative in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. It was alleged that he made contracts in the name of the company for the sale of the stock of the company, and converted the proceeds of the sale to his own use. These sales, it was charged, were not reported to the company, but the orders were filled with stock that Phillips had purchased on his own account.

This afternoon Judge Bunn will decide whether to pass sentence at once or to defer until arguments are made for a new trial. The penalty for grand larceny in the first degree is imprisonment for not less than ten years.

Phillips has for years been more or less prominent in the Northwest as a newspaper man and a promoter. He was connected at one time with the Minneapolis Tribune, and later was business manager of the old Duluth Tribune, since consolidated with the News. He was also in the life insurance business in Duluth, and has also been in the advertising business in New York, and was a promoter of the Kalamazoo Electric line. He was born in Lockport, Ill., 43 years ago, and came to St. Paul when he was 19 years old. When a young man, he worked as a compositor in Chicago.

HUSBAND SHOT AT HER,
Claims Mrs. White, and Judge Grants Her Divorce.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 28.—That her husband had narrowly missed murdering her by shooting in their home in Chicago in October, 1906, was one of the allegations by which Mrs. Hazel White of Grand Forks, was granted a divorce in Judge Charles F. Templeton's court. Plaintiff is granted the custody of a minor child, now 11 months old. She was married to White in Chicago, June 26, 1905, and lived with the defendant thirteen months in Chicago, and until January, 1907, in Grand Forks. Then White moved to Chicago, taking all the plaintiff's money and part of her clothing and part of the baby's clothing.

WISCONSIN COMMITTEE,
After Wrangling, Finally Endorses La Follette for President.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 28.—The state central Republican committee has passed resolutions endorsing Senator La Follette as a presidential candidate after bitter fighting by members of the committee who opposed the original La Follette resolution which devoted one line to La Follette and none to the state officers. The La Follette leaders after a contest lasting all yesterday afternoon agreed to a substitute, which warmly endorsed the president and the state administration as well as La Follette.

WIDOW'S NEW LOVE GIVEN $17,000, THEN DISAPPEARS.

Paris, Feb. 28.—Among the many gay matrimonial adventures, that of a just-to-be Parisian widow, which has just been made public, deserves a place of honor. The widow in question had already "passed the midway of this mortal life," and in spite of her millions she was not happy, but felt very lonely without a partner. Having taken her conscience into her conscience, she was told there was nothing easier than to find her a suitable husband.

The concubine at once promised to act as matrimonial agent, on the promise of a good commission, and before long introduced a handsome-looking individual with a profusion of jewelry and an eyeglass, who presented himself as the director of an insurance company, drawing nearly $10,000 a year. The widow immediately fell in love with him, and even advanced him a sum of $17,000 soon after their engagement.

But once the man had the money in his pocket, he never returned, and the widow, to her intense disappointment, has ascertained that he was not only a common swindler, but was already married and had a number of children.
The insurance company, she learns,
was also a myth.

CASES OF INTEREST.

PROTECTION OF PROPRIETARY MEDICINE.—In Moxie Nerve Food company vs. Moxie, 152 Federal Reporter, 495, the United States circuit court for the District of Rhode Island lays down the proposition that a maker of a proprietary medicine, seeking the aid of a court of equity in the protection of his trademark rights, should be required, as a part of its affirmative case, to allege and prove that its preparation is what it purports to be; there being no presumption that such representations are true upon which a court can act. The court says: "The complaint seeks protection in the sale of bottled goods, he should be willing to swear that his bottles contain what he represents to the public that they contain, and that his goods are in fact what they are sold for."

STATE REGULATION OF CONNECT-ING CARRIERS.—The United States supreme court, in Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company vs. North Carolina Corporation commission, 27 Supreme Court Reporter, 58, 205 U. S. 1, 51, 52, 53, 54, holds that a ruling of the state commission requiring the operation of an extra train at a loss in order to restore connections at a certain station is not so arbitrary and unreasonable as to amount to a denial of due process of law, or to a deprivation of the equal protection of the law, so long as the income of the railroad company from its business in the state affords adequate remuneration.

STATE TAXATION OF NATIONAL SECURITIES.—A tax imposed under authority of section 122 of the Code of Iowa, directing that shares of stock in state banks shall be assessed to such banks and not to individual stockholders, was by the United States supreme court in Home Savings Bank vs. City of Des Moines, 27 Supreme Court Reporter, 58, 205 U. S. 505, 51 L. Ed. 90, held to violate the immunity of national securities from state taxation, as the substantial effect of the tax was to require taxation upon the property, not including the franchise of such state banks, and to adopt the value of the shares as the measure of taxable value of such property without allowing any deduction from such value on account of the bonds of the United States owned by the banks.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.—The supreme court of Arkansas in State vs. St. Louis & S. F. Railway company, 103 Southwestern Reporter, 62, holds that a law requiring railroad companies to keep depot waiting rooms open day and night, except in certain cases, and to keep them at all proper times, provisions of the fourteenth amendment of the United States Constitution.

TOLL BRIDGES.—A toll bridge company authorized to maintain a bridge and to collect tolls for the passage of certain vehicles, automobiles and trucks, included in the charter, is not authorized to collect toll for the passage of automobiles according to the recent decision of the trial term of the New York supreme court in Mallory vs. Saratoga
Lake Bridge company, 104 New York Supplement, 1025. The fact that automobiles were not known at the time of the enactment of the charter the court considers to make no difference.

LIABILITY OF RESTAURANT KEEP-ERS FOR KIDNAPING PATRONS.—A resaurant keeper whose waiters eject a patron who annoys the other patrons of the restaurant is liable unless excessive force is used, according to the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States in Chase vs. Knabel, 90 Pacific Reporter, 612. The court says that a resaurant keeper owes it to his patrons to protect them from annoyance.

MASTERS' LIABILITY FOR SERV-ANTS' TORTS.—In Shay vs. American Iron & Steel Manufacturing company, 57
Atlantic Reporter, 54, the Pennsylvania supreme court holds that a corporation is not liable for damages to a house and injuries to the owner by the negligent shooting by the master employed to destroy the place of strikers, where the shooting was directed from a building owned by the master, and was not authorized by defendant, and not within the scope of the employment of the persons doing it. The decision is based on the theory that a master is not liable for injuries resulting from the willful conduct of his servants if induced within the scope of his authority or employment.

PATENT MEDICINE MONOPOLY.—In John D. Park & Sons company vs. Hartman, 153 Federal Reporter, 24, the United States circuit court of appeals for the Sixth circuit holds that a manufacturer of a proprietary medicine is not immune from the common law prohibitions monopolies and unreasonable restraints in trade by the Sherman act. The medicine is manufactured under a secret or private formula, and hence such manufacturer cannot by contract and purchase of his medicines to sell them only at a designated price, so as to make them persons from purchasing such medicines and selling them at any price they may choose.

SMUGGLING.—A person may be guilty of smuggling even before he has passed the custom lines on the docks of an incoming steamer, according to the decision of the United States district court for the Southern district of New York in United States vs. 2154 Carls Loose Em-eralds, 153 Federal Reporter, 648. Then the proper customs officer examines the incoming passenger's baggage, and questions him whether he has any pearls, or property which he has not declared, or any precious stones about his person, and the defendant denies the state the truth, and when the examination is finished, and the passenger's baggage is found to contain pearls, the defendant having admitted it, the state without further proof is complete.

LIABILITY FOR TORT OF STREET CAR CONDUCTOR.—If the conductor of a street car, while engaged in the prosecution of his business, negligently neglects in collecting fares and refuses to give a passenger correct change, and upon request therefor draws a pistol and shoots at the passenger, but the ball misses the passenger and strikes a woman standing on the public street through which the car is running, causing her death, the street car company is liable, according to the decision of the Georgia supreme court in Savannah Electric company vs.
Wheeler, 38 Southeastern Reporter.

CRIMINAL LAW.—In United States vs.
Battle, 154 Federal Reporter, 50, Judge
Speer, of the United States circuit court, Western District of Georgia, Southern division, held that a crime committed on ground acquired by the United States and ceded to it by the state of Georgia was within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States courts. He held that the state has authority to act on the ground to the United States, and where it does so the only power which can exclude jurisdiction over such territory is punish crimes committed thereon is the United States, even though the state has retained the right to exercise its process on the territory ceded.

FRAUD IN SALES.—Where a purchase-er is induced to enter into a contract of purchase by fraudulent representation that a combination or trust is about to be formed for the purpose of controlling the sale of articles of the nature of those purchased, and that such trust will increase the price of such articles after a given time, this is sufficient to prevent a recovery for the purchase of such articles take the articles contracted for, according to the decision of the Pennsylvania supreme court in Standard Interlock Elevator company vs. Wilson, 67 Atlantic Reporter, 462.

to recover damages for the death of his wife and wanton wrong resulting in the death of plaintiff's intestate, according to the decision of the Alabama supreme court in Louisville & N. R. company vs. Perkins, 41 Southern Reporter, 292.

CARBON COPY AS ORIGINAL EVID-ENCE.—The decision of the Pennsylvania supreme court in Co. vs. Elwood Power company, 5 Atlantic Reporter, 67, that a complete carbon copy of a writing is admissible in evidence without notice to produce the original, was noticed some time ago in these columns.
The doctrine announced in this case now receives further support in the decision by the supreme court of Minnesota in the case of International Harvester company vs. Efstrom, 112 Northwestern Reporter, 32.

VALIDITY OF FEDERAL EMPLOY-ER'S LIABILITY ACT.—The constitutionality of the Federal Employer's Liability act (Act Cong. June 8, 1906, c.
359) has been questioned in several cases.
In Brooks vs. Southern Pacific Co., 181 Federal Reporter, 595, and Howard vs. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 185 Federal Reporter, 27, the act was held unconstitutional, as not being within the constitutional power of congress to regulate commerce. But the act has been upheld as constitutional in the recent cases
Spina vs. St. Louis & S. F. R. Co., 151
Federal Reporter, 527; Sneed vs. R. Co., 151 Federal Reporter, 527; and Kelley vs. Great Northern Ry. Co., 152 Federal Reporter, 211.

USE OF HIGHWAYS.—The Alabama
supreme court in Kennamer vs. State, 45 Southern Reporter, 82, holds that an act requiring persons hauling logs over the public roads to secure a license is not vulnerable on the ground that it is class legislation.

AUTHORITY OF NEXT FRIEND OF INFANTS.—Arkansas has a statute providing that any person may bring an action of an infant as his next friend, but this statute does not authorize the next friend to receive the money recovered in an action, according to the decision of the Arkansas supreme court in Wood & Henderson vs. Claiborne, 102 Southwestern Reporter, 20. Hence the payment by an infant's attorney of the proceeds of a judgment to his next friend, and the prosecution of the action as next friend, is unauthorized.

NEW TRIAL.—A case in which the heated does not violate the provisions of the fourteenth amendment of the United States Constitution. The court in New York supreme court. In this case, which was an action for personal injury,
the plaintiff alleged that the defendant negligently caused the plaintiff to be injured while riding on a street car. The plaintiff, which on appeal was affirmed by the appellate division and the court, held that a new trial should be granted to the plaintiff. Several years passed, and the attack of paralysis did not materialize.
The plaintiff was therefore granted an application, though the case did not come within the settled rule, the granting of a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

"I AM ALL IN."—The supreme court of Nevada in State vs. Paul, 102 Pacific Reporter, 21, defines the expression, "I am all in," as used by a person making a will, to be understood as holding that under such circumstances the expression may be taken to mean that the testator considers his life as practically at its end.

DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION OF PROPERTY.—Substituting statutory enactments for the common law in declaring the intestate's estate to be in the decedent's estate, 30 Pacific Reporter, 82, recently decided by the California supreme court, holds that where an illegitimate child, not acknowledged by his father, dies intestate, without issue, his estate goes to his mother or to his father, if he has a will, in the case at bar this law seems to work a substantial injustice, for it holds that the child's estate goes to his father, not acknowledged by his father, daughter, not acknowledged by his father, passing on, and leaving a husband to another illegitimate child of her predecessor.

INSURANCE.—The Iowa supreme court decided in the recent point insurance law in New York Life Insurance Company vs. Chittenden, 153 Federal Reporter, Northwestern Reporter 56. An insured had been absent and unheard of for more than a year, and the administrator had been appointed for his estate. A declaration of death was made by the insurance company, and it was paid.
Afterwards it was discovered that insured was not dead. Thereupon the insurance company brought this action to recover the payment made out, as the insurance company had been voluntarily by the company, the court held that it was not entitled to recover.

DIVERSION OF WATERS OF RIVER FOR IRRIGATION PURPOSES.—A case of more than ordinary interest is the decision of the United States supreme court in United States vs. River, 153 Federal Reporter, 65, 205 U. S. 46, 51 L. Ed. 95, recently decided by the United States supreme court. In this case the state of Kansas sought to enjoin such use of the waters of the Arkansas river in the state of Colorado as would diminish the flow of water in the river in the state of Kansas to the injury of the people thereof, and the United States sought to intervene on the ground that the flow of the river was subject to the superior authority and authority of the federal government.
The right of intervention of the national government was denied on the ground that the reclamation of arid lands is not one of the powers granted to the federal government, and the injunctive relief sought by Kansas was denied without prejudice, as no substantial injury to the interests of the people of Kansas had been shown.

ASSUMPTION OF PARTNERSHIP DEBTS BY SUCCEEDING OWNERS.—In Du Vivier & Co. vs. Gallic, 119
Federal Reporter, 118, 80 C. C. A. 556, the United States circuit court of appeals for the Second circuit holds that a corporation organized by the members of a partnership, in which all the stock is issued, to take over all the property of the partnership and continue its business at the same place, is liable for the debts of the partnership, even though such debts were not expressly assumed by the corporation.

MOLDY PRECEDENTS.—That decisions of today are sometimes governed by precedents which are to have outlived their usefulness is illustrated by the recent decision of the New York supreme court in De Wolf vs. Ford, 104 New York Supplement, 876. The court in this case, which was an action for the recovery of money, held that a guest at a hotel could not recover for injuries received upon her by a servant of the proprietor of the hotel, if the guest had been warned by a sign that the hotel was not a place where guests were to be received, and that the guest was to be kept in a sidewalk clear of snow, etc., or other warning, in the English case of Marquette, 111 Northwestern Reporter, 1073, upheld by the Michigan supreme court as valid and not open to the objection that it was class legislation.

ELECTION FRAUDS.—The Kentucky court of appeals in Schott vs. Bell and Peter vs. Wilson, 103 Southern Reporter, 28, most severely condemns the frauds perpetrated at the city and county elections in Louisville and Jefferson coun-

A FORTUNE IS
Romance in Real Life
Discounting Anything in Fiction.

Towanda, Pa., Feb. 28.—It really reads just like a real-though romance, only it's got the ordinary kind of fiction bent on to a standstill. Somewhere in the northeastern part of this state is a young man whose name is Paul Jones. That is he thinks it is. He also thinks he is an orphan. He is wrong in both instances. There are family and fortune awaiting him, and for that reason detectives are searching for him.

The story is romantic. The father and mother, although of good family, were poor. They were living in New York seventeen years ago when the father disappeared. It was believed that he had been murdered, but he had been shanghaied and taken on a voyage, during which he was severely injured on the head, and when he recovered all recollection of his past life was gone.

In the meantime the mother, unable to care for her boy, placed him in an orphan asylum, in the hope that some day she would be able to take him out and make a home for him. This time never came, however, and when the boy grew up he was apprenticed to H.
C. Coughlin, a farmer of Friendsville, Susquehanna county. There he remained until three years ago, when he ran away. Nothing has since been heard of him.

The father after the voyage drifted to the West, and there made a large fortune in the gold fields of Nevada and Colorado. A year ago another injury to his head restored the memory of his former life. He immediately came East, and after some time found the wife, and with the aid of detectives, who will not make known the parents' names, they are now searching for their boy.

DULUTH HAS A MODEL "CON"
Does Not Forget Social Amenities in Running Street Car.

Duluth has the model street car conductor. He is a dandy, both in manner and dress. His uniform is always spick and span, his manners are faultless. As he puts forth his well-gloved hand for the passenger's nickel, he says with carefully modulated voice, "Your fare, if you please." On receiving the money, he bows most feels like taking a transfer whether he needs it or not, when he hears whispered at his elbow, "T-r-a-n-s-f-e-r-e-s-s," such subtle drawn out and each syllable clearly enunciated.

This kind of a conductor would be appreciated by people who have lived in Chicago, where, if a person hasn't the right under his belt, he is liable to be yesterday morning a thoughtless teamster blocked the car track, and the conductor of coal. The police conductor's car stood waiting for him to drive on. Finally, after staring at him for several minutes, the dapper conductor gave a hitch to his white cuffs and his coat, and said, "I say, old pal, would you mind moving from the cuck, so that we can go ahead?" The driver moved on. Soft words did the work as well or better than a harsh command.

A story is told of a conductor in Cleveland, who was of like characteristics. His polite manners and polished ways were noticed one day by the inspector and was promoted. It is said that he is now the assistant superintendent of the system or in some other position equally high.

Perhaps the Duluth conductor is patterned after the Cleveland model. At any rate his ways are making him friends.

CLUB WOMEN DISMAYED
Since a "Traitor" Told of Their Card Playing.

Hartford City, Ind., Feb. 28.—Members of the women's clubs, which under the reign of the blue laws, invoked by Mayor James Leland, a prohibition against playing cards for prizes, have just made the startling discovery that there is a traitor in their midst. All society actively under fear of arrest for violating the laws.

The mayor issued his ultimatum prohibiting card playing for prizes, under pain of prosecution, the practice was never stopped, but the women were more stealthy in their operations. Notice of the meetings of clubs were given without giving the names of the prize winners, but now the mayor has created great confusion among club members by announcing that he has on file in his office list of prize winners.

card player in the city, along with a list of those who have won prizes in the games played since the 10th, with party names. These lists, he says, were furnished him by one of the women attending the club meetings and will be held for evidence when the grand jury meets.

A Square-Deal

Is assured you when you buy one of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle—wrappers and attested under oath as being complete and correct. They are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native, medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. While potent to cure they are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into Dr. Pierce's leading medicines. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine of proper strength. This agent possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable anti-septic and anti-ferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, "heartburn," foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

For all diseases of the mucous membranes, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific. Catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs is cured by it. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures even in the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate hang-on, or chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to endeavor to palm off upon you some nostrum of unknown composition in place of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines which are of known composition. Most dealers recommend Doctor Pierce's medicines because they know what they are made of and that the ingredients employed are among the most valuable that a medicine for like purposes can be made of. The same is true of leading physicians who do not hesitate to recommend them, since they know exactly what they contain and that their ingredients are the very best known to medical science for the cure of the several diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

With tricky dealers it is different.

Something else that pays them a little greater profit will be urged upon you as "just as good," or even better. You can hardly afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition and without any particular record of cures in place of Doctor Pierce's medicines which are of known composition and have a record of forty years of cures behind them. You know what you want and it is the dealer's business to supply that want. Insist upon it.

VERY GOOD TERRITORY

Duluth Wholesalers Are Getting Results in Northern Minnesota.

Rich Field Opened by the Two New Roads.

Duluth wholesalers and jobbers are losing no time in going after the trade and friendship of merchants in the new towns along the lines of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg and the Minnesota & International, whose completion has opened up a rich field for competition between Duluth and Twin City houses.

Commercial travelers in the employ of Duluth wholesalers are returning with good reports of the new district, and they say that Duluth is more than holding her own. She has an advantage in both distance and rates into practically all of the new territory, and with this slight advantage is able to take an easy lead over Minneapolis and St. Paul, which it is expected she will be able to retain.

Representatives of Zenith City houses express themselves as being surprised at the bright prospects of this newly-opened territory, and say that the general public has no conception of the resources, particularly in the agricultural line, of the field tapped by the two new roads. Of course, the supply of timber is yet far from being exhausted, but at the same time there are large numbers of farmers already established, and are able to make a comfortable living while doing it.

The development of the territory in question will be of vast benefit to Duluth, for it is directly tributary to this city, and whatever helps it will help Duluth. Several prosperous and growing little towns have been started, and some of them will develop into communities of considerable importance.

International Falls, of course, had a good start before the railroads came, but it has been given an added impetus by the completion of the two lines, and with the development of its magnificent water power, can hardly help becoming an important commercial center. It is at the end of the Rainy lake line, another Rainy river city, that is forging to the front. While it is less than three miles from International Falls, it is believed it, too, will develop into quite a village.

We must all use laxatives—we who eat rich foods and exercise too little. The best way to take them is a Cascaret at a time—when you need it.

You know when you need Cascarets.

You feel a certain dullness, a depression—perhaps the approach of a headache.

You say, "I must take something tonight." But why do you waste the day?

It is easy to keep at your best at all times, if you'll do it. The way is to carry a box of Cascarets with you. Take one just as soon as you need it.

Then the clouds rise at once.

The need for Cascarets is a natural need. Don't think that you are dragging yourself.

We must get a laxative some way. If we don't get it through exercise, and through proper food, we must get it otherwise.

Cascarets are the next best way.

Ask your Doctor about it.

He will tell you that the day of the violent purgative is past. The day of pills, salts, castor oil and cathartics.

This is the day of the gentle in medicine, the natural, the pleasant. Cascarets act just as certain foods act—just as exercise acts—on the bowels.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 Cents per Box.

RATTLED FOR LIFE

Are Many Financiers by the Pace of Panic Days.

Cheering News Comes From the Southern Winter Resorts.

New York, Feb. 28.—So much prominence is given by the daily press to the Wall street situation that it is accredited by the public with an exaggerated importance, and is looked upon by many as the potent factor of all business affairs, while in truth it is not even an accurate measure of existing or future conditions.

Wall street sentiment is, in bad times or in good times, an artificial creation, to a large extent, made and used to promote certain interests and produce profit to those who manipulate it. After such periods of excitement and of actual stringency as we had in October, November and December, the most experienced operators have nervous prostration and their mental powers are not in equilibrium, but in normal operation. They are excited, pessimistic, with judgment impaired and perspective faculties disarranged.

Thousands of men are rattled for life by the pace of the last four months, and it will be many months before the capacity to recover from the effects of the physical and mental strain endured during the continuous tension of the panic. They are liable to see ghosts in the road at every turn. Nothing soothes them. Everything irritates them. It is a different color than it was in 1906 and 1907 years. The Democratic party terrifies them; the Republican party sickens them.

What Arouses Them. Safety, soundness, sanity and conservatism seems to them to be lodged only around Nassau Street, and they fall into restlessness for a few moments they are suddenly aroused and thrown into hysterics by a message from the president of a bank, or from a member of the board of directors of a railroad, or some indication of railway officials for violation of the law.

The moonshiners of Kentucky, North Carolina and West Virginia have really more powerful paths today than the "big stick" loggers of this metropolis. With this condition of mind what is the opinion of Wall street worth as to the general business situation? The banks are full of money and both call and time rates are very low, with little being done, for in every bank of officials' brain is the specter of fear that the panic will return. The money market is full of money and both call and time rates are very low, with little being done, for in every bank of officials' brain is the specter of fear that the panic will return.

News from Florida and the South is to the effect that many tourists are at the resorts and the business of the state is doing a fine business. The orange crop is a large one, and so the vegetable growers have suffered very little from frost.

Has Changed the State.

The spread of population down the East coast has changed Florida in many respects, making it a more important volume in every way and giving to state affairs a stability and a permanency that were wanting up to a few years ago. The extension of the East and West coast railway has been a great assurance, and by next winter it will be but a ferry boat of a few hours from the Florida keys to Havana. Mr. Fletcher in this instance has given the men of America a lesson in energy, persistence and pluck. Like Huntington, Stanford and Villard, he has overcome formidable natural obstacles, and with foresight similar to that they displayed, he has laid the foundation for a commerce and travel will follow for decades in the future.

Key West and the north Cuban traffic is virtually controlled to the Atlantic coast. With all rail between the two cities, the Cuban trade is what a future this railway will have for through passenger and freight traffic. The already established business of Key West will steadily increase and it is already a source of vast profit to the owner of the system.

While Canada is flourishing and each year sees scores of thousands added to the population, the United States is losing thousands annually migrate to Alaska, yet it is most plainly to be seen that the people are not migrating southward far exceed in numbers those seeking the northern coast.

The whole south line of the republic from Norfolk, Va., through the Carolinas, Florida and Texas, to New Mexico, Arizona and California, is being rapidly populated by immigrants from Europe and by continuous movements of our own people from the more northern states.

These additions to the population of the south will continue for a long period, and will grow greater with each succeeding year.

The climate is attractive, the soil in the majority of states is very rich and easily cultivated, and increased knowledge among the people of the laws of health have eradicated the former fears of malaria and fevers.

The agriculturists are richly rewarded for their efforts by the fine prices and ready demand for all they produce. Their ranks are reinforced each year by many thousands who become equally prosperous. With the growth of agriculture comes the opportunity for manufacturers, and the towns and cities of the south are rapidly becoming centers of industrial art.

In no section of our country is there less extreme poverty than in the South.

In no section of the Union is there the same contentment of the people as in the South. Not slothfulness, satisfied with anything that may exist, but contentment that is based upon the knowledge that everything is prospering, and that while the present is better than any period of the past, there is full assurance that the future will be far more glorious than the present.

In Their Infancy.

Southern agriculture, as said before, is prospering finely, manufacturing is increasing by leaps and bounds and, with a diversity of products that insures against sweeping trade depression at any time, and the two interests combining to stimulate the growth of the commercial cities which hold such advantageous positions on the Southern coast. Southern states, Norfolk, Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick, Jacksonville, Key West, Tampa, Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston, brisk as they are today, are but their infancy when compared with the population and importance in commerce which they will have in ten or twenty years from now.

One and all of them will rank high, for they have back of them the most productive country on the face of the earth, with a rapidly increasing population, intelligence and wealth each day that goes by.

Beyond the straits of Florida, Cuba and the other islands are making strides in commercial progress, and their advance in trade and production aids materially the trade of the United States. The port of Vera Cruz, Mexico, is blocked with freight for the interior of that progressive republic. The value of transportation lines are unable to haul

The manufacturing, agricultural and other interests of Mexico have had such success in the last few years that it has produced an unparalleled activity in all branches of business.

The wide-awake administration of President Diaz, it is stated, is about to inaugurate a great national banking system, the notes issued to be guaranteed by the government, an act to be made a legal tender throughout the republic. The Mexican secretary of the treasury, is recognized both at home and abroad as a gentleman in every way qualified to discharge the duties of the high and important office of which he is the head. Neighborhood Favorite. Mrs. E. D. Charles of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alternative tonic is sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c."

SIDNEY PAGET ACCUSER OF CAPT. DREYFUS

Famous Illustrator of the Sherlock Holmes Stories, Dies.

London, Feb. 28.—If Sir Arthur Conan Doyle ever writes more stories of Sherlock Holmes he will have to find a new illustrator, for Sidney Paget, who made all the drawings for the tales that are now famous, died last week of consumption, after a plucky fight for life, lasting over the past year and a half.

Probably most American readers of the Holmes stories will remember the "S. P." that appeared in the lower left-hand corner of each of the graphic, somewhat rugged, drawings that accompanied them. Their author, who was 48 when he died, was one of a rather remarkable trio of brothers, the other two, Hal Paget and H. M. Paget—who signs only his first two initials—being as well known in the English art world as was the illustrator of "Sherlock Holmes."

Sidney Paget, who also illustrated lecture that I intend to give in the states I shall point out how socialism here is taking on more of a religious complexion all the time."

Quite a recluse, and cut off from all the world except his own intimate circle of friends, he is now living under the title of Comte de Vollemont. He was found recently huddled up in an old arm-chair, and clad in a well-worn light brown overcoat, and crouching over the fire seeking to get warmth to his thin, attenuated frame. The gray-haired old man, with hair prematurely silvered and shoulders bowed, looks what he is—an outcast from society, whose only desire is to be left alone and to eke out his own life.

Answering an interviewer, he said: "Have I a pension from the Brazilian government? I wish that were true. I have not a penny beyond what I earn. I don't deny I am Esterhazy. Why should I? The name I have now belongs to my family. In the old days the French government used to open all the letters addressed to me as Esterhazy in London. So I assumed my present name."

"My memoirs. I would like to write them had I the time and money. But I cannot stop my other work, or my income would stop. I have to work to pay my way."

It is interesting to note that the body of Zola, author of the famous letter "J'accuse," which ultimately brought about Esterhazy's confession, and Dreyfus' later vindication and reinstatement in the French army, is about to be placed in the Pantheon.

Esterhazy was the author of the Pantheon, the ship of paper which sent Dreyfus to Devil's Island, and when the former was dismissed from the army, five years later, his rage at his dismissal prompted the confession that exonerated the French captain.

LONDON SOCIALIST PASTOR TO TOUR UNITED STATES.

London, Feb. 28.—Rev. R. J. Campbell, who succeeded Rev. Mr. Parker as pastor of the City Temple, but whose ideas of "the new theology" are not meeting with widespread popularity among the old congregation, will be seen and heard in many American cities during a two months' lecture tour of the states, beginning next July.

He said to a correspondent yesterday he would include such subjects as "The New Theology" and "The Reconciliation of Socialism and Religion" among his lectures.

"It is very difficult to estimate the remarkable progress that socialism has made in England during the last few years," he said. "And in one ing the plan into execution was the lack of funds. "The day is not distant," said M. Paure, "when some aeronaut will make such a voyage from New York to Paris. I am anxious to be the first, but unfortunately I do not feel that I could afford the cost, which would be possibly $20,000, including the price of the balloon, which would naturally have to be unusually large. "I believe that on leaving New York the aeronaut would find a steady air current at a moderate height, which would give an average speed of a mile a minute. In fact, I do not believe that in any circumstances the voyage would require more than six days. With a good balloon an aeronaut can remain in the air for three times this period. I would contemplate such a voyage with absolute pleasure."

For nearly thirty years he has been a constant exhibitor at the Royal academy, and his drawings were features of the best English illustrated periodicals, such as the Illustrated London News, the Graphic and the Sphere. For a man of less than 50 to have covered such a range as he did in portraiture, landscape and figures, and to have turned out, besides, a large amount of first-rate black and white illustrations, shows enormous application, as well as enormous versatility.

Paget, whose good nature was a byword in London's Bohemia, was married, and left a wife and four children. Soldiering was his hobby, and he was a member of two volunteer regiments in Middlesex.

He was a member of the staff of the Strand Magazine when that periodical bought the first of the "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," and was especially chosen by its editor to illustrate them. Doyle liked the drawings that resulted, and would have no one else to illustrate his later stories of the detective. The author and the artist became close friends, and Paget was frequently a guest at Haslemere, Sir Arthur's country home, near Hindhead.

FAURE WOULD CROSS SEA IN SPHERICAL BALLOON.

Paris, Feb. 28.—Jacques Faure, the celebrated French aeronaut, told a correspondent this week that he had developed a plan for crossing the North Atlantic in an ordinary spherical balloon, and that the only thing that prevented him from immediately carrying BRIDEGROOM Was His Profession, According to Belief of Officials.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 28.—That James C. Neil, arraigned in the common pleas court Tuesday on a charge of bigamy, was a professional bridegroom, and had a dozen or more wives, the county prosecutors are now fully convinced. They have evidence, they say, to show that he had an office in the city and that he sent out letters throughout the country inviting young women into the matrimonial game.

Unlike other matrimonial agents, Neil is believed to have acted as the only author. According to the county prosecutors, he would marry a girl in his plan, marry her himself.

Neil pleaded not guilty to bigamy in court. He could not give $500 bail. He was charged with marrying Catharine Wehmeyer at Kendallville, Ind., in 1906, and Birdie Pepper in Cleveland, Nov. 6.

Neil's first wife says Neil was an actor when she met him at her millinery establishment at Kendallville. Nearly twenty aliases are attached to Neil's name in the indictment.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The members of the Five Hundred club of Lester Park entertained at a most delightful military card party last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boden, 4308 McCulloch street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barnard, who will leave the latter part of the week to make their home.

Mr. Barnard goes to Minneapolis to become commandant of the Soldiers' home there, and in the military appointments of last evening's affair, a pretty compliment was paid the guests of honor. The rooms were decorated in red, white and blue hunting, and miniature forts were erected in the corners of the room. Small flags, bearing the names of the various forts, were used in securing places, and the score cards further carried out the military idea. Five hundred was played, and the favors were won by Mrs. J. I. Thomas and Mrs. White, and men's prizes went to E. A. Forsyth and Mr. Sutton. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
E. A. Forsyth, J. I. Thomas, Franklin Paine, Heathcote, Kirkwood, White,
Jones, Richards,
Sutton, Wallace Wells, Stoddard, Eagle,
Arnold, Greenfield,
W. H. Alexander, Mrs. Matschke of
G. A. Everett, St. Paul,
John Jensen, Miss Morrow,
Jesse Norton.

For Mrs. Barnard.

The members of the Saturday club were the guests at a delightful afternoon today, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Keyes of 2029 East Third street. The affair was planned in compliment to Mrs. P. H. Barnard, one of the charter members of the club, who will leave soon to make her home in Minneapolis. An informal musicale was given by Miss Lovett, Miss Dora Swan and Miss Abbott, and a poem was read by Mrs. Julia Barnes. A souvenir book, to which each member of the club contributed, was bound in the club colors, gold and white, and presented to Mrs. Barnard. Mrs. Barnard has been prominent in club work for many years, and she will be greatly missed from club circles.

STORE OBSERVATIONS

Home Washed Chamois Gloves a Feature of Season.

Long gloves, smoothly fitting over the hand and softly wrinkling over the wrist are delightful. The effect is pleasant and satisfying, and no one but approves of the tout ensemble after it has been achieved. There is only one person in the world who disapproves of the matter. It is she or he who pays for the gloves.

Four dollars is a lot of money. It is a well known fact that there are some few people in the world who will dispute that statement. There are more who will agree heartily, and all that is left of it after a pair of gloves has been purchased, is money enough to buy a hot chocolate or something breezy, like that to bolster one up after the pang of separation. The born aristocrat who presides at the glove counter announces the price of gloves in a languid tone that suggests that she hates to mention such a sum. She has the real critic's appreciation of the long, supple, soft, pretty things, and she takes no thought of the price.

Gloves are to remain about as expensive as they were a year ago and the year before that.

Chamois gloves are to be popular. Chamois gloves are known as "dressy," but they have a comfortable look.

And then, besides, they can be washed at home. One can save money. The money that is already saved seems large. One buys chamois gloves and wears them with a reckless prodigality which gloves that must be sent to the cleaners never receive. One revels in chamois gloves, which may become as soiled as they please, and which will emerge the next morning spotless and soft and clear.

Woe unto the unknowing. The chamois glove which has become soiled is dipped into the water and soap is rubbed on. The dirt disappears. Was there ever anything nicer than gloves which could be washed at home? The zeal which is usually brought to an unaccustomed task is applied vigorously, and after rinsing and some little pulling, the gloves are hung out to dry.

Then comes the time of philosophy. Things are not what they seem. You thought these gloves were of soft and tender kid. They are stiff and dark looking. You try to push your hand in and the kid that was soft has become like unto a board. "Pull them," advises sombody who has cleaned chamois gloves successfully.

You try to, and find it is much like trying to pull a stove poker, or some other inflexible thing. In spite of this almost universal experience, chamois gloves can be washed successfully. The new ones in the store are not worn a good deal for shopping by those whose orders for cars were not sent soon enough. The silk gloves, which are a feature of the season a little later have not yet been received.

Long heavy street gloves, with or without a strap over the wrist, will be much worn. Tan and black and white are the most popular shades. For motoring, the gauntlet glove will be fashionable, and it will also be worn a good deal for shopping by those whose orders for cars were not sent soon enough. The silk gloves, which are a feature of the season a little later have not yet been received.

Judgment for $16,284.77 Filed Against Mining Company.

Niko Witta Verdict Sustained by State Supreme Court.

A judgment in the damage case of Niko Witta against the Interstate Iron company, amounting to $16,284.77, was filed in the district court this morning by John R. Heine, W. E. Whipple and W. E. Calkin, attorneys for Witta. The judgment includes a verdict for $16,000 damages and $1,000 interest, besides the costs.

The Witta case, better known as the famous "fuse case," was one of the hottest contested personal injury cases ever tried in the district court of this county. The trial lasted three weeks and about fifty witnesses were called, the most of them for the mining company.

Witta claimed that a premature or a delayed explosion in the company's mine, due to the use of a defective fuse, resulted in his total blindness. He claimed that the accident was due to the carelessness and negligence of the mining company, because it did not provide for the safety of its employees by using proper fuse. The verdict was one of the largest ever given in a personal injury case in the district court of this county, and has been recently affirmed by the state supreme court.

The Interstate Iron company was represented by Davis & Hollister.

Green Room Gossip.

The Mack-Leone company continues to attract large audiences to the Lyceum with "Capt. Barrington." It is proving one of the best drawing cards the company has had. Three more performances will be given tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night.

Rose King, leading woman with James J. Corbett, is said to be not only one of the most talented, but one of the most beautiful women on the American stage. She studied with David Boles and for three seasons was in the support of David Warfield. Miss King is a Western girl. She spent her childhood in Wisconsin. She has a brother living in Duluth.

This is to be "amateurs' night" at the Metropolitan. A number of stunts will be given by local talent, in addition to the regular performance by the Rely & Wood company. These amateurs' nights have made big hits in other cities, but the proposition is new to Duluth. In the East, when an amateur turn gets very sad, a stage hand hooks the offender with a long pole and summarily yanks him from the stage. Amateurs' nights are responsible for the saying, "get the hook." The management of the "Met" is said to have a suitable hook on hand.

GIRL LIVES, THOUGH FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Waterloo, Iowa, Feb. 28.—To the amazement of her physician, Miss Maude Wilson, who was terribly burned last Saturday from her eyes down to her shoe tops, is still living with a fighting chance to recover. Though the flesh was burned to a crisp in most parts of the body and she inhaled flames, she has recovered from the shock, and is able to take some nourishment.

No infection has yet developed, though the flesh in places will slough off, leaving the bones without covering. If she survives, she will be terribly disfigured. Dr. McGrady, who attends Miss Wilson, says he doesn't know how she can live, burned as she is. Only her healthy condition and strong physique could have withstood the shock. Her remarkable fight against death has excited the wonder of medical men, the admiration of her friends, and the sympathy of her relatives, who realize how terrible will be her disfigurement in case of her recovery.

SHORT CLOSED SEASON. Wisconsin, Minn., Feb. 28.—The ice moved out of the river in front of the city on Wednesday, one of the earliest known dates on record. As the river did not close until Jan. 3, the closed season here has been a very short one. Not all the local ice dealers were able to put their usual supply of ice, but while there may be some pinching, it is believed, with a wholesome reserve carried over from last year, it will be possible to get along.

The Grocery QuestionIs a Question of $ $ and Quality

You save dollars at B. M. & Co.'s Wholesale Grocery House, as you have but the one middleman's profit to pay, namely Barthe-Martin & Co., whereas, when you buy at retail you have brokers' jobbers' and retailers' profits added to the cost of the goods.

BOYS' DEPT. NOTES

Tonight at 8 o'clock the senior class basketball team will play the Matt Carpenter alumni team at the boys' department gymnasium.

The boys' department minstrels are busy putting the final touches on for their entertainment to be given Friday evening, March 6. They will present "The King of the Carnival Islands," a very laughable play, in two acts.

The manual training class will open its midwinter term Tuesday, March 3. The new machinery added to the shop is proving to be quite an attraction to the boys, and the class promises to be very large.

Members of the cabinet and committee men are on the hustle for members for the boys' department, and have organized a "Get one" club. Membership in the club is limited to boys who get a member. The club will be a short lived one, as it will have only one meeting, but it will be one that will long be remembered by those who will be present. It will take the form of a dinner at the Hotel McKay, to be given Friday, March 13.

The date has been set for the high school championship basketball game Friday, March 13, between the seniors and sophomores. Should the sophomores win they will carry off the banner. Both

The older boys' meeting next Sunday at 4 o'clock will be addressed by Principal C. A. Smith of the Duluth Central high school. Mr. Smith was to have been the speaker last Sunday, but on account of Judge Lindsey being in the city the meeting was postponed to give the members an opportunity of hearing him. The Knights of Sir Galland will be addressed at 3 o'clock by the secretary on the subject, "Horseshoes or Main Springs."

TEDDY BEAR HANDKERCH'FS FOR CHILDREN

On sale tomorrow.

One of the latest novelties of the season.

A "Teddy Bear" of brown wash silk woven into a white handkerchief of the regulation sizes for children.

10c or three for a quarter.

success in the practice of law?

"I do."

"Then why do you want to join the army?"

"Is it imperative that I answer that question?"

"The army regulations require that I know this."

"Simply this: Until recently I was engaged to a beautiful young lady of this city. A soldier, who has recently returned from the Philippines, has, by his completely alienated her affections, thereby causing our engagement to be broken."

"Is this your answer to my question?"

"Partly."

"Your answer is incompetent and immaterial. Please state in plain words your object in enlisting in the army."

"Well, you see, I thought by enlisting I might possibly regain a lost love."

"Young man, the army is too dignified and honorable to entertain love-sick youths. I don't believe that your enlistment would in any way benefit the army. You are therefore rejected."

So the scheme was given the go-by and Blackstone will again be a subject of interest to the young man.
